I have lately detected a disguised benefactor of our American slaves, the merchant seamen, in Capt. Peabody, of the ship Neptune. A late news item reads thus: "Capt. Peabody, who was charged with cruelty to seamen under his command, has been discharged by the New York court." This gentleman was accused of endeavoring to ameliorate the condition of his sailors by standing them on their heads against a pig-pen, practising the capstan-bar exercise about their ribs and ears, drumming on their skulls and noses with belaying-pins, and "booting them in the face" while on topsail yards; also by encouraging and sustaining his minions in similar playful performances. Probably the seamen's statements were true, but the captain had a perfect right to do as he pleased with them—they belonged to him, body and soul; and so the New York court did right in discharging him. He would probably have been cleared by that immaculate tribunal had he been ever so guilty, as he could command plenty of money; but really he was ill-used, when the charge of barbarity was preferred against him.

For Capt. Peabody, instead of being a cowardly savage, is a disguised philanthropist. Every brutal scoundrel who tortures, disfigures or murders his seamen, simply because the United States' law declares them to have no rights which any one is bound to respect, is a disguised philanthropist. For the more frequently the people—the Christian people, who pray for the sailor's spiritual welfare, but carefully avoid endeavoring to release him from the profound hell in which he is kept in this world—are shocked and disgusted with the details of the working of our maritime laws, the sooner will those un-American and unconstitutional laws be repealed, and the slaves liberated. Capt. Peabody should be regarded in the same light as the captain of the Hanging Rodney; and like him, could have flung down the national law in defence of his conduct.

If the various Associations of Christians who make it their object to provide sailors with bibles and tracts, and who profess great concern lest any of them should fall short of happiness in the next world, would exert themselves to have seamen restored to their rights as men in this one, their missionary efforts would be better directed than they are at present. It is hard work for a poor sinner to feel devotional when he is trying to find enough pieces of his skull to last him till his ship reaches port, so that he can "desert" without his wages; or when his dinner is much less than his appetite, and he dare not ask for more; or when he washes his face and clothes in salt water, without soap, because his owner does not choose to let him have any of his own money to buy it with. PAKEHA.

New Publications Received.

The Riverside Magazine for April has a little of everything that is likely to interest young people. The Entry into Jerusalem, The Little Neighbors, The Markets in Berlin, How the Captain came by a Legacy, A New Way to go after Salt, and Porte Crayon's "Young Virginians," with his own illustrations. Drolleries are capitally set forth in "The Truly Rural Romance of the Sleepy Princess," and in "Ida's Stories," both with inimitable pictures. There are some very pretty verses called "Little-Folks' Songs;" natural history is illustrated by "A Big Trout," and gymnastics by "Indian Club Exercises." Published by Hurd & Houghton, New York. $2.50 per year.

The Phrenological Journal has been consolidated with Packard's Monthly; and both these two good ones in one great one, can now be had at $3 a year. Published Monthly by S. R. Wells, New York. The Phren. Jour. is a very handsome and valuable Magazine.

The Missionary Herald for April, Boston; Published by the Am. Board Com. Far. Miss.

The World Almanac for 1870. A valuable annual publication from the World newspaper, New York. Full of statistics, political and other.

The Nursery, a delightful little Monthly Magazine for youngest readers—full of nice pictures and pretty stories. John L. Shorey, publisher, Boston.

A GREAT MISTAKE.—While some of the New Hampshire Democratic warhorses paw the ground with rage, over their State Committee's faux pas, and the sad puddle their party has fallen into, the Dover Gazette uses no violence, but roars gently, as follows:—

That there should have been any want of harmony among those whose duty it was to direct the political affairs in the last campaign, is a matter both of surprise and regret. To attempt to transfer the Dmocratic vote, without a general understanding to that effect, and so late in the canvass, to the labor reform candidate, to say the least, was a great mistake. But we believe it was only a mistake. What was done, we are confident, was done with the full belief that it would best contribute to the defeat of the radical party.

We cannot harbor the thought that there was any design to injure Gen. Bedel, or sell out the Democratic party. Our duty, then, is conciliation—our aim, to unite, in one solid phalanx, all the elements of opposition against the corrupt and iniquitous rule that now prevails in the State. We must still have faith in the people. They surely will, nay, they must, arouse from the lethargy that has fastened itself upon them, if they would preserve their homes and their firesides from the tax-gather's hands.

What a bug-bear the tax-gather must be, (says Uncle Toby) to the home and fireside where the dweller pays only a poll tax, and where the tax on his deposit in the Saving Bank is paid at the Bank out of his sight.—What nonsense generally, has been said or sung about Taxes ever since we can remember.

And how natural it is for demagogues to profess great sympathy with the "laboring classes," in order to get their votes. But let no man deceive himself with the idea of getting rid of taxes. In some form or other they are inevitable. Our rebels and their copperhead allies, put us to the expense of Millions, by their folly and madness:—and the debt and the frauds, the extravagance and the waste which were generated or increased by the war, must and will tax us for a generation or two, whatever parties bear rule.

Industry, enterprise, and a wise but not stringent economy, tend to individual and national prosperity. But grumbling pays no taxes, and fills no purses, except of those whose trade is grumbling.

Harper's Monthly for April, has four or five illustrated articles, and others of great value.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY is "a combination and a form indeed" for healing and curing diseases of the throat, lungs, and chest. It cures a cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs, and allaying irritation; thus removing the cause, in stead of drying up a cough and leaving the cause behind.

Holloway's Pills as a Spring Medicine.—The moist and tepid air of Spring engenders a variety of diseases. Dyspeptics and persons of bilious habit are always unpleasantly affected by it. They feel depressed, debilitated, sluggish and lethargic. A single dose of HOLLOWAY'S PILLS will often work a complete and salutary change in their condition—toning the stomach, regulating the liver, bracing the nerves, and invigorating the whole animal machinery. If the first dose does not suffice, a second or third will always produce the desired effect. Sold by all Druggists. mh17

Occupational Ailments.

Fresh, pure air is a vitalizing elixir. Whoever is debarred by circumstances from unrestricted access to this invisible, but powerful stimulant needs a medicinal invigorant of some kind. The great object should be to choose the best. Popularity is a pretty good guarantee of merit in this scrutinizing and intelligent age, and tried by this criterion HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stands first among the invigorating and regulating medicines of the present day. To the wants of persons engaged in indoor employments, especially in crowded factories where even with the best possible ventilation the atmosphere is always in some degree polluted, this salubrious vegetable tonic is peculiarly adapted.

The nature of the ingredients is no mystery, it consists of an absolutely pure diffusive stimulant, tinctured—or rather surcharged—with the fluid extracts of sanatous roots and barks and herbs. The pharmacopoia has its tinctures, but what are they? The juice of only a single root or bark or plant is present in each. Not one of them combines the three properties of a tonic, an alterative and an aperient. All these elements are blended in the Bitters, nor are these the sum of its medicinal recommendations. It is also a blood depurent and an antispasmodic.

The baleful effect which air that has been partially exhausted of its oxygen by frequent breathing produces on the vital organization, is notorious, and when to this devitalized atmosphere is superadded the mephitic vapor of hot air furnaces, it becomes deleterious and depressing in the extreme. To enable the system to bear up, even for a few hours each day against the debilitating influence of a vitiated atmosphere, a wholesome tonic and alterative is urgently required. This grand desideratum is supplied in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which as the strength-sustaining, health-protecting agent has no rival either among official or advertised medicines.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I kn-w my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

ENCOURAGING.—The millennium has come to Westchester, Pennsylvania. Its trial-justice has sentenced a man to a month's imprisonment for stealing an umbrella. If that justice will punish the purloiners of our umbrellas, we will volunteer a long obituary should he die for it.

☞ We intended before this to have mentioned, that since the publication of the letters from a lady teacher in Virginia, depicting the needs of freedwomen, at Black Walnut,—two barrels well filled with clothing, cloth and other useful articles, have been sent there from this city; one neatly gathered and packed by Mrs. Wm. Day and other ladies of the South Parish Sewing Circle, and the other by Mrs. Charles E. Myers and associate ladies. This is charity well bestowed.

☞ Sergeant I. W. Ambler, the noted drill master, who so devotedly served the Union cause in the late rebellion, by teaching the sword exercise to thousands of officers and men of the army, and who, though not a native born American, perilled his life for the flag under which we all now live in security, is in town canvassing for the sale of a book descriptive of the scenes and sufferings of soldiers in the Andersonville prison, written by Warren Lee Goss, one of the few fortunates who lived to tell the dreadful tale. Sergeant Ambler is too well known throughout the country to need further introduction, and the book he offers should command a ready sale, if for nothing more than the well tried patriotism of the author and the agent. Sergeant Ambler had his left arm disabled during the war and is now recovering from a long sickness, of more than a year.

MRS. MARCY'S SINGING.—A very pleasant concert was given last week, under the auspices of the Newtonville Protective Association, on which occasion a very attractive programme was presented, which would have done credit to any city concert.

Of the vocalists, Mrs. Susie F. Marcy, of Portsmouth, and Miss Mary D. Wyman, of Woburn, in particular, delighted the large audience with their fine performances, and won enthusiastic applause.

Mrs. Marcy sang the cavatina from Ernani, "Ernani Involami," displaying her fine voice to advantage, and showing great cultivation and facility of execution. Her trilling was as artistically sweet and graceful as we ever heard in a concert room. For an encore she sang the pretty ballad "Somebody," with fine effect.—Newton Jour.

Mrs. Marcy has been pupil to Mr. Wetherbee, and afterward to Mrs. J. H. Long, of Boston; and at a concert by her class of about forty young ladies in Tremont Temple last week, our fair townswoman acquitted herself with much credit. The Courier speaks in the highest terms of Mrs. Long as a teacher, and the beautiful appearance of the young ladies; and alluding to a few of the most finished performers, says:—

It will not be accepted as an invidious distinction if we mention the singing of the difficult aria, "Gratias Agimus Tibi," by Mrs. Susie Marcy. Her execution of the runs and trills displayed a perfected skill in execution and the finest qualities of tone. More experience in the phrasing would have ensured more certainty throughout, but the effort was, on the whole, highly gratifying, and merited the warm applause it received.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

BOSTON, March 21.

I fancy that spring is really approaching. The harpers have returned; not James and Wesley, of the great publishing house, they have gone whence no traveller returns. I refer to the nomadic sisterhood, one of whom plays upon a harp of an unknown number of strings, a second plays second fiddle, and the third, a small girl with a very large voice, makes vocal music for the habitues of many of our hotels. I doubt me if these swarthy daughters of a summer clime are not more trustworthy harbingers of spring than the birds who sang so gaily a month since among the leafless trees upon the Common.

The embargo placed upon the horse cars below Boylston street, on Washington, has not been removed. From that point to Cornhill is the most perfect fac simile of a "hog wallow" prairie I have ever seen. No cars as yet have approached Scollay's Building, for an entire week, nearer than Bowdoin Square or the Tremont House.

There may be nothing new under the sun, but of late I notice several female newsboys in Boston. They are not like Gabrielle in Paris, but usually of a very tender age. Among our peripatetic nuisances is the crying newsboy, who appears on our streets late in the evening, not crying his wares in the legitimate way, but appealing to the sympathies of the passer with: "Boo, hoo, hoo, Mister, ple-e-ease buy a paper." 'Tis their trade; that's all.

The seeker after knowledge must not object to receiving information from lowly sources, and so at the theatre a few evenings since I asked my friend Asmodeus if he could tell me why so large a portion of our orchestras was made up of Germans. I was perfectly satisfied with his answer that it was "because most of the performers were of the toot-horn-ic persuasion."

Among the seizures of liquor by the State Constabulary on Saturday was one from Eliza Punch, on Purchase street. The name is quite suggestive to any one desiring to purchase the ardent. This matter of seizures is rapidly becoming a glaring farce. The great hotels and the leading saloons do a thriving business in retailing spirits, and one large dealer has recently reopened his bar after having steadily denied all application for a retail trade for a period of nine months—and that too when his profits from such a custom were estimated by the best of judges at about $30,000 a year.

A large company was gathered at 20 Essex street, on Friday evening, to witness a gymnastic exhibition by the young ladies attending the school of Dr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Handy. This I believe is the only school of the kind in New England—where intellectual training of a high order goes hand in hand with thorough physical culture. That the combination is a happy one can not be doubted by any person who has ever witnessed the highly beneficial results arising from such a system of education.

Of the promised new cars on the Eastern Road, one train has already been added, under charge of the popular conductor, "Ned" Hobbs. M.

☞ The houses of A. T. Stewart & Co., and H. B. Claflin & Co., are engaged in an internecine dry goods warfare. Stewart is making a terrific raid on unbleached muslins and Merrimac prints. He has thrown upon the market vast quantities of Merrimacs at ten cents per yard, while the manufacturers themselves charge twelve. The Merrimac men struck his name from their books and refused to sell him any more goods. Stewart is reported to have immediately procured a supply through a Philadelphia firm. There is a terrible flutter among dry goods people, and a general assertion that if Stewart continues his raid he will ruin pretty much every importer nad jobber in New York city.

At the recent election in Farmington, twenty-one young men voted for the first time. Fifteen of them cast republican ballots.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS
OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other. The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 153 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."
2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."
3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc.' which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balance. 22dawlm

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

DOVER, March 21.

The anniversary exercises of Dover High School occurred on March 18th. In the afternoon, the exercises of Graduation of the class of 1870, were had in the City Hall, the class consisting of fourteen members, ten ladies and four gentlemen.

This class was examined by their teacher, Mr. Webster, in six books of Virgil's Aenerd and in Rhetoric, by the assistant, Miss Stewart, in Chemistry and French, and they showed that they had not thrown away time, but had earnestly labored for improvement. The Salutatory oration, in Latin, was given by H. H. Hough, one of the class; and the Valedictory Address by F. P. Shepard. Each of the class had written Essays, which were read, many being very fine.

These exercises were interspersed with music on the piano, and singing. The exercises of the afternoon were closed by awarding Diplomas, a Class Ode and addresses.

In the evening, in the same hall, a Grand Reunion of the Past Members and Graduates of the school was held. A short time in the first of the evening was occupied by business, choosing officers for the ensuing year, and adopting a constitution and by-laws for the "Dover High School Association." This was followed by an Ode by the Graduates of 1870, an Oration by J. B. Stevens jr., a Retrospect by Miss Emma S. Spurling, a Poem by Mrs. B. F. Nealy and a closing Ode. Music was furnished during the evening by the Dover Cornet Band. Following the above exercises a Promenade and Banquet. At the supper table, letters were read from absent members, and speeches made in response to sentiments proposed by the toast master. After spending about two hours in the Banquet Hall, the company returned to the City Hall, and closed the pleasures of the evening with a merry dance. J.

—The McConnellsville (Ohio) Herald, relates the following court scene: At the last term of our Court of Common Pleas, in the case of Miss —— vs. ——, an impeaching witness was called and asked the usual question: "Do you know the reputation of Mr. —— for truth and veracity in the neighborhood where he resides?" "Well," said the witness, "his reputation for truth is very good, but his reputation for veracity is considerably talked about." "What do you mean by veracity?" said the cross-examining attorney. "Why, I mean he's bad after the wimmin."

REDUCTION OF WAGES.—The Taunton Gazette learns that all the manufacturing establishments situated along the Blackstone River have concluded to reduce the wages of their employees ten per cent. on the 1st of April next. This is in consequence of the stagnation of business and fall of cotton and manufactured goods.

☞ P. S. Gilmore is said to be engaged on the details of another grand musical affair, which shall eclipse the jubilee of last year.

HOW TO GROW RICH.—The only way by which capital can increase, is by saving. This is the way the poor become affluent, and the wealthy wealthier. If you spend as much as you get you will never become richer than you are. It is not what a man gets, but what he saves, that constitutes his wealth. Go learn the first two rules of arithmetic; learn addition and substraction. Add to your capital any amount you please; subtract the sum which you add, and the last amount will be the same as the first.

Every one should, in every year of his life, make some addition to his capital. You say you get but little—never mind—spend less than little, and the next year you will have more, for you will have the profit on what you save. There is no royal road to wealth any more than to geometry. The man who goes on spending all he gets, and expects that by some lucky hit, he shall be raised to wealth, will most likely sink into poverty, for in case of adverse fortune he has no resource; whereas by economy he may lay by a stock that may serve as a provision in case of adversity.

You may say that the times are bad, or the seasons are bad. Be it so, but were the case reversed it would make no difference to you. Look at home; you spend more than you get; how can you be otherwise than poor? How many respectable families have fallen from a high station, which they worthily and honorably filled, because neither the husband nor wife knew the first two rules of arithmetic? Had they known how to check their household accounts, and how to compare their receipts with their expenditures, and to see which preponderated, all their difficulties might have been avoided. A very small acquaintance with the rules of business would be sufficient to teach them that if a man spends every year more than he receives, he will necessarily fall into poverty.

A FOX'S REVENGE.—A respectable man of the county of Montgomery resided on the banks of the Hudson river. One day he went to a bay on the river to shoot ducks or wild geese. When he came to the river he saw six geese beyond shot. He determined to wait for them to approach the shore. While sitting there he saw a fox come down to the shore, and stand some time and observe the geese. At length he turned and went into the woods, and came out with a large bunch of moss in his mouth. He then entered the water very silently, sank himself, and then keeping the moss above the water—himself concealed—he floated among the geese. Suddenly one of them was drawn under the water, and the fox soon appeared on the shore with the goose on his back.

He ascended the bank, and found a hole made by the tearing up of a tree. This hole he cleared, placed in the goose, and covered it with great care, strewing leaves over it. The fox then left; and while he was away the hunter unburied the goose and closed the hole, and then resolved to await the issue.

In about half an hour the fox returned with another fox in company. They went directly to the place where the goose had been buried, and threw out the earth. The goose could not be found! They stood regarding each other for some time, when suddenly the second fox attacked the other furiously, as if offended by the traick of his friend. [Murray's Creation.]

MILKING.—Few people are aware of the great difference the mere process of milking makes in the yield of a dairy cow. Many imagine that they are good milkers when they are really very poor ones, so far as the ability to bring a cow to her largest possible yield. To understand how this difference can exist, it must be considered that a large proportion of what a cow gives at any particular milking, is actually secreted during the process of milking. The milk stored up in the milk reservoirs can be drawn by any tolerably skillful milker, but unless the cow and the milker are in sympathy, so to speak, unless the animal is content and satisfied with the milker and the circumstances, the secretion of new supplies during the process of milking will not take place. There is a close and intimate connection between the nervous and secretory systems, and this explains the fact that the cow will often "hold up her milk," as it is termed. It shows also that every milker should strive to be on good terms with the cow he is about to milk. If he is a perfect stranger to her, he should take time to gain her confidence and good will by handling her gently and petting her, or giving her something she is fond of to eat.

We know a milker who can increase the flow of milk more than a quart a week by the mere difference in the mode of milking, and without the slightest change in the food of the animal, and that too notwithstanding the fact that her regular milker is quite as good as the average, and no doubt thinks he knows how to milk as well as anybody.

It is not always fair to judge of the milking qualities of a cow without taking into consideration the question as to who milks her, and how this operation is performed. A poor milker will spoil the reputation of any cow.—Boston Cultivator.

A WEDDING AND A FUNERAL.—The Exeter News-Letter contains the following announcements:

LA MEDICINE CURATIVE.

Its most complete success has long attended its use in many localities; and it is now offered to the general public with the conviction that it can never fail to accomplish all that is claimed for it. It produces little or no pain; leaves the organs free from irritation, and never over taxes or excites the nervous system. In all diseases of the skin, blood, stomach, bowels, liver, kidney's,—of children, and in many diseases peculiar to women, it brings prompt relief and certain cure. AYER'S

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.

A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.

Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of soiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.

If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and its last long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

EXPLANATION.—Under this heading, the Concord Patriot says:—

"Persistent efforts have been and are being made, by misrepresentation of the facts, to place us in the wrong in the little "unpleasantness" which seems to have arisen between the State Committee and 25,000 of the Democracy of New Hampshire; and if unopposed, these efforts may be successful."

The Patriot then goes on to state, very carefully and truly, the facts that it did not mention the proposed transfer of Democratic votes from Bedel to Flint, by the State Committee, until the story had been told two or three days in other New Hampshire papers, and in Boston. The Patriot then shows up the design of the movers of that scheme, as follows:

But we are now told that this action of the Committee is a "past thing" and only harm can result from further discussion in regard to it; and we are asked to "dry up." Those who see that they have made a grave and damaging mistake, to call it by no harsher name, now say "let us have peace," let by-gones be by-gones; the harmony of the party should not be endangered by useless discussion of a past blunder.

This would be worthy of serious consideration but for one fact, viz; the action of the Committee is not a past act; it is but the first step in a nicely-devised scheme, even now being prosecuted by the originators of that action, to change the platform and character of the Democratic party, and to transmute and transfer it to something else. These men now boldly proclaim that "the great battle of the future" is to be the conflict between capital and labor, and that the Democratic party must array itself on the side of labor.

In other words, the pestilent doctrine of the "natural antagonism of capital and labor" is to be the corner-stone of the Democratic faith hereafter, and all the vital doctrines which have hallowed its glorious career are to be discarded; its brilliant record of patriotism is to be ignored, and a new and untried track is to be entered upon!

The article concludes with the following warning:

Now we warn the Democracy of New Hampshire against this pestilent doctrine and this treacherous scheme. The idea of natural antagonism between capital and labor is false, mischievous and fatal to the peace, welfare and prosperity of the community. It is the cry of agrarianism; it is the artful dodge by which reckless demagogues seek to lead the laboring men on to ruin.

There is no such antagonism; capital and labor are alike dependent upon each other and cannot prosper except in cordial co-operation; and any man who talks about antagonism between them, thereby impairs that co-operation and proves himself an enemy to both, a public enemy.

Labor has its rights, capital has its rights; and the Democratic creed requires us to protect both to the fullest extent. That is all labor wants, it is all capital should have. This idea of antagonism between them formed the staple of some Labor Reform speeches and is really the central idea of that party.

The logical conclusion from their talk is that the possession of property is a crime, and its possessor is a foe to the laborer! Look! Every laboring man toils and saves to acquire a little property for his future comfort; yet he is told that its possession will be a crime, and when he gets it he will be treated as the laboring man's foe!

Such is the legitimate conclusion from this doctrine of the antagonism of capital and labor, which the Democracy are to be asked to make the chief item of their creed! Those who cajoled the Committee into its fatal action on the night of Feb. 23, are now at work to cajole, deceive and dragoon the Democratic party into the adoption of this mischievous doctrine; and their next step is to be to take them bodily over to the Labor Reform camp, of which they are to have the command.

Against this scheme we shall not cease to protest. Timid men, doubting men and criminal men may cry "peace" and "let us have peace," until they are hoarse; we will not listen to them, nor shall they have peace, until this treacherous scheme is abandoned.

VALUABLE FARMS.—M. J. Harvey of Epping, writes to the People newspaper, at Concord: "I can show in this little town, on one street, for nearly the distance of a mile, six contiguous farms, with splendid building, worth sixty thousand dollars in the aggregate, every dollar of which was accumulated by farming at not over one-third the present price of produce and stock, forty or fifty years ago."

CURRENCY INFLATION AT THE WEST. The Chicago Tribune remarks: "Whatever weakness may ever have existed at the West in favor of currency inflation and of depreciated paper is rapidly disappearing. From nearly all our Northwestern exchanges we meet with a growing demand for specie resumption."

Connecticut election, April 4.

Gold, Wednesday, 112 3-8.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Tuesday, Mr. Sherman of Ohio, from the financial committee, reported Mr. Sumner's bill to strengthen the legal reserves of banks, and provide for the resumption of specie payments January 1, 1871, with a recommendation that it be indefinitely postponed. The report was concurred in.

The case of Gen. Ames as Senator elect from Mississippi, was then taken up, and the report of the judiciary committee was discussed.

In the House, the bill abolishing polygamy was taken up, and Mr. Ward of New York, a member of the committee on territories, which reported the bill, addressed the House in support of the measure, and in reply to Mr. Fitch's speech about a month ago. He said he had expected that the representatives of the Pacific States, and newspaper Bohemians, would work against the bill; and went on to depict in strong language the enormity of the immorality and public danger in polygamy. He denounced Joe Smith as a vagabond, drunkard and thief, and Brigham Young as a brigand, who, having become disgusted with the honorable occupation of digging potatoes, joined the Mormons and became their chief. He urged immediate action, and that the experiment whether the "Church of the Latter Day Saints" was to be supreme, and whether the dream of the Mormon prophet was to be realized, that the American nation was to be broken into fragments and Mormonism rule, be determined.

Mr. Schenck of Ohio objected to the bill as too comprehensive, and too rigorous and harsh in its details.

Mr. Butler of Massachusetts favored the immediate disposal of the bill, as necessary for the safety and efficiency of the new Governor (Schaffer) of Utah, and suggested that the debate go on.

A motion by Mr. Johnson of California to lay the bill on the table was rejected—40 to 121—all the Pacific coast members voting in favor, and all the New England members, except Mr. Barnum of Connecticut, against it.

Mr. Blair of Michigan proceeded in support of the bill, condemning the one-man power now supreme in Utah, and scouting at the idea that the Mormons will make any serious resistance to the enforcement of the law. He also mentioned the report of Brigham Young's present visit to Arizona, for the purpose of selecting a new locality for the saints' rest, which was denied by Mr. Hooper, the delegate from Utah, who said Young would be home in a few weeks as a permanent resident of Salt Lake City.

Mr. Blair of Michigan referred to the allusions in Mr. Fitch's speech to the gilded harems of New York and Boston, and the painted Jezebels all over the country; and said he (Blair) could see a very wide difference between the thing that hides itself in holes and corners and keeps out of sight, defying all law and decency, and the conduct of the community that organizes lechery into law. When the gentleman [Fitch] was apologising for the Delilah, and pitying the young man who fell in with her, he (Blair) thought to himself, that it was painfully evident that the gentleman never would make much headway himself against the Delilah, and that the country would have to look elsewhere than to him to fight that creature. [Laughter.]

Mr. Cox of New York explained that his vote to lay the bill on the table was not intended as an apology for polygamy, but because he believed all measures of persecution always defeated their object. He preferred to strangle polygamy by another process, and not by this measure.

Mr. Blair hoped the gentleman from New York would not attempt to strangle it by embraces. [Laughter.]

Mr. Hooper of Utah protested against the bill, which was designed to violate the dearest rights of the people of Utah and fraught with evil. Here for the first time in the history of the American government was a proposition to punish citizens for their belief or disbelief. The bill declared that the social system which Moses taught, which God allowed and from which Christ had sprung, was a crime, and that any one, not simply practising it, but believing it, was to be, not tried, but convicted, his wife turned out on the world and his property confiscated for the benefit of the moral reformers who were the instigators of the bill.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

SECOND AND THIRD NEWSPAPERS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—In a former article, the New Hampshire Gazette was named as the first paper established in this State, in 1756.

The second was the Portsmouth Mercury, commenced Jan. 21, 1765. Portsmouth was then a considerable town, having about 4300 inhabitants. Newington had just been disannexed, and had a population of about 500. New Castle had been disannexed long before, and had a population of about 550. Also Greenland, with more than 700, and Rye (a portion of which was taken from Portsmouth,) with nearly 700. And finally, Gosport, a little out to sea, had about 200, and was then a brisk, enterprising place.

In Portsmouth and vicinity were then, 105 years ago, nearly 7000 souls. Was another paper needed? It was judged so; and its origin was in this wise:

On the 7th of February, 1765, the British Government passed the Stamp Act. It was a question with many whether to submit to the oppressive measures of England or to resist them. The New Hampshire Gazette was calm and dispassionate, and some thought it would not dare to resist the Stamp Act; and so Thomas Furber commenced a new paper. It was called The Portsmouth Mercury and Weekly Advertiser, and added as its imprint, "containing the freshest and most important advices, both Foreign and Domestic." This was after the form of that of the Gazette. It was printed on a sheet of pot or foolscap paper. Mercury means hot. There was some heat in this paper,—some attempted flashes of lightning and a little rumbling thunder; but the Gazette was decided against the Stamp Act, and stole the Mercury's thunder. In the second year of the Mercury, Eleazer Russell became partner with Mr. Furber, and the year following, that is, in 1768, the paper was discontinued. Then the Gazette again had the whole field to itself, no other paper being published till about seven years later, in this State.

The next and third paper published in the State was at Exeter. It was commenced near the close of 1765, by Robert Fowle. Exeter village then was not large, and the dwellings were rather scattered about. The town had 1471 people.

This sheet was at first called "A New Hampshire Gazette;" soon, "The New Hampshire Gazette;" next, "The New Hampshire Gazette, or Exeter Morning Chronicle;" then, "The New Hampshire (State), or Exeter Circulating Morning Chronicle;" and finally, "The State Journal, or the New Hampshire Gazette and Tuesday's Liberty Advertiser." Besides these changes, the day of publication was altered again and again.

Exeter then had two churches, both Congregational. Rev. W. Odlin was pastor of the First, and Rev. Daniel Rogers, a descendant in a direct line of the martyr, John Rogers, was over the Second. Phillips Exeter Academy had not then been established. There was a discerning public, however; and by these various changes in the title of this paper, they were reminded of the words of Solomon, "Meddle not with him that is given to change." We have not the time of the ending of this paper, but think it was not published long. J.

THE DEMOCRATIC FAMILY QUARREL. The Concord Patriot is after the betrayers of Gen. Bedel, with sharp words which show that the war horses are to make a grand rush to oust the present managers. It says:—

Whether the false step of the Committee was the result of infidelity or incompetency, subsequent events and developments have made a question. * *

When the Chairman explained to us the "selling-out" action of the Committee, he stated certain "facts of the canvass" upon which, he alleged, that action was based. The main fact was the alleged disaffection towards Gen. Bedel among the Democracy. In proof of this, he assured us that "it was in evidence before the Committee" that Gen. Bedel could not get over 25 per cent. of the Democratic vote of Strafford county; not over 35 per cent. of the Democratic vote in the upper and central portions of Rockingham; not over 50 per cent. of the Democratic vote of Merrimack county, and that there was also great disaffection in other counties. And among other damaging facts he also told us that Gen. Stark was at work to defeat our Senator in No. 8. Other like facts were stated—such as that the Democracy of several towns in this county were going "almost solid against Bedel." These alleged facts "were in evidence before the Committee," we were told, and upon these astounding facts the Committee were induced to take the action referred to in order to prevent these thousands of disaffected Democrats from going for Stearns!

But, unfortunately, the returns show that these alleged facts were not facts—that no such disaffection existed, and that all the efforts made by professed Democrats to make the facts correspond with these assertions, signally failed. Hence we submit that the action of the Committee was based upon a mistake or a fraud; we leave it for future developments to determine which.

But suppose such damaging facts to have existed, what was the plain duty of all true Democrats, and more especially the chief agents of the party appointed to carry into effect its pledge to give its candidate an "earnest and united support?" Was that pledge to be redeemed and that support to be secured by publishing to the world and proclaiming upon the housetops that thousands of Democrats were sure to vote against that candidate? Is it fidelity or infidelity to that party to pursue that course? We ask honest and intelligent men this plain question; and without answering it for them, we will only add, upon this point, that the main facts above alleged to have been "in evidence before the Committee," were furnished for publication by the Chairman of the Committee, and were published in several Boston papers, eight or ten days before the election, viz: on the 28th of February; and were at once copied by the Radical papers and thus circulated all over the State! If this is "laboring faithfully and earnestly for the success of the Democracy," we think the Democracy will beg to be relieved from such service hereafter.

Holloway's Ointment.—Thousands of cripples are now lingering unrelieved, under a false system of treatment, who would be specdily in a condition to cast away their crutches if HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT were applied to their stiff joints and ulcerated limbs. No other lubricant has such penetrating power. Indurated ligaments and contracted muscles relax under its influence, and disease or injury so far yields to its disinfectant and tonic principles with a facility that almost transcends belief. Sold by Druggists.

For Moth Patches, Freckles and Tan,

USE "PERRY'S MOTH & FRECKLE LOTION." The only Reliable and Harmless Remedy known to Science for removing brown discolorations from the Face. Prepared only by Dr. B. C. PERRY, 49 Bond St., N. Y. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Occupational Ailments.

Fresh, pure air is a vitalizing elixir. Whoever is debarred by circumstances from unrestricted access to this invisible, but powerful stimulant needs a medicinal invigorant of some kind. The great object should be to choose the best. Popularity is a pretty good guarantee of merit in this scrutinizing and intelligent age, and tried by this criterion HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stands first among the invigorating and regulating medicines of the present day. To the wants of persons engaged in indoor employments, especially in crowded factories where even with the best possible ventilation the atmosphere is always in some degree polluted, this salubrious vegetable tonic is peculiarly adapted.

The nature of the ingredients is no mystery, it consists of an absolutely pure diffusive stimulant, tinctured—or rather surcharged—with the fluid extracts of sanatorous roots and barks and herbs. The pharmacopœia has its tinctures, but what are they? The juice of only a single root or bark or plant is present in each. Not one of them combines the three properties of a tonic, an alterative and an aperient. All these elements are blended in the Bitters, nor are these the sum of its medicinal recommendations. It is also a blood depurant and an antispasmodic.

The baleful effect which air that has been partially exhausted of its oxygen by frequent breathing produces on the vital organization, is notorious, and when to this devitalized atmosphere is superadded the mephitic vapor of hot air furnaces, it becomes deleterious and depressing in the extreme. To enable the system to bear up, even for a few hours each day against the debilitating influence of a vitiated atmosphere, a wholesome tonic and alterative is urgently required. This grand desideratum is supplied in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which as a strength-sustaining, health-protecting agent has no rival either among official or advertised medicines.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautifully black or brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

ASTONISHING REVELATIONS.

Two scientific publications are in the field against the hair dyes of which lead is the basis, The "New York Medical Gazette" and "The Journal of Chemistry" bitterly denounce them. Yet the hair may be safely dyed. Have you seen

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Sudden severe pains of the side and back, stitches, spasms, etc. These affections are most troublesome to persons past middle age. Will even come on in bed; are very painful and often dangerous. In damp weather they are more frequent than in dry. These plasters give relief at once, and need to be always in the drawer, handy.

PAIN OF THE SIDE CURED.

Allentown, Penn., April 4, 1865.

Dear Sirs: My father used one of your Porous Plasters. She had a very bad pain in her side, and it cured her in one week. Yours truly,

A HUMBUG.

How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of Patent Medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right.

It is over 22 years since I introduced DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all I stated on my pamphlet, no one need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by many, thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me.

But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash.

I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy. It is perfectly innocent to take internally—see oath accompanying each bottle—and externally for Chronic, Rheumatism, Headache, Mumps, Frosted Feet, Bruises, Sprains, Old Sores, Swellings, Sore Throats, &c., &c.

A STOVE FOR THE TIMES!!!

THE SAMPLE COOK. FOR WOOD OR COAL.

With or Without Extension Tops.

A first-class Stove at a Very Low Price.

A NEW ARTICLE RECENTLY BROUGHT OUT!

The Neatest Stove in the Market.

The fall of Gold calls for lower-priced goods, and to meet this demand the SAMPLE COOK is offered to the public. The rapid sale it has already met proves it to be what is wanted at the present time.

It has a large, quick oven; is economical, convenient, and durable. There is a sifting-grate in the hearth which can be arranged for broiling meats, without allowing the smoke to escape into the room,—a very desirable feature.

A slow-baking stove is not worth house-room. Housekeepers who wish to purchase one that is warranted to bake quick, with little fuel, and keep fire the year round, should buy a SAMPLE COOK. For Sale by SWEETSER & CLARK, mh22 No. 46 Market Street.

COUGHS, INFLUENZA,

SORE THROAT, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, LIVER COMPLAINT, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, BLEEDING OF LUNGS, and every affection of the THROAT, LUNGS and CHEST, are speedily and permanently cured by the use of

WISTAR'S BALSAM

OF WILD CHERRY.

This well known preparation does not dry up a cough and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most medicines, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.

Consumption can be Cured

by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors.

Prize Medal Yeast Powder.

☞ Florine Nudd a Manchester clothes thief, was sent back from this city, Wednesday evening, by Marshal Johnson.

☞ The Trustees of the Public Library Fund have received $100 from Jos. S. Simes, Esq., of Boston, son of Ex-Mayor Simes of this city.

☞ Hon. James Shaw, formerly of this city, was President of the Dallas County, Alabama, Republican Convention, held at Selma, March 12th, to nominate candidates for County officers.

☞ Foster Shores & Co. are selling neat little Erasive Pocket Tablets, having a page for every day in the week. They are just the handiest little things out, for memoranda, and are sold cheap. Try 'em.

☞ The Prize Medal Yeast Powder, advertised to-day, is a new article and is highly recommended by those who have used it. "The bread comes out of the oven light and short," says the agent. It is worthy of a trial.

☞ Trafton's closing Bal Masque, Tuesday evening, was largely attended, being a success, as usual. An amusing feature of the evening was the arrest of a masquer, dressed as a convict, by a big policeman, who turned out afterwards to be a young man lately returned from the West. At the time of unmasking, the "convict" was found to be the manager of the Bal Masque.

☞ At a largely attended meeting of the Universalist Society, Tuesday evening, it was voted to build a vestry under the Church, at an expense not exceeding $6500. The vestry is to seat 375 persons, with a bible class room for 120, pastor's room, kitchen, &c. The Church is to be raised 3 1-2 feet and a new foundation is to be laid. The vote for the necessary improvements was nearly unanimous. We hear that a subscription fund is to be raised the present year for a new organ. The Society is prosperous under the pastorship of Rev. G. W. Bicknell.

THE LYCEUM.—Mr. Hatch's Lecture, on Tuesday evening, closed the Course before the Mercantile Library Association. It was a very interesting disquisition on Legislation — well studied, finely written and nicely delivered, as was to be expected from so good a scholar and finished an orator as Mr. Hatch. His leading idea was, that the world is governed too much,—and that the least law-making and enforcing we can get along with, the better. The speaker referred very pleasantly in brief review, to the other lecturers who had preceded him in the Course; and in illustration of his theme, instanced numerous laws now seen to be ridiculous, which have obtained in different ages.

NAVY YARDS. — The House naval committee has finally finished the Brooklyn Navy Yard bill, and it will be reported at the earliest opportunity. A board of three high officers is to examine the property there, and on their recommendation, such of it, including the land and hospital property adjoining, as is not needed, is to be from time to time sold by public auction by the Secretary of the Navy, and the proceeds carried into the Treasury. Such parts of the buildings and machinery as can be used to advantage elsewhere are to be taken to other yards or stations, but no new yards are to be established. This provision kills the project for a yard up the Hudson, but permits the doing of something at New London and League Island. If the bill passes, the yards at Charlestown and Portsmouth may come in for a share of the Brooklyn estate.

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.—At a residence in the surburbs of this city, on Election Day, several minor matters went wrong. First, a favorite Canary bird got out of his cage, and a cat breakfasted on him; then a passing hawk snatched one of a little flock of fan-tail pigeons from the roof of the barn, as he passed, and ate him clean, on a neighboring wall. Another pigeon that was setting, was robbed of one egg by rats or other interloper, and deserted her nest in disgust; and a hen that had been moved when set, and had consequently done much of her setting standing, brought out but one chick, and that she killed. To crown all, a favorite cow which was particularly desired to bring a heifer for the dairy, made a bull of it, shortly after! But as an offset, the major-domo himself of the premises, was successful at the polls that day—although there were some schisms and side-issues brought to bear against him.

A MEAN MAN WHO GOT CONVERTED. There was a great revival in the region where old Smithers, as every body called him, lived, and it took hold of him one day. Smithers was a dreadful mean man, oppressive to the poor, and all that, and never paid a debt if he could help it. He had been known to turn a poor widow, with a large family of small children, out into the streets on a cold Winter's day, because she was unable to pay the rent of the miserable shanty she had of him. He was commonly known as "Old Smithers," although he wasn't so very old either; but we have noticed that all mean men have the prefix "old" attached to their names generally, when their neighbors speak of them.

Old Smithers "took a habit," as they say in Wisconsin, to attend one of the "protracted meetings." He was struck with conviction the first day and hopefully converted, as he claimed, the next. After his conversion he was announced to address his fellow sinners and sinneresses on the following Sunday afternoon. The news that old Smithers had got religion spread all about the neighborhood. Some doubted it; said he was putting it on so as to skin folks a little closer; others, more charitable, said it might be true and they hoped he would not be so mean in the future, if it was.

Sunday afternoon arrived and the church was crowded. The entire neighborhood turned out to hear what so mean a man as old Smithers would have to say for himself after passing through conviction and conversion. All was still in the church when old Smithers arose to speak. He began by telling what a mean man he had been all his life. He said he had probably done more mean things than any man of his years and opportunities living, and if there was any mean thing he had failed to do it was either because he hadn't thought of it or there was no good chance. After going somewhat into details regarding his meanness, astonishing even those who thought they knew him best, with the recital, and declaring his utter unworthiness, he resumed his seat.

There was a brief pause, after which a neighbor of old Smithers, a member of the church, arose and said: "I have lived nigh neighbor to Brother Smithers for a long time. I have just listened to Brother Smithers' remarks, and from an intimate acquaintance with him and his actions for a number of years, I am prepared to endorse, in the fullest manner, all the charges he has made against himself, and more too. He is certainly the meanest man I ever knew in the whole course of my life," and sat down.

Then arose old Smithers, pale and trembling with rage, and exclaimed: "It's a d——d lie, and I'll whip you as soon as you leave the church."

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—The lecture of A. R. Hatch, Esq., before the Mercantile Library Association, is well worthy of as courteous an approval as he gave to those preceding him. Both the matter and manner were in the highest degree pleasing. His deductions, however, that "that is the best government which governs the least," he of course considers subject to any counter statements. My own view is that Government does the least possible, when it only protects the getting and hoarding of money. For a man who should insist on the filthiness of tobacco chewing and smoking in my presence, really would do a greater damage to me than if he should rob me of my property—because he deprives me of my rightful share in the decencies and refinements of life, to which money is but a means. No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 237 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY AND NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both in this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc.* which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 22dw3m

JOSH BILLINGS ON BOSTON.—Josh Billings, during his recent visit to Boston, for the purpose of delivering his "lekture," found time to indite the following running fire of witticisms in laudation and at the expense of "the Hub:"—

Boston is the kapital of Mass., the salt of the earth, and the kradle and rocking hoss of the live Yankee.

It is a city of immense spondulicks, grate attempts, vast viktories, and tremenjous learning.

The inevitable skool marm, the kamphene agitator, the war-like debator, all come red-hot from Boston.

I am playkarded to lektur here tonight at Musik Hall, but how i shall succeed the Lord only knows, for i am a man of no learning, a very poor speller, and devoid of impudence, have got to face poets & skollars, historyans and sages, besides lots of wimmin, who have got more edukashun in one minnit than Nebudkenezzer had after 999 years of toil and sweat.

I shall probably make a fizzle of it, but i have one consolashun to cheer me, it won't be mi fast fizzle.

Fust fizzles are what try a phellow; if he kan manage one of them, and not leak out, there is hope for him, and also a slight sprinkling of salvashun.

What i have saw of Boston suits me. The people are as gentle as lambs, and know a stranger the minnit they git their eye on him.

Noboddy here is in too much of a hurry to be civil. If yu hav lost yure hotel the fust man yu meet will waste 2 hours telling yu of the different crooks yu must take to reach it and finally konklude the safest way to tell yu how to get there is to drop everything and go with yu.

Boston is the ezyest place tew git lost in (with all its morality) that i hav ever tried. You kan git lost and not kno it till a hour afterward.

There don't seem tew be enny streets that run parralell. They all seem tew run whare the pleze, and every street has got at least one end to it that brings up in somebody's door-yard.

To learn Boston one should be born here, or at least serve an apprentisship here for 40 or 50 years.

Boston is principally celebrated (just now) for its grate temperance question.

Whiskee is as aktual skarse here, as hair on the hed ov mi cane.

I haven't dared to ask the question, for fear of being arrested, but i don't suppose, as near as i kan judge, that there is a square drink of korn whiskee, within six miles of the city of Boston, for sale or to let. What on earth the people liv on, for drink, is a mystery to me.

Virtew, and morality, are the two staple krops of Boston. This afternoon i am going to be invited out to ride on the mill dam, a piece of fast road, near the city, which is built in a strate line, to avoid the unworthy appearance of a trotting track.

Bunker hill is not far oph, and i am teazed to stay over tomorrow and visit it, but i have alus made it a rule, the quicker I kan leave a town, after i hav spoken one of mi lekturs, and got mi money for it, the more pleasant it iz for my friends to entertain me.

Plimouth rok iz likewise sumware in these adjacent parts, I would like to go and stan on it—the man who kan stan on Plimouth rok, and not puff up sum, iz a stony kuss.

Such a man probably never had enny four-fathers, nor enny soul, nor enny gizzard, nor enny fewter prospects in Elm.

I spent two hours just after breakfast in the common, which iz an uncommon fine piece of vertable land, inhabited with grand elms, and lit up by day, with happy children.

If i had a boy, that i wanted ten elevate, in the way she should go, the most, i wouldn't undertake the job myself, but i would take oph his halter, and turn him out loose in the city of Boston.

It has been sed, by one of her historians, "that a man once born in Boston don't hav tew be born agin." If this is really so, tis a great saving.

Relicks are very cheap just now in Boston, i was offered a hemlock board, 10 feet long, 8 inches wide, and an inch in depth, taken in one piece from the grate Colyseum, for the miserable pittance of $2.50.

It was dorg sassage cheap, but it was two dollars more money than i had, and more hemlock board than i stood in need of.

Brains is the chief artikle of consumption in Boston, almost everything else is neglekted, and tho' this is a sublime idear, the consequence is, that a grate deal of natural genus iz neglekted, and the city is a little overstocked with morbid taylors and languid mantumakers.

There is one thing that i luv and respkt Boston for—she lets her dead sleep in old graveyards, all about the city.

I konsider a man's bones a fust mortgage on land, that no process but the summons of Gabriel's horn kan remove.

—It is a curious circumstance that the last funeral of Mr. Peabody did not deposit his remains in their final resting-place; but in a family tomb from which they are by and by to be removed to a grave. That will make three separate interments.

—An observer of human nature reports that he has seen some people possessing the peculiarities of three hands a right hand, a left hand, and a little behind hand.

—Why is a son who objects to his mother's second marriage like an exhausted pedestrian? Because he can't go a step-father.

—There's a man down town who keeps a list of all the banks in the country, so as to able to say that he keeps a bank account.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

NEWINGTON, March 22.

Messrs. Editors:—I perceive the Liquor Agency question is still open for discussion; allow a few words from an old codger.

Suppose I am the Agent, and am ignorant of arithmetic beyond addition and subtraction. The Selectmen say to me, "There is $82.17 in the drawer, and some liquor (no matter how much) in a cask; you sell from this, and when it gets low, take some money from the drawer and purchase more." When I have sold enough to swell my $82.17 to $59.91, which would require $27.74, I take this money, which is all I have of the town's, and purchase more liquor. I continue to sell till the end of the year, when I find I have $102.97, less $27.74 which I expended, leaving me on hand $75.23. I now deduct my salary, $25, which leaves $50.23 as the sum I owe the town. The Selectmen inspect the cask, and find in it $31.37 worth of liquor; which sum added to $50.23 makes $81.60.

Now if the Town wants to see what has been made by the sale of liquor, it is necessary to take into account what was in the cask when I commenced business for them; but a knowledge of this is of no account in their settlement with me as Agent. S. H.

ANOTHER DARBY AND JOAN.—It appears by the Notes & Queries of the New York Observer, March 17, that the ballad of Darby and Joan, which we copied recently, is not the old or original English poem, but was written by John Honeywood, of New York, and published in 1801. But it appears, from the same source that the "Darby and Joan" so often referred to as a model old couple, were described in a poem called "Advice to Chloe," written in England more than a hundred years ago, by Vincent Bowne, a friend and cotemporary of Cowper. The extract read as follows:

Old Darby, with Joan by his side,
You've often regarded with wonder;
He's dropsical, she is sore-eyed,
Yet they're ever uneasy asunder.
Together they totter about,
Or sit in the sun at the door;
And at night, when old Darby's pot's out,
His wife will not smoke a whiff more.

No beauty nor wit they possess,
Their several failings to smother;
Then what are the charms, can you guess,
That makes them so fond of each other?
'Tis the pleasing remembrance of youth,
The endearments which youth did bestow;
The thoughts of past pleasure and truth,
The best of our blessings below.

These traces forever will last;
No sickness or time can remove;
For, when youth and beauty are past,
And age brings the winter of love,
A friendship insensibly grows
By reviews of such raptures as these;
The current of fondness still flows,
Which decrepit old age cannot freeze.

REV. E. H. HAMMOND, the revivalist, excels in the power of apt illustration. Noticing, in one of his sermons, the apathy into which professors of religion often fall, he said: "To be sure they come to the Lord's House, and even sit at the Lord's Supper, but that don't make them his children. I have known hundreds of just such people, who imagined themselves the heirs of eternal life, when in fact they were only boarders in the House of the Lord.

Their idleness in the vineyard of their Master reminds us of a story told of an old fellow who refused to subject himself to the influence of the Spirit, and would hardly attend church at all, on the plea that he was an established Christian, and therefore there was of no use in it. About this time he went with his son Dan, a boy of fifteen, to get a load of wood.

The wagon was piled full, and the old man chirruped to the horse; but the animal had taken a balky fit and would not stir. Then the whip was freely used, but it only caused the refactory beast to kick and rear, without taking a step forward. The old man threw down the whip and groaned.

"Dan, what's to be done?" he cried.

"I don't know, father," the boy gravely replied. "I reckon he's one of your established Christians."

DANGER OF CHALK SIGNS. — Joe R.——, an itinerant shoemaker, will long known along the north shore of the Island, tells the following on himself as "a warning to other business men" not to put their trust in chalk signs. Says Joe, "I went to New York to start business and fell in with a chap named Bumps. We united our capital, hired a room in a street where there was a great similarity of houses, and to economise our funds, $15 all told, chalked a sign on the clap boards over the door. We did pretty well and at the end of a fortnight found it necessary to invest all our profits in leather and findings, and so Bumps handed me the amount, some $40, and I started down to the Swamp to get the things. I hadn't been gone long when there came up a shower, and for the life of me I never could find that place of business again. No, sir, the rain had washed out every darned chalk mark, and I never saw Bumps afterwards — and Bumps, you bet, he never saw me."—Glen Cove Gazette.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual, for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit, but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

EARLY VEGETABLES.—Peas.—Get a few papers of the earliest kind—say extra Early May. Select the warmest day in March you can, and spade up as much ground in a sheltered spot as you desire to plant (say a south-side fence row or wall) plant your peas thick, 3 inches deep; cover with warm, dry leaf-mould or chip-manure, and on each side of the row lay corn-stalks, piling them up a foot on each side, so they will not fall over on the row. Scatter straw lightly over the row, so as not to fully exclude the sunlight. If very rough weather sets in, (which will be the case, in all probability,) cover over the rows with plank or boards until the rough weather is over. Remove when the sun shines warmly. In this way you can have a few "messes" a month or more in advance of those planted at the usual time. The pea is quite hardy as I have had them covered with snow when two inches high without injury, when protected as above directed.

Cucumbers.—Early in March procure some sod about eight inches thick. Turn them over and cut the soil so the seed can be struck in an inch or so deep. Plant only the "Early Frame." Set the sod in a pit or hot-bed, if you have them; if not, set them in a room where there is fire; water with milk-warm water occasionally as the sod gets dry; and, when warmer weather comes, remove them to the garden and place small boxes a foot square, having neither bottoms nor tops, over them. At night, until the young plants get "hardened," place a pane of glass over them. Remove the boxes as the ground gets warmed up, and you will have fine early cucumbers.

Lettuce.—Make a hot bed in the usual way, about four by eight feet. Sow any kind of early seed you prefer; keep it covered with sash; air and water every bright, pleasant day. Thin out the plants as you see them. Such a bed will furnish an abundance, quite early, for a family of a dozen or more.

WHAT THE FARMER MUST KNOW.—The farmer, like the business man, must know what he is doing; he must have some pretty decided ideas of what he is to accomplish—in fact he must calculate it before hand.

He must know his soil—that of each lot, not only the top, but the sub-soil.

He must also know what grain and grasses are adapted to each.

He must know when is the best time to work them, whether they need summer fallowing.

He must know the condition in which ground must be when plowed, so that it be not too wet or too dry.

He must know that some grains require earlier sowing than others, and what those grains are.

He must know how to put them in.

He must know that it pays to have machinery to aid him, as well as muscle.

He must know about stocks and manures, and the cultivation of trees and small fruits, and many other things; in a word he must know what experienced, observing farmers know, to be sure of success. Then he will not guess—will not run such risks.—Rural World.

GOOD ADVICE.—Whatever be your calling, be proud of it. Are you a shoemaker? Try to make a better shoe than any other man can make. Yes, whatever your trade or profession, excel in it if you can. Bear in mind that any kind of honest labor is honorable, but choose well.

If you like the free and honest labor of a farmer, do not drag out long years in the study of law or medicine, for that would be "vanity and vexation of spirit;" but go immediately to the farm, and in the life you leave enjoy that perfect peace of mind peculiar to every individual that feels he is in his fort, doing what God designed he should, and who will never have to realize that cold, humiliating, and sickening feeling that his life has been a failure.

Suffer not that feeling to creep over you, but be up and doing. "Look well to the ways of your footsteps." Keep clean the house of clay in which God has placed you. Touch not, taste not that which will corrupt it. Go not to your grave a composition, one third whisky, one third tobacco, and the remaining third corruption, so filthy that even the ghouls and ravenous worms would scorn to touch you. Be true to yourself. Deal honestly and plainly with your fellow-men.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The moral influence of the New Hampshire election extends beyond the mere fact of the election of a Republican Governor. It is the advance signal of a movement that will indorse the policy of the party in power, and the administration of General Grant. It is indicative of the confidence of the people of the country in the management of the national affairs under the direction of the President elected by Republican votes. This emphatic indorsement will be repeated by the other States that are soon to hold their elections, and the policy which was developed under a Republican administration, and which has restored the financial credit of the country before the world, will be sustained by the actions of the other States, as it has been done by glorious old New Hampshire.—Lawrence (Kansas) Tribune.

New Publications Received.

The Educational Gazette is devoted to pure, high-toned literature. Its aim is to furnish in a popular and attractive style the latest results in scientific, educational and literary labors, and in these respects its present success is well deserved. The March number contains valuable articles by Prof. John S. Hart, Elihu Burrit, etc.; good stories, and much special matter in regard to National Education in our land not before published. C. H. Turner & Co., 607 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, publishers; $1 per annum.

Saturday Weekly Journal, New York; Beadle & Co., publishers. $2 50 per annum. Volume 1, No. 1, has the commencement of a new story—Hand not Heart, by Lennox Wylder.

The Odd Fellow, monthly, for March. Full of good matter for Orderly or other readers.

Hall's Journal of Health, Literature, Science and Art—enlarged and illustrated. Always good, and now better than ever. Monthly, $2 a year. Dr. W. W. Hall publisher, New York.

Every Saturday, in its weekly or monthly issue, is a very valuable illustrated paper or magazine.

Coachmaker's International Journal for March. Philadelphia, $3 a year, monthly. Invaluable in its line on carriage and kindred work.

Godey's Lady's Book, for April, came to us (several days ago,) with its usual promptness, and with something more than its usual beauty. The regular engraving, Spring Time, is a handsome view, but in New England we shall keep it till June. The wood cut, Catching Birds with Fresh Salt, is very fine. It appears that of 2000 exchanges, 1163 have not noticed Godey in January, February or March. We don't train in that company. If a magazine is worth having, it is surely worth noticing.

New Hampshire Items.

The Dover Enquirer hears on every hand and sees on every street, indications of building and improvements. More than a hundred tenements are wanted or will be this spring in that city.

One of the employees at Pepper's hosiery mill at Lake Village, found on one of the beams in the basement, a complete set of surgical instruments. From appearances, they must have been concealed there a long time. On the next day the same person found a wallet containing two coppers bearing the date of 1835, a Spanish silver piece, and also some surgical needles.

Last week one of the Biddeford manufacturing companies received an invoice of a good quality of cotton at 21 cents per pound. Cotton goods ought to be cheap, when the raw material and labor are so low.

The Governor of Maine has made the following nominations in York county:—Washington Junkins, York, Charles W. Ross, Biddeford, Edward F. Safford, Kittery, J. P. & Q.:—Frederic A. Wood, Lebanon Trial, Jus., Mark E. Marshall, Berwick, Coroner, Christopher Littlefield, Kennebunk, Not. Pub.

The Democrats carried Wells Town Meeting as usual, though by a largely reduced majority. The Roadmaster of the P. S. & P. Railroad is the most laborious and active copperhead in town, hiring none but of his stripe.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER, March 25.

Messrs. Editors:—I find in your correspondent "C.'s" report of the Exeter "Farmers' Club" discussion, that C. W. Treadwell is made to say, "that although he had raised two bushels of Norway oats from one pint sowed, he did not consider the straw so valuable for feeding to stock, as a smaller, shorter kind." I beg to reply that this statement has arisen from an entire misapprehension on the part of the reporter. On the contrary, the very fact of this variety of oats making such a thrifty, vigorous growth of blade and stalk, constitutes an especial value for feeding in a green state, that other kinds do not possess to such an extent.

In regard to barley and wheat, I should have been reported to say, that we had raised of the former, 18 bushels of clean, plump kernels, from one-half an acre; and of the latter, 11 bushels of the so-called Black Sea wheat, from the same quantity of land, — and a very handsome berry: both crops raised the past season, and no allowance made for some loss by lodging, which on the wheat would have increased the yield to at least 25 bushels to the acre. We have raised wheat for family use for 25 years, believing with many others that people who insist upon bolting their grain are throwing away the best part, if they are thereby confined to fine flour exclusively.

As a proof of the value of wheat bran properly fed, I will say that I have a fine yearling Dutch calf who made a gain of 2 3-4 lbs. a day for a month, on two quarts of bran and the same of skimmed milk, scalded and thinned to a sloppy gruel, and who weighed at 20 weeks of age, 470 pounds.

The mistake of your correspondent in regard to the oats, I think may have arisen from a statement that I made in our discussion on the different kinds of potato, that a servant girl in Boston used to call the boarders to breakfast by regularly popping or bursting a "Carter" potato in the Stove oven.

Your reporter evidently took offence at this, considering it a slur on the "Yankee Corn Popper," an ingenious little contrivance in which I believe he is specially interested, in conclusion I will say that people who are particularly predisposed to perpetrate pungent propositions should remember the quaint, but not obsolete adage that sance for goose, should be, &c.

Yours truly, C. W. T.

ASSISTANT SURGEON FROTHINGHAM. Paymaster Tullock, in a letter written at Nagasaki, Japan, June 4, 1869, alludes to Asst. Surgeon Edward Frothingham, U. S. N., who was recently lost in the steamer Oneida, as follows:

When the small-pox was prevalent on ship-board at Hiogo, the cases were very virulent and fatal. A house was hired on shore, and our estimable assistant surgeon occupied it, and all sick with the infectious disease were sent to him. As soon as a man complained he was bundled off to the hospital, as the house was called.

Dr. Frothingham, a graduate of a college and medical university, an excellent young man, of good ability and skill, and most gratifying prospects, shut himself up with these sick men, and tended them faithfully for about forty days, at the imminent peril of his life. He was of course shunned by every one, and virtually quarantined during the length of time the epidemic lasted.—I have frequently witnessed in other surgeons the same courage and fidelity to duty, particularly when the yellow fever prevailed in our Gulf squadron during the rebellion.

[Yet such men, who have served the country faithfully and well, during the late war and for long before it, are ranked by fledglings from Annapolis, because "staff officers do not have to face the same dangers in the execution of their duties" as do the line.—P.]

YORK COUNTY.—The scholars of the Biddeford High School are soon to produce an original play, which is being written by one of the young ladies. The one they produced in Shaw's Hall last year, was pronounced a success.

Last week one of the Biddeford manufacturing companies received an invoice of a good quality of cotton at 21 cents per pound. Cotton goods ought to be cheap, when the raw material and labor are so low.

The Governor of Maine has made the following nominations in York county:—Washington Junkins, York, Charles W. Ross, Biddeford, Edward F. Safford, Kittery, J. P. & Q.:—Frederic A. Wood, Lebanon Trial, Jus., Mark E. Marshall, Berwick, Coroner, Christopher Littlefield, Kennebunk, Not. Pub.

The Democrats carried Wells Town Meeting as usual, though by a largely reduced majority. The Roadmaster of the P. S. & P. Railroad is the most laborious and active copperhead in town, hiring none but of his stripe.

☞ The Dover Daily Bee is to be a morning paper, and will be enlarged.

CONGRESSIONAL. — On Wednesday, the President sent in a message on the subject of the decline of American commerce. He says it is a natural humiliation for this country to be compelled to pay from twenty to thirty million dollars yearly for ocean freight, which American citizens should share with the citizens of other countries. A direct money subsidy is less likely to be abused than indirect aid, but he recommends the passage of the two bills reported by the special committee on the subject.

The House passed the bill for the abolition of polygamy, by a vote of 94 to 32.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle Office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle. ☞ Subscriptions may commence any time.

DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY is "a combination and a form indeed" for healing and curing diseases of the throat, lungs, and chest. It cures a cough by loosening and cleansing the lungs, and allaying irritation; thus removing the cause, in stead of drying up a cough and leaving the cause behind.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Occupational Ailments.

Fresh, pure air is a vitalizing elixir. Whoever is debarred by circumstances from unrestricted access to this invisible, but powerful stimulant needs a medicinal invigorant of some kind. The great object should be to choose the best. Popularity is a pretty good guarantee of merit in this scrutinizing and intelligent age, and tried by this criterion HOST ETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stands first among the invigorating and regulating medicines of the present day. To the wants of serious organic, if in indoor employments, especially in crowded localities where even with the best possible ventilation the atmosphere is always in some degree polluted, this salubrious vegetable tonic is peculiarly adapted.

The nature of the ingredients is no mystery, it consists of an absolutely pure diffusive stimulant, tinctured—or rather surcharged—with the fluid extracts of sanatous roots and barks and herbs. The pharmacopœia has its tinctures, but what are they? The juice of only a single root or bark or plant is present in each. Not one of them combines the three properties of a tonic, an alterative and an aperient. All these elements are blended in the Bitters, nor are these the sum of its medicinal recommendations. It is also a blood depurent and an antispasmodic.

The baleful effect which air that has been partially exhausted of its oxygen by frequent breathing produces on the vital organization, is notorious, and when to this devitalized atmosphere is superadded the mephitic vapor of hot air furnaces, it becomes deleterious and depressing in the extreme. To enable the system to bear up, even for a few hours each day against the debilitating influence of a vitiated atmosphere, a wholesome tonic and alterative is urgently required. This grand desideratum is supplied in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which as a strength-sustaining, health-protecting agent has no rival either among officinal or advertised medicines.

A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristnadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

"Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cts."

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 for a bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM,

Can be taken as a fact. Let all afflicted test it at once. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

Boots For Sale—Joseph P. Morse.
New Book—Wells & Coffin, New York.
Sulphur Fume Baths—Dr. Strong.
Auction—H. F. Wendell.
Proposals—Edwin L. Putnam.
Copartnership—Hoyt and Trefethen.

☞ Wm. Hayward is to give a Concert at the Temple next Tuesday evening.

☞ At the Reunion of the Dover High School, Dr. A. P. Stevens of this city responded for the Class of 1857.

☞ Mr. Morse offers for sale, well-secured Bonds that pay good interest, as also Mr. Shores, at the old Savings' Bank.

☞ Dr. Strong's Sulphur Baths are recommended and endorsed by Dr. Perry of this city. Dr. Strong is located in Ladd Street. First come, first served.

☞ Messrs. John Stokell & Co., provisioners, in Merchants' Row, have just dressed for their shambles, a hog fatted on meal by Hon. H. D. Walker, which at 14 months' age dresses 793 pounds. It is of Chester County breed.

A noble and beautiful pair of fat Cattle from Mr. Jedediah Rand of Rye, weigh on the hoof 4289 pounds.

☞ We learn that Mr. W. I. Trafton is making arrangements for a Fancy Dress & Calico Ball at Congress Hall, Thursday evening, April 7 (Fast Night). Music by Harlow's Marine Band. Spectators will be admitted to the gallery only, as the entire floor will be devoted to dancing. The Order of dances will be printed on cloth in the form of a Lady's apron pinned on their dresses. No masks worn on this occasion.

ALDERMEN.—Thursday evening, the Com. on Fire Dept. reported that portable Fire Extinguishers can be purchased for $55 each; and Ald. Nowell was authorized to purchase three for use of the City—one at City Farm, and others at the Station House or elsewhere.

The Finance Com. reported that the request of Rockingham Bank, that the City Bonds held by them, be changed to registered Bonds, be granted—which was done; provided no expense be incurred by the City.

The Com. on Fire Dept. reported an Ordinance reorganizing the Dept.,—one hand Company to be disbanded in April next. The idea evidently is, to purchase another second-class Steamer, and do away with all, or nearly all the hand tubs.

MARVIN A BENEFACTOR. — Marvin's Cod Liver Oil is proving a blessing to many an invalid who has heretofore suffered untold agonies in getting down the rank articles which have been the best attainable. He has rendered inodorous and palatable, that which will give strength to the weakly and health to the sickly. A waggish gentleman who recently derived great benefit from Marvin's Oil, has sent him the following voluntary and humorous testimonial:

Sir, having been born an invalid, continued in that line of business ever since, I have been troubled with coughs, colds, consumption, pleurisy, rheumatism, pneumonia, ringing in the ears, loss of memory, general debility, bankruptcy, loss of both lungs, asthma, croup, and Bright's disease, this has kept me pretty busy, and had no relief until I heard of your valuable compounds. I closed up my business, and devoted myself strictly to getting your invaluable Oil down every five minutes during the day. I can now read fine print with ease, and shall in future vote the regular republican ticket; I consider my interior now as being in a state of thorough repair. I cheerfully recommend your C. L. O. as a pleasing and exhilerating beverage.

Yours thankfully, COFFIN GRAVES,

Communication.

☞ The North Church was crowded at a very early hour, Wednesday evening, to listen to the eloquent Durant upon the "Unpardonable Sin." He commenced by defining the term as he understood it, that whatever might be the extent and enormity of our sins against the Son of man, it should freely be forgiven; but that whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it should not be forgiven him in this world nor in the world to come; and that it was a subject of serious importance for those to consider, who had attended the meetings night after night, and had felt the voice of conscience speaking to their souls, but fearing the scoffs and jeers of the ungodly, had slunk from duty and joined in the blasphemy of the Holy Ghost; that between God's love and anger, a line is drawn, and that if we step but an inch beyond, we are lost forever. But if we feel at times, that this little spark of emotion is dying without us, we should try to cling to it as the ill fated mariners of the "Arctic" clung to the "last match." It was considered by all who heard it to be the most able and eloquent discourse which has been delivered.

FAST DAY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE. — Governor Stearns' Proclamation.—Long established usage in this State requires the Executive, at this season of the year, to appoint a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer; and a proper sense of our need of Divine forgiveness for our manifold errors and transgressions, and of our dependence on our Heavenly Father for all the mercies and blessings of life, renders the due observance of such a day becoming us as a Christian people.

I do, therefore, appoint Thursday, the seventh day of April next, for that purpose. Let the people of this State, on that day, in their several places of worship and in their homes, offer up their supplications to God for his guidance, help and blessing: that He may afford His wise direction to our public and private affairs; that He may remember in mercy all who are in affliction and in trouble; that He may preserve our land from pestilence and famine, from corruption and oppression, from injustice and sin; that He may give unto our State and Country—peace, prosperity, fruitful seasons, and plenteous returns for all the labors of man;

And may the prayer of the people, offered in Christian faith and hope, receive gracious answer from the fulness of Divine Love.

THE VOTE FOR SENATORS.—In a recapitulation of this vote the singular fact of a Republican minority is obtained. This is owing mainly to personal unpopularity of the Republican candidates in Districts Nos. 2, 4, 6, 8 and 11, in all of which many Radical votes were thrown either for the Democratic nominees or as scattering:

☞ We received per mail last week, and published, a brief communication from Kittery, stating that one of the Town Constables helped keep bar in a a liquor saloon there from Saturday night to Monday morning. This was signed "Friends of Temperance," and the names of three well known friends of temperance were also added. It now turns out that that these signatures were forged, and we do not learn as yet that the statement was true. If the facts were as stated, we call upon the writers of that letter to verify them; and if not, we will pay liberally for detection of the authors of it.

—The New Hampshire election resulted far more favorably to the Republicans than even the most sanguine had anticipated. The multiplicity of candidates rendered a choice of Governor by the people (a majority being required to elect) extremely improbable. The result proves, however, that the Republican party is stronger than even its friends had supposed, and that the people are too intelligent to be led astray by any false lights with "labor reform" or "temperance" labels.—Selma (Ala.) Press.

☞ Messrs. Martin Hoyt and A. J. Trefethen announce a copartnership in the hair dressing business. Both have had much experience in that line, much to the satisfaction of their customers. New customers taken in and done for neatly.

☞ This has been a poor season for Fishing in this vicinity, either in ocean or bay. The cod would not be caught by line or trawl at sea; and the ice was scarce on Great Bay, and smelts not plenty even would the ice hold.

☞ The "Acme" patent Newspaper and Job Printing Press, made by W. C. L. Montague, of No. 225 Fulton Street, New York, we are convinced is one of the best in the market.

☞ Mr. Onsville E. Pray of this city has patented a new ticket holder.

—Mr. Joseph C. Roberts and others of Waterboro,' Maine, have contracted to fence the line of the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad for a distance of forty miles, at $1.24 per rod.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to the great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other.

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so profitable bereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market both of this Country and Europe, will, be, at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

Morning Chronicle.

THE FIRST AM. NAVAL BATTLE.

From Cooper's History of the U. S. Navy.

Within twenty years after the settlement of Plymouth, ship-building and navigation began to occupy much of the attention of New England, and as every vessel of any size carried many light guns, the navigation of the period had most of the characteristics of an armed trade. In addition to the ships and barks that crossed the ocean, many decked boats, or small sloops, were used on the coast, especially by those who dealt with the Indians for skins.

The first engagement that probably ever occurred between inhabitants of the American colonies, and enemies afloat, was a conflict between John Gallop, who was engaged in a trade of this nature, in a sloop of twenty tons, and some Narragansett Indians, who had seized upon a small vessel belonging to a person of the name of Oldham, known to have been similarly occupied. As this, in a certain sense, may be deemed the earliest sea-fight of the nation, we consider it worthy relating.

Some time in May 1636, Gallop, in his little sloop, manned by two men and two boys, himself included, was standing along the Sound, near Plum Island, when he was compelled to bear up by stress of weather, for a refuge, to leeward, among the islands that form a chain between Long Island and Connecticut. On nearing the land, he discovered a vessel very similar to his own, in size and equipments, which was immediately recognized as the pinnace of Mr. Oldham, who had sailed with a crew of two white boys and two Narragansett Indians.

Gallop hailed on nearing the other craft, but got no answer, and, on running still nearer, no less than fourteen Indians were discovered lying on her deck. A canoe, conveying goods, and manned by Indians, had also just started for the shore. Gallop now began to suspect that Oldham had been overpowered by the savages; a suspicion that was confirmed by the Indians slipping their cable, and running off before the wind, or in the direction of Narragansett Bay.

Satisfied that a robbery had been committed, Gallop made sail in chase, and running alongside of the pinnace, in a spirited manner, he fired a volley of duck-shot at the savages. The latter had swords, spears, and some fire-arms, and they attempted a resistance, but Gallop soon drove them below to a man. Afraid to board in the face of such odds, Gallop now had recourse to a novel expedient to dislodge his enemies. As the pinnace was drifting with no one to manage her, she soon fell to leeward, while the sloop hauled by the wind.

As soon as the two vessels were far enough asunder, Gallop put his helm up, and ran directly down on the weather quarter of the pinnace, striking her with so much violence as to come near forcing her over on her side. The shock so much alarmed the Indians, who were on an element and in a craft they did not understand, that six of them rushed frantically on deck, and leaped into the sea, where they were all drowned.

The sloop again hauled off, when Gallop lashed an anchor to her bows in such a manner, that by running down on the pinnace a second time, he forced the flukes through the sides of the latter, which are represented as having been made of boards. The two vessels were now fast to each other, and the crew of the sloop began to fire through the sides of the pinnace, into her hold. Finding it impossible, however, to drive his enemies up, Gallop loosened his fasts, and hauled up to windward a third time, when four or five more of the Indians jumped overboard and shared the fate of those who had preceded them.

One Indian now appeared on deck and offered to submit. Gallop ran alongside, and received this man in the sloop, when he was bound hands and feet, and put into the hold. Another soon followed this example, and he was also received on board the sloop and bound, but, fearful that if two of his wily foes were permitted to commune together, they would liberate themselves, the second prisoner was thrown into the sea.

But two Indians now remained in the pinnace. They had got into a small apartment below, and being armed, they showed a disposition to defend themselves, when Gallop removed all the goods that remained into his own sloop, stripped the pinnace of her sails, took her in tow, and hauled up for the islands again. But the wind increasing, the pinnace was cut adrift, and she disappeared in the direction of Narragansett Bay, where it is probable she was stranded in the course of a few hours.

On board the pinnace, Gallop found the body of Mr. Oldham. The head had been cleft, the hands and legs were much mangled, and the flesh was still warm. The corpse was thrown into the sea. Thus terminated this extraordinary conflict, in which Gallop appears to have shown as much conduct as courage, and which in itself illustrates the vast superiority that professional skill gives on an element that requires practice to be rendered successfully available.

As it was of the last importance to create a respect for the English name, that might protect small parties while trading with the savages, the report of the conqueror on this occasion induced the government of Massachusetts to send an expedition against the offenders, under Mr. Endecott, one of the assistants, which did the Indians much injury in the destruction of their dwellings and corps, though the savages themselves took to flight. This expedition, however, was followed up by others that met with greater success.

A Funeral Discourse.—The readers of the Drawer have, within the past year or two, been edified with the perusal of a sermon on "The Harp of a Thousand Strings," and the "Farewell Discourse of Brother Watkins." The tone of those discourses might, in a general way, be called pleasing. Not so, however, the following brief allusion from the pulpit to a young man of indifferent position in the social circles of B——, New Hampshire, who came to an early decease by a vigorous but absurdly unequal contest with a party of the Otard family. The preacher who officiated at the final solemnities improved the occasion by making the following remarks:

"I hev been requested, not to say im*portuned*, toe deliver a funeral discourse on this occasion, and I hev reluctantly consented toe do so. I never heerd any good of the deceased yit; and if the friends hev made up their minds that I am about to begin sech a course now they are very much mistaken. I estimate, in fact, that this young man, now a-layin' before you, was about the wust man ever permitted, in the onscrutable ways of the divine peppusses, toe locate in this vicinity. He was one who I might say allers fell when he was tempted; and certingly appeared to me to seek, rather than to avoid, occasions for sech temptation.

Why, my feller Christians, he kep' hosses and run 'em; he kep' cocks and fit 'em: and as to wimmin, let his widder (who I see a-settin' in a front pew) testify." (Here the widow arose, as was the custom when the family of the deceased was alluded to, and deeming it a complimentary remark, courtesied to the preacher.) "Is short, after a diligent inquiry intoe the pertickerlers of his kerrikter and konduct while he has resided in this village, I hev come toe the conclusion that about the only good thing that kin be said of him at all is that he was an active member of the ingine company, and occasionally good at fires.

The pall-bearers will now proceed to bear out the corpse, while the choir will sing, as an appropriate hymn, the 33d hymn, 2d book, short metre, four verses, omitting, if you please, the 3d and 5th stanzas:

'Believing, we rejoice
Toe see the cuss removed,
with the usual Doxology."—Harper's Mag. of April.

The Waltz.—The authorship of the following lines upon the waltz when it was introduced into England, more than half a century ago, has never been generally known. A note in the lately published and very pleasant "Life and Letters of Mary Russell Mitford," states that the lines were written by Sir Henry Englefield—some distinguished London Turk of the time, for the spirit of the lines is worthy of the seraglio.

"What! the girl I adore, by another embraced!
What! the balm of her breath shall another man taste!
What! pressed in the whirl by another's bold knees!
What! panting, reclined on another than me.
Sir, she's yours! You have brushed from the grape its soft blue;
From the rose-bud you've shaken the tremulous dew:
What you've touched, you may take. Pretty WERTER, adieu!"

Miss Mitford, writing on the 4th of January, 1814, to Sir William Elford, an ancient Tory and literateur, with whom she long carried on a most lively correspondence, full of light touches at all the current men and topics of the hour, thanks him for sending her the verses, which she had seen before, but only with the initials of the author. She then says of the new dance which had invaded and conquered London society: "I hope it will not be long before your 'History of the Waltz' comes to give the coup de grace to this detestable dance. In addition to the obvious reasons which all women ought to have for disliking it, I cannot perceive its much vaunted graces. What beauty can there be in a series of dizzying evolutions, of which the wearisome monotony banishes all the tricksy fancies of the 'poetry of motion,' and conveys to the eyes of the spectators the idea of a parcel of teetotums set a-spinning for their amusement?—Harper's Magazine.

When did that Bill Pass.—The new Me., liquor law, which was signed by Gov. Chamberlain on the ground that it had passed both houses without opposition, appears to have owed this remarkable unanimity, in part, to strategy. Mr. Stickney of the Presque Isle Sunrise, sends the following explanation to his paper:

After the reading of the Message the inquiry went round among a certain class of members, when that bill passed, and finally, Mr. Hume inquired of the Speaker when that bill passed, and was answered very promptly by Mr. Foster, "On Thursday last at eleven o'clock." The point was seen in an instant by members—that being the hour that certain gentlemen were supposed to retire for a drink, and whilst they were absent the Temperance members availed themselves of the opportunity, to put through the bill for the suppression of their favorite resorts.

The Pope on Horse Racing. — The Pope has just issued a decree that horse racing, which has hitherto been deemed heretical in Rome, shall now be an orthodox pastime. Scoffing turfites are speculating on the probabilities of His Holiness keeping a stud of race horses, recording his colors "all scarlet," and engaging Cannon as his jockey.

—"Dan," said a little four-year-old; "give me sixpence to buy a monkey." "We've got one monkey in the house now," replied the elder brother. "Who is it, Dan?" asked the little fellow. "You," was the reply. "Then give me sixpence to buy the monkey some nuts." His brother equid not resist.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.
The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulus affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.
Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly developes into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may suddenly be deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this SARSAPARILLA is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear.
Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and at length cure, by the use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other exciting or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various affections of the muscular and nervous systems.
Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly speedily and permanently cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac supplied gratis.
Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of nervous debility, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

The Strafford County Agricultural Society in Dover has organized by the choice of a Committee of five, consisting of Moses D. Page, J. Frank Seavey, Wm. Stearns, H. D. Freeman and A. J. Hodgdon, to secure the necessary funds. If they are to have the fair there, it will be necessary to build a business office, stalls, cattle pens, repair the track, &c., &c., involving an expense of several hundred dollars, which can undoubtedly be easily raised.

A largely attended temperance meeting was held at Dover City Hall on Sunday evening, 20th inst., which was eloquently and earnestly addressed by Rev. Thomas W. Brown of the Unitarian church. His sentiment was manifested on the subject, and no doubt the series of meetings so auspiciously begun will result in good.

The trial of Prince Bonaparte continues. Fonvielle, for the prosecution, denounced the Prince as an assassin, and got ten days' confinement for contempt of court. Flouquet reviewed the lives of Noir, Fonvielle and Prince Bonaparte; dwelt upon the reputation of the Prince as a man of violence; asserted that he was known to have killed four men, and related how he left the military service without permission in 1849, for which Louis Napoleon dismissed him from the army. At this point the Prince became greatly excited, and exclaimed that it was a plot to aggravate him. He was severely reprimanded for interrupting the counsel.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

THE RELIGIOUS MEETINGS under the direction of the five united Churches, have been continued this week with increasing interest. Mr. Durant commenced to speak on Sunday evening upon the Atonement of Christ, but was interrupted by the alarm of fire. A very general desire is expressed that the sermon may be given on another occasion. It is hoped he will preach it on Sunday evening.

The sermon Wednesday evening upon the "Unpardonable Sin," was exceedingly impressive. In some of the meetings there has been a solemnity which hushed calviling; and obliged every one to acknowledge the presence of the Holy Spirit.

The meetings this week have been marked by a more general movement among a class who have before been slow to confess their need of the Saviour. Many young men, many men and women of mature years, have taken their places among the inquirers.

The meetings will be continued next week in the North Church from Sunday to Thursday evenings inclusive.

There is much religious interest in some of the towns around us. In Hampton, Kittery and Newcastle, many are commencing a religious life. And in the meetings in this city there are almost every evening inquirers from the neighboring towns. A.

About 200 men have been discharged from the Navy Yard this week. The necessities of the service always have and always will require these constant changes in the number of employees. When the government wants work done it hires men to do it and pays them good wages. When the jobs are finished the men are discharged. This has always been the case, no matter which political party is in power. Politics has far less to do with the conduct of affairs in the Navy, than the political "spouters" and newspapers would have the people believe

The Directors of the Portsmouth Gas Light Company have declared a semi-annual dividend of four dollars per share, payable at the Office of the Treasurer, No 30 Market Street, April 20th, 1870.

H. T. HELMBOLD'S
CONCENTRATED
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
THE GREAT DIURETIC.

The proprietor trusts that his Remedies, from the fact of their being advertised, may not be classed as Patent Medicines.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is a pharmaceutical preparation. The proper name is given, and it is the most active which can be made. It is endorsed as a cure by all medical works for such diseases as recommended by the proprietor. It is pleasant in its taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and is taken by adults and children. It is tonic, diuretic, blood-purifying, and invigorating. Enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes will find it far more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron.

See medical properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:—

BUCHU.—Its odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic; its taste is bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the urinary organs such as gravel, chronic catarrh of the bladder, morbid irritation of the prostate gland, and retention or the incontinence of urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in dyspepsia, chronic rheumatism, cutaneous affections, and dropsy.

TESTIMONY.

Cure of Gravel of Five Years Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

SAVANNAH, TENN., May 14, 1869.

Dr. H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: We introduced your "Fluid Extract Buchu" in this county about eight months ago, and are happy to state that it is meeting with universal favor. We wish to inform you of one instance (among many) where your "Buchu" has worked wonders. A man in our county, named J. B. Estell, had been suffering about five years with gravel.

About six weeks ago he bought of us one bottle of your "Buchu," and before he was through with one bottle he passed a gravel that weighs eight grains, which we now have on exhibition in our drug store. He says that he will never be without the "Buchu" in his house again. Your preparations are gaining favor every day.

Very respectfully yours, &c.,
ECCLES & HINKLE, Druggists.

Cure of Bladder and Kidney Affection of long Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

WESTPORT, CONN., Sept. 9, 1869.

H. T. Helmbold, Esq.,

DEAR SIR: I commenced taking your "Extract of Buchu" about two weeks since for an affection of the bladder and kidneys. I have suffered by spells very much for a few days past. But perfectly relief came through the effect of your "Buchu." A stone passed from my bladder about the size of a large pea, and I now feel perfectly well and entirely free from the pain that I have suffered with "so hard." I attribute my cure to your medicine entirely, and would recommend all persons similarly afflicted to try it. I have great faith in its curative powers.

Yours truly, THOMAS J. BENNETT.

Cure of Kidney and Bladder Affection of a Patient Seventy-eight years of Age. Thanks to Mr. Helmbold.

GIRARD, PA., March 31, 1869.

Editor Cosmopolitan: I desire, as an unsolicited tribute to the merits of Helmbold's Buchu, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, to say that after consulting many eminent physicians, and trying nearly all the best advertised Remedies, in the vain hope of finding relief from staggering kidney and bladder diseases, from which I have suffered excessively for many years, good fortune finally suggested to me Helmbold's Buchu, which I commenced using with little faith, and no apparent beneficial results for about a month.

At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief, which encouraged me to persevere in its use, and now, at the expiration of four months, although I am an infirm old man, nearly 78 years of age, and consequently medicines cannot be expected to favorably affect me as they otherwise would, I have found such unmistakable relief and permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, that I feel I ought to publicly record the fact, as an acknowledgment to him, and a valuable suggestion to the public. Yours respectfully,

D. M. LAREN.

DR. KEYSER

Is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College, and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia. Hear him:

Mr. H. T. Helmbold.

DEAR SIR: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used, or known to be used, in the various diseases for which such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves—tincture, fluid extracts—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Twelve years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits; and, without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, many diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cared with any other Buchu or any other proprietary compound of whatever name.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D.,
140 Wood Street, Pittsburgh, Penn.

August 11, 1865.

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Jan. 28, 1868.

Mr. H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: Your communication requesting our terms for advertising was duly received, but from a prejudice I half formed against advertising "cures for secret diseases," it was left unanswered. During an accidental conversation in a drug store the other evening, my mind was changed on the character of your Buchu. It was then highly commended for other diseases by two physicians present. Incensed please find our rate of advertising. Yours, T. B. H. STENHOUSE,
Ed't and Prop'r of Telegraph.

TESTIMONIALS.

A Permanent Cure of Gravel of twelve Years' Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

BURNSIDE, CONN., Dec. 15, 1869.

Dr. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: It is with much pleasure that I write you upon facts respecting myself. I do not know hardly how to express myself. I have been for the last ten or twelve years the greatest sufferer man could be and live; but more sometimes than others. The complaint was the "Kidneys" and "Bladder." I have been sometimes from twelve to fourteen hours, and wanted to make water every minute, but could not. Have consulted doctors, both in Massachusetts and this State, and taken pills, I may say by the quart, also liquored medicine, but found no relief from any, and got worse the last six months. I was so that I could scarcely get about. I could not rest night or day.

It would soon have been "all up" with me if I had not seen your advertisement headed "Kidneys." I read it through and thought I would try it. I purchased it, but, mind you, had not much faith in it. Why should I, when I had been trying so many things that cost me so much? Well, I began taking it before I had taken the first bottle I felt bad; but I finished it and got another. By the time I took half of the second I still got worse (apparently.) When I finished

CONGRESS.—The Senate, on Thursday, went into executive session. Senator Sumner spoke four hours against the San Domingo treaty and did not finish.

In the House, the message of the President in reference to American commerce was referred to the committee on that subject.

Mr. Logan from the military committee, made a report on the subject of cadetships and recommended the passage of resolutions, as follows:—

First, declaring that Gen. Schoepf, one of the Patent Office Examiners, was engaged in tendering himself as a medium for the passage of money for corrupt purposes, and directing that the evidence in the case be placed in the hands of the Secretary of the Interior, and that he be requested to remove Schoepf from his position, as an improper person to have or hold so responsible a position under the government.

Second, directing the Speaker to exclude from all the privileges of the floor, the committee rooms and all the galleries of the House, any person who has been or may be hereafter found guilty or having been engaged in corrupting or attempting to corrupt any member of Congress by directly or indirectly offering him any valuable consideration with a view of influencing his action in any matter pertaining to his official duty.

Third, that the evidence showing that Commander Upshur, of the navy, had placed the sum of $1300 in the hands of M. D. Loudon, with the view of procuring the appointment of his son to the Naval Academy, be transmitted to the Secretary of the Navy, with a request to convene a court-martial for trying Com. Upshur for conduct unbecoming an officer.

Mr. Logan stated that Gen. Schoepf had resigned. The resolutions were adopted.

A bill was passed requiring each cadet hereafter appointed to be a resident, for one year, of the district from whence appointed.

Mr. Hooper of Massachusetts sent to the clerk's desk and had read, amidst the unrestrained laughter of the House, an editorial from the Philadelphia Morning Post, attributing to him the defence of polygamy made in the House on Tuesday by Mr. Hooper, delegate from Utah. The article says the fact of the speech having been written proves that Mr. Hooper's position was taken deliberately; that the people not only of Massachusetts, but of the whole country would be shocked at it; that there must be a cause for it somewhere, and asks whether it was possible that one short visit to the harems of Salt Lake is all that is necessary to cause leading men of the nation not only to approve polygamy, but to turn their backs upon civilization and Christianity, and embrace enthusiastically a damnable faith. For the sake of the country's good name it was to be hoped that Samuel Hooper stood alone in his iniquity and disgrace.

Mr. Hooper said that Mr. Stockton, the editor of the paper, had apologized for the blunder and promised all possible reparation, but he wished to specify the contradiction and have it entered on the records of the House.

The House in committee of the whole on the tariff bill was addressed by Mr. Johnson of California, in behalf of the farming and wine-growing interests in California. He said that among the best gifts to man was the generous wine. It elevated him to a level with the gods, and made him "dwell in mansions in the skies." The juice of the grape made men love one another and raised them from sordid earth to sit in sweet communion with gods where they saw all below clothed in most surpassing colors, and heavens illimitable, outstretching in fields of never-ending beauty and endless joy.

The Portuguese Government has presented a medal of the Tower and Sword to Lieut.-Comd'r A. R. Yates; in recognition of courtesies extended to a Portuguese corvette in the East Indies, while in command of U. S. S. Ashuelot, several years ago.

HAYWARD'S ENTERTAINMENT.—On Tuesday Evening next, March 29, Mr. and Mrs. William Hayward are to give one of their pleasing and popular character Personation Concerts at the Temple, when, as usual here and wherever else they appear, a crowded house will greet them, for we are sure that we but express the general opinion of all who have ever heard them, when we say that their entertainments are at once witty, chaste and highly amusing as well as high toned and entertaining in a musical point of view. Their last entertainment here drew out a crowded house and all who attended were highly pleased. The present programme is new and it is said to be even better than the one given last fall.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

THE WALTZ.—Messrs. Editors:—You have recently reprinted, from Harper's Magazine, some "lines on the waltz when it was first introduced into England," and an extract from one of Miss Mitford's letters, in which she styles it "this detestable dance."

It is remarkable what different appearances the same object presents, if viewed from different standpoints: I used to think the same as Miss Mitford did—but that was when I didn't know how to waltz myself; now I think it the most innocent of earthly amusements, as well as one of the most pleasing. This change in my opinion has been induced by my superior ability to judge the merits of the question, consequent on having learned and practised the dance; having tried it, I now speak as one having authority—formerly I knew nothing about the matter. Neither did Miss Mitford know anything about it—she didn't dance; so she was not qualified to judge. [This is like some people who say smoking is not good, when they never smoked a pound of tobacco in all their lives; pretty judges they are!]

The poet, drunkard and debauchee, Lord Byron, wrote some verses full of bitter satire against waltzing; he didn't consider it moral! But then Byron had one leg about six inches shorter than the other, or had lost a foot or something—he had a "game leg," anyhow—so he was unable to waltz himself, and couldn't bear to have anybody else enjoy themselves in that way. Besides, though he may have had a few virtues, he certainly possessed nearly all the vices on the list; so his exertions in the interest of morality will not do much good.

The lady critic, Miss Mitford, was not only a charming writer, but an estimable and virtuous woman; yet there was one little circumstance in her life which will go far to deter the young ladies of to-day from following her precepts and example in all things, and that is,—Miss Mitford was Miss Mitford to the day of her death. This lady could not see any of the "poetry of motion" in the waltz, but I can; and I think that the man who is opposed to it isn't of much account. Let any man select a favorite representative of the opposite sex, (this rule gives me the entire sex to select from,) assume the modestly familiar "waltz position," and glide around to the ravishing melody of the fiddle and cornet,—and if he don't like it, it is certain that he has no music in his soul, if indeed he has any soul to keep music in. [Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 923; Sheep and Lambs 4469; Swine 800; number of Western Cattle 627; Eastern Cattle 34; Northern Cattle and Working Oxen 155. Cattle left over 100.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $13 00 @ $13 50; first quality $12 25 @ $12 75; second quality $11 50 @ $12 00; third quality $10 25 @ $11 00; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $7 50 @ $9 50 ₱ cwt. (the total weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 8 @ 8½c ₱ lb; Country Hides 7½ @ 8c ₱ lb.

Brighton Tallow 6½ @ 7½c per lb; Country Tallow 6 @ 7c ₱ lb.

On account of the short supply this week, and Cattle coming higher at Albany, the prices are ½c ₱ lb higher than those of last week. There was not so good a demand for the large, far River Cattle, but for good, smooth Western Steers better prices were obtained. There were but few Eastern Cattle in market. Several lots were taken back to Maine last week, and there were a few left over. The trade for Beeves was quick, and nearly all the Cattle were sold yesterday.

Store Cattle—Most of the small Cattle that are in a fair condition are bought up to slaughter. There are but few Stores in market except Working Oxen and Milch Cows.

Working Oxen—There is a fair supply in market. We quote sales at $160, $185, $190, $225, $240, $255, $290, $300, $300, $275 ₱ pair. The trade for workers was very dull.

Milch Cows—Extra $85 @ $115; ordinary $50 @ $60; Store Cows $35 @ $55 ₱ head. Most of the Cows offered for sale are of a common grade. Prices depend a great deal upon the fancy of the purchaser.

Sheep and Lambs—There was a good supply of Sheep from the West, most of which were bought at the West by agents and shipped direct to the butchers. We quote extra lots at $5 @ $8 75 ₱ head; ordinary lots $3 50 & $4 50 ₱ head, or from 4 @ 8½c ₱ lb. Lambs $5 @ $8 ₱ head.

Swine—Wholesale 10 @ 11c ₱ lb; retail 11 @ 16c ₱ lb; select lots 12c. The trade for Store Pigs continues very dull with but few buyers in market.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Occupational Ailments.

Fresh, pure air is a vitalizing elixir. Whoever is debarred by circumstances from unrestricted access to this invisible, but powerful stimulant needs a medicinal invigorant of some kind. The great object should be to choose the best. Popularity is a pretty good guarantee of merit in this scrutinizing and intelligent age, and tried by this criterion HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stands first among the invigorating and regulating medicines of the present day. To the wants of persons engaged in indoor employments, especially in crowded factories where even with the best possible ventilation the atmosphere is always in some degree polluted, this salubrious vegetable tonic is peculiarly adapted.

The nature of the ingredients is no mystery, it consists of an absolutely pure diffusive stimulant, tinctured—or rather surcharged—with the fluid extracts of sanatous roots and barks and herbs. The pharmacopœia has its tinctures, but what are they? The juice of only a single root or bark or plant is present in each. Not one of them combines the three properties of a tonic, an alterative and an aperient. All these elements are blended in the Bitters, nor are these the sum of its medicinal recommendations. It is also a blood depurent and an antispasmodic.

The baleful effect which air that has been partially exhausted of its oxygen by frequent breathing produces on the vital organization, is notorious, and when lo this devitalized atmosphere is superadded the mephitic vapor of hot air furnaces, it becomes deleterious and depressing in the extreme. To enable the system to bear up, even for a few hours each day against the debilitating influence of a vitiated atmosphere, a wholesome tonic and alterative is urgently required. This grand desideratum is supplied in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which as a strength-sustaining, health-protecting agent has no rival either among officinal or advertised medicines.

A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.]

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

WHAT THE RECORDER SAYS ABOUT PORTSMOUTH.—The Boston Recorder of March 24 has the following item:—

The revival at Portsmouth continues to increase in interest and in power. The North Church is filled nearly every evening, all the evangelical pastors uniting in the service. Mr. Durant has been with them three weeks, and his earnest, judicious appeals have been blessed to many. In spite of much opposition and misrepresentation, the good work goes on, though there are few places where the forces of evil are stronger or more bitter against the truth of God, and the power of his Gospel.

It is not improbable that some of the operations have been misrepresented, for this fault is common, and not confined to any sect, or any town. But there is no need of caricature, for the acknowledged proceedings are quite sensational and uncommon.

As to opposition, it is inevitable, and it is sought, indirectly, as a revival means. Mr. D. and his backers take the ground that every man, woman and child, who have not been converted after their pattern, are exposed to woe, unalterable and endless. And then, when this idea has taken possession of the evening's audience, Mr. D. makes very easy terms of conversion, viz., in instantaneous submission to Christ, and unreserved coming over to the Lord's side: provided, however, that while it is certain this can be done to-night,—it is possible or probable that the day of grace will be entirely gone by to-morrow morning.

Every person who opposes these views, or treats them lightly, is counted an enemy to God and truth. Yet thousands of our people, many of them in their own churches and parishes, do not believe these things, and therefore are turned over to hardness of heart and blindness of mind.

Now if Mr. D. and Co. have really cast out devils in the name of Jesus, and they stay out, every good man should bid them God speed, tho' they may not exactly "follow with us."

Observe we are not dogmatizing in theology,—but only stating the plain historical fact, that two such opposite views must come in conflict.

There is another historical fact, of some interest, though not so important. The great Young Men's Christian Association, which was held in Maine a year or two ago, threw out all denominations who are not Trinitarians. Yet the great Christian Society and their Convention, near the same time, said "we are not Trinitarians nor Unitarians."

Now our Christian pastor here is counted in among the evangelicals; but the Rector of the Episcopal Church is not counted in, tho' the prayer-book is full of the Trinity. We presume no one is to blame for this, for the promoters of this revival know full well that neither the canons of that church, nor the temper of that parish, would invite or tolerate such a preacher as Mr. Durant in their house. The test of evangelism, here and now, seems rather to be an approval of Mr. D's doctrines and measures.

These facts, we think, will not be denied nor disputed.

☞ The beautiful white Fantail Pigeons are more delicate than the common varieties. And their wide-spreading fans would seem to be as useless, and almost as troublesome, as the trains and trails of the ladies — although the winged birds' attachments are far more tolerable than the others. Mr. Bilbrook, at the Eldredge brewery, has usually had a large flock of fantails, and seem to succeed better with them than almost anybody else in this vicinity. At Sagamore Creek, Mr. H. S. Hartshorn has found it impossible to protect his from the pigeon hawks; as likewise Mr. Peirce at the Sagamore House; and others even nearer or in the city lose them in one way or other as fast as they breed.

It has commonly been supposed that the fantail would not mate with the common pigeon; but a large flock in this city shows unmistakable evidence of inter-breeding. Large flocks of pigeons are kept by ex-Gov. Goodwin, A. H. Ladd, Esq., and at Mrs. Burroughs' —and much petted and prized by all. Of a hundred or two at Mr. Ladd's, there are many choice varieties, including tumblers, pouters, and we believe a carrier dove or two.

☞ The American Chopping Machine advertised by Mr. Lang, is a very simple and very effective little contrivance, and will save its cost in a short time, for anybody who has much chopping of meats or vegtables to do.

ALDERMEN.—On motion o Ald. Pendexter, the Com. on Fire Dept. were requested to ascertain the price at which a Steam Fire Engine can be purchased.

The Board of Engineers asked that the street-sprinkling tank be removed from Brewster Street, as they state that it is impossible to get two Engines to the reservoir in case of need. After discussion, the matter was referred to Com. on Fire Dept. with Mayor added, to act at their discretion in the matter. Ald. Miller thought that the pumping out of the reservoir was a great advantage, in keeping it clear of mud which would otherwise fill it up; and he could not see that the tank was at all in the way of the engines or anybody else.

On motion of Ald. Pender, the joint Com. on Streets with Mayor and Street Commissioner added, were authorized, (if the Com. Council concur,) to purchase a pair of horses for use of the Street Department—and sell one of the horses now owned by the City.

The Com. on Streets recommended that the sum of $25 be paid Wm. Hammond in full for damages for land taken in building Freeman's Point Road Adopted.

The Mayor, for the Com. appointed to consider the sale of a part of the City Farm, recommended that the 80 acres on the westerly side of Creek Street be sold, (if the Com. Council concur,) and reported an Ordinance to that effect, which was referred to Com. on Bills on 2d Reading.

The Board adopted the grade of the second survey of Summer St. extension, made last October, and sent the same down for concurrence.

The Chief Engineer asked for a store closet in the Hose House, and for new roof ladder; and was authorized to purchase them.

☞ Considerable sickness seems to be prevalent in this city of late. Among the prominent citizens seriously ill, are Col. Wm. Stearns, Dea. John Knowlton, Rev. T. H. Miller and Mr. Jas. F. Hartshorn.

☞ A patriotic Newcastle physician, while riding in a horse car at Boston, was attracted by the entrance of an elderly lady, to whom he spoke, asking if she wesn't getting along in years. The Doctor is a connoisseur in such matters, from large experience, but the smart old lady told him she wasn't quite so old as he thought, only 96! And at 96, Mrs. Hannah Clark, the only daughter of Lieut. Rollins, of Bunker Hill fame, (who was a former resident of Stratham, in this State,) is living frugally in Orange Street, Boston, on an income of $43, the United States government allowing her an annual pension of $48, which it costs $5 to collect in Boston. This is her chief reliance, and the Doctor thinks Bostonians should care for her with pride, as the representative of the brave man who was first on Bunker Hill on that memorable 17th of June, 1775.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other.

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 157 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."
2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."
3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be, at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 2dawdm

Morning Chronicle.

JOHN BUNYAN.

Tinker John! By the grace of God a gentleman; by profession, if profession it may be called, a tinker. And may not a tinker be a gentleman? When John Bunyan lived, certainly not. As well try to make gentlemen and ladies out of those fag-ends of humanity who, by fortunate speculations and otherwise, grow rich, and then commence to ape the manners of the natural order of gentility; for Heaven makes the true specimen, and thus came John Bunyan.

How gloriously republican-like, that a tinker should instruct a world! Just come down a step or two, you sycophantic plants that have bloomed and blossomed in conservatories where your friends and peculiar sects have placed you, and by the grace of God, you who steal your ideas right along, take off your hats to John Bunyan.

First, then, as to to John's birth. He saw the light in the year 1628, in a village about one mile from the town of Bedford, in Bedfordshire, England. And John was tinker born; a right leal descendant from Tubalcain. Is that stretching the point? Tubal-cain worked in brass, and Jack Bunyan mended pots and kettles. We suppose he mended brass ones, if brass ones wanted mending; so that the genealogy from Tubalcain is rather imperfect. Go to, all ye of Puritanic pride who lay claim to glorious ancestry in the world, and remember that one of your worthies was a tinker; so that you need not raise your swelling organs in disgust; for if you tinker at gentility as glorious John tinkered at spiritualism, you shall be worthy of your ancestor.

Of John's early life not much is said. His father was an aristocrat among tinkers,—for he had a fixed residence. Others of the tribe or race roamed like gipsies, hither and thither. John had a clear strong voice. He could shout "pots and kettles to mend" against any tinker that travelled. He could play "tip-cat" as well as any; and, we regret to say, that he could swear. John was a hearty swearer. He took a pride in it; could outswear any man, tinker or otherwise, whom he might meet. In process of time he came to be known as swearing Jack Bunyan. Jack was fond of dancing; fond of bell-ringing; fond of all kinds of fun; and, though so rough, was a general favorite with the girls. The poor people in Bedfordshire, where Bunyan travelled as a tinker, used to frighten their children by threatening to fetch Jack Bunyan, the Bedford tinker, to them.

When Bunyan was born, Oliver Cromwell was twenty-nine years of age; and when John Bunyan was seventeen years of age, he was fighting in the Parliamentary army, and was at the siege of Leicester. John had a miraculous escape at that siege. He puts it down as miraculous, and as one of his special mercies. He was toled off for sentinel duty; a comrade requested to go in his place, and the substitute was killed by a bullet entering his brain.

Going into the army did not improve John Bunyan. When he came home he swore as badly as ever; but he fell in love with a girl who had had religious training, and young in life he married her. Bunyan says of that marriage, that they had not a dish or a spoon between them; wherefore we must conclude that they were two spoonies. The wife's fortune was two books, "The Rise and Progress of Religion in the Soul," and "The Plain Man's Pathway to Heaven;" and when tinker John went forth to make himself a home, he carried those two books under his arm. What a library for a tinker!

John was astonished to hear the opinion that other people had formed of his profanity, and determined, at once, and forever, to abandon swearing. And he did it. John was strong minded. Now he began to be exercised about religion, and at length was introduced to somebody who knew all about "experimental religion;" and John, after many trials, passed into the happy state, the commencement of that time when he could write "Grace abounding to the Chief of Sinners." They called on John to pray; and he did it which such power in the secret assemblies of the saints, that he was asked to preach; and when he first began to preach, it was with such modest hesitancy that John many times thought he should break down.

These were times when men were not allowed to worship God according to the dictates of their conscience. The Restoration had come, and the Puritans were not in good repute. John held that a man must be converted and taught by the Holy Spirit, to preach truly. The Episcopalians considered a college training and laying on of hands necessary; and the Five-Mile Act and Act of Uniformity show how jealously guarded were the spiritual portals of priestly monopoly.

John got into prison. He would not give over preaching; and as refusal was tantamount to insubordination to the governing powers, John went to Bedford jail, where he remained twelve years. In that jail he wrote "Pilgrim's Progress," which Macaulay says was the first book that ever made its way from the kitchen to the parlor. This book has been translated into nearly all languages; and is to-day to be found in almost all Christian homes.

We have mentioned "Grace abounding to the Chief of Sinners." Besides these Bunyan wrote "The Holy War," which is a remarkable book, though not equal in inventive genius to Pilgrim's Progress.

Charles the Second was persuaded to give greater latitude to people who differed from the established order of worship, and Bunyan came out of prison. His popularity as a preacher now began; and it was not long before his brother ministers were jealous. They charged him with infidelity to Mrs. Bunyan—not her of early life, but Mrs. Bunyan No. 2; and John repelled the charges in a way worthy of note. At that time it was customary for the members of churches when they parted to greet each other with a holy kiss. When John defended himself, he said: "I do confess that I have carried out the command fairly and scriptually; for I have endeavored to discharge my duty of kissing all, pretty and ugly; while I have noticed that my brothers, who have made this charge, have kissed the pretty sisters, and let the ugly ones pass by."

That was the death-blow to the charge, and John's popularity grew. He sleeps in Bunhill-fields, the Campo Santo of the saints; and the tinker's memory is honored with fame greater than that of the warrior or monarch. Thousands bless the tinker's memory as they read of the journey from the City of Destruction to the Heavenly one; and millions in the world can pass with him through the Slough of Despond, the Valley of Humiliation, and sun themselves in the pleasant land of Beulah.

Despair not, whatever thy station. God's finger touches even the tinker; and Bunyan's life, of which we would like two goods hours' talk, teaches that the deeper the pit out of which a man climbs, the more honor to the climber. John Bunyan belongs to World Worthies.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

WASHINGTON, March 22.

We noticed in the afternoon of the second day's travel, on our return trip, before reaching Philadelphia, that the snow had disappeared, and that here and there farmers had commenced ploughing. On our arrival at Washington, we found the streets dry and dusty. Last night, we had a great rain accompanied by thunder and lightning. This morning at sunrise the ground was white with snow, but which will, no doubt, as the weather is mild, all be gone by noon.

The Shad fishing has commenced, and the markets are well supplied with this excellent fish; were it not for the legion of bones with which it is filled, we should pronounce this fish equal if not superior to any we are acquainted with. To a hungry man the eating of this fish is positively dangerous. The fish market (or "piscine market" as that literate fishmonger at old "Liberty Bridge" has it) here, is very good, but is far inferior to yours. The lobsters offered for sale are of small size and of poor quality. That nasty looking Sturgeon will soon be along, and when it appears, I shall make fewer visits to said markets than now. The vegetable market is well supplied. Potatoes retail at 25 and 30 cents a peck. I should infer that the cabbage was the favorite vegetable among all classes of people; every market basket you meet with, is sure to contain one or more cabbage-heads. Baldwin apples are sold for from 60 to 75 cents per peck.

The result of the New Hampshire election is hailed with great joy by republicans in this section. It is hoped that the self styled "Labor Reformers" there, will see and understand that the party that advocates internal improvements, and protection to the manufacturer, mechanic and laborer, is the true workingmen's party; and that hereafter they will govern themselves accordingly.

HOW TO MAKE A TOWN.—Encourage every one, especially new men, to come and settle among you, particularly those who are worthy and active, whether they have capital or not. Their labor alone is worth money. Those who have capital will buy lots, build houses, or tear out and remodel the old ones. Go to work and stimulate every legitimate enterprise by giving it all the encouragement you can, or by uniting your industry, influence, and capital in the cause. Cultivate a public spirit, and talk less than you work.

Help your neighbor. If he is in danger of breaking down, prop him up in some way, either by kind words, good counsel, or a lift from your pocket-book. If he gets fairly down before you know his situation, set him on his feet again—his misfortune is to be pitied, not blamed—and his talents and labor are worth money to the community. Besides, it may some day be your turn to need a corresponding sympathy. Encourage your local authorities in making public improvements for the good of the town.

How to kill a town.—Some one makes the following excellent suggestion: If you wish to kill a town, put up no more buildings than you are obliged to occupy yourself. If you should have an empty building, and any one should wish to rent it, ask about three times its value. Look at every new comer with a scowl. Turn a cold shoulder to every business man and mechanic who seeks a home among you. Go abroad for your wares rather than purchase from your own merchants and manufacturers at the same prices. Refuse to advertise, so that persons at a distance will not know that any business is being done in your city. A prompt and close observance of these rules will ruin any town in two years.—Exchange.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.
The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were regarded by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.
Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites attack of cholera or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and upon some favorable occasion, rapidly developes into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, fatalities may suddenly be deposited in the lungs or heart, or be slowly cured in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this SARSAPARILLA is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear.
Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other external or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various affections of the muscular and nervous systems.
Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and speedily cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac supplied gratis.
Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic or Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Friday, Mr. Wilson of Massachusetts introduced a bill to reduce the number of men and officers of the army and to fix their pay. It reduces the army to twenty-five thousand men, and authorizes the President to discharge any officer applying for such discharge before September. Those having served ten years to receive two years' pay and all allowances; those having served more than five years and less than ten years, to receive one and a half year's pay; and those having served less than five years, one year's pay, &c. It authorizes him to retire on their application, any officers who have served thirty years; allows the retired list to be increased to 300; abolishes the offices of General and Lieutenant-General when vacated by the present incumbents; reduces the number of major-generals to three and brigadier-generals to six, when the present incumbents vacate; makes the heads of staff departments colonels, when vacated by the present incumbents; abolishes the regimental commissary of cavalry, sergeants, hospital stewards and veterinary surgeons; authorizes the appointment of a board of officers to examine such officers as may be sent to them by the Secretary of War for inefficiency, on the recommendations of department commanders and chiefs of staff, and also authorizes the President, on the report of the board, wholly to retire them; it authorizes the filling of all vacancies in the army by supernumerary officers, and if any supernumerary officers shall then remain they shall be furloughed at half-pay until absorbed, or retired on one year's pay; it allows officers on the retired list to hold civil offices, allows promotions to be made in the quartermaster's and medical departments and corps of engineers, and adopts the House pay bill with slight modifications.

By this bill the enlisted men, now numbering about thirty-two thousand, will be reduced to twenty-five thousand by the first of September, which will reduce the expenses of the army several millions of dollars.

ANOTHER KNOTTY LIQUOR QUESTION. The selectmen of a certain town appointed a liquor agent, and furnished him with liquor to the amount of $825 60 and $245 cash. During his term of office the agent received cash for liquor sold $1,323 40. He paid for liquor bought, $937; to the town treasurer, $300; sundry expenses, $29; his own salary, $265. He delivered to indigent persons, by order of the town, liquor to the amount of $13 50.

Upon taking account of stock at the end of the year, the liquor on hand amounted to $616.50.

Did the town gain or lose by the agency, and how much.

Has the agent any money in his hands belonging to the town, or does the town owe the agent?

And how much in either case?

A BAD SYMPTOM.—George B——, of Racine, Wisconsin, is a most inveterate smoker; in fact, George has been known to go to sleep smoking, and have his pipe taken from his mouth without waking him. One day Uncle C—— found a pipe, which he supposed to be George's, and the jolly gentleman having known him from the time the memory of the oldest inhabitant runneth not back to, made a straight break for George's house, and seeing Mrs. B——, asked, "Is George dead?" "George dead!" cried she; "why, no. What in the world made you think so?" "Why, I found his pipe, and it was cold!" Uncle C—— dodged the broomstick, and will not be seen in that section again for some time.

—A girl of the period, belonging to a Paris theatre, gave a supper to a few gentlemen the other evening. Her mamma was present, half guest, half servant. One of the gentlemen was telling a story; he stopped on a sudden, and said, "I beg your pardon, the conclusion is scarcely fit for ladies' ears." "You hear, mamma," said the girl of the period; "leave the room a minute; you can come in again by-and-by."

—Franklin once wrote:

"He who by the plow would thrive,
Must himself either hold or drive."

These lines were very popular in their day, and even now they are occasionally quoted by old fogies. But some person has eclipsed them by the following parody:

He who by his biz would rise,
Must either bust or advertise.

—"Is that clock right over there?" asked a visitor the other day. "Right over there," said the boy; "taint nowhere else."

H. T. HELMBOLD'S
CONCENTRATED
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
THE GREAT DIURETIC.

The proprietor trusts the fame of his Remedies, from the fact of their being advertised, may not be classed as Patent Medicines.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is a pharmaceutical preparation. The proper name is given, and it is the most active which can be made. It is endorsed as a cure by all medical works for such disease as are recommended by the proprietor. It is pleasant in its taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and is taken by adults and children. It is tonic, diuretic, blood-purifying, and invigorating. Enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes will find it far more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron.

See medical properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:—

BUCHU.—Its odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic; its taste is bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the urinary organs, such as gravel, chronic catarrh of the bladder, mucoid irritation of the prostate gland, and retention or the incontinence of urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in dyspepsia, chronic rheumatism, cutaneous affections, and dropsy.

Cure of Gravel of Five Years Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

SAVANNAH, TENN., May 14, 1869.

Dr. H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: We introduced your "Fluid Extract Buchu" in this county about four years ago, and are happy to state that it is meeting with universal favor. We wish to inform you of one instance (among many) where your "Buchu" has worked wonders. A man in our county, named J. B. Estell, had been suffering about five years with gravel.

About six weeks ago he bought of us one bottle of your "Buchu," and before he was through with one bottle he passed a gravel that weighs eight grains, which we now have on exhibition in our drug store. He says that he will never be without the "Buchu" in his house again. Your preparations are gaining favor every day.

Very respectfully yours, &c.,
ECCLES & HINKLE, Druggists.

Cure of Bladder and Kidney Affection of long Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

WESTPORT, CONN., Sept. 9, 1869.

H. T. Helmbold, Esq.,

DEAR SIR: I commenced taking your "Extract of Buchu" about two weeks since for an affection of the bladder and kidneys. I have suffered by spells very much for a few days past. But yesterday relief came through the effect of your "Buchu." A stone passed from my bladder about the size of a large pea, and I now feel perfectly well and entirely free from the pain that I have suffered with "so hard." I attribute my cure to your medicine entirely, and would recommend all persons similarly affected to try it. I have great faith in its curative powers.

Yours truly, THOMAS J. BENNETT.

Cure of Kidney and Bladder Affection of a Patient Seventy-eight years of Age. Thanks to Mr. Helmbold.

GIRARD, PA., March 31, 1869.

Editor Cosmopolite: I desire, as an unsolicited tribute to the merits of Helmbold's Buchu, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, to say that after consulting many eminent physicians, and trying nearly all the best advertised Remedies, in the vain hope of finding relief from aggravated kidney and bladder diseases, from which I have suffered excessively for many years, good fortune finally suggested to me Helmbold's Buchu, which I commenced using with little faith, and no apparent beneficial results for about a month.

As the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief, which encouraged me to persevere in its use, and now, at the expiration of four months, although I am an infirm old man, nearly 78 years of age, and consequently medicines cannot be expected to favorably affect me as they otherwise would, I have found such unspeakable relief and permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, that I feel I ought to publicly record the fact, as an acknowledgment to him, and a valuable suggestion to the public. Yours respectfully,

D. M. LAREN.

DR. KEYSER

is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College, and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia. Hear him:

Mr. H. T. Helmbold.

DEAR SIR: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used, or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are known, I believe, well, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves—tincture, fluid extracts—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Twelve years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits; and, without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu or any other proprietary compound of whatever name.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D.,
140 Wood Street, Pittsburgh, Penn.
August 11, 1865.

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Jan. 28, 1868.

Mr. H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: Your communication requesting our terms for advertising was duly received, but from a prejudice I had formed against advertising "cures for secret diseases," it was left unanswered. Daring an accidental conversation in a drug store the other evening, my mind was changed on the character of your Buchu. It was then highly commended for other diseases by two physicians present. Inclosed please find our rates of advertising. Yours, T. B. H. STENHOUSE,
Ed'r and Prop'r of Telegraph.

TESTIMONIALS.

A Permanent Cure of Gravel of twelve Years' Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

BURNSIDE, CONN., Dec. 15, 1869.

Dr. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: It is with much pleasure that I write you upon facts respecting myself. I do not know hardly how to express myself. I have been for the last ten or twelve years the greatest sufferer man could be and live; but more sometimes than others. The complaint was the "Kidneys" and "Bladder." I have been sometimes from twelve to fourteen hours, and wanted to make water every minute, but could not. Have consulted doctors, both in Massachusetts and this State, and took their pills, I may say by the quart, also liquored medicines, but found no relief from any, and got worse the last six months. I was so that I could scarcely get about, I could not rest night or day.

It would soon have been "all up" with me if I had not seen your advertisement headed "Kidneys." I read it through and thought I would try it. I purchased a bottle, but, mind you, had not much faith in it. Why should I, when I had been trying so many things that cost me so much? Well, I began taking it, and before I had taken the first bottle I felt bad; but I finished it and got another. By the time I took half of the second I still got worse (apparently.) When I walked it seemed as if my right kidney was falling from its place, and I felt really bad. So, so, before I had finished the second, that I had made up my mind it was of no use trying any more—and all the time the "Buchu" was doing its work, but I did not know it, so I gave it up and went to Hartford on Saturday to one of the best doctors in the city. He said it was the neck of the bladder, and I should have to undergo an operation. He gave me medicine, and I went home quite downhearted.

On Sunday I was unable to go to church. I had not taken any of his medicine, but on my return continued using the "Buchu," and in the afternoon I had a desire to make water, but could not. About one hour after this I tried again, with the same result; but the next time I took my water it was the same as turning a faucet and stopping it off again. It was so for three times, and the third time there was something came through the passage and struck against the side of the vessel. I examined it, and it is the ugliest stone or gravel you ever saw, covered over with little pieces which collected together. It looks the color of a red brick, and is as hard as flint. So you see the "Buchu" was doing its work, although I was feeling so badly. I procured another bottle, thinking there might be some more behind; but since that has passed, which is eight weeks ago last Sunday, I have been as well as ever I was in my life. I have the stone secured wrapped, and those who have seen it in this place are surprised.

I cannot tell you all, but this is a true story of my case, and you are welcome to make such use of it as you think best. I am yours, &c. I am pretty well known in Berkshire; also in Connecticut. The advertisement saved me. Why not publish more? I have many relatives to see this wonder, they can do so. I could write all day, but I think I have said enough this time. so I remain your ever well-wisher, EDWARD L. HOWARD,

(A Home and School for the Sons of Deceased Soldiers.)

Dr. H. T. Helmbold,

Two bottles only of the package of your valuable Buchu presented to the Institute have been used by the children, and with perfect success. In the care of our little Lieutenant A. J., his pride is no longer mortified, and he is free from the daily morning anathemas of the chamber-maid with his charge of bedding.

I feel that a knowledge of the result of our use of your Buchu with the children under our charge may save many a Superintendent and Matron of Boarding Schools and Asylums a great amount of annoyance; and many a poor child suffering more from Weakness than from habit, may be spared punishment, and (not knowing it as a weakness instead of a bad habit) most unjustly inflicted upon them. Thanking you on behalf of the children, and the Institute, I remain ever be alike benefitted, I am respectfully yours,

COL. YOUNG, General Sup't and Director.

A Case of Twenty Years Standing.

PHILADELPHIA, PENN., June 25, 1867.

H. T. Helmbold, Druggist.

DEAR SIR: I have been a sufferer for upwards of twenty years with gravel, bloody urine, kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised Remedies and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no Remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this fact, prompted me to use your Buchu. My family physician, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the Druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced to use it about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.

From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing to you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought it premature, as it would only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer, and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing that it would be of greater value to you and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected adding the testimony for five months. I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.

FOR NEW HAMPSHIRE.—A mass meeting of Republicans was held Wednesday evening at Union League Hall, Washington, preparatory to serenading the delegation from New Hampshire and Senator Hiram R. Revels, of Mississippi. The meeting was the largest and one of the most enthusiastic that ever assembled in the city, and was called to order about 9 o'clock by Professor Green, who stated that it had been called together to celebrate the great Republican triumph in New Hampshire, and that they had decided to form themselves into a delegation to wait upon the representatives from that State, and also to call upon Senator Revels, of Mississippi. Speeches were subsequently made by Rev. Sella Martin, Col. John W. Forney, Senators Cragin and Patterson, Representatives Stevens and Ela, Hon. N. G. Ordway, and Senator Revels.

CHRONICLES OF OLD TIMES.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

The Portsmouth Privateers of 1812.

NUMBER TWELVE.

The privateer Ranger, Gardner, of this port, sailed hence Dec. 13, 1814, on a cruise.

The privateer Macedonian, Capt. Townsend, arrived at this port Dec. 9, 1814, with a lot of goods taken from British brigs Louisa, Britannia and Elizabeth, schooner Maria, and ship Edward Pellew. She had burnt four vessels, prizes. The goods were sold here. The Macedonian sailed again on a cruise Jan. 7, 1815.

The privateer brig Guerriere, Burnham, sailed from this port, Sunday, Jan. 1, 1815,—also, about the same date, the private armed brigs Essex, Capt. Barrows, and Antelope, Capt. Woodward, both of Newburyport, sailed from this port.

Some readers may ask why they sailed from this port? since the British ships of war could not well stay on our bleak coast in winter. Answer: December, 1814, was a cold month; from the 5th to the 10th, it was unusually so;—and many harbors froze up, but ours was open, and vessels could get in here, when not elsewhere.

The privateer Fox, Capt. John Winkley, sailed from this port, Sunday, Jan. 15, 1815,—and returned on the next Thursday. She sailed again Jan. 21.

In the Oracle of Jan. 21, were four advertisements of privateering matters, viz.: The agents of the Portsmouth, proposing to pay, on the 6th Feb., the prize money arising from her last cruise, under command of Thomas M. Shaw:—Wm. Boyd, auctioneer, to sell four 6-pound carronades, and spare sails, spars, &c., belonging to the private armed brig Guerriere:—S. Larkin, auctioneer, to sell a suit of half-worn schooner's sails, and other things, belonging to the Fox:—and a libel on the British brig General Maitland, prize to privateer brig Dash, of Portland.

In the Oracle of Jan. 28, 1815, are half a dozen items that belong to our sketches of the privateers, which we copy here.

A Portuguese vessel, which has arrived at Amelia, it is stated, was boarded on the 19th of Dec. off Turk's Island, from the U. S. sloop of war Wasp, Capt. Blakeley.

We learn by a French gentleman from Halifax, who arrived in the Maidstone frigate at Castine, that the privateer Guerriere, Burnham, of this port, had been sent into Halifax by the Junon frigate, having been captured off Cape Sables. The Guerriere sailed hence on the 1st inst.

The privateer Fox, Capt. Winkley, sailed from this port on Saturday last.

On Sunday afternoon the privateer Ludlow, Mudge, from Kennebunk, ran ashore at River-Head Beach, Marblehead,—and was got off without damage or loss of life. She is a new vessel, built at Kennebunk, and was going into Salem to fit out.

The privateer brig Champlain, Salter, of Portsmouth, and privateer Dash, sld. from Portland on Saturday last.

The Ludlow was fitted out, and sailed from Salem a few days afterwards.

Geo. F. Blunt, agent, advertised Jan. 21, to pay the prize money to the sailors of the privateer schr. Macedonian, for her first cruise.

The news of Gen. Jackson's great victory at New Orleans, Jan. 8, 1815, reached New York Feb. 7th, and this place on the 10th, by the morning's stage, which came in with a large flag flying. The Oracle of Feb. 11 has these items:—

At a meeting of the owners of a new privateer, on Thursday last, to be fitted out of this port, it was unanimously voted to call her "Jackson," in honor of the General the intelligence of whose late victory has just been received.

One of the federal salutes fired yesterday in honor of General Jackson's defeat of the British, was from the elegant brass field pieces captured from the enemy by the privateer Harpy, and purchased by the town.—And the brilliant rockets thrown from the Coffee House were taken in the ship Stranger by the Fox, and probably intended for signals.

We close this chapter with extracts from an account of a brilliant cruise of the Harpy, dated at Salem, Sunday, Feb. 5, 1815.

Arrived, private armed brig Harpy, of Baltimore, William Nichols, Esq., commander, a fine vessel of 347 tons, 14 guns, long 9s and 12s, and 100 men at the commencement of the cruise. She fitted out last from Portsmouth, N. H. She is from a cruise of 35 days on the coast of Ireland, British Channel, Bay of Biscay and Cape Finisterre, deeply laden with goods:—has made 7 captures.

Jan. 7, captured ship Jane, of Greenock, from London for Antigua, with provisions on government account; threw overboard most of her cargo, her light sails, cables and anchors; paroled 45 prisoners; gave her up as a cartel, and ordered her for a port in Ireland, or for Liverpool.

The Harpy was chased by the Bulwark, 74, off Cape Sables, at the commencement of her cruise; by several men-of-war on the coast of Ireland; by the sloop-of-war Froward, off Portugal; by 3 gun-brigs and 2 frigates, between Cape Sables and George's Bank; in the course of 6 days, 5 days in succession, but outsailed them all with the greatest ease. She was chased by a frigate on Tuesday last, when she was almost covered with ice, but escaped her also.

Jan. 2d, lat. 43, lon. 13, at 7 A. M., discovered a sail on her larboard bow, and made all sail in chase; at 1 P. M. came up, and discovered her to be a British gun brig. The Harpy not being disposed to end her cruise by being crippled and having to return to port to refit, thought it most prudent to sheer off, preferring their commerce-picking to capturing their gun-brigs. She made sail after the Harpy, but the more she chased her the more she could not catch her.

The Harpy has on board between 800 and 900 bales, casks, boxes, trunks and packages of goods, viz.: 113 boxes and trunks, and 116 hhds. and casks of dry goods, jewelry, plate, ladies' rich dresses, navy trimmings, rich infants' clothing, &c.; 300 boxes fresh Malaga raisins; 66 frails fresh Turkey figs; 158 pieces British manufactured goods; 29 bolts canvass; a quantity of cordage; 10 pipes sherry wine; 3 bbls. powder; carronades, muskets, pistols, cutlasses, sails, signal flags, lamp and paint oil, white and patent sheet lead, nautical instruments, cut and other glass, medicines, and sundry other articles; also, upwards of 100,000*l.* sterling in British Treasury Notes and bills of exchange. She has ordered her two last prizes into Southern ports.

Capt. N. states, from Capt. Drysdale, that no American privateers had been carried into England for a long time. Also, he was informed by the master of one of the last neutral vessels he boarded, that the U. S. sloop of war Wasp was cruising off the Canary Islands, and had taken a great number of prizes—he does not recollect the dates.

The Harpy has boarded a great number of neutral vessels during her cruise; among them a Danish vessel bound to St. Croix, from whom they learned that a frigate with troops had sailed from Copenhagen to take possession of St. Croix and St. Thomas, which Islands were to be given up by the British.

This was the final cruise of the privateer Harpy:—for the news of Peace came in a few days after her arrival. About the middle of April, the marine news said: "The brig Maria, (formerly the privateer Harpy,) Cole, from Salem for New York, is cast away on Fire Inlet, Long Island,—crew saved, vessel lost."

The news of peace does not close our sketches of the privateers. There are materials for another chapter or two.

☞ The Concord Patriot copies our item headed "a United States Lie," condemning Judge Chase's ruling on the legal tender question—and adds:

We clip the above from the Portsmouth Gazette. Will the learned and conscientious editor of that sheet inform the public what he thinks of the action of Congress in repudiating its own pledge and declaring that these notes shall not be received in payment for the public debt of the United States. If Congress ought to rebuke the Supreme Court for declaring one of its enactments unconstitutional, ought not the people to rebuke Congress for declaring the same act a falsehood and a fraud?

If the People will show us when and where Congress ever made greenbacks equal to gold in payment of the public debt, we will tell them what we think of the change.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Occupational Ailments.

Fresh, pure air is a vitalizing elixir. Whoever is debarred by circumstances from unrestricted access to this invisible, but powerful stimulant needs a medicinal invigorant of some kind. The great object should be to choose the best. Popularity is a pretty good guarantee of merit in this scrutinizing and intelligent age, and tried by this criterion HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stands first among the invigorating and regulating medicines of the present day. To the wants of persons engaged in indoor employments, especially in crowded factories where even with the best possible ventilation the atmosphere is always in some degree polluted, this salubrious vegetable tonic is peculiarly adapted.

The nature of the ingredients is no mystery, it consists of an absolutely pure diffusive stimulant, tinctured—or rather surcharged—with the fluid extracts of sanatous roots and barks and herbs. The pharmacopoia has its tinctures, but what are they? The juice of only a single root or bark or plant is present in each. Not one of them combines the three properties of a tonic, an alterative and an aperient. All these elements are blended in the Bitters, nor are these the sum of its medicinal recommendations. It is also a blood depurent and an antispasmodic.

The baleful effect which air that has been partially exhausted of its oxygen by frequent breathing produces on the vital organization, is notorious, and when to this devitalized atmosphere is superadded the mephitic vapor of hot air furnaces, it becomes deleterious and depressing in the extreme. To enable the system to bear up, even for a few hours each day against the debilitating influence of a vitiated atmosphere, a wholesome tonic and alterative is urgently required. This grand desideratum is supplied in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which as a strength-sustaining, health-protecting agent has no rival either among official or advertised medicines.

A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

"Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cts."

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never in one case of a child suffering of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Koscisko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medical properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

☞ We are pleased to state that Mr. Wm. H. Noyes, master Sail-maker at the Navy Yard, has not been removed.

☞ We regret to say that there is not the least foundation for the report that the Sagamore (Rockingham) Mill in this city is to be started up. We wish he e was.

☞ Town Elections in Kittery and Eliot to-day. There is talk of running a Temperance ticket in Kittery; but we think the best way to promote temperance is inside the Republican ranks.

☞ The Choir Association of Kittery are to give a concert at the Second M. E. Church this (Monday) evening, under the direction of Prof. Cram. A good programme is offered, and those who have heard the rehearsals of the Association predict a fine Concert.

☞ The Eastern Railroad have just added to their through trains four of the most magnificent passenger cars in this country, and have half a dozen more building. This road is winning he favor of the travelling public by its splendid accommodations and a determination to do everything possible for the comfort and safety of its patrons.

☞ Mr. Thos. P. Moses has finished a large painting, representing a ship (the Dreadnought) under full sail, with an approaching squall. The picture was ordered for Haywood's panorama, which is now being exhibited in Vermont, and numbers of masters of vessels who were invited in to see it previous to its being sent away, highly complimented Mr. Moses' artistic skill.

THE COCHECO BAND, W. D. Taylor Leader, gave their first Concert at the City Hall on Friday evening. They were assisted by the following eminent talent: Mr. C. H. Tompson, leader of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, who performed several Cornet solos; Mrs. Susie Foster Marcy of Portsmouth, Miss Morrill and the Everett Brothers of Dover. This is a new and enterprising Band, and has made rapid progress under the instruction of Jere. Rothwell. It deserves a most liberal patronage.—Dover Enquirer.

THE SULPHUR BATHS administered at No. 7 Ladd Street are an aid to health and sure destruction to disease. Those who have intended to take them should call speedily, as Doctor Strong has not yet received sufficient encouragement to warrant a long stay here. Several well known citizens have been benefitted by these baths, and do not hesitate to commend them. Dr. Perry, who has administered sulphur baths to the number of 2000, in this city, endorses Dr. Strong strongly.

☞ Cooper in his Naval History frequently refers to the American "national failing to defer all military preparations to the latest possible moment, since the country has been peopled." Take that to heart, ye who shout so loudly for cutting Naval appropriations down below a reasonable point.

Cooper says no less than 400 privateers are said to have been sent out from the American Colonies during the war with Spain, which ended in 1748; but the number, he observes, seems incredible.

In 1748, there were 121 clearances and 78 entries, at this port of Portsmouth, besides 200 vessels in its regular employment. So says Cooper.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

FRANKLIN, N. H., March 25.

Messrs. Editors:—The Merrimack County Teachers' Institute is in session at this place the present week, under the charge of State Superintendent of Instruction, Rev. J. C. Hardy, assisted by Prof's Knight, Quimby, Orcutt, Sanborn, Downs, and Mrs. Miller. About 80 members have enrolled their names. The people in the village turn out in large numbers, and all seem to take an interest in this great work of Education.

This is a growing town we find here. The large paper manufactory of W. F. Daniell, two wood—pulp factories (run by Russells of Lawrence,) two large stocking factories, also the patent belt leather factory of Page Brothers, make business brisk, and in summer we are sure this must be a pleasant and healthy place to reside; but to-day it is cold and windy, with excellent sleighing in the village.

Mr. Hardy informs me that he expects to hold a Teachers' Institute in Rockingham County, (perhaps in the city of Portsmouth,) this spring. C.

WHY SLEEP WAS INVENTED.

When man was made, it puzzled Satan much
How Adam's soul and body he could win!
So he invented woman; and with such
A soul endow'd her, she was sure to sin;
And once get Adam underneath her thrall,
Satan was certain both of them would fall!

But then another difficulty rose—
How to get Adam to accept his bride!
This he o'ercame, as everybody knows,
By sending him to sleep; then by his side
Placed Eve—for Satan knew this much of life,
That, wide awake, he'd never take a wife!

There is prospect of a new freight depot in Dover. The B. & M. R. R. Corporation have purchased several acres on Charles street, east of the Brewery, for the purpose of erecting a large and conveient freight building.

There is an action on the docket of the Supreme Judicial Court in Merrimac county that has been continued twenty years.

Ellen, wife of John McCone, was found dead in her house, in Dover, Monday last. It is supposed she died in a fit. She was found sitting in a chair with her head lying on a table.

The charming opera of Laila was produced in Dover with splendid effect, and was greeted by an overflowing house. The Fairy Queen was taken by Miss Nellie Hall, who always sings sweetly, and Laila by Miss Etta Morrill.

Deacon Joseph Chase of Hampstead proposes to give the Congregational society of that town the sum of $2000 as a fund for the support of preaching, provided the society will adopt the plan of paying all its bills annually.

At the recent session of the Supreme Court at Haverhill, Mr. Charles G. Aldrich and Salmon A. Sherman of Lisbon, for appearing before the grand jury in a state of intoxication, were fined $30 each, and sentenced to be confined in jail thirty days. It is said they came before the grand jury for the purpose of getting some one in their town indicted for selling liquor.

Claremont did not have even an alarm of fire during the past year.

The N.H.Milk Producers' Association held its third annual meeting at the Whiting House in Wilton, March 10th. A very pleasing company of nearly one hundred persons was present. After partaking of a sumptuous dinner, a short time was spent in the interchange of sentiments and song, and the transaction of business pertaining to the interests of the Association.

In Strafford County, Amasa Roberts, Esq., Register of Probate, was taken seriously ill while at his office Wednesday afternoon, and was carried home in an unconscious state. Thursday morning he remained in the condition, and fears are entertained for the worst.

☞ Rev. De W. C. Durgin, of the Freewill Baptist Church, at Hampton, we learn closes his pastorate of thirteen or fourteen years there, the 27th inst. He has been a very active, useful man, both in his parish and all the town and vicinity, and will be a great loss to the place. All efforts were made to defeat his re-election to the Legislature the present year, but happily without avail. His pastoral resignation was a complete surprise to his people and the community, between whom and himself the strong attachment and respect so long existing, remains unabated.

☞ We are informed that the item we published the other day respecting the depot-master at Wells, did injustice to him. Although a Democrat and a very active and efficient man, yet we are told that about two-thirds of the hands he employs on the Railroad as section-men are Republicans—and the complaints against him are made on personal grounds decidedly complimentary to him. He was very active in sending the quota of his town during the war.

—Mr. William Bonser, manufacturer of a Patent Steam Trap, came near meeting with a serious accident at North Berwick, by attempting to get upon the train while in motion. He missed his footing and fell between the cars, but caught hold of the iron railing and sustained his weight by one hand until rescued from his perilous situation by a bystander.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,

No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,

February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous forms of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other. The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will, be, at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 22dawlm

Morning Chronicle.

GREENLAND.

The following historical sketch of Greenland is copied from the book of New Hampshire Churches, which was printed in 1856, when the account of the Congregational Church there was sketched by Rev. Mr. Robie, then and now the pastor of that Church.

Greenland for some years after its first settlement, formed a part of Portsmouth. It was incorporated in 1703. From its first settlement until 1705, its inhabitants, men, women and children, used to walk six or eight miles to attend public worship. At a regular parish meeting held in Portsmouth, June 4th, 1705, it was voted, "That in consideration of their numbers, the distance they had to travel, and the dangers to be encountered in their attendance upon public worship, the inhabitants of Greeland be permitted to enjoy their own regular, instituted means of grace, and that one hundred pounds be paid yearly, out of the town stock, as their proportion for the support of the ministry during their maintenance of an able minister among them, and no longer." The use of a certain amount of land was afterwards substituted for the above £100. The church was organized in July 1706, consisting of twenty-nine members, and all the inhabitants of the town constituted the Parish.

The first settled minister was Rev. William Allen, who was born in Boston, Mass., March, 1676, graduated at Harvard college 1703, and ordained pastor of this church July 15, 1707. Rev. Mr. Allen labored as acting pastor of this church until Nov. 3, 1756, when, in accordance with his own request, made by reason of his increasing age and infirmities, a colleague pastor was settled. He, however, continued his senior pastor, until his death, Sept. 8, 1760, in the fifty third year of his ministry, and aged eighty four.—A parish meeting which was warned on the 8th of Sept., was holden on the 9th to make preparations for his funeral. At this meeting it was voted, "That the town will give decent burial to their Reverend pastor deceased—that the selectmen be a committee for this purpose, and that a mourning ring be presented to Rev. Samuel McClintock." During his ministry Rev. Mr. Allen administered eleven hundred baptisms and received two hundred and ninety three persons into the church. He was favored with several extensive revivals, and as the fruits of one which took place about the time of the Great Awakening, he received thirty one persons into the church at one time, May 11, 1735.

The second pastor of this church was Rev. Samuel McClintock. He was born in Medford, Mass., May 1, 1732, of respected and devout Scotch Irish parents, graduated at Princeton, 1751, with such high honor that he was immediately invited to a tutorship in the College. This he declined from an unwillingness to delay entrance upon a profession to which he was consecrated from his childhood. He studied theology with his friend and patron, Rev. James McGregore of Derry. While on a short visit at Rev. Dr. Langdon's of Portsmouth, he was invited to preach a lecture at Greenland, and such was the impression produced by his discourse that the people immediately invited him to assist their aged pastor. After preaching five Sabbaths he received a pressing and unanimous call to become colleague pastor. The unanimity and affection discovered on this occasion led him to sacrifice far more flattering worldly prospects to what he deemed the call of duty, and he accepted the invitation.—He was ordained Nov. 3d, 1756. Rev. Dr. Langdon of Portsmouth preached the sermon. Favored with a strong constitution and uninterrupted health and ability for active service, the last Sabbath of his life was the only one on which he was disabled for the performance of his ministerial duties. He preached for the last time on the day of the annual Fast, April 19th, 1804. Upon his return home to his family on that day he observed that he had finished his labors as a minister of Christ. An apparently slight indisposition under which he was then laboring, increased so rapidly as to terminate his life in eight days. On the morning of April 27th, 1804, he sweetly fell asleep in Jesus, and, without doubt, entered into that rest which is promised to Christ's faithful servants.

Rev. Dr. McClintock was widely known as a man of sterling native talent, an able theologian, and a scholar of high standing. As a preacher he stood in high reputation, and his discourses, judging from a half score of his manuscripts in the possession of the present pastor, were plain, logical, rich in thought, and evangelical. His memory is still cherished with great affection in the hearts of those now living, who, in their childhood and youth, sat under his ministrations. He was a lover of civil and religious liberty, as every minister ought to be. He entered warmly into the defence of his country's rights when threatened and invaded by the power of Great Britain. During the Revolutionary war he took an active part on the battle-field in the character of chaplain, and by his prayers, and also by his exhortations and example, animated and encouraged his compatriots in the unequal conflict. He was present as chaplain, at the battle of Bunker Hill.

The third pastor of this church was Rev. James Neal.—He was born in Londonderry, 1774, and ordained pastor of this church, May 22d, 1805, within less than thirteen months after the death of his predecessor. His ordination sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Appleton, of Hampton, afterwards President of Bowdoin college. Previous to his settlement here, he had served for several years Preceptor of Female Seminary for young ladies in Philadelphia, which laborious employment he relinquished for the pastoral office. He was pastor only for a little more than three years. He died in office, July 18th, 1808, aged 34 years. He was the father of the late Joseph C. Neal, the accomplished and popular editor and author. About seventy-five persons were admitted into the church during the successive ministries of McClintock and Neal. We have no means of ascertaining the number of baptisms. Until this period in the history of this church, uninterrupted harmony and good order prevailed in all ecclesiastical and religious matters which required the action of the people. Upon these matters all the legal voters were required to act and did act as on matters of a secular character. All the inhabitants of the town who attended public worship anywhere, worshipped together in the same house, and rendered their voluntary sympathy and aid to sustain the pastors of the church. Not a dissenting voice was heard respecting the faith and order of the gospel which these worthy men labored to establish here. There was about this time, however, a manifest declension of spiritual life in the hearts of God's people. This, with the death of Mr. Neal, prepared the way for the change which soon transpired.—While our pastor was upon his dying bed, Elias Smith, the successful leader of one of the most noted liberal sects of those days, made his appearance in this town, and commenced the work of disorganization among the people. He succeeded in disaffecting the hearts of a few. Here, as elsewhere, his influence in this work seemed to no be less efficient as a political partizan than as the leader of a religious sect. He was followed by the eminent and efficient pioneer and apostle of Methodism, Rev. George Pickering. He succeeded in drawing over one-third of the members of the church to the Methodists, who obtained the joint occupancy of the Meeting-house for six months in the year, until the settlement of the fourth pastor. Though this secession tried the heart of the church and reduced her numbers and pecuniary ability for a season, it did not essentially enfeeble her. The great Head of the church moved the heart or a worthy member of the church to supply the deficit thus made, by the liberal act of entrusting a fund of $5000 to the care of the Mass. Society for the promotion of Christian Knowledge, two hundred dollars of the income of which that society is required to pay annually, in half-yearly payments, to the Congregational minister of Greenland. This secured a sum more than equivalent to that lost by the seceding tax-payers. Moreover a majority of the legal voters in town restored the church to full possession of the house of worship.

On the 27th day of Oct., 1813, Rev. Ephraim Abbott was settled here He was a descendant of George Abbott, who came from England and settled in Andover, Mass., 1643. He was born in Newcastle, Me., Sept. 28, 1779, graduated at Harvard college 1806, and at Andover in 1810. Previously to his settlement in this place, he labored successfully as a Missionary in some of the neighboring towns. He was also the first Preceptor of Brackett's Academy in this place. He was dismissed at his own request, by reason of ill health, Oct. 28, 1828, after a ministry of fifteen years. By him thirty seven persons were received into the church and twenty six were baptized.

Rev. Samuel W. Clark, the fifth pastor of this church, was born at Hancock, N. H., Dec. 15th, 1795, graduated with honor at Dartmouth college 1823, finished his studies at Andover in 1827, and was ordained over this church, August 5th, 1829. He was a faithful, affectionate, and much beloved pastor until his death, a period of eighteen years. He died in great calmness and peace of spirit, Aug. 17, 1847, aged 52 years. He was favored with two seasons of refreshing from above during his ministry. He received thirty seven persons into the church and administered forty five baptisms.

The sixth pastor of this church was Rev. Edwin Holt.—Born in New London, Conn., April 17, 1805, graduated at Columbia college Aug. 1821, he studied theology at the Seminary in Auburn. After settlements at Westfield, N. J., Macon, Ga., Portsmouth, N. H. and New York city, he was installed as pastor of this church, March 8, 1848. Ill health compelled him to ask a dismission, which was reluctantly granted, Jan. 8th, 1851. During his ministry of three years, thirteen persons were added to the church and six were baptized. Mr. Holt removed from Greenland to Madison, Iowa, and from thence to Evansville, where he died July 3d, 1854.

The present pastor of this church is Rev. Edward Robie. Born in Gorham, Me., April 5th, 1821, graduated at Bowdoin college 1840, and at Andover Theological Seminary 1843, he was ordained Feb. 25th, 1852. Previously to his ordination, he spent several years in teaching in his native place, and at Andover, Mass. During his ministry thirteen persons have been admitted to the church, seven by profession and six by letters of recommendation. It now embraces forty seven members.

Thus, for a century and a half, has this church been in existence. During this period it has been characterized by a constant and steady adherence to the institutions of the gospel. It has had its discouragements and its times of favor, having suffered seasons of depressions and enjoyed precious revivals. Favored indeed, has she been in her succession of pastors. They were all able, laborious, faithful and devoted servants of Christ. Of the whole number who have preceded the present pastor, two only were dismissed, and they at their own request, which was reluctantly granted by an attached people. The others lived, labored and finished their course with the church in joy and peace, and their remains repose with us until this day. The united ministry of the first pastors numbered more than a century of years. This church has furnished for our Denomination one minister, Rev. Stephen Bailey, formerly of Raymond, and now of Dorchester, Mass.

Since the date of the above account, the Congregational society in Greenland have been endowed with another fund, by one the March family, deceased, who made such provision in his will. Their numbers, and some other circumstances have changed, generally for the better.

The Methodist Church in Greenland was founded in 1809, and has been one of the most uniform, regular and steadfast of that denomination in this region. One of its early ministers was Rev. Alfred Metcalf, who was deservedly a very popular man outside his denomination as well as in it, and who would be and was a settled minister, notwithstanding the Itinerant usage of his Church. He bought land, built a house, settled in Greenland, lived and died there.

Sometimes he took appointments from the Conference, to places near his residence, and sometimes he did not; but however that might be, he loved his home, knew its comforts, and enjoyed them heartily.

He was a decided believer in the general theology of his denomination, a good student, a pleasant speaker, and most agreeable companion: and his life helped to make the character of his society, and give it stability and prosperity.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.
The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purged and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.
Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Unless expelled, this unseen and insidious enemy of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may suddenly be deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this SARSAPARILLA is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear.
Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various affections of the muscular and nervous systems.
Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaints, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac supplied gratis.
Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Fruit growers, in many sections of the State, are offering a reward of half a dollar for every partridge killed in or near their orchards, the birds being thought to destroy apple buds very extensively.

Dartmouth College has received, within a few years, gifts to the amount of $460,000, most of which sum has been given to add some new departments to the institution.

Hampton Falls had a prize fight on Friday. The parties were Dan Sullivan, a Boston machinist, and George Walker, a journeyman tailor, of Concord. A secluded spot in the woods was selected, the ring pitched, and the battle fought without the knowledge of a single outsider. The "mill" was for $250 a side, and embraced eleven ounds, occupying 27 minutes. The money, was won by Sullivan, who outfought Walker from the start. Neither party received much punishment.

A NEW STORY OF PRESIDENT LINCOLN.—During the darkest days of the rebellion, about the close of the year 1863, when open enemies were defeating us in the field and secret foes were plotting against us at home, and giving aid and comfort to rebels at the South in various ways, it was decided by the Cabinet that some decisive effort must be made to stop the currents of information that seemed to flow uninterruptedly between the North and the South. The Government at last determined to seize all the telegraph offices in the country on a certain day, and to hold possession of them for one hour; and to forward every message that passed over the wires during that time, with the names of all the parties, in a sealed envelope to Washington.

The plan was successfully carried out on the day appointed, and an immense number of dispatches of all kinds were collected. The Cabinet, by special appointment, had assembled for the sole purpose of acting upon the information thus obtained,—to defeat and punish those who should be found engaged in treasonable correspondence with the South. One by one the telegrams were opened and read, until the evidence against many, heretofore unsuspected and supposed to be above suspicion,—was astounding, and painful in the extreme; while many suspected parties were implicated by the clearest evidence.

What was to be done? Thus far, the only result had been to confirm the worst suspicions and arouse many new ones. The Secretary of War said, "Bring them all to justice; let no one escape." Others said anxiously, "these are but a few of the hundreds unknown to us before. We have before us the results of only one hour's work." At last the Secretary turned to Mr. Lincoln, who had been thus far thoughtfully silent, saying, "Mr. President, what shall we do? The country is threatened with betrayal and destruction by enemies in our own camp."

Mr. Lincoln, putting himself in a favorite attitude remarked, "I have a story which I think applicable to this case, and which is expressive of my feelings. When I was out West, I knew an old farmer who had moved there, and settled in a dense forest not far from my house. He cleared about an acre of land, built him a log cabin, brought his wife and children there, bought a cow, a pig, and some fowls, and seemed to be living very happily and doing finely.

He had a truck-patch on most of the cleared ground, on which he was growing his winter store of vegetables. All the trees had been cut down except one old monarch, which he had left to shade his house.

It was a majestic-looking tree, and apparently perfect in every part,—tall, straight, and of immense size,—the grand old sentinel of his forest home. One morning, while at work in his garden, he saw a squirrel run across the ground before him; and, thought he, that fellow would make me a nice dinner. So he picked up a stick and sent it flying at him; but, squirrel-like, he dodged it, and went up the great pine-tree. The woodman went into the house and got his gun to shoot him. After looking a long time he spied a hole, and thought the tree might be hollow. He proceeded to examine it carefully, and, much to his surprise, he found the stately monarch, that he had spared for its beauty and grandeur to be the pride and protection of his little farm, was hollow from top to bottom.

Only a rim of sound wood remained, barely sufficient to support its weight, all the inside was punky or rotten. What was he to do? If he cut it down, it would spoil nearly all his truck-patch with its great length and spreading branches. If he let it remain, his family was in constant danger. In a storm it might fall, or the wind might blow it down, and his house and children be crushed by it. What should he do? As he turned away, he said, sadly, "I wish I had never seen that squirrel;" and, said Mr. Lincoln, "I wish we had never seen what we have to-day."—Beecher's Magazine.

Deputy Commissioner Douglas, of the revenue office, who has been in New York conducting the investigation, says the accounts will balance within about $125,000, and that the books and papers show that Bailey spent the money in hunting up frauds. ☞ The Annual Report of the Superintending School Committee of Rye, recently issued, is a spicy document—sometimes rather flippant in tone, but containing a good deal of wholesome truth. It says some of the schoolhouses are hardly equal to a first-class pig-pen, and would not be used as cattle pens by good farmers; and condemns the ignorant fault-finding by parents, toward teachers whom they know nothing about and take no pains to learn. Mr. G. H. Jenness was the Supt. Com., and goes in for liberally supporting good schools, and recommends physical exercises and drawing taught therein. The schools of that town usually cost about $900 annually.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—You will doubtless, as a matter of course, have the Chronicling of much in regard to the present religious movements in this city, under the leadership of Mr. Durant. The writer of this had the opportunity of hearing what he judges from the reports of his other discourses to have been one of his best productions, which was on "The evidences of conversion."

There was an absence of the frightening and driving process which is reported of many of his other discourses; and after delivering himself of two injunctions, (important in his sight, but to others the greatest and most harmful falsities,) the one (as I understood him,) to make no account whatever of any sentiments or feelings in regard to religious things, the other to make an unconditional surrender of the will, and have no argument or reasonings,—he went on with his subject in a manner (except when in two cases he drew laughter, which really dignified Christian people would consider an impropriety in the house of God,) and with matter that could hardly fail to engage fully the attention of every good mind.

About two-thirds of his discourse, if taken by itself, was of the highest order of gospel preaching; the other third exhibited the usual inconsistencies and contradictions, thus spoiling the whole for the purpose which he doubtless intended, viz., to "draw" intelligent minds.

A principal part of the practical application, was the duty of joining some one of the five (as he called them,) evangelical churches, embracing the Christian, two Baptist, the Methodist and Orthodox Churches. He denounced in the most pointed manner all proselytism.

With all the sincerity of my heart I praise a man who will lay aside worldly avocations and gainful professions, to raise wretched human souls to a fuller knowledge of Jesus and his Father God,—and I believe he will reap a reward according to the sincerity of his purposes and the actual amount of good accomplished.

The Portsmouth public ought certainly to duly appreciate these efforts—if they do not give him their thanks, they may, by a "retort courteous," return to him like favors by pointing out deficiencies which may be unknown to himself; for instance, we might say that in order to his realizing more fully than he now does the blessings he craves for us, he needs both enlargement and purification of his religious ideas; and that his Christian manhood might be perfected, he should put himself into the "oven" referred to in the case of Ephraim, and being "turned" from the side on which he is evidently baked too brown, may secure a thorough baking on all sides, and through and through. The writer enjoys the assurance of being in this oven of the Lord. P. J. A.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

KITTERY, ME., March 28.

The barn of Widow Lydia A. Trefethen, at the Lower Foreside, was destroyed by fire on Saturday night, at about 11 o'clock. It was the work of an incendiary. The house, which was near the barn, was very considerably damaged, and only saved by great exertions. Mrs. Trefethen is an invalid, and will feel the loss severely. Friends have already commenced their contributions, with the usual propmt liberality of our Kittery people. The house is insured, but the barn was not. Loss on barn, $175; damage to house, $75.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Occupational Ailments.

Fresh, pure air is a vitalizing elixir. Whoever is debarred by circumstances from unrestricted access to this invisible, but powerful stimulant needs a medicinal invigorant of some kind. The best object should be to choose the best. Popularity is a pretty good guarantee of merit in this scrutinizing and intelligent age, and tried by this criterion HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stands first among the invigorating and regulating medicines of the present day. To the wants of persons engaged in indoor employments, especially in cotton factories where even with the best possible ventilation the atmosphere is always in some degree polluted, this salubrious vegetable tonic is peculiarly adapted.

The nature of the ingredients is no mystery, it consists of an absolutely pure diffusive stimulant, tinctured—or rather surcharged—with the fluid extracts of sanatous roots and barks and herbs. The pharmacopœia has its tinctures, but what are they? The juice of only a single root or bark or plant is present in each. Not one of them combines the three properties of a tonic, an alterative and an aperient. All these elements are included in the Bitters, nor are these the sum of its medicinal recommendations. It is also a blood depurent and an antispasmodic.

The baneful effect which air that has been partially exhausted of its oxygen by frequent breathing produces on the vital organization, is notorious, and when to this devitalized atmosphere is superadded the mephitic vapor of hot air furnaces, it becomes deleterious and depressing in the extreme. To enable the system to bear up, even for a few hours each day against the debilitating influence of a vitiated atmosphere, a wholesome tonic and alterative is urgently required. This grand desideratum is supplied in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which as a strength-sustaining, health-protecting agent has no rival either among official or advertised medicines.

A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.
CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

"Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cts."

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Oil Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever tried."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about Half House To Let—John H. Grant.

Ship Lost—Notice of Department of State.
Spring and Summer Goods—J. E. Ham & Co.

☞ Dr. John S. Perry, having recovered from his lung and severe sickness, announces to resume his practice in Dentistry. His office is on Market Square, over Mr. Slee's Insurance Office.

PRIME BEEF.—A very handsome yoke of fat cattle, from the farm of Mr. Shapley of Eliot, were sold to Messrs. Lane & Hartshorn, of the Daniel Street Provision Store, a day or two since. They were said to weigh about 5,000 lbs. on the hoof.

☞ Mr. Hodges, the Spiritual Medium, is receiving numerous visitors, many of whom are astonished and delighted at his manifestations—while, as usual, others (and commonly those who have not seen him or his works,) cry humbug.

☞ Mr. H. F. Durant continues the Revival Meetings at the North Church each evening this week up to and including Thursday. Those who manage these meetings, are very earnest in promoting the religious excitement—while their movements are deprecated and denounced by many who do not approve nor believe in the same.

☞ For readers at a distance, we frequently give "an abstract and brief chronicle" of the weather, which people here at home of course know all about. Friday, Saturday and Sunday were Easterly, chilly and dreary enough; but Monday with its rain and fog was more like Spring, and ate down the drifts of snow and ice pretty well. The season may be called backward, we should say.

☞ Mr. Daniel W. Marden, of this city, well known as book-keeper for Hon. Frank Jones, died very suddenly on Monday morning, at his rooms at Mr. C. W. Carter's on Congress Street. He had injured his health and shattered his nerves by excessive smoking, which he had discontinued a month ago; and Friday or Saturday, while riding in the cars to Boston, had an attack of paralysis or apoplexy, from the effects of which he died here—Monday. He was a very capable and efficient accountant, and personally had many friends. His age was only about 36 years, and he was unmarried.

HAYWARD'S CONCERT.—Mr. William Hayward, the widely know and popular vocalist, is to give one of his unique entertainments at the Temple, this evening. These entertainments given by Mr. and Mrs. Hayward are highly commended by the press wherever they have been, and we can attest to their superiority, of our own knowledge. They are Chaste, Witty, and Emotional, and free from everything of an objectional nature.

The present programme is new, embracing many of the latest and most popular ballads, together with a pleasing variety of humorous and comical delineations. Wherever Mr. and Mrs. Hayward have sung, crowded houses have greeted them, and on many occasions the halls have proved too small to hold the crowds that flock to hear them. Those wishing good seats must be on hand early.

The first stage coach ever seen in Nashua passed through in 1795, on its way to Amherst.

☞ We rarely deem it worth our while to correct or deny copperhead statements about Republicans. Hence we did not take any notice of the talk about the recent arrest of Senator Nye in this city. The case is one of a disagreement as to the value of gold in a foreign trade, a few years ago, and the arrest was merely technical, and we understand the Senator's personal recognisance only was given, without bonds. Much ado about nothing.

☞ Owing to the inclemency of the weather, Monday, the concert by the Choir Association of Kittery was postponed until this evening.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, N. W YORK,
February 15th, 1870.
The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained its the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.
Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement, whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the
OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company
The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other
The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.
Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.
Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.
The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 237 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.
Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.
Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.
The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.
The Bonds are in denominations of
$1000, $500, and $100.
They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or
The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or
The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.
The three classes will be known respectively as:
1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."
2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."
3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.
They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.
The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.
The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.
A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.
The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.
Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.
The present price is 90 and accrued interest.
A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be, at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.
Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.
P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.
☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 24dawlm

PASTORATES OF FIFTY YEARS OR MORE.—Twenty-seven Congregational ministers in New Hampshire were pastors of their respective churches fifty years or more. A few of them, however, had colleagues before their term expired. Ten of these were in Rockingham County. These we will note in the order of time as to settlement.

Rev. Wm. Allen, first minister of Greenland, settled in 1707, died 1760, aged 84. His pastorate was 56 years; but, four years previous to its close, Rev. S. McClintock was ordained his colleague.

Rev. Joseph Adams, ordained in Newington, in 1715, as the first minister. He continued 68 years, till his death, in 1783, at the age of 94. He had no colleague, and his pastorate was the longest ever in this county.

Rev. Ebenezer Flagg, ordained in Chester, in 1736, died in 1793, aged 93. He was pastor 60 years. Rev. N. Bradstreet was settled as his colleague three years previous to Mr. Flagg's death.

Rev. Samuel Parsons, ordained in Rye, in 1736, died in 1789, aged 77. He was pastor 53 years. Rev. H. Porter was settled as his colleague about five years before Mr. Parsons' decease.

Rev. Jeremiah Fogg, ordained in Kensington, in 1737, died in 1796. He was pastor 59 years. His age at the time of his death was 77.

Rev. Wm. Davidson, ordained in Londonderry in 1740, was pastor 51 years, died in 1791, aged 77.

Rev. Abner Bailey, first minister of Salem, ordained in 1740, died in 1793, aged 82, pastor 58 years. Rev. John Smith was settled as his colleague one year previous.

Rev. Samuel Haven, settled at Portsmouth, 1752; pastor 54 years; died in 1806, aged 79. Rev. T. Alden was his colleague about six years.

Rev. Huntington Porter, settled at Rye, 1784, was pastor till his death, in 1844, 60 years, but Rev. Bezaleel Smith was his colleague fifteen years.

Rev. Jonathan French, ordained at North Hampton, in 1801, was pastor 50 years, resigning in 1851. He died in 1856, aged 78.

We have put down the above as Congregationalists, but Rev. W Davidson of Londonderry, was a Presbyterian. J. F., in Exeter News Letter.

—The Maine Legislature at its recent session passed two hundred and eighty-six acts and seventy-two resolves, making in all three hundred and fifty-eight

GEN. SHERMAN is out with a letter to Senator Wilson, objecting to the proposed bill, offered by Gen. Logan, for the reduction of the army. He closes as follows:—

Personally, I occupy the same dwelling which Gen. Grant did before me, which some kind friends in New York and Boston bought and presented me, and I have spent every cent, and more too, of the pay allowed me by law in keeping it up. I have endeavored to entertain my friends, come from what quarter they might, and have given some dinners and some receptions, and hope to do so again, at my own expense, not the people's. If my pay is reduced I may not be able to do it to the same extent hereafter, but never will I receive the courtesies or hospitalities of others unless I can reciprocate them. Invidious comparisons have been made between my salary and that of the chief justice and cabinet ministers. All I can say is that it is and has been a shame that a country with 40,000,000 of people should stint their Chief Justice and cabinet ministers as this government now does.

The President himself assured me, before I came to Washington, that I could not live on my salary here if I had to pay the rent of a house, and in his annual message he called attention to the inadequate pay of the justices of the Supreme Court, and inferentially of the cabinet ministers. If it lay in his power, I believe this disparity would not exist an hour, and that he would not level down, but raise up. The demagogues might, of course, cry aloud, "Extravagance!" but the people would say Amen. The people of this country, when appealed to, are not mean. They want real economy and honest responsibility, and these all are allied to justice. I claim that I have earned my past and present pay; that, during the war, when I commanded more men than the Duke of Wellington had in Spain, my pay as brigadier and major-general was less than his private secretary's, and was so small that, though I lived on a soldier's rations, my pay was not more than enough to maintain my family in Ohio.

I did not complain of it then, nor do I now; but I believe that my present pay is not wholly for present work, but is in great part for past services. I will say the same for Generals Sheridan, Meade, Thomas, for all of our present general officers, and it is nobody's business whether they are married or single, or what use they make of their salaries. This is a consideration too contemptible for discussion. What money will pay Meade for Gettysburg? What Sheridan for Winchester and Five Forks? What Thomas for Chickamauga, Chattanooga, or Nashville? What American would tear these pages from our national history for the few dollars saved from their pay? I honestly believe that the ranks of general and lieutenant-general should remain as incentives to exertion in all times to come, and that to terminate these posts of honor during the lives of our war-generals would be an act of unkindness to them personally which the country does not demand, but quite to the contrary.

I make this strong appeal not for myself, but for the army and for my comrades, for whom I have a right to speak in their absence.

On the 18th, in Great Falls a fire was discovered in Lothrop's clothing store. The fire was easily put out, but damage to the amount of $600 was done to the building and its contents. The insurance is ample. The fire was of incendiary origin. On the 14th, a fire on wheels was discovered. Some one had set fire to a car on the Boston & Maine track. Damage $150.

The Nashua Gazette says it is rumored the city authorities are about to enforce the liquor law—the result of a pledge made to the temperance folks previous to the election.

Mr. O. D. Seavey succeeds his father Mr. J. L. Seavey, lately deceased, in the management of the Phenix Hotel at Concord.

In the Supreme Judicial Court at Laconia the case of Barnstead vs. George W. Hodgdon was up for trial, an action for assumpsit for money received by the defendant as Treasurer of that town and not accounted for. The matter has been heard before an auditor, who found that the defendant owed the town about $2,500. The defence set up is that the money went into the hands of the Selectmen, of whom the defendant was one, and that he did not receive it as Treasurer,—and the board of Selectmen, and not he alone, should have been sued. On the second day of the trial the defendant concluded to back down, and the plaintiffs took judgment for the amount allowed by the auditor.

In Nashua, Mrs. J. E. Marden left her house to attend a funeral, and though several of the family were in the house from time to time, on her return she found that $97 in specie had been taken from a trunk, a $20 bill from her purse, and other valuables, to the amount of $170 in all. As the deed was done in broad daylight, some coolness was necessary to do the job, thinks the Telegraph.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvelous. Invetrate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfilt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly developes into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may suddenly be deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this SARSAPARILLA is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear.

Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and in length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Tetter or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicide will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac supplied gratis.

Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, The pidly Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the same noxious poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Dyspeptical, Sleepless and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic or Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

GEESE.

ADDRESSED TO PHYLIS AND CORYDON.

Here much love, and there but little,
Here a flame and there a flicker;
Maiden lovers' vows are brittle,
How old folks can fret and bicker,
Warning you to think of this,
Hark! the foolish goslings hiss!

Love stays not at fever heat;
Summer turns to winter snows,
April blossoms, under feet,
Are all trodden ere June glows;
Warning you to think of this,
Hear the mocking ganders hiss.

Hear that couple jar and jangle,
They were once as fond as you.
Love-knots are too apt to tangle;
One day you may learn to rue.
Cynics warning you of this,
Hark, the wise geese, how they hiss.

Never heed the gabbling creatures,
Press the lip and clasp the hand,
Gaze upon each other's features.
Wander in your Fairy Land,
Never doubt you're right in this
Though the silly goslings hiss.

Remarks of a Citizen upon the condition of our Navy and Mercantile Marine, a pamphlet of 8 pages only, printed by Henry L. Butler, 202 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.—"A Citizen" argues that the navy has been run in the interests of aristocracy quite long enough, and favors making it democratic, like other of our institutions, — and we agree with him. But his remarks on our "mercantile marine" we don't find, though that needs overhauling quite as much as the national navy does. However, if once republicanism is introduced into the latter, it will soon find its way into the former. We give some extracts.

It is the policy of the department to keep the Navy separate, distinct, foreign and "independent of the people." It is now so much so that the people and Navy may be said to be antagonistic. This is a very wrong state of things with an important institution of our country. There are as good and smart men in the navy as in a like number of any other men, and some as indifferent; but it is now no part of their business to develope anything new, neither rank or pay depending on such developments. As long as they keep in the discipline, their pay, rank and seniority goes on. To attempt new developments would get the envy of the other officers. With the ordinary seaman there is no chance to advance. Were they capable of being an Archimedes, a Nelson, or a Stewart, it could never be shown; before the mast they must remain. This, therefore, is directly against American free institutions. It is despotism against American manhood. The boy who goes in the Navy as an apprentice surrenders his future American manhood, for he is prevented from any advance in it except to that of a petty officer. It is a disgrace to an American to have a son or a relation in such a position, while other boys, however humble their pursuit, are eligible to the highest office in the government, even to the Presidency.

At present we think our government is pursuing a wrong course, and has for many years, almost from the beginning, in making our Navy a mere copy of those of Europe, when ours should really be made on republican principles. England is now doing so in her mercantile Navy. It looks strange to the democratic mind that our Congress should have passed laws organizing a Navy on other than republican principles. But those high in the Navy have framed such laws as they wanted.

We cannot understand why the son of one citizen should be selected and trained in the Naval School to be an "officer and gentleman," while the son of another who enters as an apprentice to the same service, is to be in an unworthy position, a menial or kind of dog, unless it be to establish a plebeian and patrician order. It would be a marvel if any other than a son of the rich, or one in high position, was appointed a cadet in that school. Unless a citizen has graduated in that school, he is precluded from holding any office of command in the national vessels of his own country. For such an institution he cannot have much veneration; the support it gets is forced and may recoil at a critical moment. There is nothing taught in this school that is not generally known or may be acquired in the ordinary way. If there be any practical science taught, why not teach it on board a ship, open to all, especially the young; it is at the public expense, and should be diffused through the whole mass,—then there might for merit, and without detriment to any one, be selected the officers from those who join the service.

—There is no occasion for stout, healthy, able-bodied men wandering from town to town, living upon public charity. In the various enterprises of industry there is enough for all to do.

—Who was it that said photography is a foe-to-graphic art?"

The case of State vs. Mrs. Farrar, better known as the Laconia poisoning case, has been called up. The Court decided to let Mrs. F. go at large on her own recognizance, or in other words, to let the matter drop, and virtually end any danger of a future judicial airing of this dirty case.

We noted some time ago that the venerable Peter Harvey of Boston had presented a plough made by Daniel Webster, to the State Agricultural College. The plough is thirteen feet long from the end of beam to end of handle. The handles are low and made of the natural crook of the tree. The beam is nine feet long. The mould board is three feet long, made of wood and covered with iron, while the point is of steel. About ten yoke of oxen would be required to haul the concern.

The Lawrence Lumber Co. of Whitefield have sent $100 to the Etna Fire Company, of Lancaster, for the services of the latter at the recent fire in Whitefield, when the Lawrence Co.'s Mill narrowly escaped destruction. Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLORIDA, Mch. 20.

Messrs. Editors:—While you are muffling up in furs and arctics, quoting the thermometer between zero and freezing, we are wearing summer clothing, seeking the cool shades of the orange grove, and quoting the mercury in the seventies and eighties, with windows open to catch the breeze. Your readers would enjoy a winter in Florida, for it has a magnificent climate, and there is an abundance of fine scenery. To the disciples of Isaac Walton, I would say that here they can have their wishes satisfied; to the disciples of Nimrod, there are all sorts of game; to the lovers of good eating, there is a large variety of tropical fruits, and the best venison in the United States; to the lovers of scenery, there are the wilds of Florida.

St. Augustine is, as you are aware, the oldest town in the United States; was a Spanish settlement, and to this day shows marks of the old Spanish style of architecture. There are none of the old buildings remaining intact, but in a great many can be traced the skill and handiwork of the ancient Spaniard. The streets are very narrow indeed, and it takes a skillful driver to turn from one street into another without grazing his horse's nose against the opposite wall. There is not a street in the whole place that is wider than Chestnut Street in your city, most of them being narrower. The houses are mostly built of a peculiar kind of stone that is found in this vicinity, called coquina. It is a deposit of fine shells of a pinkish color, is quite soft when first quarried, but becomes hardened by exposure, and is generally covered, when used, with cement or mastic.

The city was once surrounded by a heavy wall built of the coquina rock, the only vestiges of which remaining are the portals of the northern gate. Near the ruins of the gate is the old Spanish Fort, San Marco, or as it is now called, Fort Marion. This was built of coquina by the Spaniards about 1576, altho' the exact date of its construction is a matter of debate. This place has been the scene of much that is mysterious, interesting and romantic. Here, during the Indian war, the celebrated Indian chief Osceola was confined; the cell in which he was imprisoned is shown you by an old white-headed sergeant who has charge of the Fort. He tells you how this Indian starved himself so that he might be able to pass between the bars of his window,—then jumping into the moat, swam ashore and made his escape, but was afterwards recaptured. In another part of the Fort is a cell where some old Spanish prisoners attempted to dig their way out; after digging about twelve feet, their work was rendered fruitless by the sand, with which the space between the walls is filled. I was also informed that the place these men selected was where the walls are thickest.

In the northeast corner of the Fort there was discovered a dungeon. The accident which led to it was the caving-in of the parapet. On examining this secret dungeon, an iron cage was found containing a human skeleton. The cage was so constructed that the captive could neither stand up nor sit down. There were a couple of troughs for provisions; and there is every reason to believe that the poor prisoner was confined here alive, and the door of the dungeon walled up. The Fort is entirely out of repair, and is condemned.

I know of nothing more grand and magnificent than a stroll through the wilds of Florida. The shores are low and marshy; the woods are generally bounded with a low growth of a species of palm. Further on one finds the live-oak tree, with its wide-spreading branches covered with a hanging moss, which gives the tree a venerable look. This moss does not take root anywhere, but hangs upon the branches and takes its life and nourishment from the air. The tall southern pine towers majestically above all others, and spreads its broad top, like sheltering wings to the lesser trees beneath. Here, in these wilds, roam the bear, wolf, wildcat, deer, coon, opossum, turkey, quail, turtle dove, rabbit and squirrel.

The mocking bird, whose melody in his wild state is unsurpassed by any bird in this country, is found here. Venomous snakes, and many other unpleasant critters, make up the variety of disagreeables. The sand-flies, similar to what we call in the North the midge, come in millions when it is calm; and when they bite, which they are always sure to do, it feels as if there were a thousand needles sticking into one. Mosquitoes are also abundant; and between them by night and the sand-flies by day, one can get but little peace. So annoying are the flies that men engaged in the fields have sometimes been compelled to leave their work on account of them.

The orange groves of Florida are its greatest institutions. The way in which an orange grove is started is this: A person having selected his grounds for the grove, takes his men, goes into the woods, and digs up wild orange trees enough to fill his land, and transplants them. These trees bear the sour, bitter orange, which is not fit for market. The tree is then cut off, leaving a stump three or four feet high, into which are grafted slips or buds of the sweet orange tree. After the grafting process is finished, nothing remains to do but to keep the soil around the roots loose. A row of wild orange trees is generally planted around the edge of the grove to shelter it from strong winds.

At the end of three years, the trees begin to bear, sparsely at first, though the fourth year the crop begins to pay for itself. If a man should set out a grove of say fifteen or sixteen acres, in six years the crop would yield him an income of $10,000 to $12,000, and increase each year. In many cases a speculator will buy the crop as it stands on the tree, which saves the trouble of finding a market. All things considered, I know of no easier way of making money (now that there are no government contracts in the market,) than by investing in an orange grove. For the first three years it yields nothing, but when it does, it makes up for lost time. Then the trouble is so small. There are many persons owning orange groves in this State, who only see their places for a few months during the winter. Having placed a good reliable man in charge of them, they are at liberty to live North, or travel, only making their appearance at the time when the crop is about ready for market. There is one orange grove in this city which yields an income of $15,000 a year.

Fifty or sixty miles south of here is a good place for this business. There, oranges, bananas and pine-apples are easily raised, and without any danger of frost, which sometimes nips the trees in this vicinity. About two years ago they had a frost here which damaged the trees very much. A frost here comes once in twelve or fifteen years, but fifty miles south there is no danger of this.

Florida is in the central parts almost shut out from the rest of the world, and there are negroes now in the interior that are held in slavery, not knowing to this day that they are free. Politics here, I know nothing about. I suppose the people have views upon the subject, but I have never heard any one express any sentiments one way or the other. The prevailing religion is Catholic, and there is an old and not very good-looking Cathedral in this town, in the tower of which are three harsh-sounding bells, which are clattered, not rung, on every conceivable occasion. On the front, directly over the door, are a clock and a sun-dial, neither of which are reliable. St. Augustine is, taking all in all, one of the finest places to spend the winter in that I know of, on this coast of the United States. Try it, and see if you do not agree with me.

Yours, R. B. P.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Occupational Ailments.

Fresh, pure air is a vitalizing elixir. Whoever is debarred by circumstances from unrestricted access to this invisible, but powerful stimulant needs a medicinal invigorant of some kind. The great object should be to choose the best. Popularity is a pretty good guarantee of merit in this scrutinising and intelligent age, and tried by this criterion HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stands first among the invigorating and regulating medicines of the present day. To the wants of persons engaged in indoor employments, especially in crowded factories where even with the best possible ventilation the atmosphere is always in some degree polluted, this salubrious vegetable tonic is peculiarly adapted.

The nature of the ingredients is no mystery, it consists of an absolutely pure diffusive stimulant, tinctured—or rather surcharged—with the fluid extracts of sanatous roots and barks and herbs. The pharmacopœia has its tinctures, but what are they? The juice of only a single root or bark or plant is present in each. Not one of them combines the three properties of a tonic, an alterative and an aperient. All these elements are blended in the Bitters, nor are these the sum of its medicinal recommendations. It is also a blood depurent and an antispasmodic.

The baleful effect which air that has been partially exhausted of its oxygen by frequent breathing produces on the vital organization, is notorious, and when to this devitalized atmosphere is superadded the mephitic vapor of hot air furnaces, it becomes deleterious and depressing in the extreme. To enable the system to bear up, even for a few hours each day against the debilitating influence of a vitiated atmosphere, a wholesome and alterative is urgently required. This grand desideratum is supplied in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which as a strength-sustaining, health-protecting agent has no rival either among officinal or advertised medicines.

A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawim

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet met with."

It has been for months in preparation, and during that time the best authorities have been consulted to render it a correct and perfect representation. New and beautiful scenery, elegant costumes and costly stage appointments have been provided, and the cast of characters includes the best talent of the Museum Company. Washington Irving, in his life of Goldsmith, states that this play at cross-purposes, was founded by Goldsmith on incidents in his own schooldays.

THE SOUL'S PRIVILEGE.

Poor soul, the centre of my sinful earth,
Starred by those rebel powers that thee array,
Why dost thou pine within, and suffer dearth,
Painting thy outward walls so costly gay?
Why so large cost, having so short a lease,
Dost thou upon thy fading mansion spend?
Shall worms, inheritors of this excess,
Eat up thy charge? Is this thy body's end?
Then, soul, live thou upon thy servant's loss,
And let that pine to aggravate thy store;
But terms divine in selling hours of dross:
Within be fed, without be rich no more:
So shalt thou feed on death, that feeds on men,
And, death once dead, there's no more dying then.
—William Shakespeare.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other.

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of
$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will but be more appreciated and quickly advance.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc. which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 22dawlm

Morning Chronicle.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

Messrs. Editors:—In a recent issue of your paper, I notice the following arithmetical problem:—

A man has two notes of $2000 each, dated June 1st, 1869, bearing interest at 7 per cent., one note payable in one year, and the other in two years. For how much must he sell each note, Sept. 18th, 1869, to realize 10 per cent on his investment?

The answer, as given by N. D., and endorsed by the author, () is, $2000 for the first note, and $1948.72 for the second one.

A moment's reflection must convince these gentlemen of the absurdity of selling notes, on each of which has accrued interest to the amount of more than $40, the one at par, and the other at more than $50 below par, with the idea of realizing 10 per cent on the investment.

The only rational answer to the problem, as above stated, is, $2059.72 for each note, allowing 365 days to the year, or $2060.55 each, allowing 360 days to the year. This would be giving him 10 per cent on his investment made June 1st, 1869, the only investment named in the question. Selling notes is not making investments, as far as the seller is concerned.

Now, Mr. 3 Stars, will you allow me to offer an amendment to your problem, which you and your friend N. D. cannot fail to see will make the problem you both imagined you were solving?

Instead of the last sentence, "For how much must he sell each note, Sept. 18th, 1869, to realize 10 per cent on his investment," substitute the following: "How much can I (or any other man,) afford to pay for each of these notes, in order to realize 10 per cent on my investment?"

☞ A young man named E. W. Fisher was arrested in Philadelphia, a few days ago, and brought to Boston, for extensively swindling Fields, Osgood & Co., and other book firms. He was formerly an agent of the firm named, and since he has cased to be so, about a year and a half, has been travelling over the country pretending to be in their employ, pocketing the proceeds of large ostensible sales. His operations have been conducted with great adroitness, and have brought him in about $12,000 of other people's money.

☞ The funeral of Prince Henri De Bourbon of Spain was conducted by the Freemasons, of whose order the deceased was a member. When the remains were brought to the church the officiating priest seeing the Masonic emblems on the coffin withdrew the insignia of the Church and refused to perform the religious ceremonies.

☞ The Massachusetts House of Representatives have ordered to a third reading, a bill which relaxes the present laws on the subject of divorce, by reducing the time of separation or desertion now required to entitle the party deserted to a divorce, and giving both parties to a divorce for whatever cause, entire liberty to marry again. This is but just and right.

☞ At a recent meeting of the Salem Essex Institute, Mr. W. P. Upham gave a very interesting account of the original laying out of Salem, pointing out on a map, which he had constructed for the occasion, the places where several of the old planters built their houses, and gave satisfactory proof that the house now owned by Dr. P. Farrington, on the corner of North and Essex streets, was owned and occupied by Roger Williams.

☞ Jersey editors have a severe time dunning delinquents. A Dr. Carroll owes the Herald $8.12 for advertising, and in response to a request for payment, the Doctor threatens to assassinate the editor, and challenges him to fight a duel. But that is nothing to the case of a Western editor, who has a subscriber that won't pay up, and threatens to thrash him if he stops the paper.

LARGE CHESTS IN HORSES.—Horses that are round or "barrel chested" are invariably more muscular and enduring than those of the opposite, slender kind. Scientific sportsmen are, in a great measure, guided in their opinion of a horse's racing qualifications by his girth just behind his shoulders.

—New York shopmen, on advertising intent, are warned that defacing coin by stamping their cards on silver change dispensed to their customers, is an imprisonable offence. The most proper, dignified and effective way to advertise is in the columns of a good newspaper.

—A Providence gentleman took his five-year-old son to church for the first time a few weeks ago. When the clergyman said "Let us pray," the precious youngster electrified the congregation with the exclamation in a high-keyed voice, "Let her rip!"

FIRMNESS.

Well let him go, and let him stay,
"I do not mean to die,"
I guess he'll find that I can live
Without him if I try;
He thought to frighten me with frowns
So terrible and black;
He'll stay away a thousand years
Before I ask him back.

He said that I had acted wrong—
And foolish besides;
I won't forgive him after that—
I wouldn't if I died.
If I was wrong, what right had he
To be so cross to me,
I know I'm not an angel quite—
I don't pretend to be.

He had another sweetheart once—
And now when we fell out,
He always says she was not cross,
And that she did not pout;
It is enough to vex a saint—
It's more than I can bear;
I wish that girl of his was—
Well I don't care where.

He thinks that she is pretty, too,
Is beautiful as good;
I wonder if she'd get him back
Again now if she could.
I know she would and there she is—
She lives almost in sight;
And now it's after nine o'clock,
Perhaps he's there to-night.

I'd almost write for him to come—
But then I've said I won't.
I do not care so much, but she
Shan't have him if I klou't;
Besides I know that I was wrong,
And he was in the right;
I guess I'll tell him so and then—
I wish he'd come to-night.

THE CERTAIN CURE OF NEURALGIA is found in judicious eating and exercise; and not only so, a permanent cure cannot be effected in any other way, while these are always efficient.

In neuralgia the blood is always too thick, impure, and in excess; and as diet and exercise combine to remedy these conditions, some rules in relation to these are desirable. These will be adapted to sedentary persons, to those who live in-doors generally, as women, students, book-keepers, and the like.

It is rather better to eat thrice a day, namely, noon, and night—that is, as soon after sunrise as practicable, for breakfast; dinner about one o'clock; supper before sundown.

Eat nothing whatever between meals.

Breakfast, a single cup of coffee or tea, some cold bread and butter, with a dish of berries or stewed fruit in summer time, and nothing else; in winter, meat, fish, or poultry, or, in their stead a couple of soft-boiled eggs.

Supper should be made of cold bread and butter, and a cup of warm drink of some kind, and nothing else.

Dinner the same as breakfast, adding one vegetable, and some fruit, raw or stewed, as a dessert, and nothing else. A different kind of vegetable may be taken every day, for variety; the kind of meat may be changed at each meal.

The object in the specification above made is to discourage variety at meals, because it is this which tempts all to eat too much. Persons at times have felt at the table that they had eaten enough; but on seeing a very inviting dish unexpectedly brought in, a good meal has been eaten of this last variety. The general and hurtful error is that too great a variety is spread on our tables, not only occasioning trouble of preparation and great loss, but also a positive injury in the temptation of the appetite.

The reader may try it upon himself on any two days. A dinner of one vegetable, one kind of meat and bread; at dinner the next day, let a great variety be presented; he will eat double the amount at this repast, with this remarkable difference: an hour after the first meal, he will be entirely comfortable, will feel as if he had eaten quite enough; an hour after the latter, there will be decided discomfort, a fullness, a feeling as if some kind of relief were desirable, and in too many cases a resort to the decanter, with the vain hope of a riddance in some way. It cannot be denied that the first steps towards intemperate habits have been taken in using liquors to remove the unpleasant consequences of over-eating. A very great aid towards overcoming a habit of too hearty eating will be found in sitting down to a table with only three varieties of food.—From Dr. Hall's Health by Good Living.

MAINE STATE VALUATION. — The State valuation of 1870 exhibits a very gratifying result of the State for the last ten years. While within those years a desolating war has raged during half of the period, in which Maine bore its full burden, giving in unstinted measure its men who in every State are its real wealth; suffering equally with other localities not the field of war, in desolation and the disorganization of industry which a state of war always brings, besides furnishing its usual quota to new and western localities—notwithstanding these drawbacks, the number of polls have increased 15,156, and the valuation $57,507,920, or, if we include the increased value of wild lands, $62,651,876. All the counties except Waldo and Lincoln have increased in polls, and all have increased in valuation.

With the exception of Saco there probably is not a town in the county of York in which very many persons do not feel that their valuation is set at too high a figure, and yet with the exception of Kittery and one other town, all will pay a less tax than under the old valuation.

Kittery, we think, has just cause to complain, or else the valuation in 1860 was much too low; for the increase is $259,196 with Seavey's Island sold. The Navy Yard is a positive injury to the valuation of the town. What has been done, what may be done, or what should be done in equity, we cannot state.—Biddeford Journal.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.
The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.
Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites attack of unfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly developes into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, cutaries may suddenly be deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this SARSAPARILLA is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear.
Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find speedy relief, and at length cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various affections of the muscular and nervous systems.
Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies caused by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicide will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac supplied gratis.
Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great strengthener of the weak and vigor system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic or Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

BITTER—SWEET.

Ah, my dear angry Lord,
Since thou dost love, yet strike;
Cast down, yet help afford;
Sure I will do the like.

I will complain, yet praise;
I will bewail, approve;
And all my sour-sweet days
I will lament, and love.

THE BONNET.—A boy, who afterwards became a minister, had a sort of preaching proclivity, and used to address his mates. On one occasion his subject was a knife.—An eccentric preacher once asked the congregation for a text. No one responding, he pressed one near him to know if he had not one. He replied, "Nothing," so the speaker took that for his subject. Cowper began to write a poem on the subject of a sofa. The excellent work, "The Task," was the result. Our subject, the bonnet, is not unimportant.

The bonnet is a cap or covering for the head and was in common use before the invention of the hat. Men wore them, therefore. And when the garments of the priests are named in the Bible, bonnets are mentioned for the head. This was the case so late as the prophet Ezekiel's time.

The bonnet is necessary to protect the head from the heat, cold or storms. As to forms they have been changed greatly and often. In most of times past they were large, much larger than necessary. A century ago they were in some cases nearly the size of a coal-hod and about as ill-shaped. Within a few years they have been at the other extreme, small indeed.

We have said that men formerly wore bonnets. On the contrary women have worn hats. No possible objection to this. Any thing convenient for the protection of the head is admissable. Webster in the definition of a hat says it is worn by men, or women.

The bonnet in our days is an object of great interest. The money expense in its changing forms is considerable. It is an article of much study, attracts great attention and causes many painful inconveniences. All this will appear from the following.

At church or anywhere where ladies appear, the eyes will be turned to the bonnet. And I am sorry to say there are cases in which more can be told of bonnets than sermons. I assure our good lady-readers that they are not meant in this.

As to inconveniences, the head is exposed to heat, winds and storms, so that diseases come.—Not long ago there was a special public gathering. The wife of a noted gentleman did not attend. She wished to but said she could not as she had a bonnet and others did not wear any. The case was,—hers was larger than any worn now—such as were in use a few years ago. Again, a lady, who is a pious church member, went to meeting with a new bonnet. After being seated she was filled with distress with the apprehension that her bonnet was on the wrong part before. It did not make much difference, but some. So nothing was enjoyed in the services, but all lost. After going home she was relieved on finding all was right.

What is needed for a covering is for convenience, especially; not much for show. Good sense, economy, health and all truly valuable considerations dictate thus. We estimate ladies highly. They can find much to censure in the dress of our sex. When they expose our follies and vanities we will listen with attention.

A LADY'S FRIEND.

☞ The Maine Farmer recommends this plan for restoring chilled lambs: In the bottom of a basket place a heated brick wrapped in cloth. Upon this sprinkle a little clean straw and lay the lamb in the basket. The warmth from the brick is not only constant but is in just the right place, and in a short time a lamb, however much chilled by the cold, will be completely revived and in a condition to be placed with its dam.

☞ Every active and ingenious farmer should have a good work-shop and set of tools for repairing implements on stormy or rainy days. Provide a room specially for this purpose.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1870.

THE DEATH OF GEN. THOMAS has caused a general feeling of gloom throughout the country. Gen. Sherman announces the sad news to the army as follows:—

It has become the painful duty of the General to announce to the army the death of one of our most exalted Generals, George H. Thomas.

There is no need to turn to the archives to search for his history, for it is recorded on almost every page during the past ten years, but his classmate and comrade owes him a personal tribute, in which he knows every member of the army shares.

Gen. Thomas entered the Military Academy in the class of 1836, graduated in 1840, and was commissioned as second lieutenant in the 3d artillery and sent to Florida. He served with his regiment continuously until December 24, 1853, when he became captain, having particularly distinguished himself at Monterey and Buena Vista, Mexico. On the 12th of May, 1855, he was appointed to the 2d cavalry as major, and served with that regiment continuously until he became its colonel on the 3d of May, 1861.

The great civil war found him at his post, true and firm, amidst the terrible pressure he encountered by reason of his birth-place in Virginia, and President Lincoln commissioned him as brigadier-general of volunteers, and sent him to Kentucky. There, too, his services were constant and eminent in the highest degree. He won the first battle in the west at Mill Spring, Kentucky, and from first to last, without a day's or hour's intermission, was at his post of duty, rising steadily and inevitably through all the grades to the one he held as a major-general of the regular army at the time of his death. At Shiloh, Corinth, Perrysville, Stone River, Chickamauga, Chattanooga, Atlanta and Nashville, he fulfilled the proudest hopes of his most ardent friends, and at the close of the war General George H. Thomas stood in the very front rank of our war generals.

The General has known General Thomas intimately since they sat as boys on the same bench, and the quality in him which he holds up for the admiration and example of the young is his complete and entire devotion to duty. Though sent to Florida, Mexico, Texas and Arizona, when his duty there was absolute banishment, he went cheerfully, and never asked the personal favor of exemption or leave of absence. In battle he never wavered; firm, and of full faith in his cause, he knew it would prevail, and he never sought advancement of rank or honor at the expense of any one. Whatever he earned of these were his own and no one disputed his fame. The very impersonation of honesty, integrity and honor, he will stand to us as a beau-ideal of a soldier and a gentleman. Though he leaves no child to bear his name, the Old Army of the Cumberland, numbered by tens of thousands, called him father, and will weep for him in tears of manly grief. His wife, who cheered him with her messages of love in the darkest hours of war, will mourn him now in sadness, christened by the sympathy of the whole country.

The last sad rites due to him as a man and soldier, will be paid at Troy, N. Y., on the arrival of his remains, and the friends of his family, and his comrades who can be present, are all invited to share in the obsequies.

At all military posts and stations, flags will be placed at half mast, and fifteen guns fired, on the day after receipt of this order; and the usual badges of mourning will be worn for thirty days.

The Boston Advertiser says truly "He was of the stuff from which the American instinct likes to take its Presidents, — firm, honest, reticent, unassuming, self-posed, faithful to the last, in the pet phrase of his western soldiers "Old Reliable," — but fate has spared him the unhappy accession of greatness, which might perhaps have been his in the future, could he have been induced to accept an office to which his own thoughts never aspired.'

George Burt, a young man about 17 years of age, caught his right arm while shackling cars near the Conway freight depot in Great Falls, crushing it in a shocking manner. The arm will probably have to be amputated up to the elbow. The young man belongs in South Berwick, was not employed by the Railroad Co., and ought not to have been shackling cars.

☞ Col. John Goddard, the well known Maine lumberman, lately deceased, was born in this city, in 1811, and went with his parents to Portland in 1820.

When 18 years of age, he went to Parsonsfield on his father's farm and engaged in farming and cattle raising, to which after two years he added the business of tanning. He first engaged in lumbering in the year 1835, in the waters of the Penobscot in company with Capt. Jenkins and Ira Sturgis. In 1839 he purchased the farm in Orono which is now the property of the Agricultural College, and fixed his residence at that place, where he lived till 1853, being engaged all the time in extensive lumbering operations, employing on the average 500 men. In 1853 he removed to Cape Elizabeth. In 1861 he was appointed Colonel of the 1st Maine Cavalry but resigned without leaving the State.

Col. Goddard had seven children, four of whom, two sons and two daughters, with his wife survive him. He was a very energetic man, always restless when compelled to be idle, prompt in decisions and self reliant.

"Artillery Pond," Nashua, derived its name from the fact that in the year 1673, "a grant of 1000 acres, lying in Nashville, was made to the 'Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company' of Boston." The whole of the village of Nashville, that portion of Nashua lying north of the river, was once called 'Artillery Farm.'

Mr. Henry C. Sanborn, of Auburn, section hand on the C. & P. Road, met with an accident which broke his collar-bone and gave him other uncomfortable bruises. While driving a hand-car, just beyond the Massabesic, his hand slipped and he fell forward of the car, which ran over him, causing the injuries named. He is 18 years old.

Ensign C. A. Copp, who was lost on the Oneida, was a grandson of the late Jonathan Copp, of Wakefield. He enlisted in it in 1863, and being appointed to Annapolis Academy, graduated in 1868. He stood high in the estimation of his superior officers, and was on his way home to be examined for promotion when his career was so suddenly cut short. His father, Amasa Copp, is in the Treasury Department at Washington.

Many citizens of Exeter are "to associate together for the purpose of mental, moral and physical improvement; to keep open a reading room, and as soon as practicable, to form a debating society, a society for vocal and instrumental music, and to support a gymnasium, to secure good lecturers occasionally, and have other entertainments." $5 per year.

SCARLET FEVER.—An eminent physician of Boston robs scarlet fever of many of its terrors, by prescribing for the patient warm lemonade, with a little mucilage as often as desired, and the application of warmth to the stomach. He directs that a sheet should be wrung out of hot water and laid on the stomach, renewing it as often as it cools. Nothing else but the lemonade is to be given. With this treatment, he guarantees that not one in a hundred cases will prove fatal. We have known cider alone to cure more than one obstinate case. A vegetable acid appears to be the specific. Enough salt in children's victuals may almost be said to be a prophylaris for eruptive fevers.

KITTERY, March 30.

High Sheriff Gooding of York County made a raid on the rumsellers today, throughout Kittery, and when they least expected it. They are to have a Justice trial this afternoon, and it is said that evidence sufficient was found to put them through. With a very few exceptions, the people generally are rejoiced—though they would not be glad to injure the dealers, if they would leave the traffic. It is the determination that rum shall not be sold in town, thank God. The proprietor of one den of iniquity got an inkling of what was coming, and took his demijohns and started for the woods.

Rev. John Goss of the Christian church has accepted a call from the church at Lynn, and preached his farwell sermon last Sunday. Mr. Goss was very much respected by all denominations, and it is generally regretted by all that he is to leave.

CURE FOR GARGET. — Mr. Joseph Merriman, of Ohio, in an article communicated by him on this subject, says the disease may be cured thus: "Take raw linseed oil and rub all over the cow's bag, which, if done on the first appearance, is all that is needed generally, but two or three applications always have cured the most stubborn cases, and is easily done." He says he has seen cows that no milk could be got from, cured in forty-eight hours, in summer, and they gave nearly as much milk as they did before they were sick. This is certainly easily tried; and no great harm can be done to the cow if it should not prove successful.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Occupational Ailments.

Fresh, pure air is a vitalizing elixir. Whoever is debarred by circumstances from unrestricted access to this invisible, but powerful stimulant needs a medicinal invigorant of some kind. The great object should be to choose the best. Popularity is a pretty good guarantee of merit in this scrutinizing and intelligent age, and tried by this criterion HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stands first among the invigorating and regulating medicines of the present day. To the wants of persons engaged in indoor employments, especially in crowded factories where even with the best possible ventilation the atmosphere is always in some degree polluted, this salubrious vegetable tonic is peculiarly adapted.

The nature of the ingredients is no mystery, it consists of an absolutely pure diffusive stimulant, tinctured—or rather surcharged—with the fluid extracts of sanatous roots and barks and herbs. The pharmacopœia has its tinctures, but what are they? The juice of only a single root or bark or plant is present in each. Not one of them combines the three properties of a tonic, an alterative and an aperient. All these elements are blended in the Bitters, nor are these the sum of its medicinal recommendations. It is also a blood depurent and an antispasmodic.

The baleful effect which air that has been partially exhausted of its oxygen by frequent breathing produces on the vital organization, is notorious, and when to this devitalized atmosphere is superadded the mephitic vapor of hot air furnaces, it becomes deleterious and depressing in the extreme. To enable the system to bear up, even for a few hours each day against the debilitating influence of a vitiated atmosphere, a wholesome tonic and alterative is urgently required. This grand desideratum is supplied in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which as a strength-sustaining, health-protecting agent has no rival either among official or advertised medicines.

A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.]

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus preserving in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their quality. mh12

OBITUARY.—It becomes our sad duty to chronicle the loss from these columns, as well as from his family, friends and the public, of him who first designed this paper, and whose pen has ever been a strong reliance. Rev. T. H. MILLER breathed his last on Wednesday morning, after being sick but a week; at the age of 68 years,—although he has been generally regarded as considerably older, on account of his appearance, his entering into business when quite young, and also his rather assuming an old style in writing.

He was born in this city, Aug. 10th, 1801, and spent most of his life here. Although receiving no education but at the common schools, and leaving these at an early age; his life-long habits of study and reading, and a very retentive memory, constituted him a more finished scholar than many who are favored with a liberal education. He has been especially known as an uncompromising advocate of temperance, and civil and religious freedom; and no less an orator than Rev. Moses Ballou said to a mutual friend, who just tells us of it, that he was "the readiest writer he ever knew." And of one thing we feel pretty sure—that none can be found to question his epitaph, "An honest man."

We do not design at this time any detailed history of his life, which has been spent largely in the printing office; and at his death, we think he was the veteran editor of the State, having held the pen editorial for about half a century, in one capacity or other. He was employed in the Newburyport Herald Office, afterward in Boston, and soon returned to Portsmouth to engage in the book-trade; and with the late C. W. Brewster became proprietor of the Journal, and was for nearly a quarter of century connected with that gentleman in one capacity or other; and the death of Mr. Brewster last year, after such long continued friendship, doubtless affected him to a great extent.

The deceased was never a strong man, and did not expect to live out three score years; but his good habits through life brought him near to seventy, in spite of a vast amount of wearing literary work done by him. Twice during his life he was forced by poor health, to leave the office, and seek outdoor life; but he never allowed his pen to be idle. For the past 17 years he has been an editor of the Chronicle, and we and our readers will sadly miss his able and genial pen.—He took a very active interest in public questions which have agitated the nation during the past fifty years, and vigorously discussed and debated them.

From youth he was a religious man, and occupied for years a prominent position in the North (Orthodox) Church in this city, sometimes as Clerk. He finally studied for the Ministry, and was ordained with honor, and settled as pastor over the Congregational Church at Kittery Point. Afterwards, experiencing a change of views he espoused the Universalist faith, and lived and died in full belief of the same—and at his death, we presume, was greatly regarded as the leading exponent of that denomination, as we believe he was one of the oldest clergymen in the body. He always retained the esteem and good fellowship of his former associates and of all denominations.

For the past ten years, up to last summer, he enjoyed the best health of his life. At that time he had a severe attack of colic, and has since been rather feeble—or as he was wont to say "not good for much." He attended to his accustomed duties, however, as he felt inclined, for most of the time up to Monday one week ago; when after spending all day in the office, he fell severely sick in the night, and never recovered. But a day or two before he died, he told us his series of Privateer articles was completed, (not all published;) and the very last article he wrote was one concerning the Boston Recorder and the pending Revival here—which was penned while he sat up for almost the last time. He never amassed wealth, and was almost the only man we ever knew who had absolutely no desire to do so; and who never looked forward to cessation from labor as desirable—and he literally died, as he preferred, with the harness on, passing quietly away as if going to sleep.

His funeral will take place on Sunday, at the Universalist Church, and his near and dear friend and brother Rev. A. J. Patterson, will attend the same.

☞ The sad news of the decease of the senior editor of this paper, who for so many years has been a respected leader and teacher, will be received with general regret by the friends who knew him intimately, and by thousands of others to whom he was known only by his writings. As an editor, his large experience, extending over a period of fifty years; his quick perception of weak points in an opponent's argument; his talent of expressing his own ideas with rare simplicity of style and language; his tact in illustrating positions taken by opponents with quaint allusions; his ability to expose dogmas which appeared to him to be based on untenable grounds, by a resort to irony blended with the finest sarcasm, in which there was no bitterness; his ability to produce articles in quick succession, from which he soon became known as a ready writer on general topics,—gave him an extended reputation.

His pleasant sketches under the nom de plume "Uncle Toby," in the Boston Carpet Bag in days gone by, will be remembered by the readers who so long ago perused them with delight, and profited by his advice.

In later years, his prominent position in his own State and city led him into active discussion on temperance and political matters, in which he engaged with great zeal and candor.

An acquaintance of sixteen years or more, and for the past two years an intimate associate, we always found him pleasant in conversation, honest in conviction and straight-forward in business. He never resented attacks made on account of being a public man, yet never hesitated to denounce wrong doing. He was a sturdy defender of the right and among his personal friends were many who differed with him in matters of public policy.

His kindness of heart, his conscientiousness of purpose, his genial disposition and wise counsels, won him the respect of all men, and no more agreeable companion could be desired in business relations. He treated all alike, from visitors to office boys,—with no impatient word to mar his remembrance.

To part with such a man, (so loved, so honored, so good in every sense of the word,) without a public recognition of his many excellencies, would be ungrateful; many a day will pass before we can cease to feel the great personal loss sustained, and realize that in the place he was so regularly to be found, there is a vacancy. But above all is the gratifying fact that his life of usefulness was a life of faith, and that in his last moments a willingness to go, which was of itself a proof of implicit faith in his own teachings, gave evidence of the contentment of a mind at peace with God and all mankind. G.

☞ The funeral of the late Daniel W. Marden, at the Middle Street Church, Wednesday forenoon, was largely attended. Rev. W. H. Alden conducted the services, and a long procession of Odd Fellows and personal friends followed the remains to the grave.

☞ The wife of Mr. C. Coffin Harris, finance minister at the Sandwich Islands, formerly of this city, died at Honolulu, March 13th. She was a daughter of the late Capt. Thos. Harris, and sister to Mrs. Albert R. Hatch.

☞ The semi-annual meeting for the election of officers of the Mercantile Library Association will be holden at Mercantile Hall, next Friday evening, at 7 3-4 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle Office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle. ☞ Subscriptions may commence any time.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.
The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely-located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.
Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the
OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company
The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other
The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.
Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.
Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.
The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.
Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.
Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.
The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.
The Bonds are in denominations of
$1000, $500, and $100.
They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or
The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or
The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.
The three classes will be known respectively as:
1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."
2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."
3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.
They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.
The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.
The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.
A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.
The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.
Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.
The present price is 90 and accrued interest.
A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market both of this Country and Europe, will be, at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.
Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.
P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc. which will be furnished upon application.
☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. ☞ 2ddawlm

In Manchester, school-teachers are paid as follows. High School, master, $1,800, first assistant $800, second assistant $600, third on time of service as in lower grade schools. The salary of masters in the three large Grammar Schools is $1,100 for first year, $1,300 for second, and $1,500 for third; for smaller Grammar Schools, according to circumstances; for assistants in Grammar, Middle, and Primary Schools, the price fixed is as follows: For first term at rate of $300 per year, for remainder of the year at rate of $350; for second year, $375; for third year, $400; for all subsequent years, $420. In the rural districts the price varies from $350 to $450. The salary of the music teachers is, for central district, $1,100; for rural districts, $700. The pay of teachers in the training schools is advanced $50 above others of the same period of service.

Amasa Roberts, Esq., of Dover, is improving, and hopes are entertained of his recovery.

LEACHED ASHES.—At a recent meeting of the New York Farmer's Club, the question was asked, when and how to apply leached ashes to crops for the best results? In reply, Mr. Quimby said he had used over ten thousand bushels for the last three years, and found them good for all crops on a sandy or chestnut loam soil. He would cover his entire farm with them, if he could get them. If put in the hill, they started corn early and with vigor. Had increased his wheat crop over one hundred bushels per acre. They also benefitted grass, and were of the best fertilizers for clover.

On some of his land which had been a hard run before he got it, it was difficult to make clover catch, but leached ashes made it grow splendidly. A new seeded field was only partly ashed, last year, and where the dressing was omitted the clover was poor; on the rest, very luxuriant. He ashed part of a rye field, and got a great increase of grain and good clover catch. Thought heavy clay soil was not benefitted as much by ashes as lighter loams or sand.

Mr. Collins had put leached ashes an inch deep on four acres of heavy clay land, and got a fine crop of corn. The stiff clay became more friable, and ploughed up mellow instead of in lumps in a dry time.

WARM WATER FOR COWS.—C. H. Hubbard, Springfield, Vt., sells milk this winter, and gives all his cows warm water. He mixes a pailful of shorts with water the day before it is used; then puts a quart of the shorts in a pail, and fills with warm water from the reservoir of the stove, and gives his cows all they will drink. They take from two to seven pailfuls each; they also have access to cold water in the yard. Another gentleman told me that he could take any cows that had been kept the common way, and cause them to give double the quantity of milk they had been giving, by giving them boiled barley meal. Put the meal into a pail and pour scalding water upon it, then cool it off with cold water.

One of his neighbors inquired how he managed to get so much milk. He said he took good care of his cows. In Barton, Vt., two of Thomas Baker's Dutch cows calved the first of the winter, and they drank warm water the first week, but after that they had access to cold water. One of the cows gave thirty-five pounds of milk a day; the other not quite so much. L. Tenney of Irasburg, Vt., has only one cow. He says: "I do not believe turnips and potatoes are worth anything to make a cow give milk; for when I change and give my one cow a pail of warm water with a quart of meal in it, night and morning, she doubles her milk."

LAND DRAINAGE.—This was the subject of discussion at the Exeter Horticultural Society, in which the principal participants were Hon. John D. Lyman, and Messrs. Wm. M. Hunnewell, C. W. John, O'Flanagin and Gardiner Gilman. It was generally admitted that judicious drainage is highly beneficial to land, and the various modes of performing the labor were fully considered.

Mr. Lyman was of the opinion that our farmers experience great disadvantage, in consequence of the judicious application of labor. It seems like poor economy to expend $100 on land worth $15, to make it worth but $25 an acre. He had seen a man do this when he could have purchased better land, much nearer home, for far less money than he had expended on his own poor land, which was still of inferior quality.

Mr. O'Flanagin gave an interesting account of drainage in the "old country," where he has had large experience, especially in the low lands of Scotland.

Mr. Hunnewell was informed by Mr. Godfrey of Hampton Falls, (and correctly too, as we know by actual experiment,) that much of the expense of draining could be saved by "finding the springs, and draining directly from them."

GIVE YOUR CHILDREN PURE AIR.—Give it to them in summer and in winter; by night and by day; at their houses, and in their school-houses. Pure air is indispensable to health and life. It contains the food which sustains animal existence, and imparts vitality and vigor to the physical system.

AN OCTOGENARIAN.—For the first time, in sixty-four years, have we failed to meet the familiar face of our fellow citizen, Nathaniel Young of Newmarket, who is now 85 years of age, at our annual March Meeting. A sad misfortune. The sudden and mysterious loss of the sight of both of his eyes was the cause of his absence at this March Meeting. He is one of a family of ten children, whose united ages amount to 771 years, and four still survive.—He is the father of six sons only, and all, including himself, are staunch Republicans.

He is owner of real estate here, which was never conveyed by deed, but came by grant, and has been in the line of ancestors nearly two hundred years. He is a man of more than ordinary natural and acquired abilities, but has always refused to accept any Town Office. He never had a daughter, never lost a child, and only one of his sons, I am sorry to say, has obeyed the divine command; "Be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth." Out of the sixty-four years, I have voted fifty-three times, and was always present for ten years before I was a voter, in 1818. DAVID MURRAY.

The above we take from the Exeter News Letter, and shall add that Mr. Murray himself heeds the advice he gives above for (we are told at the age of 78) he has a young wife and one or more children and he often shows himself hale and healthy, in our office, on business.

We were also pleased to greet here a few days since, the venerable Col. Cilley of Nottingham, who is lame from wounds received at the battle of Lundy's Lane, but who appears well yet; and whose mother died only a few years since, at the age of 92.

THE CORN CROP.—The statement has so often been made by farmers and others that no hoed crop can be cultivated with profit in New England, that it has come to be generally accepted as true. We do not concur in this opinion, and for the best of reasons: we have proved its falsity for six consecutive years, in the raising of hoed crops. If a farmer in any of the Northern States cannot raise corn at an expense much below its usual market value, it is very certain that he is a poor cultivator of the soil. This can be safely said, even taking into consideration the high prices of labor, fertilizers, etc.

Corn is a profitable crop for every farmer to raise, if any wisdom, foresight, or industry is manifested in its cultivation. For six years past, we have devoted careful attention to this crop. It has been cultivated for several seasons under every disadvantage; with hired labor, the antagonistic influences of wet and cold, and parching droughts to contend with, and yet the cost per bushel averages less than fifty cents. It is one of the most certain, the most beautiful, clean and profitable crops which we raise. It must be, indeed, a very unpropitious season when it will not grow, if the soil is put in good condition.

What is the reason farmers cannot raise it with profit? It is because they do not select suitable soil, and supply fertilizers in generous quantity. A crop of corn which gives only twenty or thirty bushels to the acre does not pay; but one that gives seventy, eighty, or one hundred, does pay. We have never raised less than seventy bushels to the acre, and it must be remembered that our farm was an exhausted one when we took hold of it in 1864.

The fodder is a very important item connected with corn raising. We always remove the top stalks in a green state, and allow the corn to ripen in the open field. The "butts," or lower stalks, after husking, are taken good care of, as we depend largely upon them to keep up the flow of milk in our herd of cows during the winter. They are pitched over, a moderate quantity of salt is diffused through them, and then they are mowed, with alternating layers of wheat straw. Their value, when carefully preserved, is but little less than that of good upland hay, estimating ton for ton. There is much saccharine and nitro-genous material in the "butts," and animals will eat them if they are kept sweet and clean, and are properly fed to them. Out of four tons fed to our herd the past winter, not five hundred pounds have been rejected, and we have neither chopped or steamed the fodder.

To raise corn, we must plow in the autumn, and spread on the manure green from the cellar in the Spring. We must harrow it in well, and have the soil well pulverized. In the hills, place a handful of the mixture of bone and ashes so often alluded to in this Journal. This mixture must not be thrown in all in a mass, and the seed dropped directly upon it; let it be thrown around the hill, and a little soil scattered over it, and upon this place the seed. Select a field which is neither very wet or dry, and with this treatment every farmer can raise corn profitably.—Boston Jour. of Chemistry.

—The Directors of the Portland and Kennebec Railroad have decided to rebuild their bridge at Augusta with iron, for about $80,000. The cost of repairing piers and carrying them up ten or twelve feet higher will be about $20,000 additional.

☞ Wm. Foster, of Augusta, finds by experiment that in fattening 7 feet 4 inches oxen they required 56 lbs. hay daily and 8 quarts scalded meal.

—Mr. Aaron McKenney of Saco, 93 years old, has this winter chopped and split seven cords of wood for the market, and ten cords of wood for home use.

The Chronicle.

SOLD.—A few days ago, two ladies entered a dry goods store in Dover, and asked to be shown some dress goods, remarking they didn't wish to purchase, but only wanted to price the goods. The clerk seeing each had a bundle, supposed they had made their purchases at some other store, and had come in to compare prices, offered his goods 15 or 20cts. per yard less than the wholesale price,—"to make them feel bad," as he afterwards expressed it. "Isn't that cheap?" said one of the ladies. "Yes," said the other, "but haven't you made a mistake in the price?" "Oh no," said the clerk, "we sell goods cheap, here." "I'll take 15 yards from that," said one. "Measure off the same for me, if you please," said the other. The clerk first eyed the goods and then their bundles, but finally measured off the cloth with as good grace as possible, and started to get some wrapping paper, when one of the ladies said, "As you have had a hard trade on the dresses, we will furnish the wrapping paper," showing the discontented clerk that his fancied bundle of dress goods was nothing but a roll of paper.—Great Falls Journal.

If two men can kill two brace of partridges in going up the right side of a rectangular turnipfield, how many would be killed by five men and a terrier pup in going down the other side?

If a milkmaid, four feet ten inches in height, while sitting on a three legged stool, took four pints of milk out of every fifteen cows, what was the size of the field in which the animals grazed, and what the girl's name and age?

If thirty billions of human beings have lived since the beginning of the world, how many may we safely say will die before the end of it? N. B.—This example to be worked by simple subtraction, algebra, and the rule of three. Compare results.

WILL YOU TAKE A SHEEP?—An old farmer, about the time that the temperance reform was beginning to exert a healthful influence in the country, said to his hired man: "Jonathan, I did not think to mention to you when I hired you, that I think of trying to do my work this year without rum. How much more must I give you to induce you to do without?" "Oh, I don't care much about it," said Jonathan, "you may give me what you please."

"Well," said the farmer, "I will give you a sheep in the fall, if you will do without." "Agreed," said Jonathan. The oldest son then said: "Father, will you give me a sheep too if I will do without rum?"

"Yes, Marshall, you shall have a sheep too if you do without."

The youngest son, a stripling, then said: "Father, will you give me a sheep if I will do without?" "Yes, Chandler, you shall have a sheep also, if you will do without rum." Presently Chandler spoke again: "Father, hadn't you better take a sheep too?"

FARMERS, now is the time to get ready for the spring campaign. Get the plows, harrows and cultivators ready to do their work well. If you have them, see that they are all in repair; a new coat of paint will do them good and it can be given them any of these rainy days. See that they all have sharp teeth, so as to cut the soil well and throughly. The thorough preparation of the soil is half the battle toward raising a big crop; without it you can't raise a good crop. Get your harnesses, teams, double trees, single trees, and everything you will need, ready so that, at the first opening or spring, you can take time by the forelock and lead him and not let him lead you. Get your seed ready and of the choicest and best; be sure to get clover seed if any of your lands needs renovating. It makes good pastures and it makes good hay, if cured with care, and it feeds the lands so richly. Get ready, lay the plans of the coming spring and summer campaigns, and work right up to those.

A GENTLE HINT.—Not many miles from Salem a company of new friends might have been seen one evening in the parlor of an old couple, spending a few hours in social chat. Time flew rapidly to all save the "head of the house," who, about nine o'clock, got very sleepy. He never staid out of bed later than that hour if he could help it. The company, however, talked, and talked, and talked, to the old lady, who enjoyed the conversation much, whilst her "bigger half" dozed and nodded, and occasionally snored, just a little. Finally getting his eyes fully opened, and seeing the clock mark half past nine, he turned, yawningly, toward the partner of his joys and sorrows, and said:—"Wife hadn't we better go to bed? These folks want to go home."—Salem Republican.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1870.

Chat.

Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun, has sued the Chicago Republican Company for $20,000 salary due for editorial services in 1865 and the stock promised. He was to receive $7500 salary and $100,000 in stock.

Pierre Soule is dead.

The Secretary of State issued his proclamation announcing the ratification of the Fifteenth Constitutional Amendment, on Wednesday, March 30. President Grant sent a congratulatory message to Congress.

Ex-Queen Isabella and her husband have agreed to separate.

A well known rebel general is earning an honest living in a California town by sawing wood.

Gold, Thursday, 112 1-8.

Ship Lydia Skalfield, of Brunswick, Me., was spoken off Nantucket on the 29th March, with all her crew sick with survy. She had been 151 days from Calcutta to Boston.

President Grant has peremptorily ordered the discharge of those master workmen at the Annapolis Naval Academy who have been bitter in their opposition to the Republican party.

The U. S. Senators from Texas were sworn in on Thursday.

British steamer Venezuelan is supposed to be lost, with her crew of 42 persons.

☞ The Concord Monitor inquires what papers approve the Chronicle's articles? We reply, it is pretty certain the Copperhead sheets don't, nor even those which occupy an equivocal position. The Monitor also wants to know who applauds our attacks on Mr. Dawes—and we commend to them the following:

MR. DAWES.—The Democratic allies of Mr. Dawes in the House, have lost all their admiration of him since he came to New Hampshire and helped the Republicans out of their difficulties. They charge him with recantation, which is not very far from the truth. Mr. Dawes denies that he has taken back anything, but everybody knows he did. In the one case he bore a special message from the President to Congress, that they need not hope for economy from him; in the other he carried a special message from the President to the people of New Hampshire, that wherever he could retrench a dollar he would do it. The former message was one Dawes put in the mouth of the President; the latter was bona fide, and the fact and figures sustained it.—Lowell Journal.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SIGNING THE PLEDGE.—The Newark Advertiser states that at Princeton College not long since, on the occasion of some friends visiting him, a member of the Junior Class invited a few of his fellow students to meet them. Among other refreshments he provided sherry wine, declaring that no stronger liquor should be used during the evening. This was overruled, however, by a number present, and whiskey was sent for and drank. The orgie was kept up till a late hour, and several of the party got drunk.

The faculty, being unable to discover who furnished the whiskey, visited severe punishment upon the host of the evening and his room-mate, holding them responsible for the disorder. These two were dismissed, four others were suspended for the rest of the session, and the rest of the party of the evening were put on their last probation. Much feeling was excited among the students at this (as they judged) heavy penalty, and various were the schemes proposed for the aid especially of the two upon whom the severest was inflicted.

At last a pledge was drawn up and signed by the whole class, eighty-three in number, agreeing to abstain from intoxicating liquors while in college.

This was sent to the faculty, and the next day Dr. McCosh publicly announced in chapel the unanimous dedecision of the faculty that, in consequence of this petition and pledge, those upon whom punishment had fallen were reinstated in their former positions, without condition or probation.

The town of Strafford voted to take $15,000 stock in the Concord & Rochester Railroad.

—The mystery of the murder of Mr. Vanderleyden, near Troy, N. Y., is revealed. His son-in-law, E. C. Alexander, reported that it was done by three robbers whom he frightened off by firing a gun. Recently he wrote out a confession that he did the deed himself, and then committed suicide.

—Touching and irresistible was that invitation of the rustic maiden to her swain: "Come over and see me, we have a new lamp at our house, that we can turn down, down, down, until there isn't scarcely a bit of light in the room."

New Hampshire Items.

Dr. Haynes of Concord, amputated the right leg of Mr. Wm. H. Orne of West Concord, in consequence of a diseased state of the bones of the ankle, of some two years duration. The disease of the limb was contracted in the service during the war.

Mr. C. C. Beard of Goffstown is said to be missing, and it is feared that he has met with foul play.

It is stated that about 10,000 Bibles and parts of Bibles are distributed and sold annually in this State by the Am. Bible Society. In the canvass of Coos County last year 3500 families were visited, and 170 of whom were without the Bible; 1000 copies were disposed of in the county.

The barn on the farm of the late Nathaniel Chase in Londonderry was blown down in the gale of the 24th, killing one cow and seriously injuring another.

Three Frenchmen who had been chopping in the neighborhood, turned up in S. A. Ambrose's hotel, in Boscawen, and demanded drink, which was refused. The sons of Gaul then proceeded to smash windows and things in general. Upon this Ambrose opened fire upon them and hit one in the head; whereupon all left. During that day the men had hired a team and failed to return it at the time agreed on. The horse was found in the woods, but the sleigh was utterly broken up.

DISTINGUISHED MEMBERS OF THE BAR in Rockingham County, fifty years ago. The late Gov. Plummer of Epping became a member of the bar in 1785, eighty-five years ago. His practice was mostly in Rockingham and Strafford counties. According to his biography, the principal lawyers in these two counties then were John Sullivan, John Pickering, John Prentice, J. S. Sherburne, W. K. Atkinson and O. Peabody.

Samuel Livermore was a lawyer in Londonderry, but we have not the date. He was also at Portsmouth, and was Chief Justice of the court,—E. St. Lae Livermore and Arthur Livermore were his sons, both lawyers and judges.

Daniel Webster commenced practice in Boscawen, in 1805. After some years, he came to Portsmouth. He was Representative to Congress from 1813 to 1817. After this date he moved to Boston.

Jeremiah Mason was a native of Connecticut. He moved to Portsmouth previous to 1800, was Senator in Congress from 1813 to 1817. In 1830, he moved to Boston. Mr. Mason was tall; we should think, from our recollection of him, six feet, four inches. His frame too was large. He wore in his bosom a large ruffle, as many then did. His bodily motions were slow and awkward, but his countenance was pleasant. He had a giant intellect, and was one of the ablest lawyers in the country. His arguments were thorough and exhaustive.

Ichabod Bartlett, a native of Salisbury, N. H., graduated at Dartmouth, in 1808. He first practiced law in Durham. While at Portsmouth, he was Representative in the Legislature, and Speaker of the House, in 1821. He was Representative in Congress from 1823 to 1829. He stood high at the bar, and was a graceful and felicitous advocate. He was never married, and died Oct. 17, 1854, aged 77.

Levi Woodbury was born in Francestown graduated at Dartmouth College, in 1809. He graduated at the age of 19; became a lawyer, and at the age of 27 was a Judge of the Supreme Court. His fame at the bar, while in Portsmouth, was not very great; but, as a Judge, he stood well. He died Sept. 18, 1851, aged 61.

Jeremiah Smith, a native of Peterborough, graduated at Rutgers College, New Jersey. He held many offices, among them Representative in Congress, Governor of the State, in 1809, and Chief Justice of the Superior Court. We may speak of Mr. S. as a lawyer of marked learning in all legal matters. Some thought him the equal of any lawyer in the State, at the time he practiced. He died Sept. 21, 1842, aged 83. His son, Jeremiah Smith, is now one of the Judges of the N. H. Supreme Court.

George Sullivan, son of Gen. John Sullivan of Durham, graduated at Harvard College, in 1790; commenced practice in 1765. He was Representative and Senator in the State Legislature, Representative to Congress from 1811 to 1813.—His great fame, however, was at the bar. For many years, he was Attorney-General, and well known in the different counties of the State. His manners were easy, dignified, polite and agreeable. His arguments were elegant, persuasive,—often quite eloquent. He was favored with a voice somewhat musical. He treated all courteously, but if an opposing counsel was unfair, mean or insulting, Mr. S. treated him with just severity. He died April 14, 1838, aged 65.

Samuel Bell of Chester had a law education, was a legislator, Speaker of the House, President of the Senate, Judge, Governor, and Senator in Congress. He died Dec. 28, 1850, aged 81.

William Plummer of Epping, was an able lawyer, Speaker of the House, President of the Senate, Senator in Congress and Governor. He died Dec. 23, 1850, aged 91. He and Mr. Bell, becoming holders of high offices, their practice at the bar was mostly before the present half century commenced.

A few of a past generation have been named. A number of others came nearly if not quite up to them in forensic abilities. Our county has certainly not been behind others in men of legal and judicial fame. J. F.

☞ Messrs. H. & C. T. Smith & Co., the proprietors of the patent for threshing and sawing machines and the new central power, have been remarkably successful in demonstrating the vast benefits which will be derived by the people wherever they are introduced. Within a few days, Hon. John M. Weare, of Seabrook, chairman of the Com. on agricultural implements at the last N. H. State Fair, which awarded the first premium of a silver medal to the Messrs. Smith for their threshing machines, in company with Mr. B. J. Perkins, of Exeter, and Mr. S. C. Forsaith, of Manchester, have purchased the patent right to manufacture and sell the threshing and sawing machine, cider and grist mills, for Rockingham County. Mr. Forsaith is also the owner of the patent for Hillsborough, and the manufacturer of the machines for this State. The only territory in this State now remaining unsold is Grafton County. The right for Maine and an undivided half of Vermont have not yet been disposed of.

Life has few charms for the Dyspeptic, which is not to be wondered at when we take into the account the amount of bodily and mental suffering that this distressing malady generates. The Peruvian syrup (a protoxide of iron) has cured thousands who were suffering from this disease.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.

It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.

One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds. 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats.—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.

The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.

The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine those ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Caution.—Audacious Counterfeit.

The reputation which, for many years, has attached to "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," as the STANDARD TONIC OF THE AGE, and the large demand for the article, not only in the United States but elsewhere, have provoked the cupidity of the COUNTERFEITING TRIBE, and it has been extensively SIMULATED and IMITATED by unscrupulous sharpers.

The most daring counterfeit of said article which has been attempted, has recently come to our knowledge. The engraved steel label on bottles containing the genuine bitters, with its beautiful vignette of St. George and the dragon, its shield containing a warning against counterfeiters, and its note of hand for "one cent" at the foot, signed with our firm name, has been copied so closely, that the fraud can only be detected on a minute inspection. The dark label is also well counterfeited, and the wording on both the imitation and genuine, are precisely the same, the difference being simply in the execution of the work; that of the imitation being somewhat coarser than the genuine. Other counterfeits are on the market, which are in all particulars the same as described above, with the exception of a slight difference in the spelling of our name.

In addition to the above, these counterfeiters have gone so far in some instances as to place a strip of paper over the cork and fasten to the neck of the bottle, on which is a vignette, and otherwise printed to resemble the general appearance of our proprietary U. S. Revenue stamp, but upon inspection will disclose the absence of the figure "4," and the words "four cents," also "United States Internal Revenue," all of which, together with additional wording, appear on our genuine stamp. The public are, therefore, especially warned against the counterfeit, and dealers are advised to purchase HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS only of houses whose integrity is above suspicion. The true specific is sold in bottles exclusively—never in bulk.—HOSTETTER & SMITH. apl

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most decidedly ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

UNCLE TOBY.—Almost everybody, both press and people, seems to have a good word to say of Uncle Toby, and to hold him in pleasant memory. And well they may, for a more kindly and less selfish soul never lived; and as an office-mate, boy or man, you may search the world in vain for his equal. A gentleman now in high position in this city, who worked for him at printing for some months when a boy, and has always known him intimately since, thinks he was the most even-tempered man he ever met.

We did not and do not intend to write much of his history at this time. It is not necessary for our readers, for he has been living his own eulogy and writing his own epitaph for them these twenty years almost. Sometime we shall give a record of his days, as he has so kindly done for many an other. At present we will correct one mistake which most his old acquaintance even seem to have made; and that is, as to his first place of employment. This was not in Newburyport, but at the office of the ~~Portsmouth Oracle,~~ and Mr. George W. Bazin shew him how to set his first line of type. This was probably about the year 1814. Mr. Bazin is now living in Boston, and Uncle Toby introduced him to us within a few years as his first master. Afterwards he worked in Newburyport, still later in Boston, and returned to this city when about 19 years old, and opened a bookstore and printing office in a little building now standing in the rear of the residence of Dr. G. G. Brewster—but which then stood on Congress Street, where Messrs. Sides' hack-office now is.

Here he printed books, music, and job work; and here he started a paper called the Evening Advertiser, and another, the Morning Chronicle—not daily, however. First and last, he was probably connected with more papers than any other man in the State, if not in the country. Of these things, and his prominent connection with music for many years, &c., we shall have somewhat to to say hereafter.

He was very much attached to his friends in North Hampton, and rode there in a sleigh, but a week before he took his bed; and he walked to Kittery Foreside on the Sunday before he fell sick,—but we think did not speak there. He passed the afternoon with Mr. Oliver Cutts, whose son recently died so suddenly; and up to Monday night was at this office, apparently better than he had been for months. But alas! that night, we may say, his soul was required of him—and ripe and ready was he for the summons. Verily, he has his reward, and his works do follow after him.

☞ Mr. Thomas D. Bailey of this city died in New York, at the residence of his son-in-law, Chas. L. Frost, on Wednesday, at the age of 83 years. He was born in Greenland Feb. 7, 1787 and was formerly a hardware merchant, at the store on Congress St., now occupied by S. B. Plummer. Mr. Bailey was a high minded and honorable merchant, and courtly gentleman and had an extensive acquaintance and was much esteemed. He retired about 16 years ago, and was succeeded by his nephew, Mr. John H. Bailey. Mr. Bailey was the grandfather of Thos. Bailey Aldrich, the poet and author, now editor of Every Saturday.

☞ The Masonic brethren had their fourth annual Ball at Congress Hall, Thursday evening. As is always the case, the affair was a grand success, including the banquet.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Miss Mary Dame of Newmarket fell dead at the residence of Mr. B. F. Dame on Cabot St., last Monday. Probable cause, heart disease. She had been apparently in good health, previously, and spoke just before she was found dead.

☞ Two hundred and ten workmen in the Construction Department at the Navy Yard were discharged on Thursday. About 260 workmen remain in that Department.

☞ Auction of Furniture, Piano, &c., by Mr. Wendell on Saturday.

☞ The Dover Enquirer says "the Concert of the Cocheco Cornet Band was indeed a grand affair. The Band showed to good advantage the skillful training of their teacher, J. Rothwell, under whose direction the concert was given. The variety introduced added much to the pleasure of the occasion. "The wind that wafts," &c., was finely sung by Mr. T. L. Everett. The singing of Mrs. Susie Foster Marcy was of a high order, exhibiting a sweet, well cultivated and flexible voice. She sung 'Ernani, fly with me,' and on the encore sung a song entitled 'Somebody.' Mr. Thompson, who is master of the cornet, never played better, and the duet, for voice and cornet, by Mr. T. and Mrs. Marcy, was truly charming. The Trombone solo by Mr. Rothwell, was also a masterly performance."

☞ The ice broke up in the river between Dover and Portsmouth from the heavy wind and rain on Monday last, and Capts. Dame, Drew and the other navigators of our river, expect to commence their regular trips to old "Strawberry Bank" by the first of next week.

☞ The New England Fair next Fall will be held at Manchester, the citizens guaranteeing $1500. The N. H. State Fair will be held there at the same time.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

KITTERY, ME., Mch. 31.

Sheriff Gooding, Deputy Sheriff Chas. H. Bartlett, and Constable Richard D. Philbrick, had the working of the anti-rum-peddling raid on Wednesday. The Sheriff was watching the men who took to the woods with their liquors, (so report says,) and as soon as the other officers had visited the house, the liquors were brought back. Mr. Gooding then went quietly in and captured the lot; and thus 80 gallons or more of stuff was turned into the street. The sellers will not be pursued any further at present, the object of the Temperance people being not to injure the liquor dealers, but to prevent the dealers from injuring others by their unholy traffic;—so they were allowed to pay costs quietly, and agreed not to sell any more. As the evidence collected during this raid is quite sufficient for continuing the suits, I think they will stick to their agreement in good faith. So mote it be. K. M.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH, BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK, February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS OF THE Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 153 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The credit of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of $1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:
1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."
2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."
3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY AND NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH, Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc. which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 22dawtm

Morning Chronicle.

Reported for the Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY. Subject, Cows.—Mr. C. N. Healey said there were 7 millions less cattle in the County than 10 years ago, that instead there should be 7 million more. Then there were 83 head of cattle to every 100 inhabitants, now less than 50. Mr. H. keeps 15 cows, mostly Ayrshire, some part native, part Ayrshire; sell my milk—much less work, than to make butter or cheese. Think it more profitable to make butter and cheese than to sell milk at my door for 4cts. qt. If a person keeps 2 or 3 cows, might with little labor make butter; but as labor is at present, a farmer with 20 cows cannot afford to hire help and make butter; better sell milk. Since March 13 most of the calves are heifers; but there is a rule, which if true, after this month this order will be reversed.

Jacob P. Cilley keeps 6 cows, mostly native and grade. Think Dutch cows best for milk; like salt hay to feed with in part; believe in feeding well—no meal, but good hay. Sell my milk at 7 and 8 cts. per qt.

D. F. Hayes keeps 10 cows, native and grade, part Jersey, part Dutch; sell my milk, at 8cts. Do not think any more profit in selling milk at 8cts. than making butter and cheese. Think, more milk will be produced during the year, by letting the cows go dry 3 months. A farm will soon run down by keeping cows to sell milk, unless dressing is bought. Believe the true way is to make butter, keep a large number of hogs, and feed all the waste to the hogs.

H. Kent keeps 5 head, Jersey, Devon and Ayrshire; sell milk at 7 cts. qt. Would sell one grade Jersey cow for $100. Prefers grade to a full blood, think Jersey cows make best cream, but not best milk. Cows should be fed with a variety of food, to produce a large quantity of milk. I feed some on cotton seed meal mixed with shorts. C. W. Treadwell says 50 degrees temperature is about right to keep milk; would allow calves to run about a little, not too much.

John Flannegan says, to produce a large amount of milk, should feed on milk. Thinks often times when a large amount of milk is produced, cows have been fed on milk. Flour is also good for cattle. Think it hurts a cow very much to allow a calf to suck; would take the calf from the cow at once.

W. H. Hunnewell thinks cows do better to have them out to pasture 2 weeks before dropping the calf; by getting grass cows get into a healthier condition than if shut up in the barn; would not have them dry more than 4 or 6 weeks. Feed my hay out poor and good mixed together; do not think young cattle should be fed on grain. Prefer to have the calves suck from the cows several weeks; it takes a very bright calf to learn to feed when a few days old.

G. Gilman sells milk at 7 cts. Think it more profitable than to make butter and cheese. Sell the milk at home, which makes less labor than if carried about and peddled out. Keep 17 cows, part Dutch, part grade Alderney. This season the calves are all heifers. Feed on roots as much as possible. Give the calves milk, from pail; do not allow them to go to the cow after one or two days old. Calves will eat roots (carrots, sliced up,) when five days old. Cow does not miss calf or make any trouble if it is taken away when two days old. C.

Messrs Editors:—"To err is human," but I do not see the error we made in our last report, which Mr. Treadwell wishes to correct. He says on account of vigorous growth, "it was an especial value, for feeding green." We said nothing about vigorous growths or feeding green. Do not understand how to raise a crop oats and feed the straw green. If Mr. T. wishes to be understood that oat straw, tall and stout, is better for feeding stock than small short straw, then we were mistaken in what he said. As to the next paragraph in Mr. L.'s article, where he says "he should have been reported to say," &c., he was not reported to say anything about wheat. He might have added we did not report all he said.

Messrs. Editors, we do not wish to occupy all your space by reporting all sayings at these meetings; we only give a few short ideas of each speaker in as concise a manner as possible. If Mr. L. wishes us to inform your readers that he had a fine Dutch calf, he should have made the fact known and we would have considered the matter; but we were very sure that most of your readers were well aware of the fact that Mr. L. has for years had a very noble specimen of an animal which has been driven upon the track, at not only our County Fairs, but State,—and we supposed there was no necessity of alluding to it in our last article. As to the cause of the "offence," we must acknowledge that we do not remember hearing the story of the "Popping Potato." Yours, C.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.—I pitched my tent in a small town in Injianny one day last season, and while I was standing at the door takin money, a deputyshun of ladies came up & sed they was members of the Bumkumvill Female moral Reformin & Wimin's Rites Associashun, and they axed me if they cood go in without payin.

"Not exacly," sez I, "but you can pay without goin in."

"Dew you know who we are?" sed one of the wimin—a tall and feroshus lookin critter, with a blue kotton umbareller under her arm. "Dew you know who we are, sir?"

"My impreshun is" sed I, "from a kersery view, that you are females."

"We are, sir," sed the feroshus woman—"We belong to a society which beleeves in raisin her to her proper speer—which beleeves she is endowed with as much intellect as man is—which she is trampled on and aboozed, & who will resist henceith & forever the encroachments of proud and domineering men."

During her discourse, the ecentric female grabbed me by the coat collar, & wos swingin her umbreller wildly over my head.

"I hope, marm," said I, starting back, "that your intenshuns are honorable?—I'm a lone man here in a strange place. Besides, I've a wife to hum."

"Yes," cried the female, "& she's a slave! Doth she never dream of freedom—doth she never think of throwin off the yoke of tyrranny & thinkin & votin for herself? Doth she never think of these eer things?"

"Not being a natural fool," sed I, by this time a little riled, "I kin safely say that she dothunt."

"O whot—whot!" screamed the female, swingin her umbreller in the air, "O, whot is the price that a woman pays for her experience?"

"I don't know," sed I; "The price to my show is 15 cents per individooal."

"& can't our society go in free," axed the female.

"Not if I know it," sed I.

"Crooil, crooil man!" she cried and bust in 2 teers.

"Won't you let my daughter in?" sed another of the exsentric wimin, takin me affekshunately by the hand.

"O, please let my darlor in—she's a sweet gushin child of natur."

"Let her gush!" roared I, as mad as I could stick at their tarnal nouseace.

"Let her gush." Whereupon they all sprang back, with the simultaneous observation that I was a Beest.

"My female friends," sed I, "b4 you leave, I've a few remarks to remark; wa them well. The female woman is one of the greatest institooshuns of which this land can boste. It's unpossible to get along without her. Had there bin no female womin in the world, I should scarcely be here with my unparaleled show on this occashun. She is good in sickness—good in well—good all the time. O, woman, woman!" I cried, my feelins worked up to a high poetic pitch, "you are an angil when you behaves yourself; but when you take off your proper apparel & (mettyforically speakin) git into your pantyloons—when you desert your friends, with your heads full of wimin's rites noshuns, go round like lyons, seekin whom you may devour somebody—in short when you raise the devel, you air an emphatic noosance. My female friends," I continnered, as they was indignantly departin, "wa well what A. Ward has sed."

A CARD EXTRAORDINARY. — To the American People, Greeting:—I am commissioned to procure the name and address of every person in the United States who takes a friendly interest in Woman's Enfranchisement. In order to compile this roll of honor, I hereby request every such person, immediately on reading this announcement, without waiting long enough to forget or neglect it, to take pen and ink, write the name and address legibly, and forward the same to me by mail, postage paid—a trifling cost which you will not begrudge to a good cause. Anybody sending in one envelope all the names in a family, a village or association, will render a helpful service. Three thousand American newspapers will oblige a brother editor by generously printing this card in their columns. The purpose of this registration is to know to whom to send important documents. Friends of the cause are urged to respond so simultaneously that their letters shall fly hither like a snow-storm. Sign at once. Send at once. And the day will come when your children and children's children will be proud of the record. Fraternally, THEODORE TILTON, Editor of the Independent, Box 2787, New York City.

ABOUT DOGS.—In the discussion of a bill in relation to dogs, in the New Jersey Legislature, a member stated,—Statistics show that there are 6,000,000 dogs in the United States, of which 5,000,000 are worthless, destroying many millions of dollars' worth of food, committing serious depredations upon farm property, repressing and depressing wool industry, to the injury of business and the loss of national wealth.

It is estimated there is a loss of $2,000,000 in sheep killing annually, besides $1,000,000 injured and maimed, and a consequent loss of 6,000,000 pounds of wool in value—say $3,000,000—equal to a tax greater than the average levied upon farmers by the assessors for county, State and national purposes combined, and a tax of at least two per cent. upon the total sum invested in sheep.

—Life is a farce to the rich, a comedy to the wise, a tragedy to the poor.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. THREE SEASONS.

"A cup for hope!" she said,
In spring time ere the bloom was old;
The crimson wine was poor and cold
By her mouth's richer red.

"A cup for love!" how low,
How soft the words; and all the while
Her blush was rippling with a smile,
Like Summer after snow.

"A cup for memory!"
Cold cup that one must drain alone;
While Autumn winds are up and moan
Across the barren sea.

Hope, memory, love;
Hope for fair morn, and love for day,
And memory for the evening gray,
And solitary dove.

A queer race came off in Dover. As a boy on horse-back was passing Chamberlain & Nowell's Grocery store at pretty good speed, the horse belonging to the firm, standing unhitched, thinking that fun was up, started in chase. The boy seeing himself chased, as he supposed, by a runaway horse, put on speed to keep out of the way, but the faster he went, the more speed did the grocery horse put on, and meanwhile boxes, baskets, cans, firkins and bundles in the wagon kept up a merry dance, bobbing around helter skelter. The frisky animal was at last caught and reduced to a state of propriety.

MONDAY, APRIL 4, 1870.

Chat.

Fast Day in Maine, April 14.

The U. S. Supreme Court is to have another test case on the legal tender act, and may reverse the decision made recently.

Senator Ames of Mississippi has been admitted to his seat in Congress. He is to marry Blanche Butler, 'tis said.

The ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment was celebrated in Washington by a grand torch-light procession. President Grant, Senator Sumner, and other distinguished men, were serenaded, and made congratulatory speeches.

The explosion of a boiler in New Haven killed two persons, wounded several others, and demolished a building.

The disturbances in Ireland grow more frequent and more violent. The emigration to America is extraordinary.

The public debt is $2,432,562,126, having been reduced $5,766,349, in March. The decrease since March 1st, 1869 is $88,075,398.

Rear Admiral Joseph Smith is 80 years of age.

The Boston Traveller is 25 years old.

Work will be begun in the Avondale mine on Monday for the first time since the fire September last.

Gold, Saturday, 111 3-4.

The largest shoes made for women in this country go to Utah, and the smallest to Havana.

A fiendish attempt was made to throw an excursion train from Mattawamkeag to Winn, on the European and North American Railroad, off the track, by placing thereon a stone weighing some 300 pounds. The engine was thrown from the track, causing a detention of between two and three hours, but no other damage was done.

The editor of the New York Citizen thinks that Collector Bailey was murdered.

A Faithful Servant.—Rev. N. Medbery, so long an indefatigable, conscientious and generous laborer in the capacity of City Missionary in Portsmouth, having resigned that office leaves this field of his labors this week, to reside in Dover, Mass. While giving his attention to the cultivation of a few acres of land, he will not entirely renounce the work in which as a minister of the Gospel he has so long been engaged.

Mr. Medbery has labored among the poor of this city twelve years and three months, with an intermission of about two years, when his place was filled by Rev. Mr. Wat erhouse. During this time his visitations averaged over 1600 per annum, but this statement gives a wholly inadequate idea of the duties he was called upon to perform. The history of such labors can never be written. His work was done without ostentation or parade, and it may truthfully be said that, like his Great Example, he went about continually doing good. Neither honors nor emolument did he seek, his reward was found in the consciousness that he was doing his duty to God and suffering humanity. He leaves a host of friends and no enemies as he retires from his field of usefulness. It will be difficult to find a man who will fill the vacancy.

The New England Fair.—At the special meeting of officers and trustees of the N. E. Agr. Society the, evening of the 28th, at the Parker House in Boston, (which was quite largely attended,) the President, Dr. Geo. B. Loring, presiding, there was a large representation of gentlemen present from Manchester, including the officers of the N. H. State Society, who put in a strong plea to have the exhibition held in that city. Worcester was the only competitor for the Fair. The Society finally accepted the proposal of the citizens of Manchester, provided the necessary funds, about $1500, were guaranteed. A part of this sum has been pledged by prominent Manchester men, and the balance will soon be forthcoming. The Society revised the rules and premium list. Among the amendments to the rules adopted was one discouraging betting on horse trotting and prohibiting the sale of pools on trotting at the Fair Grounds.

Naval.—Paymaster C. P. Wallach has been detached from the Receiving Ship Vandalia and ordered to settle his accounts.

The steamer Plymouth will return to Europe when her repairs at the navy yard are completed, which will be in about a month, more or less.

☞ At the regular meeting of the Dearborn S. F. Engine Co No. 1, Friday evening, the following officers were chosen: Foreman, Edward E. McIntire; 1st Ass't., James E. Tucker; 2d Ass't., Frank Shannon; Clerk, J. S. Whidden; Pipeman, James H. Hurd; Steward, Wingate Rand.

—How many apples did our first parents eat in the garden of Eden? Eve 8 and Adam 2.

Loose Horses.—S. B. writes as follows: "Friday, as you may know, a loose horse with wagon attached, started upon the full run from Daniel Street, towards the Atheneum door, which he might have entered had not one of the forward wheels come in contact with a post, which threw the horse down on his side and broke both of the shafts.

This alarming and serious trouble with loose horses, from their not being sufficiently tied when there are so many things to frighten them, and they may do so much hurt, is a great cause of danger, as is well known, and it is a trouble of long standing. Ought not the City Government to pass an ordinance, and enforce it, that all drivers of horses should be careful to look after them, or if left, have them sufficiently tied? For when they get loose, and run furiously through the streets and sometimes get on the sidewalks, there is great danger to themselves and the public. And ought not the public to notice that all horses are properly looked after and securely fastened?"

The people who saw the smash-up on Market Square, Saturday forenoon, will second the motion of S. B. A horse came tearing across the Square as if he had received an appointment at the Navy Yard and was hastening to the steamer Emerald to secure a passage over the river. But, when opposite the Atheneum, something turned his head and he followed his nose. Perhaps he thought a policeman was after him, for his nose guided him towards the lock-up, but there were many carriages in his way. One was enough, however, to check him, and he gave it up after detaching the rear half of a carriage from the forward wheels, breaking the shafts of the team he was driving and spilling himself and things generally.

☞ Mr. Bailey, just deceased, was a native of Greenland, but spent most of his days in this city. A joiner by trade, he engaged in store keeping, lumber business and freighting, and in 1836 went to Boston with Mr. John S. Harvey, and opened a wholesale grocery in Merchants' Row. Here they continued but one year, when the financial pressure of the times, which failed all but three houses in the row, of about 80, one of which was Joseph A. Gilmore, led them to close up, which they did without much loss, and paid 100 cents on the dollar, (as both have ever done, we believe,) and they soon returned to Portsmouth. Mr. Bailey again engaged in the lumber trade with his brother, until he bought the hardware store of Robert Henderson. As is well known, Mr. Bailey was the grandfather of Mr. T. B. Aldrich; and it will interest all readers of Our Young Folks to know that from this worthy and true man was drawn the fine character of Capt. Nutter, in his grandson's admirable "Story of a Bad Boy," which has had, and is having, so wide a circulation, first in that periodical, and then as a book in this country and abroad. The death of Mr. Bailey will be sadly felt by thousands who had learned to esteem and love him as the genial, generous, just and affectionate Capt. Nutter, as well as by hosts of old and young who knew him in propria personæ.

Sam Sharpley's Silver Show. This celebrated troupe will give their first entertainment at the Temple, on Thursday evening, April 7. The troupe is composed of Sam Sharpley's Minstrel's, and Prof. Logrenia (the conjuror) and his European troupe of trained birds, white mice, and Russian cats. The Dayton Journal speaks of the exhibition in this style: "The kind of magical entertainments given by Logrenia are preëminently the style the people like. He is the most adroit deceptist we have ever had in Dayton. His tricks are amazing, and his illusions of the most charming character. Then his birds are the nicest thing in birds you ever saw; his canaries do almost everything but talk, and they make the best stagger at that we ever saw." See advertisement.

A Prize Fight at Hampton-Falls.—One of these affairs disgraced the quiet town of Hampton Falls last Friday. Dan Sullivan, a Boston machinist, George Walker a journeyman tailor from Concord, and about a dozen others, visited a secluded spot in the woods when the ring was pitched and the battle fought without the knowledge of a single outsider. It cost $250 a side to find out in this delightful manner who was the "best man" and it having been settled that Sullivan was he, the "best man" gave the worst man a generous donation of $10. The party must have been a charming one, as we are assured that the affair was conducted throughout in the most friendly manner. Eleven rounds were fought, occupying 27 minutes.

—What is the most liberal man? The grocer: he gives almost everything he has a weigh.

A Female Lobby.—The Revolution asserts that seventy courtesans were taken to Washington to influence legislation upon the Pacific Railroad subsidy, and that $25,000 were divided among keepers of houses of ill-fame there to coerce their Congressional patrons to support a bill providing for Indian appropriations. The Revolution is of opinion that with a just proportion of women in the House and Senate, with a legitimate right to be there, this illegitimate membership would come to an end.

—"Women," remarked the Contemplative, "are deep as the blue water of yonder bay." "Ay, sir," replied the Disappointed Man, "and as full of craft."

Have you a Cough, Cold, Pain in the Chest, or Bronchitis? In fact, have you the premonitory symptoms of the "insatiate archer," Consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which, in many cases where hope had fled, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Caution.—Audacious Counterfeit.

The reputation which, for many years, has attached to "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," as the STANDARD TONIC OF THE AGE, and the large demand for the article, not only in the United States but elsewhere, have provoked the cupidity of the COUNTERFEITING TRIBE, and it has been extensively SIMULATED and IMITATED by unscrupulous sharpers.

The most daring counterfeit of said article which has been attempted, has recently come to our knowledge. The engraved steel label on bottles containing the genuine bitters, with its beautiful vignette of St. George and the dragon, its shield containing a warning against counterfeiters, and its note of hand for "one cent" at the foot, signed with our firm name, has been copied so closely, that the fraud can only be detected on a minute inspection. The dark label is also well counterfeited, and the wording on both the imitation and genuine, are precisely the same, the difference being simply in the execution of the work; that of the imitation being somewhat coarser than the genuine. Other counterfeits are on the market, which are in all particulars the same as described above, with the exception of a slight difference in the spelling of our name.

In addition to the above, these counterfeiters have gone so far in some instances as to place a strip of paper over the cork and fasten to the neck of the bottle, on which is a vignette, and otherwise printed to resemble the general appearance of our proprietary U. S. Revenue stamp, but upon inspection will disclose the absence of the figure "4," and the words "four cents," also "United States Internal Revenue," all of which, together with additional wording, appear on our genuine stamp. The public are, therefore, especially warned against these new COUNTERFEITS, and we advise to purchase HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS only of houses whose integrity is above suspicion. The true specific is sold in bottles exclusively—never in bulk.—HOSTETTER & SMITH. apl

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

"Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cts."

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I have sold my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cures have been reported to me, and many state it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Sudden Pleurisy, Diseases, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case with which I am acquainted. Having confidence in its properties, I feel it possesses valuable medicinal qualities, which are in my day in practice, unknown to most physicians. A physician cannot be more pleased than I am about my preparation. I have yet to hear of one who has taken it and not be benefited."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

Can be taken as a dart. Let all afflicted test it at once. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

BURIAL SERVICES. — The custom of marriages and funerals in church we like. Three burial occasions from as many churches in the city during the past week, have been attended with much solicitous affection and many pleasing features. That of young Mr. Marden, at the Middle Street Baptist church, Rev. Mr. Alden officiating,—presented impressive and appropriate services; and sincerely indeed is he mourned, both by relatives and business connections. Beautiful flowers and sweet music lent their hallowing influences.

Rev. Mr. Miller (dear old Uncle Toby of ours and all New England,) was laid to rest on Friday, after farewell services at the Universalist Church, by Rev. Messrs. Patterson and DeNormandie, and singing by the choir. The pulpit was tastefully dressed in mourning drapery of crape festooned with lillies, and beautiful boquets—a tribute of affectionate remembrance from the Sunday School; and a rich emblematic floral cross and crown rested on and lightened up the casket in which the familiar mortal form of the departed lay, as if quietly and pleasantly sleeping.

Both the young clergymen in the desk had been wont to regard him who has left them, with the most tender respect, love and admiration; and their words of eulogy were no empty form, nor was their grieving without deep sorrow. Mr. Patterson's address gave a brief and interesting account of the life of Mr. Miller, with feeling allusions and fitting reflections; and it was on all hands pronounced one of the most beautiful and eloquent discourses ever delivered. He seemed especially inspired for the occasion. Rev. Mr. DeNormandie's prayer was full of his usual earnestness and soul.

The Mechanic Association, the only Society of which the deceased was a member, were out in strong numbers, and with their new and beautiful banner and rolls and staffs, made an appearance which would have pleased their old and favorite comrade. The day was bright and pleasant, and the whole scene one such as he much more enjoyed to participate in than in one of feasting. The pall-bearers were Messrs. S. W. Moses, A. J. Beck, J. Parry and D. J. Vaughan, all lifelong friends of his. It is due to many who were disappointed in failure of attendance, from the change of time from Sunday, to say that it was rendered necessary by circumstances.

On Saturday, another fine old man, still more aged, was consigned to his narrow bed, whose sleep has no waking but to joy. This was Mr. T. D. Bailey, whose death we mentioned last week. He died at the house of his children, in New York; and his remains were brought to this his old home for interment, his whole sorrowing family accompanying. The services at the Unitarian Church were of the usual cheerful Christian character of the beloved pastor; and again sweet vocal and instrumental music and the presence of loveliest flowers, with holiest consolations of sacred writ, formed a blessed requiem for the dead and calmed to peace the mourners bereft.

P. M. L. A.—At the semi-annual meeting of the Mercantile Library Association, Friday evening, the following officers were chosen:—President, T. E. O. Marvin; Vice President, C. C. Akerman; Secretary and Librarian, C. A. Hazlett; Treasurer, Clarence O. Walker; Directors, Daniel J. Vaughan, Mercer Goodrich, F. W. Miller, John Pender, A. F. Craig, Florion Barri.

During the past four months a course of fifteen public lectures has been given, the membership of the Association increased one third, a Debating Club organized among the younger members, the average number of volumes taken from the library doubled, and a new catalogue made and printed.

☞ We understand that Hon. Frank Jones has engaged Mr. Justin Hanscom as his book-keeper and secretary, in place of Mr. Marden, deceased. Mr. Hanscom has long been clerk for Tobey & Littlefield; and is a very capable and efficient man, besides being a very pleasant gentleman. One thing is pretty sure—Mr. Jones knows how to select good assistants, and knows how to treat them when h gets them.

☞ Mr. Joshua M. Vaughan commences to run a new Express to Boston, to-day.

☞ Some readers have, strangely enough, inferred from our remarks that smoking injured the health and hastened the death of the late D. W. Marden,—that we were inimical to him or unjust or unkind to his memory. Now Mr. Marden was an intimate acquaintance of ours from childhood—a schoolmate,—and our relations always pleasant; and nothing was farther from our intentions than to say aught against him. A boy and man whom we knew to be so uncommonly good to his family as he was, deserves praise. We know his extensive business cares and his great capabilities and faithfulness; but we think, as he thought and said, that smoking seriously injured him,—as we are also sure it does many others. Tobacco in any form we regard as an utter abomination and fearful curse; and we are not a bit the more in love with it, the more men we see it injuring. But God forbid that we should reflect unjustly on any man's memory, especially that of a friend, and more particularly at our own season of grief. F.

THE RUSSIANS, who created such a sensation among musical people in Boston, recently, announce one of their grand concerts at the Temple on Wednesday evening. There are twelve of them, including Messrs. Rajndl, Jasewicz, Mitz and Livanowsky. Their concerts are fine, and we hope their appearance here will bring out our musically-inclined concert-goers. Mr. Ignacy Potocki, the pleasant agent, who talks English like a native of Russia, desires the public to understand that the concert will be a first class one. The singers are all Russians, and they sing in the Russian language and wear the picturesque costumes of our neighbors from the cold country. The linguists of our city who wish, will have a fine opportunity to compare pronunciations with the twelve, by going to see them.

IN THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday evening, it was voted to purchase a lot of land, corner of Cambridge and Clinton Streets, of Mr. Josiah Drew, Jr., for $550, on which it is proposed to erect a building for a primary school. Concurred in by the Common Council.

The City Marshal's quarterly report was presented; $173 have been received for dog licenses, and $287.35 from fines at court.

The School Committee sent in an estimate for $20,000 for the ensuing year.

Both Boards voted to discontinue the widening of Fleet Street; to authorize the purchase of a steam fire-engine by the joint committee on fire department, and the purchase of a pair of horses by the joint committee on streets.

The Council non-concurred in the vote adopting a grade for the extension of Summer Street.

☞ Thieving from the vessels at the Navy Yard has been carried on quite successfully, and Capt. Fairfax, the live executive officer at the Yard, set Marshal Johnson of this city to look up the matter, who with aid of Officer Mortimer, and D. L. Randall of the Yard Watch, and U. S. Deputy Marshal Kent, have arrested and committed to jail for want of bail, the two supposed thieves, Gray and Sullivan of this city, who are proprietors of dens in the region of Water Street.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.
The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can be realized from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.
Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the
OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company
The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other
The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.
Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.
Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.
The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.
Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.
Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.
The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.
The Bonds are in denominations of
$1000, $500, and $100.
They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or
The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company; unless re-assigned to bearer; or
The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.
The three classes will be known respectively as:
1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."
2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."
3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.
They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.
The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.
The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.
A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.
The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.
Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.
The present price is 90 and accrued interest.
A loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among our favorite securities is offered to the market, both on Country and Foreign [illegible] at our entire [illegible] at the lowest price [illegible]
Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.
P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc. which will be furnished upon application.
☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 22dawSm

Morning Chronicle.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT.—On Wednesday the President communicated to Congress the following Message and Proclamation announcing the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution:

To the Senate and House of Representatives: It is unusual to notify the two Houses of Congress by Message of the promulgation by proclamation of the Secretary of State of the ratification of the constitutional amendment. In view, however, of the vast importance of the 15th Amendment of the Constitution this day declared a part of that revered instrument, I deem a departure from the usual custom justifiable.

The measure which makes at once four million of the people voters who were heretofore declared by the highest tribunal in the land not citizens of the United States, not eligible to become so, with the assertion that at the time of the Declaration of Independence the opinion was fixed and universal in the civilized portion of the white race, and regarded as an axiom in morals as well as in politics, that black men had no rights which white men were bound to respect, is, indeed, a measure of grander importance than any other one act of the kind from the foundation of our free government to the present time.

Institutions like ours, in which all power is derived directly from the intelligence, patriotism and industry. I call the atention, therefore, of the newly enfranchised race to the importance of their striving in every honorable manner to make themselves worthy of their new privilege. To a race more favored heretofore by our laws I should say, withhold no legal privilege of advancement to the new citizens.

The framers of our Constitution firmly believed that a republican form of government could not endure without intelligence and education were generally diffused among the people. The Father of his Country, in his farewell address, uses this language—"Promote, then, as a primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge. In proportion as the structure of government gives force to public opinion, it is essential that public opinion should be enlightened."

In his first annual Message to Congress the same views were forcibly presented, and are again urged in his eighth message. I repeat, that the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution completes the greatest civil change and constitutes the most important event that has occurred since the nation came into life. The change will be beneficial in proportion to the heed that is given to the urgent recommendations of Washington. If these recommendations were important then with a population of but a few millions, how much more important are they now with a population of forty millions, and increasing in a rapid ratio.

I would therefore call upon Congress to take all the means within their constitutional power to promote and encourage popular education throughout the country, and upon the people everywhere to see to it, that all who possess and exercise political rights shall have an opportunity to acquire that knowledge which will make their share in the government a blessing and not a danger. By such means only can the benefits contemplated by this amendment to the Constitution be secured. —— U. S. GRANT.

The Proclamation of the Secretary of State, Mr. Fish, recites the original resolution of Congress proposing the Amendment, which includes the Amendment, as follows:—

ARTICLE 15, Section 1. The rights of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any State, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

Section 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

A list is given of the ratifying States, viz., North Carolina, West Virginia, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Maine, Louisiana, Michigan, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, Arkansas, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, New York, New Hampshire, Nevada, Vermont, Virginia, Alabama, Missouri, Mississippi, Ohio, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Nebraska and Texas, "in all twenty-nine States," constituting "three-fourths of the whole number of States in the United States." The action of the New York Legislature, "claiming to withdraw" the ratification of that State, is noticed; as is the adoption of the Amendment by Georgia:—and the Proclamation concludes as follows:—

Now, therefore, be it known that I, Hamilton Fish, Secretary of State of the United States, by virtue and in pursuance of the second section of the Act of Congress approved the 10th day of April, in the year 1818, entitled An Act to Provide for the Publication of the Laws of the United States, and for other purposes, do hereby certify that the amendment aforesaid has become valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the United States.

—It is dangerous to be "highly spoken of" in Cincinnati. A baby was left at a rich man's door the other night, with a note saying.—"Having heard you spoken very highly of, and also that you was extravagantly fond of babies, I have brought you this treasure."

—What horse to keep a secret? Sealing wax to be sure.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

DEATH OF MR. MILLER.—It is a sad duty to record from time to time the decease of those who have become identified with the history of Portsmouth and whose death breaks a link that binds the past with the present. A few years ago there were living quite a number in Portsmouth whose recollections of old times furnished the "Rambler" with many data for his "Rambles about Portsmouth." These are fast passing away, leaving a very few whose taste and recollections would furnish the memoranda necessary for such a publication. The death of TOBIAS HAM MILLER, the senior editor of the Chronicle and Gazette in this city on Wednesday morning last, at the age of 68½ years, is of this class; and brings much sadness to to the minds of many in our community.

Mr. Miller has been a prominent man in Portsmouth for half a century. He was born in this city about the same time and adopted the same occupation, that of printer, as his former and sometime business partner, the late Charles W. Brewster.

After serving an apprenticeship in the Oracle office and working as a printer in the office of the Newburyport Herald, he opened a bookstore in Congress street, in this city, before he was twenty-one years of age. In 1825, he became a partner and joint owner with Mr. Brewster, in this paper, and so continued for about ten years. He was at one time publisher or editor, or both of, the New Hampshire Observer, a religious paper, published in this city; and afterwards at Concord. He was for some time connected with one or more Journals in Boston, and had the principal charge of the Washingtonian, a Temperance paper, published for several years in this city, and for many years he was the principal editor of the Chronicle in this city. He was many years ago ordained as a minister, and was for several years the settled Minister of the Congregational Parish in Kittery.

As an editor, publisher, preacher and lecturer, he has been a constant and voluminous writer for more than forty years. He was a clear, direct, able and forcible writer. He had a retentive and accurate memory. It would be difficult to name a man among us who had so carefully noted the prominent events of the last half-century—who could state so accurately the actors in them, and the part and positions they severally took and occupied. He had some of the antiquarian turn and taste of Mr. Brewster, an evidence and illustration of which will be found in the series of articles upon Portsmouth Privateering, recently begun in the Chronicle, the copy of which he completed for the press before his death.

Clear and forcible as were all his writings, they received additional weight from the elevated moral tone which pervaded every thing he wrote. He looked upon all subjects in their moral more than in their economical aspects. The tone of his writings indicated the purity and integrity of his life.

He was through life a reformer. Perhaps no man in this neighborhood has been a more strenuous, persistent and exemplary advocate of temperance. No one has exerted a wider or more wholesome influence in its promotion.

Mr. Miller was also among the most early, consistent, and unyielding opponents of slavery. Many of our readers well remember the large gathering at the Universalist church after slavery was abolished, to hear repeated a discourse which he had delivered at the beginning of the organization against the aggression of slavery. That discourse showed how profoundly and how accurately he had thought upon this subject, even before it had attracted public attention.

Mr. Miller was not only an acceptable and impressive preacher, but he was a good biblical scholar. Few clergymen were so familiar with the Bible, or have so carefully reflected upon its teachings. Or wrote in a better style

He was a man of remarkably clear and sound judgment. He carefully and thoughtfully examined a proposition, and when he believed a truth he believed it for a life time, and regulated his conduct by it. And as he believed he wrote and preached. His writings, even upon common and secular topics, were pervaded by a moral tone, which he could not more avoid than he could avoid being honest or true. There was often in his conversation and writings a quiet humor, indicating a quick perception and a genial nature. Although all his life time a reformer, and constantly battling against wrong, yet he had none of that intolerance which often weakens the influence and obstructs the labors of some reformers.

His politics were those of a reformer; his religion that of charity and love. It would be difficult to find a man who for a half a century had been so constantly arrayed against wrong in all its forms, who was uniformly so kind and tolerant in his estimates of the character and conduct of others, and especially of those who opposed him.

Mr. Miller's opinions, originating in a Christian spirit, and guided by good common sense, have for nearly a half a century, from the lecture room, the pulpit and press, been reaching and influencing the public; and they have all been characterized by a pure moral tone.

Mr. Miller's reading, aside from that demanded by his occupation as an editor, was considerable, mostly upon moral and religious subjects and the reforms of the day. He led a life of uninterrupted toil, yet it was so cheered by religious trust and philosophical supports, was so pure, so free from that controlling selfishness which falls most when it struggles most, that he enjoyed life more than most men.

While it is sad to reflect that we are no more to meet his pleasant greetings in our streets, or to welcome in our homes the daily greetings from his pen, there is comfort in therefection that in his persistent efforts to do good to others, he secured for himself a life of happiness, and that his memory will long be cherished with affectionate respect.

THE PERFECT DAY.

When morning, rising from her eastern couch,
Rolls back the amber curtains of the day,
And, softly blushing, lifts her dewy lids
Beneath the fiery sun's impassioned ray;
As, stealing tiptoe o'er the drowsy hills,
She wakes the sleeping flowers by wood and glade,
A tender pain thrills softly through my heart,
That all this beauty must so quickly fade.

And when o'er quiet vale and breathless sea,
The fervid noon uplifts his gleaming shield,
I softly sigh that he again so soon,
The royal sceptre of his power must yield.
And when pale night, with finger on her lip,
Hushes the last faint sound of noisy strife,
And softly spreads her benison of rest
O'er all the care and weariness of life.

I sit and think of the fair dawn that comes
To care worn souls, fadeless and fresh for aye;
And all the tender calm, and peace and rest
Of the long noontide of eternal day.
Smiling, I cross my palms upon my breast,
And pain and sadness fade like mist away;
Beyond these shadowed morns and changeful noons,
Dawns the sweet splendor of a Perfect Day.

A FREE TRANSLATION.—One of the shrewdest men in Wall street was recently waited on by a Custom House broker, who asked him to make oath to the value of an importation made to the order of his banking house. The invoice was in French.

"I hav'n't imported anything," said the banker.

"Your house has, though," said the broker, "and somebody has got to swear to its value."

"What is it? Let's see your document! Tableau en huile; that must be Gallic. Let's see; huile means oil, doesn't it? and tableau must be table, and the whole put together must be table oil. A case of it is worth—how much? a hundred dollars? Well, here goes for a Custom House, to the amount of a hundred dollars;" and he swore.

Some days afterward the broker entered the bank in a sweat. He rushed up to the banker and said to him nervously:

"Mr. C., there is trouble down to the Custom House about your oath. Your valuation is declared by the appraisers to be fraudulent. That table oil is said to be worth $3,000, and you swore that it was worth only $100. There's ——to pay. Come down right off."

The banker went; was confronted with his affidavit, and the evidence that the importation was a valuable painting, actually worth $3,000, which a gentleman travelling in Europe had purchased and had sent home to the care of the banking house.

"Tableau en huile means oil painting, does it?" said C. "Well, I would have sworn it meant table oil—and, indeed, I did swear to it. But it is not necessary for me to say that I don't know ten words of French."

"LIFE ON THE OCEAN WAVE."—The story of the once popular and not yet forgotten song, "Life on the Ocean Wave," is thus narrated by the author, Epes, Sargent, Esq., of Boston, in a letter addressed to Barry Gray, in 1858, in reply to a request that he would favor him with his history:

I will cheerfully answer your inquiry in regard to the song, though fearful that the facts may be of slender interest. Some sixteen year, ago (1842) Mr. Henry Russell, the musical composer, asked me to write a song for him, leaving the subject to my own selection.

In a walk on the Battery at New York, the sight of vessels in the harbor dashing through the sparkling waters, in the morning sunlight, suggested the "Life on the Ocean Wave." I had finished it before my walk was completed. I showed it to a friend, himself a song writer, whose criticism was that "it was a very fair lyric, but was not a song." Somewhat disheartened, I put it into my pocket, concluding that it might do to publish, but not to set to music.

A few days afterward I met Russell at Howitt's music store, and showed him the piece, informing him at the same time that it would not do—that I would try again.

"Let us go into the back room and try it on the piano," said Russell. We went. He sat down at the piano, placed the words before him, studied them for about five minutes, humming a measure as he read, then threw his fingers over the keys, tried once, twice, thrice, and finally exultingly struck on the present melody to which the "Life on the Ocean Wave" is set. He certainly was no more than ten minutes about it, though he gave a day afterward to writing and scoring out the music. The song became immensely popular, and many thousands were sold before the year was out. In England three different music publishers issued it in various styles. The parodies on it that have been sent to me I cannot undertake to number.—Home Journal.

—"What a lovely little snow-drop that is," said a friend to Mark Twain as a blonde beauty, with flowing tresses, passed them on Broadway. "A snow drop! I should say she was a hair belle," said Twain.

—"John," said a hen-pecked husband, "I wish it was the fashion to trade wives as it is to trade horses." "Why so?" "I'd cheat somebody before night."

Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints), and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights.
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Look out for Colds!
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will cure itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for a few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone. ap5 4w
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH, Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fire of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. ap5 4w

CHRONICLES OF OLD TIMES.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

The Portsmouth Privateers of 1812.

NUMBER THIRTEEN.

In No. 12, we mentioned the arrival of the privateer Harpy, from a very successful cruise. We commence this chapter with a very fine specimen of thanksgiving cards,—this one being from some English captains, to Captain Nichols and Lieut. Place,—copied from the Oracle of Feb. 11, 1815.

GRATEFUL ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—Capt. William Drysdale, late of ship William & Alfred, captured on the 2nd January, 1815, by the U. S. brig of war Harpy, returns his grateful acknowledgment to Wm. Nichols, Esq., commander of said brig of war, and all his officers, for their great civility, indulgent lenity, and humane usage, while on board, and generously delivering up all his private property. And should, at any future time, Capt. Nichols, or any of his officers, come to London, Capt. D. will be happy to see them at his house, No. 12, Stepney Green, near London. Given under my hand, on board the Harpy, at sea, this 6th day of January, 1815. WILLIAM DRYSDALE, late captain of ship William & Alfred.

We, the undersigned, feeling congenial sentiments with Capt. Drysdale towards Capt. Nichols, Lieut. Place, and the officers on board the Harpy, and desirous that such humanity and goodness may be made public, as well in the United States as in the British nation, declare, that our treatment is worthy of every praise and encomium; and that all our private property has been held sacred to us, and a cartel fitted for us as early as circumstances would permit.

GEO. HARRISON, W. NEWELL, J. W. HALL, ANDREW M'CARTHY, (late masters of vessels taken by the Harpy.)

On board the Harpy, Jan. 6, 1815.

The news of Peace with Great Britain was received here on the 13th of February, 1815. That is, news that the Treaty of Peace had been signed, and arrived in this country. The Oracle of the 18th contains the following Peace Items.

PEACE.—The news of Peace was first received in this town on Monday afternoon, by Mr. Stetson of the Essex Coffee House, Salem, who brought the letter of Mr. Goodhue from that town in 4 hours, a distance of 48 miles! The letter was immediately printed at this office, and several hundreds were in instant circulation. The news was received with the liveliest emotions of joy by all classes of citizens; and on the following day salutes were fired, the bells rung, and business was suspended. In the evening the Insurance Office, Coffee House, and several other buildings, were illuminated.

[The compiler of these sketches was employed in printing the above mentioned letter, which was issued in a handbill.]

Sugar on Monday last fell from 26 dollars to 12.50, in New York. Tea, from 2.25 to 1.00. Specie from 22 per cent premium to 2. Six per cents rose 10 per cent; Treasury Notes from 92 to 98.—Sailors' rights beat time to the sound of the hammer, and free trade looked briskly up. Wagons creaked their dying groans on their dry axle-trees, and ships swarmed in the columns of the Gazettes.

The Bell Tavern was opened for refreshment to the citizens on Tuesday last, free of expense.

Preparations for a splendid celebration of the return of Peace are making in Boston for the 22d inst., (the birthday of Washington,) if the Treaty is ratified in season.

Such was the excess of joy at Peace, that on the evening of illumination, the bells in this town, which struck up a merry peal at 7 in the evening, ceased not till the same hour next morning, much to the repose of the inhabitants, especially the sick! One of the bellmen next day applied for a contribution, urging that he had nobody to spell him for five hours!

Several ships are already preparing for foreign voyages at this port, to sail on the ratification of the treaty—unless stopped by their old friend O-grab-me!

The treaty of peace was signed at Ghent, Dec. 24, 1814,—and was ratified by the Senate, Feb. 17, 1815;—but in the treaty time was allowed for prizes: 12 days on our coast; 30 days for all the rest of the Atlantic north of the Equator, the British and Irish Channels; 40 days for the Mediterranean and Baltic; 60 days, south of the Equator in the Atlantic; 90 days and 120 days for more distant places still.

It will be seen that privateering might continue for some time; and it did so, as we shall see in the sequel.

The privateer brig Ranger, Capt. Benjamin Gardner, arrived here on Friday, Feb. 24, 1815, from a cruise, on which she sailed Dec. 14, 1814. She took one prize, the British brig Emerson, with a cargo of coal, took out a few articles, and sunk the vessel. The prize goods were libelled and sold here.

The Oracle of Feb. 25, 1815, has the following item about the U. S. sloop of war Wasp.

A letter from Capt. Dipsale, of the British ship Emerald, dated at sea, Nov. 10, 1814, to his owners in London, states that on the 7th of that month, in proceeding from Fowey to Trieste, he fell in with the U. S. sloop of war Wasp, whom he engaged for an hour and ten minutes, when the Wasp sheered off. He represents the battle as having been renewed three times, in which his crew fought with great bravery. The Emerald mounts 16 nine pound carronades, and 4 long sixes, and has a crew of 35 men, 3 of whom were slightly wounded in the action.

The British brig Gen. Maitland and cargo, prize to the privateer brig Dash, of Portland, were sold here, Feb. 9, 1815. Also British brigantine Equity, 119 tons, cargo brandy, gin, wine, &c., prize to the privateer Orlando, Capt. Babson, of Gloucester.

The Oracle Marine News of March 4, 1815, is as follows:—

Arrived at this port on Saturday last, the private armed brig Champlain, Capt. Salter, from a cruise. She sailed from Portland, Jan. 21, and returned on account of springing both her masts in a gale. She has captured two British brigs, laden with fish, oil, &c., both which were manned and ordered in.

Monday, arrived the British brig Ann, Andrews, master, from St. Johns, with fish and oil, prize to the privateer Champlain.

Thursday, arrived a brig from Havana, with sugar, Cuba tobacco and coffee, captured by the privateer Sine-Qua-Non, on the 30th January.

The brig Ann was of 140 tons burthen. She was sold March 29. The vessel which was a prize to the Sine-Qua-Non, was the British brig Antonia, a good vessel of 180 tons, copper bottom, &c.

The peace brought joy to many persons, but sadness to some. In the Oracle marine list, March 18, under the head of Salem, we read:—

March 16.—Arrived, cartel schooner Lingan, Capt. Wells, 8 days from Halifax. The Lingan sailed from this port on Sunday, Feb. 26, and carried the first news of the ratification of Peace, which Capt. W. says met a very unwelcome reception there by the merchants and speculators, a number of whom had failed in consequence. The Lingan brought 94 prisoners. There are two cartels fitting out, to bring 700 prisoners. 1000 remain at Melville prison.

In the same paper is advertised, at auction, by Wm. Boyd, the private armed brig Ranger, 223 tons, with her armament, stores, &c., having been out only one short cruise.

Also advertised at auction, by Major Larkin, at the store of Nathl. Folsom, Esq., North End, the hull of a new vessel, with spars and rigging for a hermaphrodite brig, one 24-pound gunade, with Laighton's improved carriage, four long 9-pounders, 75,000 lbs. ship bread, &c.,—doubtless a privateer blighted by the peace.

Some prize goods, brought in by the Ranger, were sold March 28, by Elias Libbey, Deputy Marshal; among them four 4-pound cannon.

The Oracle of April 1, 1815, has a libel by Capt. John Sinclair, Jr. of the Portsmouth, on the brig Crown Prince, Capt. John Walker: and another libel by Capt. John Winkley, of the Fox, on the ship Antigua, Capt. Robert Dawson.

The privateer brig Ludlow, Capt. J. Mudge, of Kennebunk, arrived at this port on Sunday, April 2, from an unsuccessful cruise of ten weeks, having taken nothing. When 7 days out, off Fayal, she sprung a leak, bore away for the West Indies, arrived at Porto Rico and repaired.

The Oracle of April 8th has the following item:—

Last evening, arrived at this port the private armed schooner Fox, Captain John Winkley, from a three-months' cruise, having made two captures, one of which vessels she destroyed, the other (the ship Antigua,) having arrived here. She has on board some bale goods, &c., taken out of the Antigua. The Fox is one of two vessels only that have run during the whole war, and has made seven successful cruises.

THE RICE DIVORCE SUIT for fraud in age, is causing great excitement in Boston. It should warn young men not to marry in haste. Rice is but 22, his bride 37. He swears that she made him believe she was but his own age, by using MAGNOLIA BALM upon her face, neck and hands. Poor youth. He probably found her elbows weren't quite so soft and pretty. Ought Hagan to be indicted? We know of many similar cases. Magnolia Balm gives a most wonderful pearly and natural complexion, to which we don't object. We like pretty women. To finish the picture, they should use LYON'S KATHAIRON upon the hair. With pearly chin, rosy cheeks, and soft, luxuriant tresses, they become irresistible. 4wap5o

NOTICE—SECOND SIGHT.

MRS. S. C. JEWELL, BLIND CLAIRVOYANT PHYSICIAN, Would inform her friends and the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity, that she may be consulted at No. 13 COURT ST., on WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY, Apr. 7 and 8, and on the first Wednesday and Thursday of each month afterwards, as usual. a5

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Caution.—Audacious Counterfeit.

The reputation which, for many years, has attached to "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," as the STANDARD TONIC OF THE AGE, and the great demand for the article, not only in the United States but elsewhere, have provoked the cupidity of the COUNTERFEITING TRIBE, and it has been extensively SIMULATED and IMITATED by unscrupulous sharpers.

The most daring counterfeit of said article which has been attempted, has recently come to our knowledge. The engraved steel label on bottles containing the genuine bitters, with its beautiful vignette of St. George and the dragon, its shield containing a warning against counterfeiters, and its note of hand for "one cent" at the foot, signed with our firm name, has been copied so closely, that the fraud can only be detected on a minute inspection. The dark label is also well counterfeited, and the wording on both the imitation and genuine, are precisely the same, the difference being simply in the execution of the work; that of the imitation being somewhat coarser than the genuine. Other counterfeits are on the market, which are in all particulars the same as described above, with the exception of a slight difference in the spelling of our name.

In addition to the above, these counterfeiters have gone so far in some instances as to place a strip of paper over the cork and fasten to the neck of the bottle, on which is a vignette, and otherwise printed to resemble the general appearance of our proprietary U. S. Revenue stamp, but upon inspection will disclose the absence of the letter "A," and the words "four cents," also "United States Internal Revenue," all of which, together with additional wording, appear on our genuine stamp. The public are hereby cautioned against these new COUNTERFEITS, and are advised to purchase HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS only of those whose integrity is above suspicion. The true specific is sold in bottles exclusively—never in bulk.—HOSTETTER & SMITH. apl

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadore's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

"Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cts."

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WCOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says; "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALFRED T. JOY, Treasurer.

Communication.

☞ A. M. H. is informed that the Interest Question to which he referred on Wednesday, was handed to me some ten or more days before it appeared in the Chronicle, and read thus: "A man has two notes of $2000 each, dated June 1st, 1869, bearing interest at 7 per cent; one note payable in one year, and the other in two years. For how much must he sell each note, Sept. 18th, 1869, so that the buyer can realize 10 per cent on his investment?" I saw afterward in the Chronicle a question, and without critically examining it, took it for the same, and therefore handed in as the answers, $2000 for one note and $1948.72 for the other, which I know to be correct, and susceptible of proof. I agree with A. M. H. that the question as published is obscure and insufficient. N. B. I reckon from June 1st to Sept. 18th, 3 mos., 18 days. N. D.

☞ The Sunday evening Vesper Service at the Unitarian Church, with the valuable and instructive lecture by the pastor, and the beautiful music, have always been highly enjoyed by large audiences of the parish and other citizens; and the recent series of discourses to the young are especially fine. The 7th of the course, on Sabbath last, was on the precious topic Home, from the text, or motto, "Piety begins at home;" and it was a home argument indeed,—urging the owning or at least forming of real homes by the young, instead of boarding round, and depicting the beauties, attractions and blessings of a real home—which is and always must be, "where'er the heart is." At the close of the lecture, the choir sang "Home, sweet home," and the effect was charming indeed.

We well recollect a discourse on the same subject, by the former pastor, Rev. Dr. Peabody, on which occasion his text was, "God hath set the desolate in families,"—if we remember aright. This was also very enjoyable, of course from such a source.

RE-INSTATED.—By order of the Navy Department, Capt. George W. Towle has been re-instated as Clerk of Pay Rolls in the Department of Yards & Docks at the Navy Yard, from which position he was removed nearly two ago. We congratulate the Captain that justice, though tardy, has been done in the matter, while we regret that any one should be removed to effect it. Portsmouth and vicinity owed a great deal to Capt. Towle, previous to the rebellion, for his efforts in maintaining a proper military spirit and in disciplining the comrades who readily turned out on public and private occasions to fill the ranks of the oldest military Company in the State, whose charter dated back to June 17, 1775.

At the commencement of the rebellion, Capt. Towle left his old political associates and warmly espoused the Union cause. At the first call for volunteers for three years—he opened a recruiting office and raised 60 men for the gallant old 2d New Hampshire Regiment. Another detachment was sent to the Third Regiment and another detail of 60 men joined the Fourth, with 1st Lieut. G. Frank Towle. For the 10th Regiment, Capt. Towle raised 98 men and led them to the front, remaining in the service until after Lee's surrender, having recruited in all between 250 and 300 men. The strong petition sent to Washington urging his re-instatement was proof enough that Capt. Towle's efforts to serve the country when the country needed men, were thoroughly appreciated by his friends throughout this Congressional District.

SHARPLEY'S MINSTRELS, Logrenia, trained mice, birds and Russian cat make amusement enough for Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

THE RUSSIANS come to-morrow evening and their grand chorus will delight musical people. They dress in gorgeous costumes and offer a tempting feast for the eye and ear.

☞ A new front is being put into the room lately a billiard hall in the Piscataqua House, for a store, to make it uniform with that of Mr. S. W. Moses. We do not learn who is to occupy it. The change will make the building look better.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,

No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,

February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $3,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

The Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,

FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc. which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 22law3m

THE PRINTER AND HIS TYPE.—The following beautiful extract is from the pen of Benjamin F. Taylor, the printer poet:—

"Perhaps there is no department of enterprise whose details are less understood by intelligent people than the 'art preservative,'—the achievement of types.

Every day their life long they are accustomed to read the newspaper, and find fault with its statements, its arrangements, its looks; to plume themselves upon the discovery of some roguish and acrobatic type that gets into a frolic and stands upon its head; or by some waste letter or two in it—but of the process by which the newspaper is made, of the myriads of motions and the thousands of pieces necessary to its composition, they know little and think less.

They imagine they discourse of a wonder, indeed, when they speak of the fair white carpet, woven for thought to walk on, of the rags that fluttered on the back of the beggar yesterday.

But there is something more wonderfull still. When we look at the hundred and fifty-two little boxes, somewhat shaded with the touch of inky fingers, that compose the printer's 'case,' noiseless, except the clicking of the types, as one by one they take their places in the growing line—we think we have found the marvel of the art.

We think how many fancies in fragments there are in the boxes, how many atoms of poetry and eloquence the printer can make here and there, if he had only a little chart to work by, how many facts in a small 'handful,' how much truth in chaos.

Now he picks up the scattered elements until he holds in his hand a stanza of 'Gray's Elegy,' or on a monody upon Grimes 'All Buttoned up Before.' Now he sets 'puppy missing,' and now 'Paradise Lost;' he arrays a bride in 'small caps,' and a sonnet in 'nonpareil;' he announces the languishing 'live,' in one sentence—transposes the words and deplores the days that are few and 'evil,' in the next.

A poor jest ticks its way slowly into the printer's hand, like a clock just running down, and a strain of eloquence marches into the line letter by letter. We fancy we can tell the difference by hearing by the ear, but perhaps not.

The types that told a wedding yesterday announce a burial to-morrow,—perhaps in the same letters.

They are the elements to make a world of,—those types are a world with something in it as beautiful as spring, as rich as summer, and as grand as autumn flowers that frost cannot wilt. Fruit that shall ripen for all time.

The newspaper has become the log book of the age. It tells at what rate the world is running; we cannot find our 'reckoning' without it.

True, the green grocer may bundle up a pound of candles in our last expressed thoughts, but it is only coming to base uses, something that is done times innumerable.

We console ourselves by thinking that one can make of that newspaper what he cannot make of living oaks—a bridge for time, that he can fling it over the chasm of the dead years and walk safely back upon the shadowy sea into the far past. The singer shall not end his song, nor the soul be eloquent no more.

The realm of the press is enchanted ground. Sometimes the editor has the happiness of knowing that he has defended the right, exposed the wrong, protected the weak; that he has given utterance to a sentiment that has cheered somebody's solitary hour, made somebody happier, kindled a smile upon a sad face, or a hope in a heavy heart."

MEN IN LOVE.—There is something very cruel in the contempt with which women, as a rule, look upon a man who is in love. One might have thought that compassion (which is nearly akin to contempt, however, with many people) would have been a more appropriate feeling; but it cannot be denied, that a man is never less a hero with the women of his acquaintance, than when he is desperately in love with some particular woman. If it be his good fortune to have inspired a similar attachment in the bosom of the young person who has upset his reason, she, out of all her sex, may be inclined to see something fine and noble in his devotion, but your ordinary woman—and, above all, your extraordinary woman, who has some power of satire, and love to avenge the weakness of her sex by laughing at ours — cannot help regarding a lover as rather a silly person who has caught a lover, which is about as ridiculous as measels to a grown up man.

In novels the case is otherwise; and nothing in fiction attracts the sympathy of woman so much as a perfect abandonment to a wild impetuous affection, with the spectacle of a rhetoric loving young man conquering every difficulty, and overcoming all manner of obstacles, for the sake of his sweetheart. But in actual life, a man finds himself compelled to keep a strict watch over any exhibitions of affection he may be inclined to indulge in and if he does not, the women of his acquaintance look upon him as a "softy," and shrug their shoulders in a highly humorous way over his folly. As for the modern young lady, she conceals her affection so thoroughly, that you would almost imagine she had none.—Temple Bar.

—"Well," said Douglas Jerrold to the collector of a fund in behalf of a suffering friend, "how much does —— want this time?" "Why, just four and two naughts will, I think, put him straight," the bearer of the hat replied. "Well," said Jerrold, "put me down for one of the naughts."

From the Springfield Republican.

ORTHODOXY AND HETERODOXY.—The spring season for lectures, sermons and conversations seem about closing. I suppose Mr. Potter of New Bedford, who was kept away from Horticultural Hall by the great storm, is yet to have his chance. If Mr. Abbot or Mr. Frothingham, who are reckoned the chief of the Horticultural 'blasphemers,' had been thus detained, I presume the snow-drifts would have been styled providential, and, perhaps, would have been considered an answer to prayer. Mr. Potter is less obnoxious in his heresy, or, perhaps, only more mild in his speech. Mr. Phillips is also to have a chance in the course, and he dissents so considerably from the more "pronounced" of the radicals that, as a relief, the orthodox people look with interest to his discourse.

According to "North," who writes from Boston to the Anti-Slavery Standard, the Shawmut avenue and Freeman place managers made a mistake when they invited Rev. Dr. Peabody; at any rate he differed widely in his scriptural views from Rev. Dr. Seelye, who followed him. But I suppose Dr. Peabody hates the heretics, and this is about as good as loving the evangelists. Every man has his conservative side, they say, however radical he may be; and the same may be said of every course of lectures, and Mr. Phillips stands for conservatism in the Horticultural Hall series. But nobody talks like him, and the announcement of his name will put money into the treasury of the managers of the course, at any rate.

Mr. Wasson's discourse, many people think, was the ablest of the whole series. One of my friends, who is too conscientious to allow anybody to visit the Boston Library on Sunday, but to whom I loaned the "Vicar of Bullhampton" for his last Sabbath's recreation, is delighted with Mr. Wasson's essay. He is an anti-miracle Christian, and does not believe a word about the resurrection; but he draws the line just there; and when Frothingham intimates that the altar to the unknown God which Paul saw in Athens was a very proper one, and when Abbot compares Socrates with Jesus, not unfavorably to the Athenian sage, he expressed a great deal of indignation. For my part, however, I cannot see why any man who rejects the resurrection and the miracles, and the verbal inspiration of the scriptures, and the whole supernatural character of Christ and his religion, should turn up his nose at Mr. Frothingham or Mr. Abbot. If this is the correct view, it may be very bad taste to say that Socrates is as great as Jesus, but it is bad taste in the same sense that it is bad taste to say that Milton or Goethe is as great as Shakspeare—and not blasphemy or wickedness at all.

If these Unitarian evangelicals could be brought into court and put under the cross-examination of a sharp lawyer—I should like to recommend Henry F. Durant for that purpose—I don't see why they would not show themselves as great heretics as the worst of the Horticultural Hall people. But you cannot catch Dr. Bellows and put him on the stand—so he passes for a very middling sort of a Christian, even among the orthodox themselves.

THE PICKLED WATCH.—The other day we met Wiggins, and he had a silver-cased watch—hunting-case, at that. We had known Wiggins five-and-twenty years, and never knew him to carry a watch before. We asked him where he got it. He gave us a nod and a leer, and said he'd tell us.

"Last fall," he commenced, "I killed the old brindle cow, and put the best part of her into the beef-barrel. She was fat, and the beef was nice; and I had nigh onto a full barrel. I didn't want to make it very salt, so I set it out in the shed, where the frost might touch it and keep it; and you'd better believe it made good eatin'.

"One day my wife says to me,—says she 'Wiggin, 'pears to me our beef is goin' mighty fast.' I went and looked and, sure enough, it was goin'—goin rather faster'n I thought it ought to. 'I've noticed it lowerin' onaccountably this long time,' said my wife. 'Somebody is stealin' it. Why don't ye set a trap?'

But my neighbors were all good-hearted kind of folks,—though one or two of 'em might be just a leetle inclined to poke 'round where they didn't belong,—and I didn't want to hurt 'em. I concluded, howsumever, that it would be best to put the barrel, with what little of the beef was left, down cellar,—and I did it.

"Well,—when the beef was all used up, and I went to clear out the barrel, I found this watch in the pickle. It looked to me like Tom Sherman's watch. Tom had worked for me considerable, and I had seen him have the watch—or one very much like it. When I saw Tom I showed him the watch, and he said, right off, it was his.

'How'd ye lose it?' said I.

'I carried it in my pocket without any chain, and must have dropped it out when I was stoopin,' said he.

'Well,' said I, 'then ye must have been stoopin' over my beef-barrel, for I found it in the pickle!'

'With that Tom looked kind of sheepish; and I guess he saw the twinkle in my eye.'

'Let me look at that ere watch agin,' said he.

'He looked at it a little while, and then he handed it back to me.'

'On the whole, Mr. Wiggin,' says he 'I guess that ain't my watch, arter all. It must belong to somebody else.' And with that he walked off.

'I carried the watch to our jeweller, and he found that the cases had shut so tight that the works hadn't been pickled a bit; and for a dollar he cleaned it up in good shape, and set it a runnin'. It's a first-rate timekeeper, and I reckon that whoever took my beef paid all 'twas worth.'

Parlor billiards are the freshest spasm.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is even restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre, and the scent of perfume.

DECLINE OF AMERICAN COMMERCE. The following message, communicated by President Grant to Congress, presents a subject of great importance, and one upon which statesmen should bestow their best thought. The President suggests, as a solution of the difficult problem, direct granting of bounties. To other minds the reduction of taxation upon ship-building materials, and taking off the duties upon them may seem preferable. Possibly, a plan involving all these may be found requisite. At any rate, President Grant does himself honor, and the country a service, in manifesting in so decided a manner his interest in this matter of prime importance—a matter involving both the prosperity and the pride of the nation.

In the executive message of December 6th to Congress, the importance of taking steps to revive our decaying merchant marine was urged, and a special message was promised at a future day during the present session, recommending more specifically plans to accomplish this result. Now that the committee of the House of Representatives entrusted with the labor of ascertaining the cause of the decline of American commerce has completed its work and submitted its report to the legislative branch of the government, I deem this a fitting, time to execute that promise. The very able, calm and exhaustive report of the committee, points out the grave wrongs which have produced the decline in our commerce.

It is a national humiliation that we now are compelled to pay from twenty to thirty millions of dollars annually, exclusive of passage money, which we should share with other nations, to foreigners for doing work which should be done by American-owned and manned vessels. This is a direct drain upon the resources of the country of just so much money, and equal to casting it into the sea, as far as the nation is concerned. A nation of the vast and ever increasing interior resources of the United States, extending, as it does from one to the other of the great oceans of the world, with its industrious, intelligent and energetic population, must one day possess a full share of the commerce of these oceans, no matter at what cost.

Delay will only increase the cost and enchance the difficulty of attaining that result. I therefore put in an earnest plea for early action in this matter in a way to secure the increase of American commerce. The advanced period of year, and the fact that no contracts for ship-building will probably be entered into until the question is settled by Congress, and the further fact that if there be delay all vessels contracted for this year will fall of completion before winter sets in, and will therefore be carried over another year, induces me to request your early consideration of this subject.

I regard it of such grave importance, affecting every interest of the country to so great an extent, that any method which will gain this end will secure the national blessing of building ships and navigating them, and utilizing the vast capital at home. This business employs thousands of workmen in constructing and manning. It creates a home market for the produce of the farm and shop. It diminishes the balance of trade against us, precisely to the extent of freights and passage-money paid to American vessels, and gives us supremacy upon the seas, of inestimable value in case of foreign war.

Our navy at the commencement of the late war consisted of less than 100 vessels of about 150,000 tons, and a force of about 8000 men. We drew from the merchant marine, which had cost government nothing, but which had been a source of national wealth, six hundred vessels, exceeding one million tons, and about 70,000 men, to aid in the suppression of the rebellion. This statement demonstrates the value of the merchant marine as a means of national defence in time of war. The committee on the cause of the reduction of American tonnage, after investigating the cause of its decline, submit two bills, which, if adopted, they believe will restore to the nation its maritime power.

Their report shows, with great minuteness, the actual and comparative American tonnage at the time of its greatest prosperity and the actual and comparative decline since, together with the causes, and exhibits other statistics of material interest in reference to the subject. As the report is before Congress, I will not recapitulate any of its statistics, but refer only to the method recommended by the committee to give back to us our lost commerce. As a general rule it can be adopted.

I believe that a direct money subsidy is less liable to abuse than indirect aid given to the same enterprise. In this case, however, my opinion is that subsidies, while they may be given to specific lines of steamers or other vessels, should not be exclusively adopted, but, in addition to subsidizing very desirable lines of ocean traffic, general assistance should be given in an effective way, and therefore I commend to your favorable consideration the two bills proposed by the committee, and referred to in this message. U. S. GRANT.

Agues,	Sleeplessness,	Restlessness,
Biliousness,	Dyspepsia,	Dizziness,

Constipation, Liver Complaint, Children's Troubles Diarrhœa, Consumption, &c., &c., &c.

Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS (and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.

Some folks can't get Sleep Nights.
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.

LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.

Look out for Colds!
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will cure itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE is mainly owing to its established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for a few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone. ap6 4w

Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH, Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the Fevers, which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.

Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. ap6 4w

The Daily Chronicle:

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1870.

☞ Whatever may be said against Gen. Butler's financial heresies, as they are viewed by some, (remarks the Newburyport Herald.) everybody must admit that we have never had a representative more assiduous in consulting the interests of his constituents. His attention having recently been called to the injustice and even absurdity of assuming that vessels, however old, are to be deemed for taxable purposes as good as new, and that the original cost, deducting only insurance and outfits, is the standard, without reference to the age on which to base the value for income return, he replies:—"I think that ship-owners have a right to complain, and will fully attend to the matter and see what can be done." What with the President's message and the general awakening to the subject, we begin to have hopes that our merchant marine interest will have some attention, and that this grievance, of which as Gen. Butler says our shipowners rightfully complain, will be remedied.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

SULPHUR BATHS.—Messrs. Editors:—On Tuesday I took a Sulphur Fume Bath. I had long wished to try one, but never could muster courage to do so before; you see I was brought up in the "evangelical" faith, and the mention of "sulphur" awakened unpleasant associations,—and it seemed kind of sacrilegious to get into sulphur smoke so soon, too. However, I faced it; and I'm not a bit sorry, now. I looked out for a quiet time, when no one was in sight who would be likely to tell our minister about it, and popped in. Soon I was shut up in a box, with my head sticking out through a hole in the top, and the tartarean vapor moderately cooking my body. Before I got out, my opinions on several subjects underwent a radical change.

I went in with an idea that I was a pretty clean kind of a man, personally; that little bit of human pride disappeared as soon as rivulets of mud commenced gently rippling down my back. I used to scoff at the idea of bad souls getting bleached to purity in the vapors of purgatory; now I know that it can be done—haven't I tried it, myself? I once had heretical opinions about being made of dust; now I'm steadfast in the true belief; for it was perspiration and dust mingled which made the mud rivulets before mentioned. I thought for a while that the sulphur man (I think he is a man—he wears boots like a man's, anyway, and they're both alike,) was going to resolve me into the original mud entirely, but he didn't; he let me out of the box, all right.

I donned my habiliments and came away. Until I reached the street, I had no idea how much the sulphur bath had exhilarated me. But when I did find out, I had hard work to hold myself; indeed, I am not sure I could have managed it at all, if it had not been for our minister. Just as I stepped into the street to challenge seven marines to a rough-and-tumble fight, I saw the minister coming, so of course I didn't challenge 'em. That just saved those marines.

The only way in which the sulphur bath annoyed me was, that it changed the intellectual pallor of my countenance, which the young ladies, and the young married ladies, think so interesting, (they wouldn't think it very interesting if they had such a dyspepsia as causes it,) into a most unromantic red; it quite spoiled the delicacy of my looks. And no one would have taken me for the pillar of Temperance which I am, either, just then. SULPHAX.

CARD.—Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Sawin take this method to return their sincere and hearty thanks to their boarders, who surprised them last Saturday evening with the present of a very handsome dining set, and hope they will never have occasion when using the set to leave the table hungry.—Con. Mon.

We should judge by the above, that our old friend "Marcus" and his estimable help mate have been supplying their friends in their usual free hearted and generous manner as purveyors, in additional proof of which, a long time boarder at their establishment recently took unto himself a wife to help enjoy the comforts of home with Mr. & Mrs. S. ☞ Success to the new firm—and the "old," and may the table never be left "hungry." ☞ Old Boreas has blown himself furious, lately, but "spelled" himself "just a bit" on Tuesday. Meanwhile, the wind which had been north-east for nearly two weeks, took the opportunity to veer to the south-east, and might be westerly now if it had kept on in "the good old way."

RUM AND WATER FIXED HIM.—William Burchell, delirous from the effects of liquor, jumped into the Genesee River from a bridge, and was immediately carried over the high falls and probably into Lake Ontario.

☞ There is to be a general change in the stock company at Selwyn's Theatre, Boston, at the close of the present season. But few of the present principals will remain and among those who retire are Mrs. Barry and Messrs. Robinson and Stuart Robson. The Boston Advertiser says it seems hard, and, as we cannot help thinking it, somewhat unfortunate that we should be obliged to lose Mrs. Barry. Her professional record has been in every way more than satisfactory. Starting with the advantages of fine personal appearance, nice artistic feeling, and great natural gifts, she has steadily gained in every desirable characteristic as an actress, and to-day ranks with the very best leading ladies in the country. Lady Clara in the piece of the same name, Bella in "School," the heroine in "The Serpent on the Hearth," "Rosa Dartle" in "Little Em'ly," and most of all perhaps Frou-Frou—these and a host of other impersonations attest her mastery over her difficult art, and her rapid advance in power, subtilty and intensity.

Mrs. Barry has done something more, however, than to establish her right to a very high place as a histrionic artist; she has gained the thorough respect and esteem—we might say the affection—of a very large number of our citizens and of the very best of them. Her high personal character and worth, her beautiful refinement, and the atmosphere of purity which surrounds her, are a benediction to any theatre, especially in this age of the drama. We can only hope that in some way or other Boston may not lose her altogether, and that many others of the company so long a favorite with the public may continue to delight our citizens for many seasons yet to come.

THE CONCORD RAILROAD.—For several weeks past there have been many rumors current in this city and elsewhere, in relation to the question as to who will probably have the control of the Concord Railroad Corporation the ensuing year. We learn that it is now considered as settled beyond a doubt, by those persons having any means of knowing the facts in the case, that certain parties residing in this State and Boston have purchased a sufficient amount of stock, to elect an entirely new Board of Directors at the annual meeting of the stockholders in May next. The new board will consist entirely of active business men. It is well understood that either Ex-Gov. Smyth or Hon. Isaac Spaulding of Nashua will be the next President of the Corporation.—Manchester Union.

AMONG THE INDIANS.—Lieut. Herndon tells us that no tribes of aborigines are found in the deepest forests of South America, from the Andes to the Atlantic coast, that do not have and use Doct. PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE.—It has long been a desire to have a tonic for invalids which is both pleasant and agreeable to the taste. This we have in the "Standard Wine Bitters" of Mr. Alfred Speer. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Caution.—Audacious Counterfeit.

The reputation which, for many years, has attached to "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," as the STANDARD TONIC OF THE AGE, and the large demand for the article, not only in the United States but elsewhere, have provoked the cupidity of the COUNTERFEITING DRAGON, and it has been extensively SIMULATED and IMITATED by unscrupulous sharpers.

The most daring counterfeit of said article which has been attempted, has recently come to our knowledge. The engraved steel label on bottles containing the genuine bitters, with its beautiful vignette of St. George and the Dragon, its shield containing a warning against counterfeiters, and its note of hand for "one cent" at the foot, signed with our firm name, has been copied so closely, that the fraud can only be detected on a minute inspection. The dark label is also well counterfeited, and the wording on both the imitation and genuine, are precisely the same, the difference being simply in the execution of the work; that of the imitation being somewhat coarser than the genuine. Other counterfeits are on the market, which are in all particulars the same as described above, with the exception of a slight difference in the spelling of our name.

In addition to the above, these counterfeiters have gone so far in some instances as to place a strip of paper over the cork and fasten to the neck of the bottle, on which is a vignette, and otherwise printed to resemble the general appearance of our proprietary U. S. Revenue stamp, but upon inspection will disclose the absence of the figure "4," and the words "four cents," also "United States Internal Revenue," all of which, together with additional wording, appear on our genuine stamp. The public are, therefore, especially warned against these new COUNTERFEITS, and are advised to purchase HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS only of houses whose integrity is above suspicion. The true article is sold in bottles to exactly—never in bulk.—HOSTETTER & SMITH. apl

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would save 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

THE RUSSIAN CONCERT TROUPE will sing this evening at the Temple, and we expect from them a nice entertainment. Their national anthems are grand and the programme throughout is a fine one. After their appearance at Newburyport, last week, a musical critic in a communication to the Herald, pronounced the concert highly enjoyable. To use his own words:—

The performance throughout was characterized by an artistic beauty and finish as excellent as they were surprising; and surprising from the fact that, while the chorus of eleven voices had no piano or orchestral accompaniment to sustain it, the fine blending of the voices, the masterly character of the tone shading the oft occurring crescendo and diminuendo passages, and the perfect time in which the several parts were given, made of the whole, a harmony of surpassing richness.

In an encore piece, the "Cat Duo," by the baritone and tenor, we had as perfect an imitation of feline vocalization as one can imagine, which as it progressed caused roars of laughter in the audience, while the singers were as imperturbable as stones. The crowning piece, the "Prayer of the Cherubims," a slow, solemn and touching movement was sung superbly, and a person delighting in a harmony of pure vocalism, approaching the divine, therein found his most elevated desires sweetly responded to.

☞ Rev. J. C. Learned, of the Unitarian Church at Exeter, after a pastorate there of eight years, has left on account of his health, for St. Louis, where he is to take charge of a new society, at a salary of $2,500. A farewell levee was held by the ladies, and he was presented with a parting testimonial by the members of the society, in the shape of a valuable gold watch. He will be succeeded by Rev. Edward Crowninshield, of Marblehead, a young man.

Rev. Mr. L. is an intimate friend of Rev. Mr. DeNormandie of this city—who also, we fear, will lose his health, if he continues to work and study so assiduously as he is wont. We happen to know, accidentally, that he has had four or five urgent and attractive calls from abroad since his settlement here; and we should regard the loss of his health or himself from the city, as a public calamity. The new young rector of the Episcopal Church, also, has overworked himself in his endeavors for his parish, and is suffering somewhat in health. We think such men are too precious to be prematurely worn out.

☞ At Gilbert's Fruit Store, Daniel Street, dealers can purchase their supplies as cheap as in Boston—of Oranges, at present, Sweet Potatoes, Bananas, Peanuts; and almost all Fruits, foreign and domestic, in their season. Gilbert buys largely enough at wholesale, to ensure the lowest rates—for instance, 50 boxes of Oranges in two days; and his statements of an article can always be depended on. Besides Fruits, &c., his stock of Confectionery is always full, for wholesale or retail—Lozenges by the case of 50 boxes, &c., &c. He advertises the nice dates at 10 cts. per lb.

☞ Our old and valued correspondent I. F. H., in a recent private note, referring to a contemplated visit here, says, "Then I will find where Kitteryfore-side is, and see your future Park; and, if possible, that mysterious ground between Portsmouth and Dover, of which that little quagmire in Eliot was an imperfect type; for that only sank with loads of earth—this will not bear the weight of a paper railroad."

☞ It is customary for large numbers of citizens to visit the City Farm on Fast Days. The Almshouse will be open to the public to-morrow; but we are desired to say that children under twelve years of age will not be admitted, without their parents or guardians.

NAVAL.—Assistant Paymaster John C. Barnett has been detached from duty in the bureau of provisions and clothing, and ordered to the receiving ship Vandalia.

☞ The body found in the river last week at Newington, is recognized as that of James W. Buzzell of Newmarket, who disappeared November 30th.

☞ Engine Co. No. 3 has been disbanded, in accordance with the new programme for a reconstruction of the Fire Department.

☞ We hear that the members of an amateur theatrical company of Newmarket contemplate visiting this city shortly.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

KITTERY, ME., April 4.

That "it is more blessed to give than to receive," a number of the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Lydia A. Trefethen, (who had her barn destroyed and her house damaged by fire, recently,) who assembled at her house on the evening of March 30th, and donated a full larder of provisions, groceries, etc., can testify. Had the covetous and niggardly been there, they might have learned a lesson it would do them good to learn—that the pleasure of gathering wealth is trifling when compared with the pleasure of worthily bestowing a portion of it on the less fortunate.—This was in addition to the sums of money contributed by the townsmen, to assist in rebuilding the barn.

The average temperature here, from Dec. 15, 1869, to April 1, 1870, morning, noon and night, has been 30 2-100. Average at noon, 35 72-100. There were 34 cloudless days from Jan. 1 to April 1, 1870.

Wentworth Encampment, Post No. 14, G. A. R. of Kittery, have voted to procure likenesses of all the soldiers connected with the regiments from this vicinity, who lost their lives during the war, to decorate their Hall. Many of these pictures will be furnished by the relatives of the deceased soldiers. K. M.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off; and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.
It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.
One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats: while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats.—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.
The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.
The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

which are for sale at the

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.
The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.
Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the
OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company
The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other
The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.
Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.
Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.
The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 250 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to its proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 153 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.
Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.
Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.
The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.
The Bonds are in denominations of
$1000, $500, and $100.
They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or
The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or
The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.
The three classes will be known respectively as:
1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."
2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."
3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.
They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.
The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.
The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.
A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.
The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.
Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.
The present price is 90 and accrued interest.
A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.
Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.
P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc. which will be furnished upon application.
☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 22dawcm

Morning Chronicle.

Reported for the Chronicle and Gazette.

EXETER HORTICUL'L SOC'Y.—Subject for Discussion "Farming for Profit."—Saturday Evening. Hervey Kast:—Thinks a grass crop the most profitable; would cultivate a small amount and well; make 1 acre produce as much as 4 now do. Allow no weeds to grow; they sap the ground to no good advantage, and are of no earthly consequence. Care should be taken to save all refuse matter about the house, such as ashes, soap suds, &c. Think it would in many cases pay better to allow a portion of land to grow to wood and concentrate the labor on a few acres. Think it pays better to keep nothing but the best stock. Do not believe in fencing to divide a farm; have only portable division fences; by this means a long furrow may be made, and much time saved in turning about.

W. P. Moulton:—Would have my labor done in as short time as possible; last season cut $400 worth of hay and fed it out; think I should have been better off to have sold the hay. Hear if ashes can be procured handily, they are an advantage to a farm and will pay a profit.

Thomas R. Davis:—Good crops can be obtained only by good dressing; but this must be continued, or it will soon run out, and the amount first put on will not as a general thing increase the yield enough to pay a profit on the amount invested.

Jacob P. Cilley:—Says land must be well dressed and taken care of to pay; have some doubts about a large amount of dressing put on once ever paying a profit; think ashes are good to some extent, but if continued on the same land a few years, believe poor results will follow; and in the end will not pay a profit. Exeter, April 5. C.

MODERN FARMING.—Farming is a profession, not to say a science. If any one doubts this statement let him leave his city home—for no one bred in the country will doubt it—and undertake to cultivate even a garden of half an acre for half the summer. He will then find that knowledge is as essential to the right use of the spade as of the pen, and that there is as great a difference between the scientific farming of Flanders, where literally not a weed is to be seen, and that of many of our farmers, the wealth of whose soil is about equally divided between fruit and weeds, as between the trade of a modern commercial city and the barter of a backwoods settlement.

It is true that many agriculturists are content to go on in the ways of their fathers, because experiments are costly. But it is also true that they are unable to compete with those who understand the use of new instruments, methods and fertilizers. Agriculture is also becoming in this country a popular recreation. Many a gentleman is content to spend on his country-seat money which he makes in the counting-room. The practical farmer is thus able to get the benefit of experiments without paying for them. * * It will not be long before something of a library will be a part of the furniture of every well-ordered farm. — Harper's Magazine.

AN ANALOGY. — At the Lancaster townmeeting it was preambled that the Town Liquor Agency "has been heretofore used as a shield for the illicit sale of spirituous liquors, and also falsely charged as the cause of much open and shameless drunkenness," and it was therefore voted that the selectmen "be authorized and instructed to sell what liquors may be in possession of the Agent, or belonging to the town, to some city or town agent, the proceeds to be applied to the liquidation of the town indebtedness."

That vote is all very well so far as Lancaster is concerned, but to sell the liquors to some other town would seem to be only foisting off a curse from Lancaster upon the shoulders of some other unfortunate locality. On reflection it reminds us of "a little story," as A. Lincoln was wont to say, of how a woman got converted at a camp-meeting, and on arising to free her mind the next day stated, among other things, that she was convinced that by following vain and frivolous fashions she had well nigh dragged her soul to the jaws of hell; that she had henceforth foresworn all vain gewgaws, and lastly that she had transferred all her fancy trappings to her sister.—Patriot.

This reminds us of the usual practice of selling or swapping a horse, if a man gets one that is good for nothing for anybody.

CLEANING COAT COLLARS.—A lady writes to the American Agriculturist: "For cleaning coat collars and all woolen goods, I recommend the soap-tree bark (Quillaya saponaria,) which can be procured at the drug stores. Break a piece about two inches square into small bits, and pour over it a half a pint of boiling water; and let it stand an hour or two, then sponge the collar well with the liquid; and a second sponging with clear water will clean it nicely. Both washing and rinsing water should be as warm as for flannel. We have, by using this bark, washed black and blue Empress cloths successfully, and have cleaned hair cloth chairs which had been soiled by contract with the head."

—Why is the earth like a blackboard? Because the children of men multiply upon the face of it.

—Mr. Robert B. Roosevelt recently lectured in Baltimore on "Fish Culture," and these lines formed a part of the effort:—

"In silver brook, in lillied pool,
Beneath brown bowlders jutting out,
Where trees and trembling rills were cool,
Dwelt happily our trout;
A speckled beauty for his bride,
In orange, silk and silver lawn,
With not one care beneath the tide—
Except to love and spawn.

How gleam their silver sides below,
How calm the kiss of throbbing gills,
As o'er the bank, with caution slow,
Thy peering poacher wheels!
One splash! the bride remains—but oh!
She sees the gaff her lord impale,
And now in weeds of trostly woe
She wags her futile tail."

—Among the bills for public expenses recently presented to the Commissioners of Humboldt, California, is one of $50 for "chickens used in swearing Chinamen." Whenever a Chinaman is sworn as a witness in court, a chicken-cock must be slaughtered in his presence, and it is suggested that a state henery be established to aid the Chinamen in telling the truth.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET,
FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, MARCH 31.
[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 985; Sheep and Lambs 4157; Swine 180; number of Western Cattle 719; Eastern Cattle 31; Northern Cattle and Working Oxen 252. Cattle left over —.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $13 00 @ $13 50; first quality $12 25 @ $12 75; second quality $11 50 @ $12 00; third quality $10 00 @ $11 25; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $7 50 @ $9 50 ℔ cwt, (the total weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 8 @ 8½c ℔ lb; Country Hides 7½ @ 8c ℔ lb.

Brighton Tallow 6½ @ 7½c per lb; Country Tallow 6 @ 7c ℔ lb.

Sheep and Lamb Skins $1 50 @ $1 75 each; Calf Skins 16 @ 18c ℔ lb.

The Western Cattle cost higher this week, and there was not a large supply in market. Prices were from 25 @ 50c ℔ cwt. in advance of those last week. The trade was quick, and some few of the best Cattle were sold at 13½ @ 14c ℔ lb. The quality was fair. There were but few Cattle in market from Maine, mostly Working Oxen, for which there has been a fair demand.

Store Cattle—Most of the small Cattle that are in a fair condition are bought up to slaughter. There are but few Stores in market except Working Oxen and Milch Cows.

Working Oxen—The supply in market was not large this week, but enough for the demand. We quote sales at $235, $185, $160, $150, $165, $205, $220, $235, $290 ℔ pair.

Milch Cows—Extra, $83 @ $115; ordinary $50 @ $80; Store Cows $37 @ $55 ℔ head. Most of the Cows offered for sale are of a common grade. Prices depend a great deal upon the fancy of the purchaser.

Sheep and Lambs—Extra, a select lot, $5 @ $8 75 ℔ head; ordinary lots $2 50 @ $4 50 ℔ head, or from 5 @ 8½c ℔ lb. Most of the Sheep brought in from the West are taken direct to the slaughter houses at a commission.

Swine—Wholesale 10 @ 11c ℔ lb; retail 11 @ 12c ℔ lb; select lots 12c. But few Pigs in market and the trade was somewhat better than it has been of late.

Market days this week, on account of Fast Day, will be on Tuesday and Wednesday.

$100 IN PREMIUMS
FOR INDIAN CORN.

Fully convinced that this vastly valuable crop can be greatly increased by the judicious selection of seed, the subscriber offers premiums for corn grown in New Hampshire in A. D. 1870 as follows: For the best 100 ears of eight-rowed Corn, $25 00
" 2d " 100 " " " " 15.00
" 3d " 100 " " " " 10.00
Same number of two or triple ears upon the stalks, received same as above. The traces must be secured by cords upon boards or otherwise, so as not to break, and reach the subscriber at City Hall, Manchester, by noon of the last Tuesday of December next, at which time and place the awards will be made. Size, beauty and quality, both of the ears and grain, to be considered in awarding the prizes.

Each 100 ears must be grown upon one farm, and upon plots of not less than one acre. The four premium traces to be retained by subscriber for distribution. Method of cultivation must be furnished in writing, or made verbally at time so it may be written. New Hampshire's best farmers believe that more than two hundred thousand dollars a year of the money now sent out of the State for corn, could be saved by a judicious selection of seed corn.

Farmers, freely giving you my time and money, I earnestly pray you to make an exhibition that shall honor yourself and the State.

The committe are to have no means of knowing the owners of the corn until after the awards are made. The Committee are as follows:

LEVI BARTLETT, Esq., D. M. CLOUGH, Esq.,
CHAS. H. HAYES, Esq., T. E. HATCH, M. D.,
JAMES O. ADAMS, Esq., Hon. CHAS. JONES,

A STOVE FOR THE TIMES!!!
THE SAMPLE COOK.
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
With or Without Extension Tops.
A first class Stove at a Very Low Price.
A NEW ARTICLE RECENTLY BROUGHT OUT!
The Neatest Stove in the Market.
The fall of Gold calls for lower-priced goods, and to meet this demand the SAMPLE COOK is offered to the public. The rapid sale it has already met proves it to be what is wanted at the present time.
It has a large, quick oven; is economical, convenient, and durable. There is a sifting-grate in the hearth which can be arranged for broiling meats, without allowing the smoke to escape into the room,—a very desirable feature.
A slow-baking stove is not worth house-room. Housekeepers who wish to purchase one that is warranted to bake quick, with little fuel, and keep fire the year round, should buy a SAMPLE COOK. For Sale by SWEETSER & CLARK, mh22 No. 46 Market Street.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of soiling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from falling or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

WHAT SONG SHALL IT BE?

What shall it be? What song
Will win your fancy, dear,
And move your heart to sing
As mine is moved to hear?
Shall it be gay or sad—
Bright as the linnet's strain,
Or full of unshed tears
That deaden life with pain?

I touch the keys and wait,
Watching those dreamy eyes,
That hide their thoughts, as stars
Are hid in bluest skies;
No furtive flash betrays;
There is no tell-tale gleam;
Help me then, dear, to try
And read your waking dream.

Say, shall the song be rife
With summers of the past,
With rosy blossoms shed,
With sunshine overcast?
Shall scenes and sounds that were
In pleasant memories throng,
And song give life again
To days when life was song?

Shall sadder fancies find
An echo in the tone,
Till we are moved to weep
O'er sorrows not our own?
Or shall heroic deeds
Move us to fierce delight,
As when a clarion thrills
The pulses of the night?

Shall laughter bubbling rise,
Like streams that seaward go,
And, prodigal of life,
Wrestle to overflow?
Or 'neath a deeper spell,
Say, shall the music move,
Stirring the hearts of all,—
Shall it discourse of love?

Ah! dreamy eyes, that hide
Their secret thought so well,
A burning cheek reveals,
A silent lip can tell.
What need to ask the strain
That youth to youth will bring?
Love it has ever sung,
Love it will ever sing.

☞ The Western Monthly for April contains a sketch of Mr. John G. Whittier, which includes the following letter from the poet to Mr. John Neal, dated in 1828:—

"My Dear Neal—You dislike—I believe you do at least—the blank verse of our modern poets and poetesses. Nevertheless, I send you a long string of it. If you don't like it, say so privately, and I will quit poetry and everything else of a literary nature: for I am sick at heart of the business. Insult has maddened me. The friendless boy has been mocked at, and years ago he vowed to triumph over the scorners of his boyish endeavors. With the unescapable sense of wrong burning like a volcano in the recesses of his spirit, he has striven to accomplish this vow, until his heart has grown weary of the struggle."

BABIES.—Bro. Sherwood, of the Queens Advertiser, seems determined on working up the population of Queens. In the last issue of his paper he offers the following inducements to the residents of that village to aid him in the good work:

"Notices of marriages and births, we insert cheerfully and gratuitously, and undertake to furnish a copy of the Advertiser, free of cost, twelve months, to the parents of every child born at Queens in the years 1870-71. A plentitude of children denotes thrift, health and domestic cheer. We used to think it was delightful to hug the girls; but it is positive ecstacy to hug babies, and we propose to hug all the fresh cherubs of Queens through the columns of the Advertiser, and by giving a certificate of title for one year to a copy of our paper. So go ahead, and bring in your notices as fast as you please."

AUTHORITIES ON ADVERTISING.—"Without advertising, I should be a poor man to-day."—H. T. Helmbold.

"My success is owing to my liberality in advertising."—Robert Bonner.

"Advertising has furnished me with a competence."—Amos Lawrence.

"I advertised my productions and made money."—Nicholas Longworth.

"Constant and persistent advertising is a sure prelude to wealth."—Stephen Girard.

"He who invests one dollar in business should invest one dollar in advertising."—A. T. Stewart.

P. T. Barnum, the noted exhibitor, ascribes his success in accumulating a million dollars in ten years to the unlimited use of printer's ink.

"A man who is liberal in advertising is liberal in trade, and such a man succeeds while his neighbor with just as good goods fails and drops out of market."—Horace Greeley.

A STRIKING INSTANCE OF MEANNESS. Mark Twain produces one of the most striking cases of meanness on record. He says he knows of an incorporated society which hired a man to blast a rock, and he was punching powder in with a crowbar, when a premature explosion followed, sending the man and crowbar out of sight. Both came down again all right, and the man went to work again promptly. But though he was gone only fifteen minutes, the company "docked him for lost time."

Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints;) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights.
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Look out for Colds!
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will cure itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use this standard remedy, and so far abstain from liquids and kinds as to keep the system thirsty for a few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone. ap5tw
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH, Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING the Nervine is a more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health, and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of Alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. ap5tw

General Butler's negro boy having failed at West Point, he has now appointed as cadet the son of Mr. Colby, the democratic editor of the Newburyport Herald, and member of the legislature.

During the discussions pending the selection of a jury for the trial of McFarland in New York, the counsel for the prisoner said that he should show that there had been a long conspiracy to destroy McFarland, and the developements would appall the public.

The report of the Superintendent of Freedmen's Schools shows that there has during the past year been a large increase in the number of schools, teachers and scholars, an improved system of instruction and much more tolerance of the schools on the part of the whites.

The legal rate of interest in California is 10 per cent.

Late intelligence from San Domingo states that the chief opponents of the annexation of the republic to the United States are the priesthood.

Nearly everybody was vaccinated in Paris last month—the ladies, of course, included. Many of them, however, disliked to disfigure their arms, and for this reason it became quite fashionable to be vaccinated in the leg. Nice for the doctors!

The San Francisco Figaro says:—It is said that the News Letter man, who so vilely abused "poor little Eliso Holt," is "going after" Lydia Thompson, when she comes here. In that case the cowhiding-blonde will probably lift him out of his present condition of a-basement, and make a second Storey of him.

ELECTIONS.—Mr. Peck, republican, has been elected by 2000 majority to Congress from the 10th Ohio district, in place of Truman H. Hoag, deceased.

Cleveland, Ohio, gave 1100 Republican majority on Tuesday.

The Republican city officers in Cincinnati are chosen by 3000 to 4500 majority. The city council is Republican. Of the school committee, 26 favor the reading of the Bible in the public schools, and 22 oppose it.

Returns from all the wards show the election of 11 Radicals, 3 Democrats and one Independent Alderman, and 8 Radical and 3 Democratic school directors, in St. Louis.

Full returns from Connecticut show that Gov. English's majority is 810. The vote for Jewell is 43,320; for English 44,130; total, 87,450. The total vote one year ago was 90,575, including ten scattering. The decrease is 3125. The Republican vote is 2173 less, and the Democratic vote 952 less. The Senate stands 11 Republicans to 10 Democrats; last year 13 Republicans to 8 Democrats. The House stands 127 Republicans to 112 Democrats; last year, 130 to 108.

A FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT RATIFICATION.—No little sensation has been produced in Newton, Sussex county, by the discovery of the certainty of an addition to the population by a young mulatto girl named Mary White. Three young radical voters of the town have fled, and another radical, a young married man named Thomas Lewis, has been incarcerated.—Newark Journal.

The New Jersey copper man is mistaken in imagining the immorality of these "young radical voters" to be a "fifteenth amendment ratification;" for the culprits were but partially following the evil example which the Chivalry set the world for scores of years, unrebuked by the papers which are now so ready to condemn the offences of the "radicals." — Their copy of chivalric customs would have been perfect had they attempted to sell the "addition to the population."

Mrs. Sarah Currier of Warner, aged 76 years, was found dead in her house on Monday last, her clothes having caught fire from the stove.

Senator Patterson has accepted an invitation to deliver the next annual address before the New Hampshire Historical Society.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

ANNEXATION.—No more annexation. In the Convention, which framed the Federal Constitution, a patriotic member expressed his fears that our original thirteen States were too extensive for a Republic. Our Republic now contains more than three-fold the original number of States, and yet there are some professed statesmen, who advocate the annexation of foreign territory! The ancient Republic consisted of small territories and were therefore more easily governed. It is true that our form of Government is different in some important respects. But certain it is, that the enlargement of our territory tends to centralization—to increase the power of the Federal government and therefore to lessen the authority of the State government. The Historic record informs us that when the Imperial governments had been extended by conquests over a large portion of the Earth, they "tumbled to pieces by their own weight.' The mere name of a Republic may not save us, unless we learn wisdom by their fate. For under that name our government may gradually be changed into an arbitrary Imperial government. Let us reflect, what heterogeneous masses of foreign immigrants are by thousands and millions annually coming to inhabit our Republic. Most of them are ignorant of our political institutions, and policy. They have heard that this is a free country, by which they understand that every man is at liberty to do what he sees fit?

That the safety of our institutions requires the enactment of new naturalization laws, cannot be doubted by our enlightened citizens. The ignorant, superstitious Chinese are coming down upon us by multitudes, like an avalanche from the Celestial Empire, which has a degraded population of three hundred millions. Without some salutary measures, they may get the political control on the Pacific coast. But some, who are called statesmen, seem to be desirous of annexing Cuba, a Spanish province. Let us look into this matter. While we may hope that the Cubans may gain their Independence, it is a very different matter to desire their annexation to our Republic because part of the Island is very fertile, producing the tropical fruits. Cuba was discovered by Columbus in 1492. It is situated between the 19th and 23d degrees, N. Latitude. It is about 800 miles long, and in width varies from 25 to 150 miles. Only about one-twelfth of the island is under cultivation—most of the island is mountainous. There is a vast preponderance of trade with this country over any other. But should Cuba be annexed to the United States, and of course all its people become free, we should have to pay a higher price for the products of the island, for slave labor being abolished, every person could set the price of products of his own labor. All we could gain would be exemption from import and export duties, which would not balance the increased prices.

But there is a very strong radical objection to annexation. The people generally are very ignorant, superstitious, and governed, like the people of Spain, by Roman catholic priests, and the latter are subject to the authority of the Roman Pontiff. They are all wholly unfit to live under a free government. The statistics of 1850 show that the population in 1850 consisted of 436,100 colored slaves, 520,000 Creoles—35,000 Spaniards—23,000 troops and marines, 10,560 foreigners—17,000 floating population—118,000 free mulattoes—and 87,370 Free Blacks; in all 1,247,230. The present population now exceeds, probably, one million and a half. By annexation the male adults of all classes would become legal voters in respect to our national affairs.

To govern such a people, the United States would be required to maintain a standing army and Naval Station, at a great annual expense upon the Island; but the expense would be a small objection in comparison to other objections. The objections to the annexation of Cuba apply with equal force to the acquisition of San Domingo by Treaty.

REPUBLICAN.

☞ The U. S. Senate has passed a resolution, in concurrence with the House, directing an inquiry into the circumstances of the Oneida disaster. Mr. Stewart of Nevada remarking that he regarded the conduct of Capt. Eyre as an instance of shocking inhumanity, and believed it to be the duty of the Navy Department to institute a thorough examination as an act of justice to those lost, and to enable the world to know the facts, that the reprobation of mankind might be visited upon the guilty.

Rev. Francis W. Towle of Claremont has decided not to accept the presidency of New London Academy.

Manchester claims to have over four hundred residents who are taxed on incomes of $1000 and over.

The Patriot learns that just before the recent great musical festival in San Francisco, Mrs. Frank Clement, nee Miss Marcy, of Hillsborough Bridge, received a letter from Camilla Urso, requesting her to join the festival as soloist, which she did, ranking as second among the contraltos of the city on that occasion.

The largest income returned in Manchester is Mr. Blood's, $24,452; in Concord, Nathaniel White reports $39,521; in Nashua, Isaac Spalding gives in $40,000.

An old lady named Holt, aged 89 years, living in Concord, near the hostelry commonly known as the "Break o' Day," fell while walking across the floor, and fractured the thigh bone of her left leg. Fifteen years ago she fell in the same manner and broke the thigh bone of her right leg. She partially recovered the use of the limb, but has been obliged to use crutches most of the time since.

An interesting lawsuit for three days occupied the Supreme Court in Manchester. Mrs. Eliza Sanford of Boston brought action against the town of Candia to secure damages alleged to have been received by being overturned from a wagon on account of a defect in the highway. The jury returned a verdict for the town. Col. John H. George made a very able argument in behalf of the town.

At the Fair of the Hillsborough County Society, at Milford, next Fall, the premium list just issued is made on a new plan. Diplomas, which have heretofore occupied a secondary position to money premiums, lead in the new list, which embraces 57 diplomas, and premiums to the amount of about $400.

The Central House, South Hampton, which has been under the proprietorship of Mr. G. B. Hoyt, has been leased by Mr. Fred. Silloway, one of the best soldiers in the 3d N. H. Regiment. He was one of the seven members of that gallant organization who received the "Gillmore Medal," bearing the inscription: "Presented by Q. A. Gillmore, Maj. General, for gallant and meritorious conduct." On the above is Mr. Silloway's name, company and regiment, with a design of Fort Sumter, and the date, "Aug. 23, 1863."

The Eighth Regiment will have a reunion at Nashua on the 8th and 9th of July. An effort is making to have General Paine, their old commander, now a member of Congress from Milwaukee, present.

In the town of Plaistow, nineteen children have been born within the past seven months, seventeen of the number being of the "male pursuasion," and all well. The eldest is a daughter of John N. Sleeper, Esq., representative elect to the Legislature. She is only seven months old, but on her birthday she "came out" into society. She issued cards of invitation to her junior friends, that a call would be agreeable to her; the invitation was universally accepted, and the little tots promptly appeared, making Mr. Sleeper's parlor resound with their new-born prattle. Mr. S. presented each of the infant guests with a silver knife and fork, a silver spoon and napkin ring, each appropriately marked with the name of its intended owner. At the end of the ceremony, the Plaistow light infantry repaired to their respective quarters, which they reached in good order.

For an April fool sell in Dover, a box arranged like a cage and labelled "Woodcock" was set by the middle door of the F. W. B. Printing Establishment, and as the curious bent down to look in, they saw a wooden faucet or stop-cock perched there, and the laugh of those on the lookout for victims told what was up. To add to the fun, as the box stood where the Expressman was wont to find whatever he was to take from the establishment to the depot, he very coolly picked woodcock up and,—the lookers on laughed—it would not do to back out, and the show travelled to the Station to gain new victims. [No harm in a little fun like this, perhaps; but Uncle Toby used to say that those who best succeeded in fooling other people, were the biggest fools themselves.]

Rev. Clark Carter, recently of Newponset, Mass., has accepted a call from the Congregational Church at Great Falls.

☞ The Boston Journal ferociously favors the abolition of the income tax.

HAVE YOU A COUGH, Cold, Pain in the Chest, or Bronchitis? In fact, have you the premonitory symptoms of the "insatiate archer," Consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which, in many cases where hope had fled, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Caution.—Audacious Counterfeit.

The reputation which, for many years, has attached to "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," as the STANDARD TONIC OF THE AGE, and the large demand for the article, not only in the United States but elsewhere, have provoked the cupidity of the COUNTERFEITING TRIBE, and it has been extensively SIMULATED and IMITATED by unscrupulous sharpers.

The most daring counterfeit of said article which has been attempted, has recently come to our knowledge. The engraved steel label on bottles containing the genuine bitters, with its beautiful vignette of St. George and the dragon, its shield containing a warning against counterfeiters, and its note of hand for "one cent" at the foot, signed with our firm name, has been copied so closely, that the fraud can only be detected on a minute inspection. The dark label is also well counterfeited, and the wording on both the imitation and genuine, are precisely the same, the difference being simply in the execution of the work; that of the imitation being somewhat coarser than the genuine. Other counterfeits are on the market, which are in all particulars the same as described above, with the exception of a slight difference in the spelling of our name.

In addition to the above, these counterfeiters have gone so far in some instances as to place a strip of paper over the cork and fasten to the neck of the bottle, on which is a vignette, and otherwise printed to resemble the general appearance of our proprietary U. S. Revenue stamp, but upon inspection will disclose the absence of the figure "4," and the words "four cents," also "United States Internal Revenue," all of which, together with additional wording, appear on our genuine stamp. A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

"Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cts."

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WCOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is much certain, far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM,

Can be taken as a fact. Let all afflicted test it at once. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ Fast Day services to-day at the Unitarian, Universalist and Baptist churches.

☞ This being Fast Day, the Chronicle Office will be closed, and no paper issued on Friday.

☞ There are two saddle horses now owned by gentlemen in this city, neither of which, it is said, has ever had a carriage harness upon him.

☞ We are requested, by members of the Granite State Club, to state that there will be a Base Ball Match at the Plains, at half past 1 o'clock this afternoon, "mud or no mud."

☞ It was a singular coincidence that Uncle Toby, who labored all through life for the Anti-Slavery cause, should die on the very day in which President Grant proclaimed true liberty to all the people, by the 15th Amendment.

☞ Miss Cornelia Stetson, of Boston, who has sung in this city on a few public occasions, is now in Europe for the cultivation of her voice. Miss Annie M. Bernard, formerly of this city, is also said to intend a similar trip. Miss Edith Abell is also going abroad to study.

☞ We noticed on the Eastern Railroad track a few days since, a finely built passenger car for the European & No. American Railroad, en route for Bangor, built by the Randlett Car Co. at Laconia. It was a handsome specimen of what our New Hampshire mechanics can do in the way of car building.

☞ The ladies of the Methodist Episcopal Society, of this city, will hold a Fair at Congress Hall on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. This Fair has been deferred several weeks on account of the Revival meetings held here, but the Committee have been busy making arrangements to make this one of the most successful Fairs ever held here.

SAM SHARPLEY'S COMBINATION opens this evening at the Temple, with an attractive medley entertainment. Go and see the birds, cats and mice perform. The Portland Advertiser says Deering Hall was filled with the admirers of Logrenia, last week. "The chamber set which was displayed on the street perhaps assisted the charms of the conjurer, but the cats and mice rightly claim some of the credit of a crowded house."

☞ The venerable Hon. William Claggett of this city, completes his 80th year on the 8th of March inst.; and although he has been of late years rather feeble in health, he occasionally gives evidence in the columns of various papers of the State, that he still wields a pen with considerable vigor. Of later years also his personal power and influence have not been great; but there was a time when he was politically one of the strongest men in New Hampshire. We recollect when he was Collector of this port, and when he kept his span of horses and the handsomest team in the city. Few men not editors have written so much as he has. He is the oldest member of the Rockingham bar.

THE RUSSIANS' CONCERT at the Temple, on Wednesday evening, was one of the greatest musical treats ever offered here; perfect purity of tone, exactness of time, and marvellous sweetness and power, combined to make this entertainment an occasion to be remembered with delight by the lovers of sweet sounds. A tenor solo with chorus, in particular, we have never heard excelled in effective beauty by any effort of unaided voices. A comic duet (by Mozart,) convulsed every one but the singers, who were wondrously solemn. Two things interfered with our full enjoyment of the concert: the nine o'clock bell joining in, in the Ave Maria, and the smallness of the audience, —which, though fair, considering the weather, was nothing to what so rich a concert deserved. Many of our keenest musical critics were present; and the unusual warmth of the applause testified that a Portsmouth audience can be enthusiastic at a musical entertainment, if it is of the very highest order.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. Charles French of Farmington has matched his blooded mare "Rebel," brought from Virginia by Capt. Chas. Curtis, to go one hundred miles, from sun to sun, sometime in the forthcoming month of June. He backs his mare for $1000 that she can do the feat to harness in a trotting sulky weighing 68 pounds. The match will probably come off at Manchester and the day is to be selected sometime in June. "Farmington Girl" was disposed of by him last Fall to parties in New York city for $1500.

IN MEMORIAM UNCLE TOBY.

One more veteran gone!—Small the circle now
Of those staunch souls in noble works grown
Among the foremost he, with manly brow, [gray.
A mind unbiased to his latest day!
The Cause of Christ, of Liberty and Right,
For more than forty years his pen espoused;
All of Oppression, odious in his sight,
The glowing spirit of his nature roused!
I know him well,—champion of the Press,
Firm in his friendship, generous to his foes;
In that straight path that leadeth on to bless,
His honest efforts to distinction rose!
Kind to a fault, most genial in his ways,
The name of "Uncle Toby" well applies,
Some golden act links all his latter days,
Memorials worthy of his kindred's pride!]

Communication.

THE TRUE STATE OF THE CASE.—Messrs. Editors:—The particulars connected with the theft on board the U. S. S. Plymouth at this Naval Station, on Monday night, are as follows:

Two composition gun carriage wheels weighing one hundred and thirty-three pounds each, were stolen at about 9 o'clock in the evening of that day. There were no watchmen on board,—but two marines as sentries. The case was ferreted out and the rogues were brought to justice, by City Marshal F. B. Johnson and Assistant Marshal J. T. Mortimer, with the aid and assistance of Mr. D. L. Randall, the captain of the Navy Yard watch. Mr. Randall deserves great credit for his untiring efforts to bring the rogues to justice, for the benefit of himself and watchmen at the Navy Yard.

The cases of Gray and Sullivan have been continued to Saturday. James Stanley and Robert Conley, two seamen belonging to the Plymouth, were bound over for trial, for assisting in the robbery. Stanley states that there was plenty of rum used, that he was drunk at the time, and that rum was used to dull the senses of the marines on sentry duty.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea manifests it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earliest issues of Five-Twenties, affording the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $3,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $12,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 2tlaw3m

Morning Chronicle.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

STATE SUPERINTENDENCY OF SCHOOLS.

The law for several years in this State required the appointment of a School Commissioner in each County, and the Commissioners constituted the Board of Education. The Board met twice a year and adopted measures for the promotion of the interests of education; the County Commissioners visited each town in their respective counties, spending one day in a town, visiting schools and lecturing in the evening.

The arrangement seemed wise, but it had many deficiencies. First, the pay was so small that but little work could be performed. Second, in many instances those appointed Commissioners were not suitable persons. Some were students at law, who sought or accepted the office for a little pecuniary help; some were clergymen, who had as much on their hands, besides this, as they could well perform. Some, moderate as to abilities, obtained the place much through the influence of retired or broken down Professors in Literary Institutions, who in turn were to be employed in the Teachers, Institutes And some got the office as a reward for political services.

The result was, in some portions of the State, the whole thing became of no practical benefit to the common schools. Very few attended the evening lectures, so the parents and other friends were not reached; and the Teachers' Institutes became so unprofitable that but few teachers attended them.

The law of 1867 abolished the office of County Commissioners and provided for a State Superintendent at a salary of $1200 per year. If it was more, even $1500 or $2000, it would not be what the State ought to pay for this work. If there is to be but one man, he should be the strongest, the best educator in the State.

But one man is not enough. He cannot visit only a small portion of the State, nor become acquainted with the general interests of the schools and devise plans for their greater efficiency. He cannot hold a sufficient number of Teachers' Institutes. There should be others for Counties or Districts of two or three Counties.

There is feeling on this matter in our part of the State because as yet Rockingham County has had no practical benefit from the present Superintendency, save one small Teachers' Institute. The State Superintendent has a plan for lectures by some ministers or others, who will lecture for little or no pay. We predict nothing will come of this. Something that will reach our school interests as this cannot is absolutely demanded.

We hope our law-makers will do something soon. Our Common Schools are too important to be neglected much longer. EX-TEACHER.

☞ The Pittsfield Times says Hon. John Swett, of San Francisco, is expected to make a flying visit home next June. He has been successful in arranging terms with the officers of the Pacific Railroad, for an excursion of about fifty teachers from that city, to visit the schools in some of our Eastern States.

A COLORADO ROMANCE.—Seven miners, exploring the mountains, found an enormous chunk of gold. They fought for its possession till all were killed but one. It was too heavy for him to carry off, so he sat down beside it and starved to death.

Everett Quint of Orford, a young man of seventeen years, was recently instantly killed by a log rolling over him, while attempting to load it on a sled.

—Dona Piatt dined with Mr. Samuel Bowles in Washington, and asked him what was the secret of his success in journalism. "Energy and ugliness" was the prompt and characteristic answer, and Mr. Piatt generously informs the world that he thinks it was honest.

—We do not believe the story from Bridgeport, Conn., that the driver of a coal-cart anxiously inquired at several places in that city for the residence of Mr. James Nasium, after he had been directed to take a load of coal to the gymnasium.

—A boy's idea of having a tooth drawn may be summoned up as follows:—"The doctor hitched fast on me, pulled his best, and just before it killed me, the tooth came out."

—John Ruskin says, "It is only by labor that thought can be made healthy, and only by thought that labor can be made happy."

—"My, boy what does your mother do for a living?" was asked of a little barefooted urchin. "She eats cold victuals, sir."

—It is said that there is no holier spot of ground than a petroleum oil district.

THE WOMAN QUESTION SETTLED.—Females assort the mails in the San Francisco post-office.

AN EXCELLENT FERTILIZER.—One of the very best artificial fertilizers used upon our farm, for all the cereal grains and root crops, we have prepared in the following manner: Take one barrel of pure, finely-ground bone, and mix with it a barrel of good wood ashes; during the mixing, add gradually about three pailfuls of water. The heap may be made upon the floor of an outbuilding, or upon the barn floor; and, by the use of a hoe, the bone and ashes must be thoroughly blended together. The water added is just sufficient to liberate the caustic alkalies, potash and soda, and these react upon the gelatine of the bone, dissolving the little atoms, forming a kind of soap, and fitting it for plant aliment. In this way the most valuable constituents of bones can be made immediately available, and the addition of potash and soda aids in the formation of a fertilizer of inestimable value. The water added is not sufficient to make a pasty mass, difficult to dry, but is enough to liberate the strong alkalies from the ashes. This preparation is so cleanly, convenient and useful, every farmer should prepare as much as possible for his crops during the coming season. A little placed in a hill of corn will work wonders. It is excellent for garden vegetables, and for all kinds of roots. It must be used in small quantities, or in about the same way as the so-called superphosphates. A barrel of this mixture is worth two of any of the commercial fertilizers, and the cost will be but about half as much. It remains to be added, if the bone-meal and ashes are very dry, four pailfuls of water may be required; but care must be exercised not to have it inconveniently moist. It will be ready for use in a week after it is made. Pure, raw, finely-ground bone and the best of ashes should be employed.—Boston Jour. of Chemistry.

ON RAISING CORN.—As all cultivators of the soil are not favored with rich land or an abundance of manure; for the benefit of such I would state that corn can be raised on "poor plains," and with profit. I have raised corn for several years with different degrees of success, but with the following average of yield and cost to one acre of plains land:

Dr.
Two-thirds of a day plowing, self and oxen, at $1.50,	$2 00
Four loads manure, put in hill, at $2.50 per load, 1-2 for 1st year,	5 00
Carting on manure, half a day,	1 50
Harrowing, two hours,	50
Planting and seed,	3 00
Cultivating and hoeing, twice,	3 50
Topping stalks, soon after silks become dry,	1 50
Harvesting, viz:—getting in stalks and corn, and husking,	2 00
Interest on amt. invested in land, $10 per acre, at 6 per cent.,	60
Estimated cost of care of corn,	40
Total amount of expense,	$20 00
Cr.
Twenty bushels corn at $1,50,	$30 00
Stalks,	6 00
Butts,	4 00
Total amount of receipts,	$40 00

The receipts for corn fodder ($10) taken from the total expense ($20) makes the cost of twenty bushels of corn, $10; or, but 50 cents per bushel. EZRA F. BARBER, Epping, N. H., in Exeter News Letter.

GOOD DOG.—A physician of Andover, Mass., sends the following account of a remarkable instance of canine sagacity to the Boston Advertiser:—

I was called to see a patient living some distance from town. During my visit a daughter of the sick woman rode up, whereupon her husband exclaimed, —"The dog did reach her, after all." On asking for an explanation, he told me that having no one to send for his daughter, he had sent off, at noon the same day, his little black and tan terrier dog, with a note fastened to his neck, simply saying to him, "Go, sir, to Elmira's." At three o'clock the little fellow arrived at the daughter's house, having travelled a distance of seven miles, over an exceedingly difficult and tortuous route. The daughter recognized the dog, and reached her mother's house at five o'clock.

—A lady once, not very famous for research in theological lore, was listening to a discussion on the future existence of the soul, which drew out from the reasoners some remarks upon the parabolic teachings of the Bible, and also as to what heaven consisted of. Suddenly she asked, "Do you mean to say that heaven is not a city, with four gates and golden streets?" "Certainly not; that is only figurative." "Well, but the Bible says we shall have wings. Is that figurative?" "Decidedly." "Well, then," again she said, "where is soul to go?" "Everywhere. Heaven is the presence of God. He fills all space." "So I've got to go about all space. Ah me! If I've got to be flying about all the time in heaven, I'd rather stay here."

DO NOT USE CRACKED DISHES.—There is trouble often attendant upon cracked dishes; such dishes absorb oils or fats from the different kinds of food placed upon them. These fats soon decompose in the pores of the dish, and no amount of cleansing can remove the nauseating and poisonous deposit. Such dishes are filthy and unfit for use. The peculiarly unpleasant taste sometimes noticed upon pie crust is caused by their being baked upon old, cracked dishes, from which the rancid fat from previous baking has been absorbed.

BUBBLES.

O, when I was a little lad—
No care my moments to absorb—
It was the greatest joy I had
To launch the saponaceous orb;
But now the load of manhood's troubles,
Makes me heave sighs, and not blow bubbles!

Yet manhood has its hollow gauds,
And blows and puffs to make them bigger—
While each observant friend applauds,
Although he can see naught figure;
His chin's adorned by manly bubble,
Yet, like a child, he blows his bubble!

Then, ah! my friend, be warned by me;
Abjure a pipe—or only smoke one!
Let speculative soapsuds be,
For Fortune's joy is to provoke one;
And she for that her tricks redouble
If she can catch one blowing bubble.

To purse your lips up ne'er begin,
To swell the fine prismatic globe;
For when 'tis with inflation thin,
A breath will pierce it like a probe—
And you, as smarting eyes you rub, 'll
Exclaim, "Confound that bursted bubble!"

FATTENING CATTLE.—Mr. Bela S. Hastings, whose name is familiar to the readers of Cattle Market Reports, as one of the leading drovers from Vermont, gave his experience and observation in relation to fattening stocks at a late meeting of the Caledonia County Farmers' Club:

He said the main object of the farmer was to get the most out of his fodder. It does not pay to feed grain to a poor creature, one that does not take on flesh rapidly. Farmers will do better to dispose of such stock for what it will bring, and procure animals of good style. He believed that one-half of the grain fed was wasted by not being fed to good cattle. Another important point is, farmers do not feed heavy enough.

He would commence with as much feed as they could bear at first, and then increase. In feeding twelve quarts of meal, the last four quarts are worth twice as much as the first four for fattening purposes. Some farmers complain that they do not get pay for the grain they feed out, but he had noticed that it was only those who fed light that thus complained. Whether the animal was to be fed a short or long time, he would recommend heavy feeding.

Mr. Hastings said he knew of nothing better than corn meal. The cob is worth but little, of any thing. Those persons of whom he purchased fat stock, who were the most successful and made it most profitable, were those who fed meal largely. If a farmer has potatoes or other roots it is well enough to feed these in part, but a farmer will do better to exchange some of his roots for corn, than to feed roots altogether. It is important to feed regularly and not too often, as the stock will eat and lie down and ruminate. It isbetter to feed cattle but three times a day, and sheep but once.

LIME FOR THE SOIL.—The manner of applying lime as a manure to the soil has a considerable influence over its effect upon crops. It is injudicious to mix quicklime with animal manures or with vegetable manures in a decomposing condition, its tendency being to form insoluble compounds with almost all animal and vegetable substances that are soft, and to destroy or counteract their fermentive properties. Hence the impropriety of applying it in conjunction with farmyard manure. The substances which are unsuited for being formed into a compost with lime are numerous and in most cases may be readily procured by the farmer.

In general, all earthly materials containing much inert vegetable matter are well adapted to this purpose. The superfluous soil accumulated on the headlands of fields, old banks of earth, the scouring of ditches, swamp muck, decaying suds, etc., are suitable for this compost. It has been ascertained by experience that a mixture of lime with some of these materials proves highly efficacious as a top-dressing, although the lime or other substances may produce but little benefit when applied separately to the land. Thus a mixture of lime and sand, or of lime and muck, is almost invariably found to produce the most beneficial effects on stiff, tenacious clay, even after the former had ceased to operate advantageously as a stimulant of the soil.—Western Rural.

—Corn shelling is now done for the Illinois farmers by persons who travel from farm to farm with a machine. The usual charge is two cents per bushel and board, for the use of sheller, one team, and two men, the farmer finding one team and three to four hands. Six to eight hundred bushels is a day's work.

—A correspondent of the Maine Farmer has a new use for cats. He says: "My way to cure a sulky steer that lies down when you first yoke him, is to take a cat and let her put her paws on the end of the steer's nose, and, if necessary, hold her rather hard. My word for it he will be on his legs quick."

—It is probable that the average reduction in rents in New York city, previous to the first of May, will be about ten per cent.

H. T. HELMBOLD'S
CONCENTRATED
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
THE GREAT DIURETIC.

The proprietor trusts that his Remedies, from the fact of their being advertised, may not be classed as Patent Medicines.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is a pharmaceutical preparation. The proper name is given, and it is the most active which can be made. It is endorsed as a cure by all medical works for such diseases as recommended by the proprietor. It is pleasant in its taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and is taken by adults and children. It is tonic, diuretic, blood-purifying, and invigorating. Enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes will find it far more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron.

See medical properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:—

BUCHU.—Its odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic; its taste is bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the urinary organs, such as gravel, chronic catarrh of the bladder, mucid irritation of the prostate gland, and retention of the incontinence of urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in dyspepsia, chronic rheumatism, cutaneous affections, and dropsy.

TESTIMONY.

Cure of Gravel of Five Years Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

SAVANNAH, TENN., May 14, 1869.

Dr. H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: We introduced your "Fluid Extract Buchu" in this county about eight months ago, and are happy to state that it is meeting with universal favor. We wish to inform you of one instance (among many) where your "Buchu" has worked wonders. A man in our county, named J. B. Estell, had been suffering about five years with gravel.

About six weeks ago he bought of us one bottle of your "Buchu," and before he was through with one bottle he passed a gravel that weighs eight grains, which we now have on exhibition in our drug store. He says that he will never be without the "Buchu" in his house again. Your preparations are gaining favor every day.

Very respectfully yours, &c.,

Cure of Bladder and Kidney Affection of long Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

WESTPORT, CONN., Sept. 9, 1869.

H. T. Helmbold, Esq.,

DEAR SIR: I commenced taking your "Extract of Buchu" about two weeks since for an affection of the bladder and kidneys. I have suffered by spells very much for a few days past. But yesterday relief came through the effect of your "Buchu." A stone passed from my bladder about the size of a large pea, and I now feel perfectly well and entirely free from the pain that I have suffered with so hard." I attribute my cure to your medicine entirely, and would recommend all persons similarly affected to try it. I have great faith in its curative powers.

Yours truly, THOMAS J. BENNETT.

Cure of Kidney and Bladder Affection of a Patient Seventy-eight years of Age. Thanks to Mr. Helmbold.

GIRARD, PA., March 31, 1869.

Editor Cosmopolite: I desire, as an unsolicited tribute to the merits of Helmbold's Buchu, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, to say that after consulting many eminent physicians, and trying nearly all the best advertised Remedies, in the vain hope of finding relief from aggravated kidney and bladder diseases, from which I have suffered excessively for many years, good fortune finally suggested to me H. T. Helmbold's Buchu, which I commenced using with little faith, and no apparent beneficial results for about a month.

At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief, which encouraged me to persevere in its use, and now, at the expiration of four months, although I am an infirm old man, nearly 78 years of age, and consequently not expected to be cured, I have favorably affect me as they otherwise would, I have found such unspeakable relief and permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, that I feel I ought to publicly record the fact, as an acknowledgment to him, and a valuable suggestion to the public. Yours respectfully,

D. M. LAREN.

DR. KEYSER
is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College, and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia. Hear him:

Mr. H. T. Helmbold.

DEAR SIR: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used, or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are at liberty, if you think it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves—tincture, fluid extracts—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Twelve years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits; and, without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu or any other proprietary compound of whatever name.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
GEO. R. KEYSER, M. D.,
140 Wood Street, Pittsburgh, Penn.
August 11, 1865.

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Jan. 28, 1868.

Mr. H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: Your communication requesting our terms for advertising was duly received, but from a prejudice I had formed against advertising "cures for secret diseases," it was left unanswered. During an accidental conversation in a drug store the other evening, my mind was changed on the character of your Buchu. It was then highly commended for other diseases by two physicians present. Inclosed please find our rate of advertising. Yours, T. B. H. STENHOUSE,
Ed'r and Prop'r of Telegraph.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.
TESTIMONIALS.

A Permanent Cure of Gravel of twelve Years' Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

BURNSIDE, CONN., Dec. 15, 1869.

Dr. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: It is with much pleasure that I write you upon facts respecting myself. I do not know hardly how to express myself. I have been troubled for the last twelve years the greatest sufferer man could be and live; but more somewhat than others. The complaint was the "Kidneys" and the gravel. I have been sometimes from twelve to fourteen hours in bed, and wanted to make water every minute, but could not. Have consulted doctors, both in Massachusetts and this State, and taken pills, I may say by the bushel, so liquored medicines, but found no relief from any, and got worse the last six months. I was so that I could scarcely get about. I could not rest night or day.

It would soon have been "all up" with me if I had not seen your advertisement headed "Kidneys." I read it through and thought I would try it. I purchased a bottle, but, mind you, had not much faith in it. Why should I, when I had been trying so many things that could not succeed? Well, I began taking it, and before I had taken the first bottle I felt bad; but I finished it and got another. By the time I had taken half of the second I still got worse (apparently.) When I walked it seemed as if my right kidney was falling from its stand! I stopped the first bottle, before I had finished the second, that I had made up my mind it was of no use trying any more—and all this time the "Buchu" was doing its work, but I did not know it, so I gave it up and went to Hartford on Saturday to one of the best doctors in the city. He said it was the neck of the bladder, and I should have to submit to an operation. He gave me medicine, and I went home quite downhearted.

On Sunday I was unable to go to church. I had not taken any of his medicine, but on my return continued using the "Buchu," and in the afternoon I had a desire to make water, but could not. About one hour after this I felt again, with the same result; but the next time I took the vessel it was the same as turning a faucet and stopping it off again. It was so for three times, and the third time there was something came through the passage and struck against the side of the vessel. I examined it, and it is the ugliest stone or gravel you ever saw, covered over with little pieces which collected together. It looks like color of a mud turtle, and is as hard as flint. So you see the "Buchu" was doing its work, although I was feeling so badly. I procured another bottle, thinking there might be some more behind; but since that has passed, which is eight weeks ago last Sunday, I have been as well as ever I was in my life. I have the stone securely wrapped, and those who have seen it in this place are surprised.

I cannot tell you all, but this is a true story of my case, and you are welcome to make such use of my name as you think proper. I am pretty well known in Berkshire; also in Connecticut. The advertisement saved me. Why not publish more? If any one wishes to see the stone, they can do so. I could write all day, but I think I have said enough this time, so I remain your ever well-wisher, EDWARD L. HOWARD,

N. Y. S. VOL. INSTITUTE,
Corner of 5th av. and 76th st., Central Park.)

(A Home and School for the Sons of Deceased Soldiers.)

Dr. H. T. Helmbold,

Two bottles only of the package of your valuable Buchu presented to the Institute have been used by the children, and with perfect success. In the case of our little Lieutenant A. J., his pride is no longer mortified, and he is free from the daily morning anathemas of the chamber-maid who has charge of his bedding.

I feel that a knowledge of the result of our use of your Buchu with the children under our charge may save many a Superintendent and Matron of Boarding Schools and Asylums a great amount of annoyance; and many a poor child suffering more from Weakness than from habit, may be spared punishment, that is not knowing it as a weakness instead of a bad habit; most unjustly inflicted upon them. Thanking you on behalf of the children, and trying nearly all the best advertised Remedies, in the vain hope of finding relief from aggravated kidney and bladder diseases, from which I have suffered excessively for many years, good fortune finally suggested to me H. T. Helmbold's Buchu, which I commenced using with little faith, and no apparent beneficial results for about a month.

At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief, which encouraged me to persevere in its use, and now, at the expiration of four months, although I am an infirm old man, nearly 78 years of age, and consequently not expected to be cured, I have favorably affect me as they otherwise would. I have found such unspeakable relief and permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, that I feel I ought to publicly record the fact, as an acknowledgment to him, and a valuable suggestion to the public. Yours respectfully,

D. M. LAREN.

EQUALITY.—The Manchester Union mentions the complaint of one Mr. Thompson, (colored,) that his son is not promoted according to his merits, in the Lawrence public schools, solely because he is black,—and remarks:—

Thompson claims that he is a republican, but that don't seem to help his case much among the pretended abolition philanthropists of Massachusetts, who, when their doctrines are put to a practical test, are not found to love to associate on intimate terms [with colored persons?] any more than others who make no loud pretensions.

How many of the pretended abolition philanthropists of Massachusetts reside in Lawrence, or what loud professions they make, I don't know—don't care much, either. If Mr. Thompson's story is true, the school authorities of Lawrence are guilty of wretchedly petty injustice, for a contemptibly petty reason; and they are wholly unfit for their positions.—But the Union's remark refers to some fancied "social equality" doctrine of the present dominant party; when the fact is, that if any party holds such a doctrine, it must be the democratic party; for the republican party, as such, does not hold—and never has held or professed to hold—anything of the kind. Individuals have demanded social equality for the negro—the republican party has asked nothing of the sort.

A great many people persist in confounding the possession of civil and political rights, with social equality. To me, the connection is not apparent. There are thousands of men who vote the ticket which the Union supports,—men with white skins, who have always had the same civil and political rights as the Union man had I,—that neither he nor I would "love to associate with on intimate terms," or welcome to our firesides as social equals; and the case is the same with the blacks. Legal justice is one thing; social privilege is another, and a very different one.

Some time ago, I was engaged in an argument with a democratic friend (I have quite a number of democratic friends—in fact, one of my most admired friends is a democrat—I might almost say a rebel, a regular little secesh—but then she is very handsome,) as to the abstract right of the principles which have resulted in the Fifteenth Amendment; I, of course, maintaining that the black citizens were entitled to perfect civil and political equality with the white ones of English, Irish or other descent. My antagonist, finding himself unable to convert me to his way of thinking, at last attempted to crush me by asking, in a tone which showed that he considered the question a settler, "Would you marry a nigger wench?" I assured him that I had no such intention just then, and that I did not ask him or others to do anything of the kind, either, or even to speak to colored people, if it did not please themselves; that all the republicans wished was for the colored man to receive his civil and political rights, by law, and that he would find his social level himself, just as white men do—and a very low level they find, too, some of them.

Our argument ended, of course, in each one being more firmly grounded in his own opinion than at first; but my opponent evidently considered me a very inconsistent as well as obstinate man, in that I still persisted in demanding equality before the law for the negro, after answering the test question "Would you marry a nigger?" in the negative.

BUSINESS CHANGES.—We learn that Mr Charles E. Shedd has purchased of Mr. James A. Rand the business in boots, shoes and gentlemen's furnishing goods formerly carried on by Chas. E. Shedd & Co. but more recently by Mr. Rand alone, and will continue the business in his own name; at the same time acting as telegraph agent for the International Co. Mr. Shedd has been for many years very favorably known in this line of business in Portsmouth and his many friends will wish him much success as he again enters the field.

We learn from a seemingly reliable source, that a lady member of the North Orthodox Church, this city, has purchased the lot on Middle Street south of the Cutter estate, recently owned by Samuel Adams Esq., and offered it to this Society provided a suitable Vestry shall be built thereon.

We also learn that the Methodist Chapel on Daniel Street is for sale.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Caution.—Audacious Counterfeit.

The reputation which, for many years, has attached to "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," as the STANDARD TONIC OF THE AGE, and the large demand for the article, not only in the United States but elsewhere, have provoked the cupidity of the COUNTERFEITING TRIBE, and it has been extensively SIMULATED and IMITATED by unscrupulous sharpers.

The most daring counterfeit of said article which has been attempted, has recently come to our knowledge. The engraved steel label on bottles containing the genuine bitters, with its beautiful vignette of St. George and the dragon, and its shield containing a warning against counterfeiters, and its note of hand for "one cent" at the foot, signed with our firm name, has been copied so closely, that the fraud can only be detected on a minute inspection. The dark label is also well counterfeited, and the wording on both the imitation and genuine, are precisely the same, the difference being simply in the execution of the work; that of the imitation being somewhat coarser than the genuine. Other counterfeits are on the market, which are in all particulars the same as described above, with the exception of a slight difference in the spelling of our name.

In addition to the above, these counterfeiters have gone so far in some instances as to place a strip of paper over the cork and fasten to the neck of the bottle, on which is a vignette, and otherwise printed to resemble the general appearance of our proprietary U. S. Revenue stamp, but upon inspection will disclose the absence of the figure "4," and the words "four cents," also "United States Internal Revenue," all of which, together with additional wording, appear on our genuine stamp. The public are, therefore, especially warned against these new COUNTERFEITS, and are advised to purchase HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS only of houses whose integrity is above suspicion. The true specific is sold in bulk exclusively—never in bulk.—HOSTETTER & SMITH. ap1

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawim

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

"Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cts."

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest, No one who once tries it is ever without it. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

Can be taken as a fact. Let all afflicted test it at once. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

THE STREETS.—The condition of our streets is a matter of the greatest importance to every citizen. It is not too strong an expression to say that they are to every person who cares for the appearance of the town, disgusting. Full of soft mud, with deep ruts and holes very frequent, they are very disagreeable to the eye and more disagreeable to the unfortunate persons who are compelled to tramp over them. The wear and tear of horseflesh and of carriages must be immense. The cost of power—I mean of the ability to draw loads—is very great. If the streets were in this condition only when the frost is coming out of the ground, the evil might be put up with patiently. But during the whole summer a single day's rain converts the surface into mud, and any prolonged storm makes comfortable travelling impossible.

Even those streets which have had repaired or rebuilt within a few years are mostly no exception to the above remarks. Look at Court Street, at State Street, at Islington and a part of Middle Street, all of which have had large sums of money laid out on them within a few years; they are full of holes; the foundation of large stones has been thrown up by the frost and by heavy teams, so that they all need thorough repairing. I know that they are dry in a Summer draught; but the want of the community is that streets shall be made that shall not be deep mud at any time. Can it be done? I mean is it possible without undue expense to construct a roadway that shall remain tolerably smooth and hard, with slight repairs, for a number of years, and in wet weather as well as dry? We shall probably find paving too expensive for a community like ours; we must leave the experiments in that line to richer communities; and therefore direct our attention to materials and means now within our reach.

The best materials will not make a good road unless the roadway is drained; but the best drainage will be of slight use with poor materials. This remark shows what is needed: first, a hard water-proof material for the roadway; second, convenient means for carrying off the surface water. The material used here for the surface is bad; rotten ground and loam is soon converted into mud; it wears into ruts; the ruts hold the water, and every carriage churns deeper and deeper into the mass beneath. The stones used for the foundation are too large, and are easily displaced by heavy teams, and when moved will not go back into their place. MacAdam, who introduced into England the use of broken stone for roads, says that the state of disrepair on roads built of stone was in proportion to the size of the stones. Small broken stones not larger than a hen's egg have been found to be the best material for the construction of roads; they bind together in a solid mass impervious to water; and carriages bear on many of them at a time so that they are not thrown out of place; they will only slightly wear into ruts, and when they do, are easily repaired with the same material; such a roadway, properly built and well drained, will not need above one-half inch of fine material for the surface, and will be a luxury for travellers. Could all the principal streets in this city be so built, the addition to the health, comfort and good name of the city would be beyond imagination.

But to do it requires energy and spunk. In the first place a large outlay would be needed for machinery to break the rocks. To this outlay every old fogy would oppose his voice, and evil prophets would predict failure. But once started, every load of stone could be put on the streets at a less cost than that of hauling gravel two or three miles as is now done.

My article is too long already; I may trespass again upon your time unless the City fathers should change the present poor system and make further talk unnecessary. P.

[We are glad to hear from our respected friend "P." at any time, and now that he is on the right track, hope he will continue his convincing statements and discuss the needed improvements.—Eds. Chron.]

☞ Hon. Horton D. Walker has arranged for visitors to the annual examination at the Reform School at Manchester on Wednesday next, to leave this city at 8 o'clock, A. M., returning in a special train, which will leave the School at 5.30 P. M. Fare one way.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

LENT.—On a printed card, is a programme of the Services in the Church and Chapel of St. John's in this city, during Lent. On Tuesday and Thursday in Chapel at 4 P. M., Friday at 11 A. M., Wednesdays at 7 1-2 in the evening, with a lecture. Good Friday falls on the 15th inst.; the service is held in the Church at 10 1-4 A. M. Easter Sunday, 17th inst., is held as a high festival both in the Episcopal and Roman Catholic Churches; on that day they Commemorate the Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the tomb. On the evening of Wednesday, 20th inst., in St. John's Church, the Holy rites of Confirmation or the laying on of hands, is to be administered by the Bishop of Rhode Island, uncle to the Rector of the Parish.

We are now in the Lenten season, and on the days above mentioned, can be seen members of said Church visiting their beautiful Chapel in State St., and any who never witnessed these rites, may then see for themselves with what reverence services are performed. All join in the general confession, the scriptures are read with decency, the beautiful and faultless liturgy repeated in solemn voice, and psalms and hymns chanted and sung sweetly to music from the far-famed organ, supposed to be the oldest in the country. No excitement is witnessed; all is conducted with reverence.

It gives us pleasure to learn that Rev. Mr. Clark is partially able to resume his duties. During his temporary illness, Rev. J. R. Peirce has officiated for him. And it may not be out of place here to remark, how singular it is that our two youngest clergymen should suffer from a similar complaint of the throat. Our atmosphere tells hard on our ministers, particularly the young; it is not to be wondered at, when we take into consideration that they have to study harder and closer than their older brethren, which subjects to attacks of colds, &c. When a clergyman's health or voice is impaired, his usefulness is lessened as well as his comfort decreased. Therefore, take care of them. A CHURCHMAN.

FRIDAY was a bright, beautiful day, spring-like and a good first attempt of the clerk of the weather at apology for the disagreeable weather of late. The birds twittered and sang joyously, as if they were as glad to see the blue sky as were poor mortals destitute of wings. They chattered to each other and sailed about in quest of lodgings for the season, with a freedom which showed them to be old acquaintances. They are welcome visitors and their morning songs should tempt people from their beds earlier than usual to hear the grand concerts.

SAM SHARPLEY has a good show. The presents advertised are given according to the programme and the performances are excellent. Logrenia, the conjurer, with his trained birds, mice and Russian cat, makes a lively sensation. On Fast night, a large audience was in attendance and Sergeant Powell, mail carrier at the Marine barracks, received the best prize, a hunting case silver watch. Mr. John W. Gerrish, of rotundity renown, carried home a silver pitcher, and Mr. Abram Kay received a barrel of flour. Everybody has a present.

WARNING TO STINGY PEOPLE.—John Stingy, queer cog. that stole a horse of Dr. Allen, at Saco on Wednesday, and trotted on to this city. Being impecunious, the toll-gatherer at Piscataqua Bridge, managed to detain him until City Marshal Johnson could be notified. Consequently Stingy was arrested and carried back to Saco.

CHANGE OF TIME.—Mr. Lamprey's school begins next Saturday instead of Wednesday as announced last week.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle Office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle. ☞ Subscriptions may commence any time.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK, February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,

FISK & HATCH, Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 22daw3m

LOST ARTS.

BY JOSH BILLINGS.

Sum ov our best and most energetick quill jerkers haw writ essays on the "Lost Arts," and haw did comparatillly well, but they haw overlooked several ov the missing artikles, which I take the liberty (in a strikty confidenshall way) tew draw their attention to.

"Pumpkin Pi."—This delitesum work ov art iz (or rather wuz) a triumphant conglomeration ov baked doe and biled pumpkin.

It was diskovered during the old ov the moon, in the year 1680, by Angelica, the modle wife ov Rhebobam Beecher, then residing in the rural town ov Nu Guilford, State of Connekticut, but since departed this life, aged 84 years, 3 months, 6 daze, 5 hours, and 15 minuts.

Peace tew her dust.

This pi, immejiately after its discovery bi Angelica, proceeded into general use, and waz the boss pi for over a hundred years.

In the year 1833 it was totaly lorst.

This pi hain't bin herd from since.

Large rewards have bin offered for its recovery by the Governor of Connekticut, but it haz undoubtedly fled forever.

Sum poor imitashuns ov the blessed old original pi are loafing around, but pumpkin pi az it was (with nutmeg in it) is no more.

"Arly to bed, and arly to rise,"—When our ancestors landed on Plymouth Rock out ov the Mayflower, and stood in front ov the grate landscape spred out before them, reaching from the bolsterous Atlantik to the buzzum ov the plaintive Pacifick, they brought with them among other tools, the art ov gitting up in the morning and going to bed in decent season.

This art they waz as familiar to them as codfish for breakfast.

They knu it bi heart.

It was the eleventh command in their katekism.

They taut it tew their children, their yung men and maidens, and if a yung one waz enuy ways slow about larning it he waz invited out to the korn-krib and there the art waz explained tew him, so that he got hold ov the idee forever and amen.

I am sorry to say that this art is now lost or missing.

What a loss war here, my countrymen!

I pause for a reply.

Not a word do I hear.

Silence is its epitaph.

Arly tew bed and arly tew rize iz either a thing ov the past or a thing that ain't cum—it certainly don't exist in these parts now.

It haz not only gone itself, but it haz took oph a whole lot of good things with it.

This art will positively never be discovered agin; it was the child of innocence and vigor, and this breed ov children are like the babes in the wood, and deserted bi their unkle.

"Honesty."—Honesty iz one of the arts and sciences.

Learned men will tell yu that the abuv assershun iz one of Josh Billings' infernal lies, and yer hev a perfekt rite tew believe them, but I don't.

Honesty iz just as much an art az politeness iz, and never was born with a man enny more than the capacity to spell the word Nebuddkenezzer right the first time wuz.

It took me seven years to master this word, and I and Noer Webster both disagree about the right way now.

Sum men are natrally more addikted to honesty than others, just as sum hav a better ear for musik, and larn how tew hoist and lower the 8 notes more completely than the next man.

Honesty iz one ov the lost or mislaid arts—there may be excepshuns tew this rule, but the learned men all agree that the "excepshuns prove the rule."

The only doubts I hav about this matter iz tew lokate the time very close, when honesty was fust lost.

When Adam in the Garden of Eden waz asked: "Where art thou, Adam," and afterwards explained hiz absence by saying, "I waz afraid," iz az far back az I hav bin able tew trace the fust indikshuns ov weakness in this grand and noble art.

I shouldn't be surprised if this art never waz fully recovered again during mi day.

I ain't so anxious about it on mi own ackount, for I kan manage tew worry along sumhow without it, but what iz a going tew bekum ov the grate mass ov suffering humanity?

This is a question that racks mi simpathetick buzzum.—New York Weekly.

THE MOMENT OF PERIL.—More than a quarter of a century ago, two vessels, in a gale off the southern coast and wrapped in the darkness of the night, were sailing towards each other. The commanders knew it not, until suddenly, from the deck of one of the ships, rang out the startling trumpet-shout "Hard-a-starboard!" The officer had caught sight of the approaching craft through the gloom when near the prow of his own. Instantly was heard in response the thrilling words, "Hard-a larboard!" Every heart on those ships was still, as the white-robed arms of the leviathans of the sea-wave seemed to interlock in a terrific struggle, then part forever. Each swept onward, toward its destined port, bearing the pale spectators of the scene.—Exchange.

"Hard-a-port" would have been more ship-shape as an order for the helmsman than "Hard-a-larboard;" but if two ships were approaching each other, and one should port and the other starboard the helm, they would inevitably have a collision.—The effect of the thrilling incident is ruined by the writer's ignorance of what he talked about.

OYSTERS IN THE SHELL FOR HORSES. Many years ago, before the advent of railroads in Eastern Maine, it was the custom of country clergymen, in addition to their pastoral duties, to take occasional missionary tours, preaching the gospel in destitute places. They usually traveled with their own teams, stopping wherever the night overtook them, gathering such congregations as could hastily be called together, to whom they preached the gospel in the evenings. Among these occasional itinerants was a Baptist minister of decidedly original character, well acquainted with human nature, and fruitful in expedients to accomplish his purpose. On one of his tours in the dead of winter he drove up to a country tavern, where refreshment for man and beast was kept, about the middle of the day. The weather was intensely cold, and a blazing fire was burning in the fire-place, but was completely surrounded by a company of town loafers, who showed no disposition to make room for the half-frozen man who had just entered. The minister stood a moment and looked around so as to take in the situation, then turning to the tavern-keeper said:

"Landlord, I want you to put my horse in the barn and give him half a peck of oysters in the shell."

"Oysters in the shell?" asked the astonished landlord.

"Yes, sir, oysters in the shell."

"But he won't eat them," said the landlord, still hesitating.

"You give them to him and see," replied the minister.

The landlord started to obey the strange order, and all the loafers in the room followed him to see the result of the experiment of feeding a horse on oysters in the shell. Meanwhile the minister quietly seated himself by the fire and began warming himself. After about five-minutes the tavern-keeper returned, saying:

"Your horse won't eat the oysters, and I knew he wouldn't."

"Well, I will, then," quietly returned the clergyman; "bring them in here and roast them, and give my horse some oats."

Just at this time the point of the joke was apparent, but the minister kept his seat by the fire until he was warm, when he made a hearty meal of the oysters and departed.

MORAL SUASION.—The last rum shop in Bradford was closed March 31, and the triumph of temperance principles there is one of the greatest moral victories seen in New Hampshire for a long time. On last town meeting day liquor flowed in Bradford plenty as water, and the effects that followed were deplorable. Citizens took the matter in hand and petitioned the selectmen to stop the liquor traffic.

A respected widow, whose home rum had made sorrowful, carried around the paper and procured over 400 signatures, embracing a majority of the legal voters of the town. Afterward the Selectmen visited the hotels and all places in Bradford where liquors were dealt in, and courteously presented the long petition to each of the proprietors. They all promptly and invariably replied that they wished not to continue the business in the face of such an expression of public opinion. They have all honorably fulfilled their promise to close up.—Wolfeborough News.

TOP DRESSING MEADOWS.—When and how shall we top dress? Manure or compost may be successfully applied to land any time from the taking off the crop until the following May. The sooner however it is done after the crop is taken off, the better for the land, as fall rains settle it around and over the grass roots, thus protecting them from the hot rays of the sun and the cold of winter, as well as furnishing nutriment or food. Either of these objects is worthy of consideration, as both are valuable.

Our custom in top-dressing is to spread as drawn out. It requires little more time to spread from the wagon or cart than it does to throw into heaps to be spread in the uncertain future, and the manure can be laid much more evenly from the cart than from the pile. I use great care after spreading to knock all lumps to pieces, for the finer the material can be made, the earlier and better the effects, and the less it comes in the way of the mower or rake. Country Gentleman.

$100 IN PREMIUMS
FOR INDIAN CORN.

Fully convinced that this vastly valuable crop can be greatly increased by the judicious selection of seed, the subscriber offers premiums for corn grown in New Hampshire in A. D. 1870 as follows:

For the best 100 ears of eight-rowed Corn,	$35.00
" 25 " " " " "	15.00
For the best 100 ears of more than eight-rowed Corn,	35.00
" 25 best 100 " " " eight-rowed Corn	15.00

Same number of twin or triple ears upon the stalks, received same as above. The traces must be secured by cords upon boards or otherwise, so as not to break, and reach the subscriber at City Hall, Manchester, by noon of the last Tuesday of December next, at which time and place the awards will be made. Size, beauty and quality, both of the ears and grain, to be considered in awarding the prizes.

Each 100 ears must be grown upon one farm, and upon plots of not less than one acre. The four premium traces to be retained by subscriber for distribution. Method of cultivation must be furnished in writing, or made verbally at time so it may be written. New Hampshire's best farmers believe that more than two hundred thousand dollars a year of the money now sent out of the State for corn, could be saved by a judicious selection of seed corn.

Farmers, freely giving you my time and money, I earnestly pray you to make an exhibition that shall honor yourself and the State.

The committee are to have no means of knowing the owners of the corn until after the awards are made. The Committee are as follows:

THE MISSING SHIPS

Oh, thou ever restless sea,
"God's half-uttered mystery."
Where are all the ships that sailed so gallantly away?
Tell us, will they never more
Furl their wings and come to shore?
Eyes still watch and find hearts wait; precious freight had they.

Precious freight! aye, wealth untold,
More than merchandise or gold,
Did the stately vessels bear o'er the heaving main;
Human souls are dearer far
Than all earthly treasures are,
And for them we weep and pray; must it be in vain

In the silence of the night,
Did they, with a wild affright,
Wake to hear the cry of Fate! echo to the stars?
While the cruel, snake-like flame,
Creeping, coiling, hissing came,
O'er the deck, and up the masts, and out along the spars!

As the doomed ship swayed and tossed
Like a mighty holocaust
Did they with despairing cries leap into the waves?
Or with folded hands, and eyes
Lifted to the peaceful skies,
Calmly go with prayerful hearts to their nameless graves?

Did the black wings of the blast
Fetch a deeper, darker shade
As last in wrath they swept o'er the crowde decks—
Leaving not a soul to tell
How the long and awful swell
Of the ocean's troubled breast bore a dismal wreck?

How amid the thunder's crash,
And the lightning's lurid flash,
(Autographs the Storm-king writes on his scroll of clouds,)
High above the deafening strife
Broken cries were heard for life,
Fear-struck human beings clinging to the shrouds

Or with shattered hulk and sail,
Riding out the stormy gale,
Did the brave ship slowly sink deeper day and night—
Drifting, drifting, mournfully,
O'er the wide and trackless sea,
Loved ones starving, dying there, with no sail in sight?

Or when winds and waves were hushed,
Calm and cloudless rose the dawn,
As they gilded gently on, hope in every breast,
With a sudden leap and shock,
Did they strike some hidden rock,
And go down, forever down, to their dreamless rest?

Did the strange and spectral fleet
Of the icebergs round them meet,
Pressing closer till they sank crashing to the deep?
Do these crystal mountains bear
Monuments of that vast tomb,
In the ocean's quiet depths, where so many sleep?

O, thou ever-surging sea,
Vainly do we question thee;
Thy blue waves no answer bring as they kiss the strand;
But we know each coral grave,
Far beneath the rolling wave,
Shall at last give up its dead, touched by God's right hand.
ALBERT LAIGHTON.

We copy from the Hawaiian Gazette the following account of the funeral services of Mrs. Harriet M. Harris, wife of His Excellency Coffin G. Harris, (formerly of Portsmouth) and daughter of late Thomas A. Harris, Esq. She died on the 13th March.

Our community were called upon on Monday last, to pay their last tribute of respect, to the wife of His Excellency Chas. C. Harris, His Majesty's Minister of Foreign Relations. The sad occasion was one, which, from the large acquaintance and estimable character of the deceased, called out a more than usual expression of sympathy, on the part of our residents, towards the bereaved family.

The funeral took place at St. Andrew's Cathedral, at four o'clock, P. M., the Right Reverend Bishop Stanley said the Venerable Arch Deacon Mason officiating. The remains were placed upon a trestle, in front of the Chancel, which was profusely adorned with flowers and wreaths of evergreen, emblematic of Christian faith and immortality. The body of the Church was darkened, leaving the Chancel in light, and as the large congregation joined the Clergy and Choir in the chants of the burial service, the occasion was one of impressive solemnity. Arch Deacon Mason read the Epistle with great effect. The hymn,

"I would not live alway, I ask not to stay,
Where storm after storm rises dark o'er the way;"

was beautifully rendered by the Choir of the Fort St. Church. Her Majesty Queen Emma, was present joining with the congregation in the obsequies of the deceased. At the conclusion of the service at the Church, a large and imposing procession followed the remains to their last resting place in the Cemetery. Following the carriages of the chief mourners, was the carriage of His Majesty, occupied by the Chamberlain, and the carriage of Her Majesty, Dowager Queen Kalama. The various members of the Diplomatic and Consular Corps, the Captain and officers of the Donau, and a large concourse of family friends and citizens followed in the line. At the grave, the concluding services of the church were rendered by the Bishop, and a hymn was sung.—"Brief life is here our portion,"—after which the living were dismissed with the benediction, and the dead was left with God.

In his address to the graduates of the Harvard Medical College, Rev. Andrew P. Peabody, D. D., said that formerly the physician fought diseases with drugs, as firemen fight a conflagration; and as it frequently happens with the latter that the damage by water proves to be greater than that by fire, so many of the patients of the old-fashioned doctors recovered of the disease but never of the medicine. Indeed, it was then urged in favor of the family physician, as against others, that "he knew how much we could bear."

SALE OF THE JAMES MILLS AT NEWBURYPORT.—At the auction sale of the James Steam Mills on Wednesday the bidding commenced at $75,000; the property finally selling to James McMullen of Biddeford for $100,000. The original cost of the property was $375,000. About $20,000 worth of dwelling houses were not sold, the purchaser taking them at an appraisal.

—A gentlemen who was very zealous on the subject of horses, but not according to knowledge, bought a mare at auction and rode her home. "Well, Cæsar," said he to his sable coachman, "what do you think of her? She cost me five hundred dollars." "Dunno, master." "Yes, but what do you think?" "Well, massa, it makes me think of what de preacher said yesterday—something about his money is soon parted.' I disremember the fust part!"

—Two questions of the day—The right of women to bear arms, and their right to bare legs.

H. T. HELMBOLD'S
CONCENTRATED
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
THE GREAT DIURETIC.

The proprietor trusts that his Remedies, from the fact of their being advertised, may not be classed as Patent Medicines.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is a pharmaceutical preparation. The proper name is given, and it is the most active which can be made. It is endorsed as a cure by all medical works for such diseases as recommended by the proprietor. It is pleasant in its taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and is taken by adults and children. It is tonic, diuretic, blood-purifying, and invigorating. Enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes will find it far more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron.

Sea medical properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:—

BUCHU.—Its odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic; its taste is bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the urinary organs, such as gravel, chronic catarrh of the bladder, mortal irritation of the prostate gland, and retention or the incontinence of urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in the act of evacuation. It has also been recommended in dyspepsia, chronic rheumatism, cutaneous affections, and dropsy.

TESTIMONY.

Cure of Gravel of Five Years Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

SAVANNAH, TENN., May 14, 1869.

Dr. H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: We introduced your "Fluid Extract Buchu" in this county about eight months ago, and are happy to state that it is meeting with universal favor. We wish to inform you of one instance (among many) where your "Buchu" has worked wonders. A man in our county, named J. B. Estell, had been suffering about five years with gravel.

About six weeks ago he bought of us one bottle of your "Buchu," and before he was through with one bottle he passed a gravel that weighs eight grains, which we now have on exhibition in our drug store. He says that he will never be without the "Buchu" in his house again. Your preparations are gaining favor every day.

Very respectfully yours, &c.,
ECCLES & HINKLE, Druggists.

Cure of Bladder and Kidney Affection of long Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

WESTPORT, CONN., Sept. 9, 1869.

H. T. Helmbold, Esq.,

DEAR SIR: I commenced taking your "Extract of Buchu" about two weeks since for an affection of the bladder and kidneys. I have suffered by spells very much for a few days past. But yesterday relief came through the effect of your "Buchu." A stone passed from my bladder about the size of a large pea, and I now feel perfectly well and entirely free from the pain that I have suffered with "so hard." I attribute my cure to your medicine entirely, and would recommend all persons similarly affected to try it. I have great faith in its curative powers.

Yours truly, THOMAS J. BENNETT.

Cure of Kidney and Bladder Affection of a Patient Seventy-eight years of Age. Thanks to Mr. Helmbold.

GIRARD, PA., March 31, 1869.

Editor Cosmopolitan: I desire, as an unsolicited tribute to the merits of Helmbold's Buchu, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, to say that after consulting many eminent physicians, and trying nearly all the best advertised remedies, in the vain hope of finding relief from aggravated kidney and bladder diseases, from which I have suffered excessively for many years, and fortune finally suggested to me Helmbold's Buchu, which I commenced using with little faith, and no apparent beneficial results for about a month.

At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief, which encouraged me to persist in its use, and now, at the expiration of four months, although I am an infirm old man, nearly 78 years of age, and consequently cannot be expected to be favorably affect me as they otherwise would, I have found such unspeakable relief and permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, that I feel I ought to publicly record the fact, as an acknowledgment to him, and a valuable suggestion to the public. Yours respectfully,

D. M. LAREN.

DR. KEYSER
is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College, and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia. Hear him:

Mr. H. T. Helmbold.

DEAR SIR: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it, I would say that is known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, sir, that this agent has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves—tincture, fluid extracts—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Twelve years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits; and, without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu or any other proprietary compound of whatever name.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D.,
140 Wood Street, Pittsburgh, Penn.
August 11, 1865.

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Jan. 28, 1868.

Mr. H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: Your communication requesting our terms for advertising was duly received, but from a prejudice I had formed against advertising "cures for secret diseases," it was left unanswered. During an accidental conversation in a drug store the other evening, my mind was changed on the character of your Buchu. It was then highly commended for other diseases by two physicians present. Incased please find our rate o advertising. Yours, T. I. B. H. STENHOUSE,
Ed'r and Prop'r of Telegraph.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.
TESTIMONIALS.

A Permanent Cure of Gravel of twelve Years' Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

BURNSIDE, CONN., Dec. 15, 1869.

DEAR SIR: It is with much pleasure that I write you upon facts respecting myself. I do not know hardly how to express myself. I have been for the last ten or twelve years the greatest sufferer man could be and live; but more sometimes than others. The complaint was the "Kidneys" and "bladder." I have been sometimes from twelve to fourteen hours, and wanted to make water every minute, but could not. Have consulted doctors, both in Massachusetts and this State, and taken pills, I may say by the quart, also liquored medicines, but found no relief from any, and got worse the last six months. I was so that I could scarcely get about, I could not rest night or day.

It would soon have been "all up" with me if I had not seen your advertisement headed "Kidneys." I read it through and thought I would try it. I purchased a bottle, but, mind you, had not much faith in it, owing to the about I, when I had been trying so many things that cost me so much? Well, I began taking it, and before I had taken the first bottle I felt that I had hit upon a gem at another. By the time I took half of the second I still got worse (apparently.) When I walked it seemed as if my right kidney was falling from its place, and I felt really bad. I felt so, before I had finished the second, that I had made up my mind it was of no use trying any more, and all this time the "Buchu" was doing its work, but I did not know it, so I gave it up and went to Hartford on Saturday to one of the best doctors in the city. He said it was the neck of the bladder, and I should have to undergo an operation. He gave me medicine, and I went home quite downhearted.

On Sunday I was unable to go to church. I had not taken any of his medicine, but on my return continued using the "Buchu," and in the afternoon I had a discharge of water, but could not. About one hour after this I tried again, with the same result; but the next time I took the vessel it was the same as turning a faucet and stopping it off again. It was so for three times, and the third time there was something came down the passage and struck against the side of the vessel. I examined it, and it is the ugliest stone or gravel you ever saw, covered over with little pieces which collected together. It looks the color of a mud turtle, and is as hard as flint. So you see the "Buchu" was doing its work, although I was feeling so badly. I procured another bottle, thinking there might be some more behind; but since that has passed, which is eight weeks ago last Sunday, I have been as well as ever I was in my life. I have stood securely wrapped, and those who have seen it in this place are surprised.

I cannot tell you all, but this is a true story of my case, and you can do as you please to make use of my name as you think proper. I am pretty well known in Berkshire; also in Connecticut. The advertisement caused me. Why not publish more? If any one wishes to see this wonder, they can do so. I could write all day, but I think I have said enough this time, so I remain your ever well-wisher, EDWARD L. HOWARD,

N. Y. S. VOL. INSTITUTE,
Corner of 5th Av. and 76th st., Central Park.)

(A Home and School for the Sons of Deceased Soldiers.)

Dr. H. T. Helmbold,

Two bottles only of the package of your valuable Buchu presented to the Institute have been used by the children, and with perfect success. In the case of our little Lieutenant A. J., his pride is no longer mortified, and he is free from the daily morning exposure of the chamber-maid who has charge of his bedding.

I feel that a knowledge of the result of our use of your Buchu with the children under our charge may save many a Superintendent of Children's Boarding Schools and Asylums a great amount of annoyance; and many a poor child suffering more from Wetness than from Disease, be thus spared punishment, that is (not knowing it as a weakness instead of a bad habit) most unjustly inflicted upon them. Yours, respectfully, Matron of the children, and hoping others may be alike benefitted, I am respectfully yours,

COL. YOUNG, General Sup't and Director.

A Case of Twenty Years Standing.

PHILADELPHIA, PENN., June 25, 1867.

H. T. Helmbold, Druggist.

DEAR SIR: I have been a sufferer for upwards of twenty years with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medical preparations, and have undergone the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised Remedies and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no Remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your Remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of Buchu, Juniper Berries, Cubebs, and Nitrate of Potash, I showed the bottle to my family physician as an excellent combination; and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting them with the Druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced to use it about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.

From the first dose I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing to you at that time, but thought at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to delay, and see if it would be a permanent cure, feeling that it would be of greater value to you and more satisfactory to me.

I now feel able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months. I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.

Mr. Inman prints a letter in which he expresses his belief that the City of Boston foundered in a gale. He says the City of Boston and the City of Antwerp were twin boats, and they both encountered the same gale, the latter without damage or serious difficulty, all things considered. THE FLINT THAT "STRUCK FIRE" that discharged the gun that kicked the Democratic party of this State and laid it on its back, last month, being satisfied with scalping his friends because he couldn't scalp his political enemies, rushes to the support of the new "Labor Reform" paper, at Concord, in the following enthusiastic style, which smacks of boyhood renewed and ambition unsatisfied. Says he:—

I have been wondering what the Labor Reformers would do for an organ in this state; and, just as I was settling down in the opinion that we should have to make an arrangement with some of the old partizan papers, your welcome letter comes, assuring us that we shall have an organ of our own.

Now, let the seven thousand, who voted our ticket at the last election, each man of them, send on his two dollars in clubs of five or more, and take the paper. Let them read it. Think of it. Send it to their neighbors. Talk about it. Agitate! agitate! Stir up the dead sea of Republican politics, till the greedy monsters that sport in its waters are exposed naked to the full view of an outraged and long-suffering people. Let us have an organ to refute their lies; expose their sophistries; hurl back their insults; denounce their tricks; show their rottenness; uncover their frauds; abash their brazen impudence, and let us drive them from their positions that they have prostituted to their own aggrandizement and oppression of the people.

—The income bill passed by the U. S. Senate, means that the five per cent rate shall be collected on all incomes this spring and next spring. The House will not agree to this, as a great majority of the members hold to the idea of a reduction of taxation at as early a date as possible. The committee, in considering the tax bill, has gone so far that it can be said the members will agree on a three per cent. income tax with $2000 deduction. Whether they will agree that this rate shall begin with this year, is not known; but it is firmly believed that the House will do so, in spite of the view which the Secretary of the Treasury holds in favor of continuing the five per cent. rate.—Boston Adv.

RESUMPTION OF SPECIE PAYMENTS.—Of $946,000,000 of gold which the United States mint have coined since 1792, $844,000,000 have been coined since 1850. This vast amount is exclusive of the silver and gold currency which was in the country prior to those periods, and exclusive of the copper coinage. What has become of about one billion of our metallic currency? About half of it has been exported to foreign countries, especially to England to pay the annual balance of trade against us in the latter country. The commencement of our manufacturing system was soon after the war of 1812 against Great Britain. Under the Provincial government, we were not allowed by the English Board of trade to manufacture any thing, and since our National Independence, the English doctrine was inculcated until 1812, that it was cheaper to export our raw materials to foreign work-shops, and have them manufactured chiefly in England, and our nation was so ignorant as to adopt that absurd doctrine, greatly to its injury, prior to 1812, when necessity compelled us to commence manufacturing for ourselves.

Now in respect to manufactures, we are independent of all the world. Why, then, should not our Tariff be so regulated and raised, as to protect our home manufactures against the excessive importation of English manufactures, in respect to all goods and merchandise which we now manufacture in abundance at home? The protection of our home manufactures is a benefit to all our people, and would prevent the efflux of our specie to foreign countries to a vast amount. We have been for a long time paying to England forty or fifty millions annually for the balance of trade against us. With a wisely adjusted Tariff, the balance of trade would be in our favor.

But we have some amongst us, called political economists, who are in favor of free trade, while all commercial nations assess heavy duties upon our exports! The question arises, have we the ability to immediately resume specie payments? Let us see. There is over a hundred millions of specie locked up in the national Treasury, besides other funds amounting to over a hundred millions more, including a large amount of specie for the sinking fund. We may estimate according to the New York Journals, that there is in that city, one hundred and fifty millions more of specie, which has been concentrated in that "grand emporium of trade," to pay for the duties of foreign imports, and for the gold gamblers and the speculators upon the necessaries of life, and also furnish specie for their very numerous Banks. Doubtless there are more than a hundred and fifty millions more in all the other sections of the country. Besides, gold is fast flowing in from our mines, and the sale of our public lands, and foreigners. From the latter it is stated that we receive about forty millions annually.

Two hundred and fifty millions properly distributed in the public Treasury and the national Banks, would be sufficient for a paper currency of three times that amount, according to former usage, and all business transactions would be obliged to conform to the improved state of things, and business men would be disposed from self-interest to uphold the Banks, as in former times; for then the paper currency, when convertible, would be of equal value of specie, and more convenient for transmission and other purposes of exchange.

The war debt, except the annual interest, is to be liquidated at future periods, and therefore is no valid objection to resumption. As our Banks did resume specie payments forty years ago, after Bank panics and revulsions, when it was estimated that there was but a little over thirty millions of specie in the country, why can they not now and replenish their vaults with sufficient specie to redeem the notes they may issue?

Who are opposed to resumption? The Bank proprietors, because they are now realizing an immense profit by dealing only in paper currency. Also the Bondholders, because the bonds are exempted from taxation, and realizing 6 or 7 per cent. interest, they have no desire to have them paid in specie until a future period. Also importers of foreign merchandize, for they hoard up gold to pay for foreign goods, and the import duties in specie. Also the gold gamblers, and speculators upon the necessaries of life, for they know that by resumption, the necessaries of life would at once fall to a reasonable rate, and their vocation would be at an end. These classes, together with members of Congress who are bondholders, constitute a powerful opposition to resumption. But the people generally throughout the Union, are in favor of resumption.

GOOD FOOD AND PLENTY OF IT, produces the same effect upon a person who has been starved that the Peruvian Syrup and Iron Tonic, does upon the Weak and Debilitated: it makes them strong and vigorous, changing weakness and suffering into strength and health.

Dr. Harris of the N. Y. Hospital, "finds Speer's Sambuci Wine an excellent tonic and gentle stimulant, and recommends it especially for ladies." Dr. Parish of Philadelphia "pronounces it to be a purely unadulterated wine, possessing much medicinal virtue, and uses it for its purity, fine flavor, medicinal properties, and non-intoxicative qualities, &c." Our limited space forbids any more extracts from letters of similar import from numerous physicians and clergymen, many of the latter using it as a communion wine in preference to foreign wines.—Harpers' Weekly.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Newspaper Statements.

HOW THE PEOPLE TEST THEIR TRUTH.

This is not an age when people believe or trust whatever they see in the public journals. Fifty or sixty years ago when the accuracy of a statement that had appeared in one of the gazettes or "News Letters" of the day, was questioned, it was considered a sufficient answer to all cavil to say, "It must be so, for I read it in the newspaper." It is not so now. Newspaper assertions must be verified before they are taken for granted, and this is especially the case as regards statements setting forth the remedial properties of proprietary medicines. For example; it was not until the tonic and alterative properties of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS had been deliberately and thoroughly tested by thousands, and found to be in perfect accord with the printed claims put forth in its behalf, that it was accepted by the public at large as a Standard Remedy.

But when multitudes who had resorted to it as a safe-guard against malarious fevers, a cure for indigestion and biliousness, a means of strengthening the frame, cheering the spirits and imparting constitutional vigor, came forward and testified that its beneficial effects had exceeded their most sanguine expectations, of course the world believed. To resist such proofs was impossible. Great care has been taken from the beginning not to overstate the merits of the Bitters.

Exaggeration and bombast have been the death of many preparations that might otherwise have survived. They were "weighed in the balance and found wanting." HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, on the contrary, have never been announced in grandiloquent language as a cure for every bodily ill, but simply as a pure harmless vegetable specific, possessing remarkable invigorating, regulating, and tonic and antidotal properties. This is exactly what the public know the medicine to be, and its enormous sales is an argument in its favor.

A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I feel bound to use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever met with."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

BOVINE BOISTEROUSNESS.—On Saturday forenoon, a drove of thirty oxen belonging to Mr. Samuel N. Lane of Hampton, came up Vaughan Street to Congress, with the intention of proceeding westerly. There being no post in the way, they "cut a short corner" as they passed, and one of them, thinking perhaps that his neighbor needed medicine for his general health, crowded him against Thacher's corner window, carrying away the sash and smashing two large panes of glass. Elated with his success, he rushed with the others over to the Kearsarge House, with the intention of razing it, like another Samson; but Mr. Laws, the well known Expressman, occupies an office in the lower story, and isn't to be run off the track so easily; and the horned beasts passed on without starting a single sample of the many bricks at the Kearsarge.

FAST YOUTH.—While the base ball match at the Plains was in progress, on the afternoon of Fast Day, a young man whose intellect was so much disordered that he seemed to think the Plains were his private property, and whose faith in himself was such that he was confident of his ability to manage a livery team and a considerable quantity of some stimulant, both at once, amused himself by driving at a lively rate around the grounds and among the players. His sport was somewhat annoying to the base ballists and the lookers-on, and was finally stopped by a gentlemen leading the horse outside the bounds of the playground. Some of the spectators blamed the young horsemen for his conduct, which was not right on their part. The real culprit was the "ardent" he had been drinking; the only point in which the drinker was to blame being in not having determination enough to keep his mouth firmly closed when he was near the vile stuff, so that it couldn't get into his stomach to cause him to "make a show of himself."

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

GREENLAND, April 9th.

On Fast Day we had a (so-called) Temperance Sermon from Rev. E. Robie, of the Orthodox Congregational Church, in which he actually took ground in favor of alcoholic drinks as a beverage. Text, 1st Timothy, 5:25; "Drink no longer water, but use a little wine," &c. This is something strange for a New England pulpit. Mr. Robie went in for wine, cider, ale, &c., for common drinks; and urged that the State laws should rather seek to ensure purity and punish adulterations, than to prevent the manufacture or sale of these.

Mr. George Davis and wife have arrived home from Florida, where they have been spending the winter. They are much pleased with the climate and productions of that locality. ‡‡

☞ The combined choirs of the Christian and Methodist Churches at Kittery give a concert this (Monday) evening, in the M. E. Church, under the direction of Prof. J. C. Cram; the proceeds to be applied to the purchase of music and books for the choirs, and to assist in paying the organists. The choirs are both good ones, and have been working hard at their rehearsals; and their concert will well repay all who may attend.

☞ A few evenings since, Mr. Abner Porter left his seat at the engine house, at Newburyport, and as he was about to resume it some one pulled the chair from under him, causing him to fall and strike heavily upon his head, by which an artery was broken in his neck, and before medical assistance could be had he nearly bled to death.

WOOD CUTTERS.—We recently gave an account of some good wood-chopping by Mr. D. P. Wright of this city; 4 cords pine cut and corded in a day, and 42 cords in 12 days, we think.

The Rochester Courier says that Mr. Everett Parsons, of that village, started for Nashua on Tuesday with three saws well sharpened, with which to saw 12 cords of wood two runs, 10 cords of which were to be hard wood, and two pine, in three days' work of not more than 12 hours each. If Mr. Parsons fails to perform the job in the allotted time he forfeits $25, and if he performs it he is to receive $25. The Courier has no doubt but what he can easily win, as he frequently saws four cords of hard wood in less than 12 hours.

It is well known that the late Mr. Samuel Milton of this city several years ago sawed 8 cords, that is 8 cuts of course, of pine wood in one day, at the Navy Yard, on a wager; and afterwards he said he sawed 9 cords elsewhere in one day. Circular saws and horse-power were necessary to match him. Singularly enough, Mr. Milton met his death in sawing a limb from a large tree on Daniel Street, the butt of which in falling knocked him to the ground and killed him.

Colonel James Drake, president of the Pittsfield National Bank, died on the 7th inst. His age was 64.

The Germania Band of Boston is to give a sacred concert at Exeter, in charge of the Rockingham Musical Association, April 13th.

Schooner R. H. Colson, of Bucksport, that went ashore on Rye Beach, in the gale of Feb. 8th, has been sold to wrecking parties from Mass., who intend to get her off forthwith.

☞ The Rockingham House will be re-opened next week.

—The most elegant dress ever in America was worn at a late disreputable ball in New York. Twelve hundred yards of delicate white illusion, forty yards of the costliest gold cord, thirty-eight yards of salmon-colored satin, fifteen yards of white satin, and eight yards of thread lace were used in making this beautiful pattern dress. It was made by an American modiste, after designs by the wearer.

—A man, while fishing on Indian Head Pond, Mass., a few days ago, using a six inch perch for bait, got a bite from a half pound pickerel, but before he could draw in his line, the hook, bait, pickerel and all were swallowed by another big fellow weighing four pounds, and all were safely landed. This is not a fish story.

Brighton Tallow 6¼ @ 7½c per lb; Country Tallow 6 @ 7c ℔ lb.

Sheep and Lamb Skins $1 50 @ $1 75 each; Calf Skins 16 @ 17c ℔ lb.

The number of Cattle in market was not so large as that of last week, and the quality of those from the West was not so good. Cattle cost higher at Albany and sold in this market at 1c ℔ lb in advance over last week's prices. There was but a few extra lots of Beeves in market, and 13½ ℔ lb was the highest price obtained. The better grades of Cattle sold last week at prices which those of an inferior grade sold for this week.

Store Cattle—None in market except Working Oxen and Milch Cows. Most of the small Cattle that are in a fair condition are sold for Beef.

Working Oxen—There was a good supply in market. We quote sales at $168, $170, $225, $250, $270, $300, $165, $167 50, $235, $240 ℔ pair.

Milch Cows—Extra $85 @ $115; ordinary $50 @ $60; Store Cows $35 @ $55 ℔ head. Most of the Cows offered for sale are of a common grade. Prices depend a great deal upon the fancy of the purchaser.

Sheep and Lambs—Extra, a select lot, $5 @ $6 50 ℔ head; ordinary lots $2 50 @ $4 50 ℔ head, or from 4½ @ 5c ℔ lb. Most of the Western Sheep were owned by butchers and taken direct from the cars to be slaughtered.

Swine—Wholesale 11c ℔ lb; retail 12 @ 15c ℔ lb; select lots 13½c ℔ lb. Fat Hogs—2400 at market. Prices 10½c ℔ lb.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of
$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY AND NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, and both this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 22daw3m

Morning Chronicle.

FATHER PRENTISS.—A recent letter is published from Mr. John Prentiss of Keene, a well-known editor and citizen. Mr. Prentiss is now 93 years old, but his letter, with its just criticisms and thoughtful suggestions, would seem to have been written by one whose mental powers are in their prime. We append the closing paragraphs:

"Not one voting sovereign of every hundred has that knowledge which all ought to have, of events which, in the Providence of God, have saved us from the fate of previous reformers and republics, and saved us to be a great and powerful nation for the imitation of the whole world. But as we grow in strength like other nations, we may grow in actual weakness — in power forgetting what made us great. May our Grant be so far the imitator of our father's Washington as to preserve us, at least in his day.

Now in my ninety-third year, I feel as if I had but little personal interest in political affairs. But from the peace of 1783 I remember much of the past, the Shays' insurrection, the terrible times from the peace to the adoption of the Constitution, the interest I took with a reverend parent who evinced his zeal in the revolution by joining the "alarm list" of his parish, after the train band had departed for Lexington, and who with others helped to harass the retreating troops from Concord to Boston."

THE NEW MAINE LIQUOR LAW.—Sections one and two provide that only one person shall be required to make complaint for a warrant for search and seizure, and that officers may seize liquors without a warrant and keep them in some safe place for a reasonable time, till they can procure a warrant.

Section three provides that the Court or magistrate trying any case of intoxicating liquors seized under said chapter or acts additional thereto or amendatory thereof, shall, when such liquors are decreed to be forfeited, order them to be destroyed in all cases by an officer competent to serve the process on which they were forfeited.

Section four provides that if any municipal officer of any city, town or plantation, after being furnished with a written notice of a violation of any provisions of said chapter or acts additional thereto or amendatory thereof, signed by two persons competent to be witnesses in civil suits, and containing the names and residences of the witnesses to prove such offence, willfully neglects or refuses to institute proceedings therefor, he shall be liable to a fine of not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars, to be recovered by indictment.

Section five provides that any person found guilty of violation of these provisions shall be sentenced at the same term, unless for reasons satisfactory to the Court the case may be continued one term, but no longer.

Section six is an amendment to chapter 130 of the laws of 1862, and provides for heavy penalties against municipal officers for selling adulterated liquors, and it is notably just.

Although we have serious doubts about the law being the best that could be enacted, yet we are willing to give it a fair trial, and sincerely hope that it may be found for the best. We certainly do not expect to hear it further charged upon the Republican party that its prohibition resolve of last summer was added for buncombe.—Bid. Journal.

BOYISH BOASTINGS SINGULARLY FULFILLED.—To the Editor of the Boston Transcript: Two little items which I had noticed in your recherche columns lately, as well as in the papers, have a special interest to one who knows circumstances which I doubt not your readers will be pleased to hear. One of these items is this: "Healey has just finished a fine portrait of Liszt." The other makes two lines, and reads: "Mr. George P. A. Healey is in Rome, painting a portrait of Pius IX."

Thirty-eight years ago two Boston boys, without a cent in their pockets, were dreaming wild boyish dreams of their future, when one of them struck a piece of good fortune which at that time was quite dazzling. George P. A. Healey was one of these boys, and George L. Brown was the other. The immediate piece of luck spoken of was the sale of Brown's first picture, a copy made in a gallery of old paintings just opened in Boston by an art-loving English gentleman. A gentleman who saw the picture was so pleased with it that he gave him fifty dollars for it; and with a part of the money Brown sent out for beer and cigars, and he and his boon companion Healey, had a jovial time of it; building castles in the air from the foam of he beer and the smoke of the cigars.

Healey said that he should go to Europe and paint all the distinguished men and women, while Brown declared that he should spend his life in Italy, and have his pictures some day in the finest palaces. Singularly enough, both of these jubilant ebullitions of boyish enthusiasm in later years became facts. Healey has, among others painted Louis Phillippe, his Queen, the Duke of Sussex, and others almost as well known; and now come these two later ones to add to his list.

Brown's career is too well known to require more than a brief mention. Twenty years of his life (from 1840 to 1850; he did pass in Italy, and his landscapes adorn many European castles, his "Crown of New England," and "Bay of New York," being the only works by an American artist in Windsor Castle. Who can furnish another as singular a dual instance as this?

SHADOWS.

Oh, sadly fall on hill and lea,
The shadows of the weary day;
And, wafted from the wailing sea,
A low, long murmur seems to say,
To say:
"Shine on, thou golden sun;
Thine hour will soon be done!
Ah! well-a-day!"

Cold drives the rain upon the world,
And homeless is the North wind's cry;
And, 'mid the darkness thickly curled,
Sad tunes of sorrow seem to sigh,
To sigh:
"Bloom on, thou shining rose;
Thy short life soon will close,
For thou must die!"

Oh, sadly fall on loving hearts,
The shadows of life's weary way,
And, heedless of the tear that starts,
A mournful message seems to say,
To say:
"There and thy love the tomb,
Soon, soon will fold in gloom;
Ah! well-a-day!"

HON. ISAAC O. BARNES was celebrated for his jokes. The proprietor of the Bromfield House, Boston, being a Baptist, was called upon for a donation to aid in completing a meeting-house for a colored society. After giving to the object, the proprietor directed his colored brother to Mr. Barnes, who was reading a newspaper in the public room at the time. The agent approached Mr. Barnes, presented his object, and asked for a donation.

After asking a few questions, Mr. Barnes told the applicant to put him down for a donation of five hundred dollars. Astonished and delighted, the colored man thanked the liberal donor again and again. Barnes interrupted him by saying, "I make this donation on one condition, which must be stated on the subscription paper; viz., all candidates for membership shall be immersed in hot water."

One day, Mr. Barnes was passing a meeting-house in which a Second-Advent society was rendering rather noisy worship. Barnes inquired of his companion what was going on in that house, and was told that Second-Advent people were worshipping there. "Second-Advent people?" said he, "who are they?" He was told that they believed Christ was coming on earth again to dwell with men. "Well," said Barnes, "if he does come again, I hope he will receive better treatment than he did when he came before."

Returning home from Boston with his team, he called at the only tavern then kept in Nashua, which was largely patronized by a rough class of men who did business on the Merrimack River. Capt. Barnes was a very tall man, and at the time was covered with dust and dirt, and had the appearance of an uncultivated countryman. As he entered the bar-room, which was occupied by a company of river-men, he observed them looking at him with countenances which indicated fun.

They had seen him through the window, and prepared to have some sport with him. As he entered the room, one of them approached him, and extended his hand, which was taken by Capt. Barnes with the remark, "You seem to know me, sir; but I do not recognize you." The other replied, "I think you are Saul, the son of Cis." "You are right," replied Capt. Barnes. "I am in search of my father's animals, and am very glad to find so many of them here together."

In his last sickness, a short time before his death, his friend, the editor of "The Post," called to see him, and asked how he did. The colonel replied, "I am in a dying state: I shall slip away from you soon." Col. G—— felt of his hands and feet and remarked, "You are not dying, Col. Barnes; for your extremities are warm. Persons do not die with warm hands and feet." "I have known persons die," said Col. Barnes, "with warm extremities." "Whom did you ever know die with warm extremities?" inquired his friend. "John Rogers," was the prompt reply.

BLACK KNOT IN PLUM TREES.—It is generally supposed that the black ugly excrescences found on the limbs of the plum and cherry, and which are now beginning to appear upon some other kinds of fruit trees, are caused by an insect which perforates the bark, deposits ova, and thus produces a deceased condition called the black knot. The black knot is a parasitic cryptogamous plant belonging to the class fungi; and is propagated by spores in the same way that all fungoid growths are produced. The idea that they are produced by insects, has arisen from the fact that flies often penetrate into the old decayed knots, and the larvæ are found there.

Destroying the ova or flies does not destroy the black knot. They have nothing whatever to do in originating or maintaining the trouble. The spores of this peculiar fungus float in the air, lodge on the limbs, vegetate, and in this way the annoying parasite soon destroys vast number of fruit trees. No application of whale oil soap, petroleum, or any substance, will arrest the growth. By cutting off the excrescences with a sharp knife, a few years of life may be afforded to some trees; but hardly repays for the trouble.

To save wheat, and corn, and trees, from smut and fungi, apply wood ashes bountifully, and smut and rust will not injure the growing grain. Pile on the ashes around fruit trees, and scatter them bountifully on growing wheat; and the potash and sand in the soil will form a glassy covering over the surface of the straw and stems of trees, which will fortify the growing plants against the attacks of fungi. There is no uncertainty about this. Let the ashes be scattered round about growing trees as far as the limbs extend.

—John Cavanagh of Newburyport was sentenced by Judge Lowell to pay a fine of $1000 and imprisonment for six months, for violation of the revenue law in relation to liquor dealers.

ROSES.

I have placed a golden
Ring upon the hand
Of the blithest little Lady in the land!

When the early roses
Scent the sunny air
She shall gather white ones
To tremble in her hair!

Hasten, happy roses!
Come to me by May!
In your folded petals
Lies my wedding-day.

[Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

THE NEW YORK GOLD GAMBLERS' DEN.—Down in New street, three or four doors from Wall street, is the entrance to a large hall known as the Gold Room. There is another almost subterranean entrance on Broad street—that second broad way which leads so many people to destruction. It is easier to get into the Gold Room—as it is to get into nearly everything in that region—than it is to get out. For $10,000 a while ago, you might be a member and have a seat—the seats are cheaper now. The price was raised a year or two ago, with the privilege of selling or transferring the privilege.

There is a gallery of spectators, who are sometimes speculators as well, in a small way; and this suggests the following conundrum: Why are the bears in the Gold Room and the spectators in the gallery like children who have lost their father? Because they are looking for par. One can get into the gallery through a special door, and for nothing when there is room. But "first come, first served," is the rule, and as soon as the door is open the gallery is packed.

To go in at the New street entrance every day this week one must pass through a dense crowd of persons, whom the slang of the street calls "goats." These goats bet on the turn of the gold indicator displayed outside of a window, staking sums from a dollar to one hundred, and settling up differences when they settle down at night. On Thursday last, the most exciting day of the week, the "goats" were herded there in enormous numbers. The wild scenes outside were almost equal in intensity of excitement to the scenes within.

The den itself is a dirty hall, with a fountain in the centre, in the basin of which swims a solitary goldfish, which is supposed to rise and sink with the market. Around this fountain is a circular iron railing, emblematical, perhaps, of the hardest kind of a ring; and around this ring are the only seats on the floor, for the word "seats" is in general use in a figurative sense, and means a place where a man can stand, and point, and strike his fist, and howl.

These occupations engaged about two hundred excited bidders yesterday. "Bedlam broke loose" is a feeble figure to express the manner of bidding. Every howling bid is emphasized by an outstretched finger, fist or hand—one hand to each bidder—for in this, as in all gambling, only one hand (at a time) is needed, if it is a good one. Now and then there is a lull after a storm, as when the secretary—who, in the absence of the president and vice-president, presided yesterday—is appealed to when two men make the same bid, and each claims the purchase. The Board decides by a vote and show of hands.

When gold drops an eighth, a quarter, or more, the gallery, which firmly believes in an immediate return to a specie basis, cheers wildly—the gallery, filled with a motley crowd some of whom look forward, it would seem, to a return to specie basis to buy new hats, or at least to get their shirts washed. Therefore the gallery cheers for the good time coming.

It was pleasant to be assured, amid all the indescribable din of yesterday afternoon, and scenes that are paralleled only in a menagerie when the animals are about to be fed, that it was a very dull day; that the thing was "dead," "played out," and the excitement over. The "goats" outside were comparatively quiet. There were not more than eighty-seven millions or so sold yesterday—a mere trifle. Reports, rumors rather, from Washington about the Funding bill, and improved quotations of American securities abroad, and other matters, tended to unsettle the market, and to make things generally uncertain.—N. Y. Post.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is a pharmaceutical preparation. The proper name is given, and it is the most active which can be made. It is endorsed as a cure by all medical works for such diseases as recommended by the proprietor. It is pleasant in its taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and is taken by adults and children. It is tonic, diuretic, blood-purifying, and invigorating. Enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes will find it far more strengthening than any of the propriations of bark or iron.

See medical properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:—

BUCHU.—Its odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic; its taste is bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the urinary organs, such as gravel, chronic catarrh of the bladder, morbid irritation of the prostate gland, and retention or the incontinence of urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in dyspepsia, chronic rheumatism, cutaneous affections, and dropsy.

Cure of Gravel of Five Years Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

SAVANNAH, TENN., May 14, 1869.

Dr. H. T. Helmbold, Sir:

DEAR SIR: We introduced your "Fluid Extract Buchu" in this county about eight months ago, and are happy to state that it is meeting with universal favor. We wish to inform you of one instance (among many) where your "Buchu" has worked wonders. A man in our county, named J. B. Estell, had been suffering about five years with gravel.

About six weeks ago he bought of us one bottle of your "Buchu," and before he was through with one bottle he passed a gravel that weighs eight grains, which we now have on exhibition in our drug store. He says that he will never be without the "Buchu" in his house again. Your preparations are gaining favor every day.

Very respectfully yours, &c.,
ECCLES & HINKLE, Druggists.

Cure of Bladder and Kidney Affection of long Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

WESTPORT, CONN., Sept. 9, 1869.

H. T. Helmbold, Esq.,

DEAR SIR: I commenced taking your "Extract of Buchu" about two weeks since for an affection of the bladder and kidneys. I have suffered by spells very much for a few days past. But yesterday relief came through the effect of your "Buchu." A stone passed from my bladder about the size of a large pea, and I now feel perfectly well and entirely free from the pain that I have suffered with "so hard." I attribute my cure to your medicine entirely, and would recommend all persons similarly affected to try it. I have great faith in its curative powers.

Yours truly, THOMAS J. BENNETT.

Cure of Kidney and Bladder Affection of a Patient Seventy-eight years of Age. Thanks to Mr. Helmbold.

GIRARD, PA., March 31, 1869.

Editor Cosmopolite: I desire, as an unsolicited tribute to the merits of Helmbold's Buchu, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, to say that after consulting many eminent physicians, and trying nearly all the best advertised Remedies, in the vain hope of finding relief from aggravated kidney and bladder diseases, from which I have suffered excessively for many years, good fortune finally suggested to me Helmbold's Buchu, which I commenced using with little faith, and no apparent beneficial results for about a month.

At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief, which encouraged me to persevere in its use, and now, at the expiration of four months, although I am an feeble old man, nearly 78 years of age, and consequently medicines cannot be expected to favorably affect me as they otherwise would, I have found such decided relief and such permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, that I feel I ought to publicly record the fact, as an acknowledgment to him, and a valuable suggestion to the public. Yours respectfully,
D. M. LAREN.

DR. KEYSER

is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College, and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia. Hear him:

Mr. H. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years, and I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used, or known to be used, in the various diseases where such a medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves—tincture, fluid extracts—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant so all equal to yours. Twelve years' experience, right, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits; and, without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu or any other proprietary compound of whatever name.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D.,

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Jan. 28, 1868.

Mr H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: Your communication requesting our terms for advertising was duly received. Yes, from a prejudice I had formed against advertising "cures for secret diseases," it was left unanswered. During an accidental conversation in a drug store the other evening, my mind was changed on the character of your Buchu. It was then highly commended for other diseases by two physicians present. Inclosed please find our rate of advertising. Yours, T. B. H. STENHOUSE,
Ed'r and Prop'r of Telegraph.

TESTIMONIALS.

A Permanent Cure of Gravel of twelve Years' Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

BURNSIDE, CONN., Dec. 15, 1869.

Dr. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: It is with much pleasure that I write you upon facts respecting myself. I do not know hardly how to express myself. I have been for the last ten or twelve years the greatest sufferer man could be and live; but more sometimes than others. The complaint was the "Kidneys" and "Bladder." I have been sometimes from twelve to fourteen hours, and wanted to make water every minute, but could not. Have consulted doctors, both in Massachusetts and this State, and taken pills, I may say by the quart, all sorts of medicines, but found no relief from any, and got worse the last six months. I was so that I could scarcely get about. I could not rest night or day.

It would soon have been "all up" with me if I had not seen your advertisement headed "Kidneys." I read it through and thought I would try it. I purchased a bottle, but, mind you, had not much faith in it. Why should I, when I had been trying so many things that cost me so much? Well, I began taking it before I had taken the first bottle I felt bad; but I finished it and got another. By the time I took half of the second I still got worse; but, before I had taken the second, that I had made up my mind it was of no use trying any more—and all on the time the "Buchu" was doing its work, but I did not know it, so I gave it up and went to Hartford on Saturday to one of the best doctors in the city. He said it was the neck of the bladder, and I should have to undergo an operation. He gave me medicine, and I went home quite downhearted.

On Sunday I was unable to go to church. I had not taken any of his medicine, but on my return continued using the "Buchu," and in the afternoon I had a desire to make water, but could not. About one hour after this I tried again, with the same result. But on the next time I took the vessel it was the same as turning a faucet on, stopping it off again. It was so for three times, and for that time there was something came through the passage and struck against the side of the vessel. I examined it, and it is the ugliest stone or gravel you ever saw, covered over with little pieces which collected together. It looks the color of a mud turtle, and is as hard as flint. So you see the "Buchu" was doing its work, although I was feeling bad. I procured another bottle, thinking there might be some more behind; but since that has passed, which is eight weeks ago last Sunday, I have been as well as ever I was in my life. I have the stone securely wrapped, and those who have seen it in this place are surprised.

I cannot tell you all, but this is a true story of my case, and you are welcome to make such use of my name as you think proper. I am pretty well known in Berkshire; also in Connecticut. The advertisement saved me. Why not publish more? If any one wishes to see this wonder, they can do so. I could write all day, but I think I have said enough this time. I remain your ever well-wisher, EDWARD L. HOWARD,

Corner of 5th av. and 76th st., Central Park.

(A Home and School for the Sons of Deceased Soldiers.)

Dr. H. T. Helmbold,

Two bottles only of the package of your valuable Buchu received by the Institute have been used by the children, and with perfect success. In the care of our little Lieutenant A. J., his pride is no longer mortified, and he is free from the daily morning anathemas of the chamber-maid who has charge of his bedding.

I feel that a knowledge of the result of our use of your Buchu with the children under our charge may save many a Superintendent and Matron of Boarding Schools and Asylums a great amount of annoyance, and many a poor child suffering more from Weakness than from habit, may be spared punishment, that is (not knowing it as a weakness instead of a habit) most unjustly inflicted upon them. Thanking you on behalf of the children, and hoping others may be alike benefitted, I am respectfully yours,

COL. YOUNG, General Sup't and Director.

A Case of Twenty Years Standing.

PHILADELPHIA, PENN., June 25, 1867.

H. T. Helmbold, Druggist.

DEAR SIR: I have been a sufferer for upwards of twenty years with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did so because I had used all kinds of advertised Remedies and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no Remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your Remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of Buchu, cubebs, and juniper, I could confide in it to me and my physician as an excellent combination; and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting with me, of the Druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced to use it about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.

From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to go out. I felt much like writing to you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore deferred it to date, and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing that it would be of greater value to you and others if such should prove.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months. I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.

THE AMERICAN ANTI-SLAVERY SOCIETY held its thirty-seventh and last meeting in New York on Saturday, and after congratulatory speeches from Wendell Phillips, Rev. O. B. Frothingham, Fred Douglass, Geo. W. Julian, Abby Kelley Foster and others, and the reading of letters from Vice President Colfax, Sumner, Secretary Boutwell and others, a series of resolutions passed unanimously and the Society was formally dissolved.

☞ The annual examination at the State Reform School will take place tomorrow. Train leaves this city at 8 A. M., and a special return train will leave the School at 5.30, P. M. Fare one way.

☞ The newly fitted store in the old "Piscataqua House" is to be called the "Custom House Exchange," and is to be a wine and liquor establishment in charge of Mr. William Chandler.

☞ We hear that Mr. Uriah Blaisdell Esq., of this city has purchased Brig Birchard & Torrey at auction for $1600.

☞ The Eastern Railroad is doing a heavy business in both passenger and freight departments.

☞ We were pleased to greet in our office on Monday, Judge C. T. Garland, of Jefferson, Texas, who is also editor of the "Radical" newspaper, and a member of the Legislature of that State. He is a son of Mr. Calvin Garland of North Hampton, and has been absent in Texas for nine years. His health has been much injured by excessive judicial and editorial duties, and he has been spending a few days with his friends here. He has been an earnest worker, with tongue, pen and deed, for the radical course, and has met and overcome a mountain of opposition and denunciation therefor. Blessed is the work such men as he have done.

NEWCOMB'S MINSTRELS, who appear next week, are highly mentioned by the Buffalo Express, which says that their entertainment was in all respects first class, abounding with novelties and irresistible drolleries. Chang, the Chinese Giant, created a profound interest. The proportions of this individual are colossal, almost beyond belief, and a correct idea of his immensity can only be acquired by seeing him.

☞ The Ocean House at Rye Beach is now owned by an incorporated Company under the name of Ocean House Company.

Mr. S. B. Spear has just erected, next below the Sea View House at Rye, a large and handsome French roof house, of two stories, for boarders. It is pronounced the finest private house on the Beach. Mr. Albion R. Philbrick is also putting up a new house.

☞ Several new dwellings are going up at the West End—three on Union Street, and one on Cass St. Also one on Rogers Street. There ought to be many more in the city,—and if all the mechanics who have had good wages for years past, had economized as they might, many more would have the means to own a home, which it is very desirable for all to do if possible.

THE PANORAMA of the Pilgrim's Progress was exhibited, Monday evening, to a good audience. The painting is beautiful and will bear seeing more than once. Additional attractions have been secured since this Panorama was unrolled here, last year, and we can unhesitatingly recommend the entertainment as well worthy of the support of the best classes.

☞ Messrs. M. Fisher and George Bilbruck of this city, have purchased of Mr. Blood the brewery in Lawrence, and will conduct business there under the firm of M. Fisher & Co. Mr. Hones, formerly brewer for Mr. F. Jones, is temporarily in the city, and at present takes the place of Mr. Bilbruck at the brewery of H. Eldredge & Son.

☞ Mr. John S. Sides of this city, while at work round the mantel of his residence, a few days since, found an old copper coin, apparently English, dated 1667, and in a good state of perservation. He donated it to the collection of Mr. Jas. F. Jenness, at Eldredge & Son's counting room.

☞ Bidwell's Dramatic Troupe closed a very successful engagement at Mechanic Hall, Salem, on Saturday, evening. The Register says this is one of the most popular and favorite companies ever visiting Salem.

THE M. E. FAIR opens this evening at Congress Hall and will continue three evenings and Wednesday afternoon. Tableaux and dramas form a part of the entertainment.

☞ A Term of the S. J. Court begins at Exeter to-day—Judge Sargent presiding. A large number of cases are to go before the Grand Jury.

Correspondence of the Chronicle and Gazette.

YORK, ME., April 11.

Messrs. Editors:—Willie Young, youngest son of Capt. Samuel Young, of this town, met with a severe accident on Friday of last week. While examining a loaded pistol at the store of Wilson M. Walker, Esq., with whom he has been acting as clerk for some time past, a customer came in. Hastily thrusting the pistol in his pocket, probably cocked, and forgetting it, he soon after put his his hand in carelessly and discharged the weapon, the contents of which entered his leg just below the groin. After some probing, the ball was successfully removed by Dr. J. J. Hazea, leaving a ghastly and painful wound.

Mr. Oliver Dixon, who has been afflicted with cancer in the ear for twenty years past, died last week, aged 71, the cancer having finally reached his brain.

Rev. Benjamin W. Pond, of Charlemont, Mass., has accepted a call from the First Congregational Church and Parish, to settle with them in the gospel ministry, and is expected to commence his labors the second Sabbath in May. Salary, $1000 and the Parsonage. P.

☞ The Philadelphia Proof Sheet says the Pennsylvania Packet, started 1771, was first a weekly, then semi-weekly, then tri-weekly, and on the 21st Sept. 1784, the Packet was converted into a daily—being the first daily newspaper printed on this continent.

THE SHIPPING INTEREST.—The committee of ways and means and the committee on appropriations have agreed that the special committee on shipping interests shall have the floor of the House, as far as they are concerned, as soon as the tariff bill is out of the way.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Newspaper Statements.

HOW THE PEOPLE TEST THEIR TRUTH.

This is not an age when people believe or trust whatever they see in the public journals. Fifty or sixty years ago when the accuracy of a statement that had appeared in one of the gazettes or "News Letters" of the day, was questioned, it was considered a sufficient answer to all cavil to say, "It must be so, for I read it in the newspaper." It is not so now. Newspaper assertions must be verified before they are taken for granted, and this is especially the case as regards statements setting forth the remedial properties of proprietary medicines. For example; it was not until the tonic and alterative properties of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS had been deliberately and thoroughly tested by thousands, and found to be in perfect accord with the printed claims put forth in its behalf, that it was accepted by the public at large as a Standard Remedy.

But when multitudes who had resorted to it as a safe-guard against malarious fevers, a cure for indigestion and biliousness, a means of strengthening the frame, cheering the spirits and imparting constitutional vigor, came forward and testified that its beneficial effects had exceeded their most sanguine expectations, of course the world believed. To resist such proofs was impossible. Great care has been taken from the beginning not to overrate the merits of the Bitters.

Exaggeration and bombast have been the death of many preparations that might otherwise have survived. They were "weighed in the balance and found wanting." HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, on the contrary, have never been announced in grandiloquent language as a cure for every bodily ill, but simply as a pure harmless vegetable specific, possessing remarkable invigorating, regulating, anti-bilious and antiseptic properties. This is exactly what the public know the medicine to be, and its enormous sales is an argument in its favor.

A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color is imparts natural.]

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

"Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cts."

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 a bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DORAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says; I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicine which has no merits, what they say about

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM,

Can be taken as a fact. Let all afflicted test it at once. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

IF SO, SELECT THE BEST, which is the

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It has proved itself, West, North and South, to be the best Paint known. It will not peel, crack, nor chalk off, and will last twice as long as the best Lead Paints.

It is cheaper, handsomer and more elastic, than the best of other Paints. It is the most convenient Paint made, being mixed, ready for application; it dries rapidly, and retains its shade perfectly, with a beautiful surface and glossy finish, and for years retains its gloss and beauty. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper, making a smooth, glossy finish, which can be cleaned with hot suds without injury.

One Gallon of Mixed Lead Paint weighs 20 lbs. and costs $2.72, and will only cover 16 square yds, 2 coats; while one gallon of the Chemical Paint only weighs 10 lbs., and costs but $2.50, and will cover 20 square yds., 2 coats.—thus making a saving of 22 cts., per gallon, besides covering 4 yards more than Lead Paint, and will last twice as long and look far better.

The Chemical Paint is sold by the gallon in quantities to suit purchasers, in 40 different shades and pure white, and will be applied by experienced workmen and satisfaction given in every case; or in case of dissatisfaction in one year after put on, the whole cost of Paint will be refunded.

The sale of these unequalled Paints are daily increasing. Call and examine these ready mixed Paints, both in kegs, and applied to Buildings one year ago, before buying elsewhere, and save your money and money, and beautify your dwelling by using the

☞ The new banking house of the Rockingham 10 Cents Savings Bank, on Market Street, now approaching completion, will be one of the neatest and most elegant buildings in the city. The building has been changed from four stories to three, (of which the two upper will be occupied as a family tenement,) and the entire front rebuilt, iron pillars and ornamented iron window caps being substituted for these of granite. A reliable fire and burglar-proof safe is being constructed, which will delay the occupancy of the premises somewhat. Everything is done in a thorough and substantial manner, but no unnecessary expense incurred. The new Rockingham is one of the favorite banking institutions of the city and vicinity.

☞ A majority of the members of the Piscataqua (Orthodox) Association have expressed themselves in favor of extending an invitation to the Lord's Supper, based upon Christian character rather than upon church membership.

In reply to a distant correspondent, we will state that Mr. Durant closed his revival meetings here March 31st, after five weeks continuance, we believe. The interest and excitement were kept up pretty well to the last.

N. H. S. School Convention.—The New Hampshire Universalist Sunday School Convention will hold its session in the Universalist Church in Portsmouth, on Wednesday and Thursday, 20th and 21st of April. Essayist, Rev. G. W. Bicknell. 1st Subject for debate, "The practical Sequences of the Fatherhood of God as they should be inculcated in the Sabbath School," James E. Larkin, Esq., of Concord.—2nd Subject, "The system of uniform lesson-teaching in many Schools;" Rev. B. M. Tillotson, Manchester. 3d Subject, "Object teaching in the Sunday School;" Rev. T. H. Miller, Portsmouth. [An essay on this subject, finished by Mr. Miller just before his decease, will be read.] 4th Subject, "The system of reward in many schools;" Mrs. E. R. Sanborn, Concord. 5th Subject, "The Bible and the Sabbath School;" Joseph Kidder, Esq., Manchester. Every Sabbath School in the State is entitled to two delegates, and every Society two.

☞ The Concord Statesman says that "Although there was no concert of action on the subject, yet one of the proclamations of Gov. Steele for the Annual Fast was not read in the Methodist, Baptist, Congregational, and some other churches of Concord. It was regarded as unfit to be read to religious people." Rev. A. P. Peabody, then of this city, also declined to read it, and we believe he never read any other proclamation from his pulpit afterward—holding that none but those whom he authorized, and approved, had any right to preach from his desk.

☞ A sharp business man residing near this city, held about $3000 in gold all through the war. He wanted to get 300 for it, but that time never quite arrived. How much did he lose? This was somewhat different from ex-Gov. Smyth of Manchester, who by insisting on putting all the funds of the Savings Bank into Government bonds, at the start, (although strongly opposed by old fogies,) made the funds declare 9 per cent. dividend.

☞ A pealing result attends the administration of the Sulphur Baths by Dr. Strong, who makes his patients stronger by literally taking off their hide. The Doctor puts people in a box at his dry steamery on Ladd street, at all hours of the day and evening.

DOMESTIC WANTED, by Mrs. LYMAN, at No. 1 Austin Street. Portsmouth, April 9.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York,

February 15th, 1870.

The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the Central Pacific Railroad Company and the Western Pacific Railroad Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.

Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those who, at National works of internal improvement give intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other.

The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea magnifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of its extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.

Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.

Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.

The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 153 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.

Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.

Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.

The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.

The Bonds are in denominations of

$1000, $500, and $100.

They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or

The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or

The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only to the registered owner or his attorney.

The three classes will be known respectively as:

1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."

2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."

3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.

They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.

The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.

A Sinking Fund of $100,000 per annum is provided for the redemption of the Bonds, to take effect one year after the completion of the Road.

The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the Chesapeake and Ohio.

Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.

The present price is 90 and accrued interest.

A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.

Very respectfully,

FISK & HATCH,

Bankers.

P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.

☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 23daw3m

The Cocheco Woolen Co., at Rochester, stop their No. 3 mill and reduce wages 10 per cent. in the other mills. The Gonic Co. also reduce wages. This step is rendered necessary by the low price of goods and the extreme dullness of trade; and no doubt a general reduction in work and wages will take place throughout New England.

At the first session of the Rochester Police Court, the last civil case was Sarah A. PEABODY CORNERED.—In The Old Guard, for January, we have a story about Geo. Peabody, running in this way:—

A Virginian, who had bought large quantities of cotton before the war, took his property to England, and when there the fight commenced, cotton went up, and he realized about a hundred thousand out of his speculation, and invested it in consols. It yielded him a nice little income and he lived up to it prudently—kept a cab and a tiger, and lounged about town.

He was a member of the same club with Peabody, and one day the latter, who rather liked him, spoke to him like a father about his extravagance. "It is a great folly and useless expense to keep a horse," said he. "Why, I always take the omnibus—always." The Southerner was nettled, and intimated pretty strongly that he managed his own affairs without any interference. Peabody apologized, and explained that it was only a friendly remonstrance, and there the matter dropped.

That night they were at the club together. Peabody, though no gamester, like every member there, liked his quiet game of whist, and at half guinea points, managed to lose thirty pounds to his Southern friend, who happened to be opposed to him. When he rose to go, he shoved over a piece of paper to his opponent. "What's that?" "That's my I. O. U." was the reply. "Why, that won't do for me. I want the money." "What do you mean, sir? I don't happen to have the money about me. I fancy I'm good enough sir, for thirty pounds." "I don't know," was the answer. "I doubt the solvency of any man too poor to keep a horse, and obliged to ride in an omnibus." And he insisted on the money in gold, and positively forced Peabody to borrow it, and settle before he left the room.

HOW SMALL EXPENDITURES COUNT. Five cents each morning—a mere trifle. Thirty-five cents per week—not much; yet it would buy coffee and sugar for a whole family. $18.26 a year—and this amount invested in a savings bank at the end of a year and the interest thereon at six per cent. computed annually, would in twelve years amount to more than $679—enough to buy a good farm in the west.

Five cents before breakfast, dinner and supper; you'd hardly miss it, yet it is fifteen cents a day— $1.05 per week. Enough to buy a small library of books. Invest this as before, and in twenty years you have over $3,000. Quite enough to buy a good house and lot.

Ten cents each morning — hardly worth a second thought; yet, with it you can buy a paper of pins or a spool of thread. Seventy cents per week—it would buy several yards of muslin; $36.50 in one year—deposit this amount as before, and you would have $1,340 in twenty years; quite a snug little fortune. Ten cents before each breakfast, dinner and supper—thirty cents a day. It would buy a book for the children; $2.10 a week, enough to pay for a year's subscription to a good newspaper; $109.50 per year — with it you could buy a good melodeon, on which your wife or daughter could procure good music, to pleasantly while the evening hours away. And this amount invested as before, would in forty years produce the desirable amount of $15,000.

—Among the stories told of General Thomas is one of an incident which occurred when he and his chief of staff, General Garfield, were inspecting the fortifications of Chattanooga in 1863. They heard a shout, "Hello, mister! You! I want to speak to you!" and General Thomas found that he was the person addressed, by an uncouth, backwoods, East Tennessee soldier. He stopped, and the dialogue which ensued was as follows:—"Mister, I want to get a furlough." "On what grounds do you want a furlough, my man?" "I want to go home and see my wife." "How long since you saw your wife." "Ever since I enlisted, nigh on to three months." "Three months!" good-naturedly. "Why, my good man, I haven't seen my wife for three years." The East Tennessean stopped whittling for a moment, and stared incredulously; at length he said: "Well, you see, me and my wife ain't that kind." Even General Thomas' grimness was not proof against the laughter which he rode away to conceal, leaving the astonished soldier without an answer. Of course it is General Garfield who tells the story.

—According to Bunyan, Pilgrim made good time on his memorable walk, spite of the slough of Despond. We are inclined to think had the gentleman been compelled to pass through some of our streets in their recent condition, he would have run behind advertised time.

SONG.

BY HARRIET M'EWEN KIMBALL.

The birds in a flock go wheeling by,
Thrilling under the soft gray sky:—
"Nearly over! nearly over!"
O! the winter is nearly over!
If winter doth, will Sorrow stay?
Nay, dear Heart; nay!
Even Sorrow is a rover,
Hark!....'Nearly over! nearly over!"

The south wind sigheth a happy sigh
As the birds in flocks go wheeling by;
"Nearly over! nearly over!"
O! the winter is nearly over!
The tears in thy blue eyes turn them gray;
Nay, dear Heart; nay!
Even Sorrow is a rover,
Hark!....'Nearly over! nearly over!"

FREE TRADE.—Free trade may be a popular idea with those who do not reflect upon the subject. Should all commercial nations adopt such a system, it would be equal and fair. Nations are disposed, from motives of interest, to take advantage of each other in respect to a Tariff. England and France complain of each other in respect to a high Tariff. Australia is subject to the English government, and complains that while English merchandise is imported into Australia, free of duty, the products of Australia exported to England, are assessed with heavy duties. English writers, and some Anglo-American importers, advocate free trade with us, while heavy duties are imposed upon our products in English ports. England, while she collects an immense revenue from all commercial nations, will never set an example of free trade in respect to herself. There is an organized association, in New York, composed of intelligent men, under British influence, but destitute of patriotism, who advocate free trade. Suppose that their theory should be carried out into execution? Our manufacturers, paying high wages for laborers, could not compete with the cheap labor of England. The consequence would be, the ruin of our manufacturing establishments. Then the English manufacturers would raise the price of their merchandise sent to this country, as it was when we paid nearly 40 cents per yard for cotton, and 7 or 8 dollars per yard for woolen textile fabrics. Free trade would compel us to resort wholly to excise and direct taxes for the support of the Government expenditures. That would be a measure ever odious to the people. ANTI-FREE TRADER.

The Burning of the Ursuline Convent was an event which, at the time of its occurrence, excited feelings and animosities that have not yet entirely ceased to exist; though they have been softened by time, and a new generation has come upon the stage. The unusual transaction has still a hold upon the curiosity of many; and therefore the narrative of the facts in the case, gathered from authentic sources, published in a pamphlet by the New England News Company, will be sure to find readers. The substance of the story originally appeared in the Commercial Bulletin; but in it present form it has received large additions. The competent compiler of this extended account is Mr. Isaac W. Frye, who has put his materials together in an acceptable manner.

The Weekly Caucasian Lexington, Kentucky. Devoted to State Sovereignty, white supremacy, and Repudiation—which it calls Liberty! Here's what this "reconstructed" rebel print said of the Oneida massacre: "The Yankee war steamer Oneida celebrated Washington's birthday by going to the bottom of the ocean near Yokohama, Japan. One hundred and seventy nautical whelps of Doodle went down with her."

☞ Mr. John Holt, silver plater, of No. 33 Sudbury Street, Boston, is an honest man as well as a good workman. While paying him some money a day or two since, we left a small roll of bills lying on his counter or floor, and did not discover the loss until we arrived home—but on sending to Mr. Holt, he immediately acknowledged finding the same and returned it at once. This, to be sure, is no more than everybody should do; but still, we were glad to see our roll back again—though, from the appearance of the man, who was a stranger to us, we expected it, if it came into his hands.

H. T. HELMBOLD'S
CONCENTRATED
FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
THE GREAT DIURETIC.

The proprietor trusts that his Remedies, from the fact of their being advertised, may not be classed as Patent Medicines.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is a pharmaceutical preparation. The proper name is given, and it is the most active which can be made. It is endorsed as a cure by all medical works for such diseases as recommended by the proprietor. It is pleasant in its taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and is taken by adults and children. It is tonic, diuretic, blood-purifying, and invigorating. Enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes will find it far more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron.

See medical properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:—

BUCHU.—Its odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic; its taste is bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the urinary organs, such as gravel, chronic catarrh of the bladder, morbid irritation of the prostate gland, and retention of the incontinence of urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in dyspepsia, chronic rheumatism, cutaneous affections, and dropsy.

Cure of Gravel of Five Years Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

SAVANNAH, TENN., May 14, 1869.

Dr. H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: We introduced your "Fluid Extract Buchu" in this county about eight months ago, and are happy to state that it is meeting with universal favor. We wish to inform you of one instance (among many) where your "Buchu" has worked wonders. A man in our county, named J. B. Estell, had been suffering about five years with gravel.

About six weeks ago he bought of us one bottle of your "Buchu," and before he was through with one bottle he passed a gravel that weighs eight grains, which we now have on exhibition in our drug store. He says that he will never be without the "Buchu" in his house again. Your preparations are gaining favor every day.

Very respectfully yours, &c.,
ECCLES & HINKLE, Druggists.

Cure of Bladder and Kidney Affection of long Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

WESTPORT, CONN., Sept. 9, 1869.

H. T. Helmbold, Esq.,

DEAR SIR: I commenced taking your "Extract of Buchu" about two weeks since for an affection of the bladder and kidneys. I have suffered by spells very much for a few days past. But yesterday relief came through the effect of your "Buchu." A stone passed from my bladder about the size of a large pea, and I now feel perfectly well and entirely free from the pain that I have suffered with "so hard." I attribute my cure to your medicine entirely, and would recommend all persons similarly affected to try it. I have great faith in its curative powers.

Yours truly, THOMAS J. BENNETT.

Cure of Bladder and Bladder Affection of a Patient Seventy-eight years of Age. Thanks to Mr. Helmbold.

GIRARD, PA., March 31, 1869.

Editor Cosmopolite: I desire, as an unsolicited tribute to the merits of Heimbold's Buchu, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, to say that after consulting many eminent physicians, and trying nearly all the best advertised Remedies, to the whole hope of finding relief from aggravated kidney and bladder diseases, from which I have suffered excessively for many years, good fortune finally suggested to me Helmbold's Buchu, which I commenced using with little faith, and no apparent beneficial results for about a month.

At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief, which encouraged me to persevere in its use, and now, at the ripe age of four score years, although I am an infirm old man, nearly 78 years of age, and consequently medicines cannot be expected to favorably affect me as they otherwise would, I have found such unspeakable relief and permanent benefit from Mr. Helmbold's valuable discovery, that I feel I ought to publicly testify to the fact, as an acknowledgment to him, and a valuable suggestion to the public. Yours respectfully,

D. M. LAREN.

DR. KEYSER
is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College, and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia. Hear him:

Mr. H. T. Helmbold:

DEAR SIR: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used, or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves—tincture, fluid extracts—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Twelve years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits; and, without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have combined it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu or any other proprietary compound of whatever name.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D.,

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Jan. 28, 1868.

Mr. H. T. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: Your communication requesting our terms for advertising was duly received, but from a prejudice I had formed against advertising "cures for secret diseases," it was left unanswered. During an accidental conversation in a drug store the other evening, my mind was changed on the character of your Buchu. I was then highly commended for other diseases by two physicians present. Inclosed please find our rate o advertising. Yours, R. B. H. STENHOUSE,

TESTIMONIALS.

A Permanent Cure of Gravel of twelve Years' Standing. Stone Passed and to be Seen.

BURNSIDE, CONN., Dec. 15, 1869.

Dr. Helmbold,

DEAR SIR: It is with much pleasure that I write you upon facts respecting myself. I do not know hardly how to express myself. I have been for the last ten or twelve years the greatest sufferer man could be and live; but more sometimes than others. The complaint was the "Kidneys" and "Bladder." I have been sometimes down from twelve to fourteen hours, and wanted to make water every minute, but could not. Have consulted doctors, both in Massachusetts and this State, and taken pills, I may say by the quart, also liquored medicines, but found no relief from any, and got worse the last six months. I was so that I could scarcely get about, I could not rest night or day.

It would soon have been "all up" with me if I had not seen your advertisement headed "Kidneys." I read it through and thought I would try it. I purchased a bottle, but, mind you, had not much faith in it. Why should I, when I had been trying so many things that cost me so much? Well, I began taking it, and before I had taken the first bottle I felt bad; but I finished it and got another. By the time I took half of the second I still got worse (apparently.) When I walked it seemed as if my right kidney was falling from its place, and I felt really bad. I, after, before I had finished the second, that I had made up my mind it was of no use trying any more—and all this time the "Buchu" was doing its work, but I did not know it, so I gave it up and went to Hartford on Saturday to one of the best doctors in the city. He said it was the neck of the bladder, and I should have to undergo an operation. He gave me medicine, and I went home quite downhearted.

On Sunday I was unable to go to church. I had not taken any of his medicine, but on my return continued using the "Buchu," and in the afternoon I had a desire to make water, but could not. About one hour after I did so, and again with the same result; but the next time I took the vessel it was the same as turning a faucet and stopping it off again. It was so for three times, and the third time there was something came through the passage and struck against the side of the vessel. I examined it, and it is the ugliest stone or gravel you ever saw, covered over with little pieces which collected together. It looks the color of a mud turtle, and is as hard as flint. So you see the "Buchu" was doing its work, although I was feeling so badly. I procured another bottle, thinking there might be some more behind; but since that has passed, which is eight weeks ago last Sunday. I have been as well as ever I was in my life. I have the stone securely wrapped, and those who have seen it in this place are surprised.

I cannot tell you all, but this is a true story of my case, and you are welcome to make such use of my name as you think proper. I am pretty well known in Berkshire; also in Connecticut. The advertisement saved me. Why not publish more? If any one wishes to see this wonder, they can do so. I could write all day, but I think I have said enough this time, so I remain your ever well-wisher, EDWARD L. HOWARD.

N. Y. S. VOL. INSTITUTE,
Corner of 5th av. and 76th st., Central Park.

(A Home and School for the Sons of Deceased Soldiers.)

Dr. H. T. Helmbold,

Two bottles only of the package of your valuable Buchu presented to the Institute have been used by the children, and with perfect success. In the case of our little Lieutenant A. J., his pride is no longer mortified, and he is free from the daily morning anathemas of the chamber-maid who has charge of his bedding.

I feel that a knowledge of the result of our use of your Buchu with the children under our charge may save many of Superintendents and Matrons of Boarding Schools and Asylums a great amount of nonyance; and many a poor child suffering more from Weakness than from habit, may be spared punishment, that is (not knowing it as a weakness instead of a bad habit) most unjustly inflicted upon them. Thanking you on behalf of the children, and hoping your success may be alike benefitted, I am respectfully yours,

COL. YOUNG, General Sup't and Director.

A Case of Twenty Years Standing.

PHILADELPHIA, PENN., June 25, 1867.

H. T. Helmbold, Druggist.

DEAR SIR: I have been a sufferer for upwards of twenty years with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised Remedies and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no Remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your Extract Buchu. As you advertised that it was composed of Buchu, cubebs, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as a certain combination; and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the Druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced to use it about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.

From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing to you a full statement of my case at the time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to deter, and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing that if it would, it would be a more lasting and more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months. I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1870.

THE SENATORIAL QUESTION.—The rival candidates in opposition to Hon. Aaron H. Cragin have made a combination, it is said, with the hope of defeating his election, next June, for a second term in the U. S. Senate, and to establish a system of rotation. There are no objections offered to Senator Cragin's course as a representative of Republican principles. His record is an honorable one; his course has been strictly straight-forward; his voice and vote have always been for the right; and no Senator in Congress is more respected as a man of integrity than Aaron H. Cragin. In no way has he disappointed the loyal sentiment of the party which chose him as its representative, in the days of rebellion, when the truest men were sought for to fill and honor positions of trust.

Mr. Cragin was in early days a supporter of free soil doctrines, true to principle, earnest in advocating the right and unceasing in his endeavors to promote the cause in which he was engaged. When Hon. John P. Hale, with whom he had battled and whom he steadfastly supported, was about to retire from a long and useful career in the U. S. Senate, Mr. Cragin was the one selected to fill his place. And now that Senator Cragin has fulfilled the expectations of his friends and has acquired an influence in the Senate alike honorable to his State and to himself, it is proposed by eager candidates for the position to displace him when the necessity of his continuance there is more and more apparent; when, as the able Chairman of the Senate Naval Committee, (at a time when great changes are contemplated in that important branch of the service — the Navy,) he can contribute experience and counsel to the administration and to the highest legislative branch of our Government, whose members respect the man and his opinions, and listen to the measures he has to propose, with a knowledge that every plan he has to offer has been calmly considered and dispassionately weighed.

The opposing candidates are good men and true, but they can offer no particular reason why Mr. Cragin should not be re-elected, except that they want the position. They know and dispute not the fact that Mr. Cragin has never been thought doubtful on any question of public interest. People who have known him intimately or by reputation have instinctively felt he would vote right—because his public and private life has shown that he was actuated by principle. We have believed that a majority of the Republicans chosen to the legislature favor his re-election and have not yet seen any reasons to change our belief, notwithstanding the organized attempts of several correspondents of different papers to write him down, being opposed to him politically as well as personally. The principal candidates opposed to him were not so strongly in favor of rotation when they were chosen to Congress for three terms, instead of the customary two; and could it be within the range of possibility that either should be chosen Senator next June, we do not doubt that the successful one would strongly object to his own doctrine of rotation and demand a re-election at the end of his first term.

Senator Cragin represents thoroughly the principles of the Republican party and deserves the endorsement of a re-election for the ability and integrity he has shown and the influence he has acquired during one term in the United States Senate.

Republicans get some of the municipal appointments in New York city under the new charter.

The Methodist Conference has granted Horace Cook's request for leave to withdraw from the ministry.

The latest news from Cuba is to the effect that the Spanish troops have been entrapped and badly defeated by a trick of Gen. Jordan.

A prize fight took place on Tuesday at Charles Island, near Milford, Conn. About 300 people witnessed it. After its conclusion a riot occurred and Gov. Jewell ordered out five companies of militia. The steamer in which the rioters arrived was carried off and at last accounts they could not leave the island.

The House Naval Committee struck out the clause in the Naval Reorganization bill giving executive officers on shipboard precedence over staff officers in the matter of rank. This completely revolutionizes the system which has always prevailed in the navy, that an executive officer, like a captain, shall have precedence over all other officers on shipboard, no matter how high their rank.

CHRONICLES OF OLD TIMES.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

The Portsmouth Privateers of 1812.

NUMBER FOURTEEN.

This chapter, beginning with a letter from Capt. Sinclair, of the Portsmouth, wakes up sad recollections; but they, as well as the events, belong to the history of the war of 1812. We copy from the Oracle of March 25, 1815:

Extract of a letter from Capt. Sinclair, of the Portsmouth, dated at sea, Dec. 26, lat. 40, lon. 11.—Sailed from Portsmouth, Nov. 10.—14th, near Cape Sable, recaptured sch. Nancy, of Newburyport, [since re-captured.] 18th, was chased and obliged to heave over spare spars, and 24 hhds. water—outsailed her—experienced continued gales till the 28th, when we captured the British brig Ocean, from Marimachie, with timber for Glasgow; took out some water, provisions, &c., and burnt her—afternoon of the same day, captured brig Langton, from Richiebucto (N. S.) with timber for a port in Scotland; being short of water, paroled the Ocean's and Langton's crews, and gave her up, after obtaining a bill for 700*l.* sterling for the brig's ransom—stood to the eastward, continued gales.

4th, gave chase to a brig—when within two miles, found her a man of war; she gave chase in turn, but we escaped easily—10th, spoke a Portuguese brig for Fayal, in distress—14th, spoke a Dutch galliott—continued steering to the eastward, and boarded a number of neutrals, one of whom informed me of a fleet about sailing from Gibraltar, for which we kept a lookout; 24th, we fell in with several sail dispersed, and captured brig Crown Prince, loaded with 362 bales Merino wool, 450 boxes raisins, and a few trunks dry goods; sch. Nancy, with wine, fruit and sumac; and transport brig Juno, from Gibraltar for England. Blowing heavy, concluded to stand to the southward till the weather moderated, and take out part of the cargoes of these vessels, and give up the Juno to the prisoners, but the gale continuing, lost the sch. and the Juno, (given up to the former master and arrived at Lisbon.)—25th, took 50 bales wool, 450 boxes raisins, and a few trunks dry goods, from the brig Crown Prince, and ordered her for Portsmouth, —Sawyer, prize master.

Arrived at this port on Tuesday last, via Portland, the British brig Crown Prince, prize to the private armed brig Portsmouth, Sinclair, of this port, Sawyer prize master, captured 87 days since.

Extract from the Crown Prince's Log Book:—Jan. 30th, lat. 35:17 N., lon. 55:44 W., was chased and brought to by a British man of war brig, but there being a severe gale and heavy sea, she could not board us; therefore we displayed the British flag—they hailed, asked from whence we came, where bound, what was our cargo, and what brig it was? Answer:—Crown Prince, from Surinam for Halifax, cargo rum and molasses. Observing we had a convoy vane, asked what convoy we sailed under? Ans.,—None. Who are you consigned to in Halifax? Parker & Hanson. Is that vessel owned in Halifax? Aye, aye. He then requested us to keep a light in our rigging during the night, and said he was likewise bound into Halifax, would show us a blue light every four hours, and generously offered on the gale abating to send a boat on board with instructions, and convoy us in; for which we thanked him kindly.

At 11 P. M., in a squall, attempted to run from the brig, but on the squall clearing up, found she was in close pursuit of us, which induced us to heave to again. However, at 1 A. M., another opportunity offered, which we took advantage of, and narrowly escaped being re-captured.—The war brig mounted 12 guns, 2 of which were brass; and there were on board of her navy officers and marines in full uniform.

C. H. Parker, Esq., of Wolfeboro', sends us the following note, giving some facts of interest relating to the Portsmouth and her prize.

"I have read with much interest the 'Chronicles of Old Times,' for the reason that my own father, Samuel G. Parker, was then a resident of Portsmouth, from which place he sailed in various capacities. I have been looking with much interest for some mention of the privateer 'Portsmouth,' on board of which my father sailed, (as related to me by my mother,) on her last trip,—and from which the Portsmouth never returned, her fate remaining a mystery.

The story as told to me was that the Portsmouth sailed with a picked crew, —members of several of the best families of the place, a number of them being old masters. She captured a prize, and my father was sent in as prize master, expecting the Portsmouth to arrive before him; but she never returned, nor was anything afterwards heard of her.—I will add that it was on the night of the arrival of the prize above mentioned that my mother first met my father; and she represented him as being greatly excited on account of the non-arrival of the Portsmouth. He feared there had been a mutiny on board, as there was quite a spirit of insubordination among the old masters before he left the privateer."

The apparent discrepancy, about the prize master, between the two accounts, is of no consequence. The two men named were probably a prize master and a prize master's mate, or second master.—The supposed mutiny, which Mr. Parker feared, was converted into a ground of hope by many families who had friends on board the Portsmouth, and they imagined she might be making some distant voyage, so that their friends would come home by and by.

The sch. Nancy, which the Portsmouth took when 4 days out, viz., Nov. 14, was soon retaken, and went to Halifax. One or two of the Portsmouth's crew, who were thus made prisoners, soon got home to this place—but the Portsmouth herself never got back, and was virtually given up as a missing vessel before this prize, the Crown Prince, arrived. Her arrival, of course, raised some hopes again, but they gradually and dreadfully died out.

The same Oracle has notice of a prize to the Fox:

Arrived on Thursday last, the British ship Antigua, (Otis Fall, prize master,) from London bound to Antigua, laden principally with flour, butter, cheese, and plantation utensils, prize to the privateer Fox, Winkley, of this port. She was captured 27 days since, and is a fine ship of about 250 tons.—The Fox has made another capture, which was destroyed.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT

—IN THE—

PREPARATION OF COD LIVER OIL.

The great obstacle to the universal adoption of COD LIVER OIL as a remedial agent, has been the repulsive taste and smell which have adhered to the various Oils prepared for market. This disagreeable feature has been entirely obviated in MARVIN'S COD LIVER OIL.

By a careful selection of the Livers of the Cod, preserving them in a fresh and sweet condition, and by a process, that whilst it retains all the medicinal qualities of the Oil, at the same time completely eliminates all animal matter, we are able to present that which all Physicians, who have seen and tested it, pronounce to be a great desideratum to the profession, viz.: a perfectly Pure, Inodorous, and Palatable Cod Liver Oil, as sweet to the taste as Sardine Oil, leaving no unpleasant taste in the mouth, and producing no eructations from the stomach. Its superiority to any known preparation of Cod Liver Oil, is at once acknowledged by all at the first sight.

We believe it to be the duty of every one who prescribes or sells Cod Liver Oil, to secure for their patients or customers the VERY BEST ARTICLE that the persevering study of man has produced, and we invite you to a trial of its qualities.

It is put up in neat Bottles, containing One Pint each, and packed in boxes of one dozen each. We solicit your order for one dozen or more for trial of its virtues. We append below the letter of Dr. Hayes, State Assayer and Chemist of Massachusetts:

Gentlemen:—I have made chemical analyses of three samples of Marvin's Deodorized and Palatable Cod Liver Oil, as prepared by you, with the following results, one of the samples being marked new, one three months, and the other six months old. The samples do not differ in composition, the Oil in each case being free from animal tissue, or any trace of decomposition. This Oil is transparent, of a pale amber color, and remarkably free from disagreeable taste or odor. It is chemically Pure Cod Liver Oil, containing all its constituents and therapeutic properties, and its uncommon keeping quality is due to its purity. Respectfully, S. DANA HAYES, State Assayer and Chemist of Massachusetts. Jan. 27th, 1870.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Newspaper Statements.

HOW THE PEOPLE TEST THEIR TRUTH.

This is not an age when people believe or trust whatever they see in the public journals. Fifty or sixty years ago when the accuracy of a statement that had appeared in one of the gazettes or "News Letters" of the day, was questioned, it was considered a sufficient answer to all cavil to say, "It must be so, for I read it in the newspaper." It is not so now. Newspaper assertions must be verified before they are taken for granted, and this is especially the case as regards statements setting forth the remedial properties of proprietary medicines. For example, it was not until the tonic and alterative properties of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS had been deliberately and thoroughly tested by thousands, and found to be in perfect accord with the printed claims put forth in its behalf, that it was accepted by the public at large as a Standard Remedy.

But when multitudes who had resorted to it as a safe-guard against malarious fevers, a cure for indigestion and biliousness, a means of strengthening the frame, cheering the spirits and imparting constitutional vigor, came forward and testified that its beneficial effects had exceeded their most sanguine expectations, of course the world believed. To resist such proofs was impossible. Great care has been taken from the beginning not to overstate the merits of the Bitters.

Exaggeration and bombast have been the death of many preparations that might otherwise have survived. They were "weighed in the balance and found wanting." HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, on the contrary, have never been announced in grandiloquent language as a cure for every bodily ill, but simply as a pure harmless vegetable specific, possessing remarkable invigorating, regulating, and bilious and antiseptic properties. This is exactly what the public know the medicine to be, and its enormous sales is an argument in its favor.

A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT.

mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being curbed in time. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Colds, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pains in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciusko County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM extensively, in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung disease in use."

ISAAC A. DOBAN, M. D., of Logan County, Ohio, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM not only sells rapidly but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice and with unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middlebury, Vermont, says: I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes and the Lungs.

☞ The Panorama of the Pilgrim's Progress was exhibited again, Tuesday evening, to an appreciative audience, and the manager advertises a matinee this afternoon, at reduced prices. Another opportunity to see it will be afforded this evening. We have heretofore spoken very favorably of the "Pilgrim;" now we wish to repeat all the good things we have said of it, and to say that it is one of the most pleasing exhibitions of the kind we have ever seen. Don't fail to go and see it yourself, and be sure and send all the children.

New Hampshire in the Rebellion. — By Maj. Otis F. R. Waite. Published by Tracy, Chase & Co., Claremont.

Major Waite has presented to the public a handsome octavo volume of more than six hundred pages, illustrated by portraits of distinguished men and sketches of battle scenes. The portraits are those of Governors Goodwin, Berry and Smith; Generals Griffin, Bedel, Head, Duncan, Abbott and Stevens, and Colonels Fellows and Cross.

A few captions from the table of contents will give the reader an idea of the book, and indicate its value quite as accurately as any review of its pages.

Part I. relates to the position of national affairs at the commencement of the war.

Part II. presents the action of our State, the raising and sending out of the regiment of three-months-men; then of other regiments and organizations in their order, with an enumeration of the various duties required of them; and closes with sketches of some of the prominent men officially connected with the State government during the rebellion.

The work shows no small degree of industry on the part of the author, and will be a volume that will be read by generations of New Hampshire's sons and daughters, who will take pride in keeping in remembrance the heroic deeds of their ancestors. The book is to be sold by subscription. When the opportunity is offered our people, they cannot hesitate to place copies in their libraries.

ENTERPRISE.—Manchester is a smart place, and thrives and grows, because her people all work and pull together to that end. Her leading citizens are not jealous of one or the other of them making a few dollars, for they rightly understand and appreciate that the real prosperity of one benefits the whole community more or less. Portsmouth and Concord built a Railroad, but their citizens did not all work together, as they should, and Manchester was smart enough to get the location of the road changed to that city—which was not necessarily a bad move, by the way, but was considered rather against the wishes and interests of Concord especially. Manchester also has the State Reform School, and talks sometimes of having the Capitol.

Just now, all the talk is about her getting control of the Concord Railroad, four of her heavy men having combined and bought a million dollars of the stock, in a day or two; and an entire change is to be made in the managers of the same, if not in its management. The new Directors it is said will be, Isaac Spalding of Nashua, Frederick Smyth of Manchester, John H. Pearson of Concord, J. W. Johnson of Enfield, Wm. R. Spalding of Lawrence, Edson Hill of Manchester, and Wm. A. Tower of Boston; Treasurer, Moody Currier of Manchester; Clerk, Anson S. Marshall of Concord. The report that George Clough and the other ex-Conductors are to have any voice in the matter, is denied by the Mirror; which says the whole affair is simply a business move and pecuniary speculation; but of course, in any question of policy between the chief New Hampshire cities on the route of the road, the interests of Manchester will not be likely to suffer. And with such enterprising men, such a city ought not to.

OFFICE OF FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS AND DEALERS IN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
No. 5 NASSAU STREET, NEW YORK,
February 15th, 1870.
The remarkable success which attended our negotiation of the Loans of the CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY and the WESTERN PACIFIC RAILROAD Loans have maintained in the markets, both in this country and Europe, have shown that the First Mortgage Bonds of wisely located and honorably-managed Railroads are promptly recognized and readily taken as the most suitable, safe, and advantageous form of investment, yielding a more liberal income than can hereafter be derived from Government Bonds, and available to take their place.
Assured that, in the selection and negotiation of superior Railroad Loans, we are meeting a great public want, and rendering a valuable service—both to the holders of Capital and to those great National works of internal improvement whose intrinsic merit and substantial character entitle them to the use of Capital and the confidence of investors—we now offer with special confidence and satisfaction the
OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company
The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, connecting the Atlantic coast and the magnificent harbors of the Chesapeake Bay with the Ohio River at a point of reliable navigation, and thus, with the entire Railroad system and water transportation of the great West and Southwest, forms the additional East and West Trunk Line, so imperatively demanded for the accommodation of the immense and rapidly-growing transportation between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe on the one hand, and the great producing regions of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys on the other
The importance of this Road as a new outlet from the West to the sea manifies it into one of national consequence, and insures to it an extensive through traffic from the day of its completion; while, in the development of the extensive agricultural and mineral resources of Virginia and West Virginia, it possesses, along its own line, the elements of a large and profitable local business.
Thus the great interests, both general and local, which demand the completion of the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD to the Ohio River, afford the surest guarantee of its success and value, and render it the most important and substantial Railroad enterprise now in progress in this Country.
Its superiority as an East and West route, and the promise of an immense and profitable trade awaiting its completion, have drawn to it the attention and co-operation of prominent Capitalists and Railroad men of this City, of sound judgment and known integrity, whose connection with it, together with that of eminent citizens and business men of Virginia and West Virginia, insures an energetic, honorable and successful management.
The Road is completed and in operation from Richmond to the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of West Virginia, 227 miles, and there remain but 200 miles (now partially constructed) to be completed, to carry it to the proposed terminus on the Ohio river at, or near, the mouth of the Big Sandy river, 150 miles above Cincinnati, and 250 miles below Pittsburg.
Lines are now projected or in progress through Ohio and Kentucky to this point, which will connect the Chesapeake and Ohio with the entire Railroad systems of the West and Southwest, and with the Pacific Railroad.
Its valuable franchises and superior advantages will place the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY among the richest and most powerful and trustworthy corporations of the country; and there exists a present value in completed road and work done, equal to the entire amount of the mortgage.
The details of the Loan have been arranged with special reference to the wants of all classes of investors, and combine the various features of convenience, safety, and protection against loss or fraud.
The Bonds are in denominations of
$1000, $500, and $100.
They will be issued as Coupon Bonds, payable to Bearer, and may be held in that form; or
The Bond may be registered in the name of the owner, with the coupons remaining payable to bearer attached, the principal being then transferable only on the books of the Company, unless re-assigned to bearer; or
The coupons may be detached and cancelled, the Bond made a permanent Registered Bond, transferable only on the books of the Company, and the interest made payable only the registered owner or his attorney.
The three classes will be known respectively as:
1st. "Coupon Bonds payable to Bearer."
2d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons attached."
3d. "Registered Bonds with Coupons detached," and should be so designated by Correspondents in specifying the class of Bonds desired.
They have thirty years to run from January 15, 1870, with interest at six per cent per annum from November 1, 1869. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.
The interest is payable in MAY and NOVEMBER, that it may take the place of that of the earlier issues of Five-Twenties, and suit the convenience of our friends who already hold Central and Western Pacific Bonds, with interest payable in January and July, and who may desire, in making additional investments, to have their interest receivable at different seasons of the year.
The Loan is secured by a mortgage upon the entire Line of Road from Richmond to the Ohio River, with the equipment and all other property and appurtenances connected therewith.
A SINKING FUND OF $100,000 PER ANNUM IS PROVIDED FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS, TO TAKE EFFECT ONE YEAR AFTER THE COMPLETION OF THE ROAD.
The mortgage is for $15,000,000, of which $2,000,000 will be reserved and held in trust for the redemption of outstanding Bonds of the Virginia Central Railroad Company, now merged in the CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO.
Of the remaining $13,000,000, a sufficient amount will be sold to complete the road to the Ohio river, perfect and improve the portion now in operation, and thoroughly equip the whole for a large and effective traffic.
The present price is 90 and accrued interest.
A Loan so amply secured, so carefully guarded and so certain hereafter to command a prominent place among the favorite securities in the market, both of this Country and Europe, will be at once appreciated and quickly absorbed.
Very respectfully,
FISK & HATCH,
Bankers.
P. S.—We have issued pamphlets containing full particulars, statistical details, maps, etc., which will be furnished upon application.
☞ We buy and sell Government Bonds, and receive the accounts of Banks, Bankers, Corporations, and others, subject to check at sight, and allow interest on daily balances. 22dawsm

Morning Chronicle.

A NON COMMITTAL CAPTAIN.—Captain Ward of Portsmouth was an eccentric of the first water, and one of his peculiarities was that he never gave a desired answer to a direct question. An amusing instance of this evasive habit is related. One morning four of his friends, who were aware of this trait in his character, observed the captain going to market, and, after some bantering, entered into a bet as to the practicobility of learning from him the price he paid for his purchase. They accordingly settled the preliminaries, and stationing themselves at different points along a street he must pass on his way home, awaited his coming.

Very soon the bluff old gentleman made his appearance with several pigeons in his hand. As he approached, the first questioner accosted him with: "Good morning Captain! What did you give for pigeons this morning?" "Money," said the Captain bluntly, as he passed up the street. The second gentleman, a little further on, addressed him and asked: "How do pigeons go this morning, Captain:" "They don't go at all, I carry 'em," was the equally unsatisfactorily reply. Shortly after he had met a third, who asked the time of day and inquired: "How much are pigeons a dozen, Captain?" "Didn't get a dozen—only bought half a dozen!" said the old gentleman, still plodding on his way. Finally, the fourth and last of the conspirators cottoned to the wary old salt by observing, in the blandest tones: "A fine lot of pigeons you have there, Captain. What did you get them for?" "To eat," was the pertinent and emphatic rejoiner, and the Captain reached home without further molestation.

—The rich are always willing to throw the burden of taxation on the poor because the tax is so small they wont feel it. Compassionate mortals! They now want to get rid of their income tax, because it is so annoying to have to submit their private affairs to an assessor. The trouble is they don't want to pay the tax. If you don't want to make a nation of liars, repeal the income tax, shouts an independent press. The statement is too rash altogether. It is only 250,000 of a nation of 40,000,000 people who are compelled to return an income, and a part of them are too true to the Master to swear to a lie. Some other excuse than this to throw the burden of taxation upon the poor must be made, before our Representation in Congress will repeal a tax which is levied just where it ought to be—upon the wealth of the country.—Dover Local Record.

WINTER PEARS.—We take the following from the American Agriculturist:

F. R. Elliot regards the neglect to want and grow more of winter varieties of pears, as a decided error on the part of fruit growers. Objections are somewhat made on account of the slow growth of the trees (most of the winter varieties). Such objections when well understood are strictly commendations, as it has long been known by careful, observing horticulturists, that a moderate and slow growth while young and not too early coming to bearing maturity, are indications of longevity and health in the tree.

—The following experience is related by the captain of one of the steamers running between Boston city and Portland. Two young men came on board pretty well overcome with liquor, and were sitting on the deck undergoing sensations the reverse of pleasant. Soon after the vessel started the captain was passing them when one said: "I say, captain, (hic) when you're going (hic) to start?" "Start," said the captain, "why, we're off Portland Light, now." "S'hat so?" says the fellow; "then what in thunder (hic) made you leave us here?"

—It is said than an old lady lives in Portland, Me., who was the affianced wife of Daniel Webster. She is a native of New Hampshire, and in her youthful days was accomplished and prepossessing, and stills has a superior mind. She refused Mr. Webster on account of his using strong drink. She has never married.

—Mr. Davis Googins of Saco, who is noted for being the owner of large and nice stock, has a pair of steer calves called the largest ever raised in this country, probably as large as any ever raised in the State. The age of one is eleven months, of the other twelve, and both girt five feet six inches.

—Dr. Warren successfully amputated the thigh, just above the knee, of Mr. Andrew J. Waterhouse of Saco, a gentleman of about fifty years of age who has been afflicted with a "white swelling" for about 20 years.

—The Maine Legislature abolished the usury laws. Parties can lend and borrow at such rate of interest as they may express in writing. Where there is no agreement in writing, six per cent. is the legal interest.

—Miss Anna L. Coffin, who was chosen on the Newbury School Committee, declines to serve, as she says she could not attend to the duties if she would, and would not if she could.

—The car load of salmon brought to New York from Sacramento cost, on the Sacramento river, from five to ten cents per pound, and the freight from ocean to ocean eighteen cents per lb.

—Mr. Nathan Hopkinson, late of Saco, bequeathed $500 to the Westbrook Seminary.

—The first court ever held in Maine was held at Saco, by William Gorges, two hundred and thirty-four years ago.

The Indian name of Kennebec River is Nollidgenonticook.

UPS AND DOWNS OF MINING LIFE.—The Omaha Herald has a correspondent from whose letters we extract the following:—

Then there was the original Aurora mine, which always had a doubtful character. Two men, brothers, came from one of Nevada's "played-out" mining towns, and managed to lease the Aurora, not because they had any money, but because the Aurora was considered quite worthless. A few months later these men sold their lease for a snug pile, and went down to "Frisco," the ultima thule of every miner's golden dream—the place where every old Pacific coaster goes when he "makes a strike."

I knew one old bummer in White Pine, who oftimes depended on his friends for his whiskey and meals, and who was worth three or four hundred thousand dollars a short time before White Pine was discovered. Men came to White Pine during the summer of 1868, without sufficient coin to pay a week's board, made ten or fifteen thousand dollars in as many weeks, went to "Frisco"—in other words "down to the Bay,"—lived as miners are wont to do when flush, came back in the spring of 1869, and in the following summer might have been seen wandering round White Pine like the uneasy ghosts along the river Styx, which Virgil so vividly portrays,—or walking out to Elko, a distance of 120 miles, because they had nothing better to do, and no money to pay the stage fare.

Of some half-dozen prominent business firms, which commanded thousands of dollars and were flush with coin during the winter of 1868–69, only one was on its last legs the next summer and fall. I knew two intelligent, industrious and very temperate men, having control of a much talked of mine at White Pine, who had been knocking around the Pacific coast excitements for ten years without making the long-looked-for "strike." White Pine "soured" on them both, though at one time they were considered to be on the verge of that happy state known as "rich and respectable." I well remember one elderly man, member of a prominent firm in Treasure City, which during last winter handled thousands of dollars worth of goods, and owned claims that would have sold any day for many thousands of dollars. The latter part of last summer the same man was trying to borrow money enough to take him from White Pine to Sacramento.

About the latter part of 1868, or early in 1869, a certain town in Idaho contained a fellow who was invited to leave the town for the town's good. This specimen of the genus homo was familiarly known as Jack, the gorilla gambler. Well, the atmosphere of Idaho becoming rather warm for him, he wandered off to the newly discovered White Pine mines. Having signally failed at gambling, as well as all other tricks that he had tried, he concluded to become a real estate operator. He pitched upon the present site of Hamilton. By pure good luck he held his claim, and dealt his plantation out into town lots, which increased in value with magical rapidity. This proved to be his "winning deal," so he became rich, and of course "respectable." Indeed, he was quite a gentleman in White Pine, and did nothing very glaring except to appropriate another man's wife. Last summer he, too, went "down to the Bay," and purchased a fine ranch near San Jose, for which he paid $65,000. Probably he can now visit Idaho as the wealthy Mr. ——, and not as the bushwhacking, bullwhacking Jack, who was cordially invited to "make himself scarce" in Idaho. If this is not a genuine case of luck, then what is it? Surely it is not due to any good qualities or merit in the man himself.

I well know a genial, kind-hearted chap, who at one time possessed money, town lots and teams, whom I afterwards saw propelling mules up and down Treasure Hill for a livelihood, seemingly quite as happy as when "in luck." There was another chap who was considered one of the lucky ones in White Pine, whom I met in Elko. He "went through" at White Pine, tried the new district, Cope, and walked back to Elko without a dollar. When I met him he had just "corralled a square meal" for the first time in many days, and he assured me that he paid for that in "jaw-bone"—which simply means that he talked to the vender of hash like a parson or a Dutch uncle.

I am altogether too well reminded of another poor devil, who knows what luck is, at least in White Pine. He, too, had a brief hour of happy expectations, and bright dreams of riches and respectability. But those sad sisters—the Fates—were too much for him. In other words he was not born lucky; and if any first-class bad luck was laying around loose, he was sure to get his full share of the article. Retrospection is highly edifying when one has been such an inspired ass as to let every golden opportunity slip from his grasp.

The ups and downs of a mining region are an amusing and philosophical study. Pure luck there reigns supreme, for the careless, roystering bullwhacker is as liable to make a "big strike" as is the most intelligent, industrious, sober-minded man. Luck is a gay and festive old fellow, and we may as well put up with his pranks with the best possible humor, though it is not every one who can take it such as coolly as did the old fellow in Montana, who, when informed that his son had been hung by the "vigilantes," merely said, "Bill's out of luck!"

The Portland Argus says a fellow has been sentenced to two years imprisonment for "breaking and entering an apothecary."

The orchestra in the Chinese theatre at 'Frisco sounds "like fifty thousand wash-boilers falling off a five story building on a brick sidewalk."

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
For Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vitality and Color.
A Dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for Preserving the Hair. Faded or gray Hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use.
Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remains can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations for the hair injurious to the hair, the Vigor, can only benefit but not harm it.
If wanted merely for a HAIR DRESSING, nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Lines on Lessing's Martyrdom of Huss

BY GEORGE OSGOOD.

Maiden, musing on the martyr
As he stands before the stake,
Tell me of the thoughts and feelings
That within thy bosom wake?

Is thy heart all sad and gloomy
In this dark and fearful hour?
Dost thou dread the priests and nobles
As they come with pomp and power?

Dost thou fear the rope and fagots,
Tremble at the lighted torch?
Faint to see those fiend-like beings
Standing by death's awful porch?

Can the brave Hungarian noble
Darling in the rising fire,
With his righteous indignation
Such a soul as thine inspire?

Rather let the lowly maiden
By the moss clad altar there,
Kindle holy thoughts within thee
As she kneels in silent prayer.

With the peasant girl that kneeleth
In this dark and sombre scene,
O, behold the heavenly radiance
On the martyr's brow serene.

Still for light and strength he prayeth
Ere he treads the painful way,
For he knows his night of suffering
Soon must end in blissful day.

When the shades of fear and sadness
Darkly o'er thy path shall lie,
Earnest prayer will bring from heaven
Peace and hope to light thine eye.

Maiden, musing on the martyr,
Learn in every hour of ill,
With his meek and holy reverence
Thus to meet thy Father's will.

THE PROPOSED CHANGE IN THE CONCORD RAILROAD. — Great curiosity hangs about the proposed change in this Road, and to gratify it, the Mirror takes some pains to collect the facts, briefly compressed from what we might elaborate into columns. The new ticket therefore given, will be elected at the annual meeting, the last of next month, a very large majority of the stock represented being cast for it. They are men who stand high up in financial confidence, and many of them have received the most marked tokens of respect from the people. Their ability or integrity cannot be questioned, and the same is true of the present management. It has been rumored that Geo. Clough and other ex-conductors were to be in power in this corporation. The friends of the new board have never contemplated such a thing, and, indeed, Mr. Clough has never asked for it. It is a financial operation of far-seeing business men.

For some of the stock they have paid what seems to be a "round" price, but it pays six per cent. on cost now, and our State law allows the Savings Banks to divide but five every other year, and half of their money must be invested in this State. Some of the ablest moneymen in this country are anxious for long investments at six per cent. Railroads are still in the infancy of business, and the Concord Railroad being the main trunk, with the cities of Concord and Nashua at its termini, and Manchester at its centre, and one of its leased roads ending at Lawrence and another at Portsmouth and tide-water, will constantly increase in business, and is sure to pay ten per cent. on its capital.

We are glad to know, what we stated in a former article, that the new board have no "entangling alliances" with any other road, express company, consolidation or project for extinction, but are free to manage the road for best interests of the stockholders and the public. There are no quarrels between the old board and new, but on the contrary, most of the gentlemen composing them are strong personal friends.

What are the impelling motives for the change, each must judge for himself. Such revolutions come in all corporations, in all State and national governments, and the chief duty of the journalist is to see that ability and honesty are at the helm of public corporations and that the people receive not detriment from their management.

The proposed change is legitimate, a fair business transaction, creates a good deal of talk, but, on the whole, is rather welcomed by the people, like most changes, in hopes that by some unforeseen thing they may gain thereby. Of course the old board and their friends do not relish it, and would not voluntarily resign any more than the office-holders through the eight years of Lincoln and Johnson, with few exceptions, resigned after Grant came in, till they were semi-officially notified that other men had at last been found competent to fill their places. Such is human nature.

How men who have succeeded so well in public life and offices of financial trust, will manage a railroad, time will show. For that the people must wait and watch.—Mirror.

MAINE LIQUOR LAW.—City Marshal Bolton of Bangor, has, during the past year, made fifty-three arrests for selling liquors. Of these in about fifty cases, the sellers have been convicted. He has made in all about one hundred searches, in sixty of which seizures were made—amounting in all to 2695 gallons of liquors.

Constipation,	Liver Complaint,	Children's Troubles
Diarrhœa,	Consumption,	&c., &c., &c.

Take Care of Yourself.
DODD'S NERVINE is a PURE TONIC,—harmonizes perfectly with the NERVE FIBRE,—gives increased energy to the STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS [and other viscera,—and SUPPLIES FRESH LIFE for the waste that is constantly taking place. It OPERATES SOOTHINGLY,—is as PLEASANT TO TAKE as any wine,—and with SLEEP and GOOD DIGESTION, which IT PROMOTES, RESTORES the afflicted to SOUND HEALTH OF BODY, and to QUIETNESS OF MIND. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine (so often used for nervous complaints) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
Some folks can't get Sleep Nights.
Dodd's Nervine is a COMPLETE SPECIFIC for sleeplessness. It soothes the throbbing muscle like magic, and tranquilizes the mind. And everybody knows that GOOD SLEEP is better than all medicines.
LADIES IN POOR HEALTH.
The Nervine is also one of the best remedies ever employed in the cure of the numerous and troublesome ailments known as FEMALE COMPLAINTS. See pamphlet.
Look out for Colds!
It is proverbial that people treat a cold (and the generally accompanying cough) as something that will cure itself; but neglect is serious and sometimes fatal. The fame of DODD'S NERVINE in the relief of colds is established. Use it the moment you feel a cold, and drink plenty of liquids of all kinds as to keep somewhat thirsty for a few days, and the worst cold will soon be gone. ap54w
Children's Diseases.
For WHOOPING COUGH, Dodd's Nervine is administered with unexampled success. Mothers, remember this and save your little ones the agony of a most distressing complaint. It also works admirably in MEASLES, bringing out the rash well and leaving the bowels free and healthful. See recommendations in pamphlet. For the diseases which afflict CHILDREN WHEN TEETHING, nothing can furnish more instant or grateful relief. Remember, it contains no opium in any form.
Be Careful what Medicines you take.
Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to the nervous health and are ALWAYS followed by depressing REACTION. The strength that Dodd's Nervine gives is the STRENGTH OF HEALTH and COMES TO STAY. Beware of the whiskey preparations that have laid the foundations of so many habits of intemperance. Whether under the name of Bitters or otherwise, let the villainous compounds alone. Better die of honest disease than be burnt up by the fires of alcohol. For the ingredients that compose Dodd's Nervine see pamphlet on each bottle. For sale by Druggists and Country Stores. Price One Dollar. ap54w

The lion tamer in the European Circus at New York was attacked by a lion on Tuesday. The lion was banged with iron bars, and the man rescued.

☞ The McFarland trial in New York is progressing from day to day, and the papers of that city contain full reports, but for the most part are judicious in withholding editorial comment. As was to be expected, it is really Mrs. McFarland and the murdered Richardson who are being tried. The evidence for the government is all in, and that for the defence has opened. An intercepted letter, written by Richardson to Mrs. McFarland a short time after the separation, is very damaging to them, and shows pretty conclusively that improper relations had existed between them long before the separation.

Thus far in the case, it is evident that McFarland has the sympathy of most of those who have read the reports, and if the jury are similarly impressed, they will probably be in a frame of mind to admit that McFarland was in a sort of insane state when he shot Richardson. If he is acquitted, the ground of acquittal might be expressed in the words "justifiable insanity."

☞ A bill has been introduced into the New York Assembly, to punish lawyers who take fees on both sides. In New Hampshire, lawyers are generally well satisfied if they can get a fee on one side. But we see no notice of any bill to punish New York members of the assembly who take bribes from both sides. Such a bribe would be a saving to some of the Railroad Monopolists of the Empire State.

☞ The Great Falls freight train was thrown from the track on the Boston & Maine Railroad, just below Exeter station, Wednesday morning. The accident was caused by the catching of a canvas on a rail beside the road, which swung the rail under the train. Four cars were smashed.

For the Chronicle and Gazette.

A WELL OFFICERED SERVICE.—A difference of opinion has arisen between Generals Sherman and Logan, as to the advisibility of reducing the expenses of the Government by reducing the number of army officers;—and to offset the proposed retrenchment, some big man connected with the navy advises the creation of some more admirals. A comparison of the two branches of the service may convince some people that if the army has too many officers, the navy has quite enough.

Placing the army basis at 50,000 men, and the navy basis at 10,000 men, the following facts will bear on the question with some force.—Taking the seven grades in the navy from Lieutenant-Commander up to Admiral, and the corresponding grades in the army, from Major up to General, we find that in the army we have one officer to 163 men; in the navy, one officer to 20 men! In the army we have 305 commanding officers; of this number, 26 are general officers, which gives 1 general officer to 11 inferior officers and 1,923 men. In the navy we have 477 commanding officers, of whom 109 rank with general officers in the army, which gives 1 general officer to 4 inferior officers and 91 men!—I should really like to comment on this state of affairs, but don't know what in the world I can say to add force to the plain statement of facts.

Our Charity School grinds out officers at a tremendous rate; and if we keep that mill running on full time, we must keep making new admirals, in order to lift the youths on the lower grades to higher ones; and this is the only possible reason that can be given for increasing the number of the higher line officers of the navy. We don't need any more of them; if we do, why are men who have served to the age of 62 years, then retired from the service? They are not worn out at that age, that's certain; and most of them are as well qualified to direct the acts of others, for years after their retirement, as at any previous period of their lives. Their experience is worth much; and the country has a right to their services so long as they can be of use.

But the Charity Scholars must be well provided for, which can only be done by constant promotion and early retirement. Decidedly, that Charity School is a nuisance, which very much needs abolishing. If this is not soon done, Congress will have to provide that no one below the rank of lieutenant-commander shall enter the navy at all—we shall have officers enough of that rank to man all our ships; then will our navy be a terror to the world, including the United States.

In justice to those who have regulated naval affairs, it must be owned that they have not unduly increased the rank and honors of the staff officers; only one man having been promoted to the rank of chief engineer (ranking with lieutenants) since 1863! and he for special and unusual service.

Then the Department has altered the rate of vessels of the "Benicia" class from second to third, which is a good thing in two ways; for while they were second class vessels they had to carry chief engineers and be commanded by captains, but as third class ships they are not obliged to carry officers of these grades. Thus in each one of the disrated ships a chief engineer can be kept back, which helps to "keep the staff where they belong," and a junior line officer gets a more important separate command than he is legally entitled to, which is a touching tribute to the worth (and power) of the line.—The Congressional Committees on Naval Affairs have got plenty of room to make improvements. PAKEHA.

TEMPERANCE AND HEALTH.—The Boston Transcript, which does not aim to be included among the temperance (or total abstinence) papers—recently mentioned that the late "Anson Burlingame was the youngest member of the Massachusetts Senate of 1852, and he made the most able and elaborate speech that was delivered against the prohibitory liquor law, which was introduced at that session. The speech would be good reading for the legislators of the present day." Perhaps so, but we have no doubt Mr. Burlingame's valuable life was shortened by too much eating and drinking—as was likewise Gov. Andrew's. It is safe enough, as a rule, to conclude that whoever strongly defends the temperance law is a temperance man, while those who take pains to oppose it much, are not liable to prove total abstainers.

—An exchange received the following advertisement for publication:

"Where As My Whife polly Jane —— has Left my bed And Bored with out Eny good Cauze, hoomsoever Will trust Her in my Count I wunt Pay him. James ——."

This is just about the sort of document that the class of fellows who post their wives, are wont to write.

☞ Kerrigan, one of the principals in the late prize fight on Charles Island, Conn., was arrested, together with Maloy and Edge, who were to fight in the same ring; and some ninety roughs were captured and lodged in New Haven jail. Tonghey, who was to fight Kerrigan, escaped. The crowd sacked houses in Milford, robbed the people in the streets, and was one of the most desperate gangs that ever left New York.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Newspaper Statements.

HOW THE PEOPLE TEST THEIR TRUTH.

This is not an age when people believe or trust whatever they see in the public journals. Fifty or sixty years ago when the accuracy of a statement that had appeared in one of the gazettes or "News Letters" of the day, was questioned, it was considered a sufficient answer to all cavil to say, "It must be so, for I read it in the newspaper." It is not so now. Newspaper assertions must be verified before they are taken for granted, and this is especially the case as regards statements setting forth the remedial properties of proprietary medicines. For example; it was not until the tonic and alterative properties of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS had been deliberately and thoroughly tested by thousands, and found to be in perfect accord with the printed claims put forth in its behalf, that it was accepted by the public at large as a Standard Remedy.

But when multitudes who had resorted to it as a safe-guard against malarious fevers, a cure for indigestion and biliousness, a means of strengthening the frame, cheering the spirits and imparting constitutional vigor, came forward and testified that its beneficial effects had exceeded their most sanguine expectations, of course the world believed. To resist such proofs was impossible. Great care has been taken from the beginning not to overstate the merits of the Bitters.

Exaggeration and bombast have been the death of many preparations that might otherwise have survived. They were "weighed in the balance and found wanting." HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, on the contrary, have never been announced in grandiloquent language as a cure for every bodily ill, but simply as a pure harmless vegetable specific, possessing remarkable invigorating, regulating, anti-bilious and antiseptic properties. This is exactly what the public know the medicine to be, and its enormous sales is an argument in its favor.

A RADICAL REVOLUTION

Has been accomplished in hair dyes. The horrible compounds containing LEAD, SALT and SULPHUR are discarded. The leading chemists implore the public not to use them, and Professor Chilton, whose reputation is second to that of no analytic chemist in America, has recommended

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

as PERFECTLY INNOCUOUS ARTICLE, which may be used without fear. Remember, it is the only one that has been analyzed and found wholesome. Its effects are instantaneous, and the color it imparts natural.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE, as a Dressing, acts like a charm on the Hair after Dyeing. TRY IT. mh12dawlm

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Their great value consists in this: They may be used so long as any disease affects any of the body; and by thus persevering in their use the disease will be cured, and the body restored to health, free from every taint and impurity. Their reputation proves their merit.

Thomas Smith, Coroner and Justice of the Peace, Hastings-on-the-Hudson, says BRANDRETH'S PILLS cured him of Dyspepsia and Heartburn, when every other medicine had failed to relieve him. Certificate dated April 2, 1868.

Dr. Turner, of Savannah, Ga., says he has, for nearly forty years, recommended BRANDRETH'S PILLS as a specific in Yellow Fever; that he never knew a patient to die who took them for this malady, being otherwise sound. Their prompt use takes out of the body those matters which feed the fatality of the disease. As a general family medicine he considers them far in advance of all others, and here he speaks from personal experience of their qualities. mh12

"Children's Lives Saved for 50 Cts."

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN DIE ANNUNUALLY OF CROUP. Now, Mothers, if you would spend 50 cents, and always have a bottle of DR. TOBIAS' VENETIAN LINIMENT in the house, you never need fear losing your little one when attacked with this complaint. It is now 22 years since I have put up my Liniment, and never heard of a child dying of Croup when my Liniment was used; but hundreds of cures have been reported to me, and many state if it was $10 per bottle they would not be without it. Besides which, it is a certain cure for Cuts, Burns, Headache, Toothache, Sore Throat, Swellings, Mumps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Spasms, Old Sores and Pain in the Limbs, Back, Chest. No one who once tries it is ever without it. It is warranted perfectly safe to take internally. Full directions with every bottle. Sold by the Druggists and Storekeepers in the United States. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."
